

H.E.A.L. Healthcare

The Hearts-based Education and Anti-colonial Learning Project brings together artists, writers, activists, and people with lived experience to create arts-based anti-oppression learning materials for healthcare educators, professionals, and practitioners. Our goal is to use the arts to address oppressive behaviours and attitudes that we all hold and that permeate healthcare systems and culture. The learning modules provided on the H.E.A.L. Healthcare website address the longstanding and well-established evidence that health disparities exist because of racist, colonial, able-body/minded, geographic, economic, and gendered inequities.

We hope you can join us as we celebrate the launch of this free, online open-access resource for learners across so-called Canada.

Invitation to the Gathering & Website Launch Celebration!

August 16, 2024

10:00 am to 1:00 pm

University of Northern British Columbia,
Northern Medical Program Building,
3333 University Way, Lheidli T'enneh Territory,
Prince George, BC

This is a hybrid event, a Zoom link is available.

TO RSVP:

Scan the QR Code and fill in the online form, or email harc@unbc.ca

healhealthcare.ca

If you have any questions,
please email

harc@unbc.ca

National Collaborating Centre
for Indigenous Health

Centre de collaboration nationale
de la santé autochtone