Admission

Application deadlines are found in this calendar under ~~“Semester Dates”~~ “1.0 General Admission” or online at: www.unbc.ca/calendar/graduate, www.unbc.ca/calendar/graduate/admissions ~~also under “Semester Dates.”~~ The Education MEd Program accepts students for the September and May Semesters.

For additional information about graduate admissions or to download application materials, go to the Graduate Programs website at ~~www.unbc.ca/graduateprograms~~ <http://www.unbc.ca/graduate-programs>

In addition to full-time students, the Education degree programs attempt to accommodate part-time students who may hold full-time jobs. For this reason, most of the Education courses are offered in the late afternoon and evening, as well as during May Semester, so they can be accessed by persons during their annual vacation. It is recommended that students plan to make full use of the May Semester offerings to complete their degree within the prescribed time limit. It is also recommended that students complete EDUC 602-4 (Quantitative Research Design and Data Analysis) and EDUC 610-4 (Qualitative Analysis in Education) during the first half of their MEd Program.

Change to Calendar Description — Addition of Admission Requirements for Education (MEd – Counselling Specialization)

Dale

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Admissions and Degrees, the change(s) to the Counselling specialization description on page 69 of the 2012/1013 print graduate calendar (Education MEd Program) be approved as proposed.

Effective date: Immediately

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Counselling

The Counselling specialization is designed to prepare counselors to provide professional services and leadership in counselling and psycho-educational programs offered in schools, post-secondary institutions, social service agencies, and community health organizations. Students have the opportunity to choose the type(s) of counselling they wish to focus upon, and to complete periods of supervised clinical practice in practicum settings that are relevant to their interests, based on availability. The specialization includes an integrated core of required courses, elective courses, and a thesis, project or comprehensive examination. Counselling students are required to complete eight required courses, three elective courses, and a comprehensive examination. Application can be made to the School of Education to enter a thesis or project route after completion of at least 12 credit hours of course work. If approved, the thesis route would consist of eight required courses, one elective, and the thesis, while a project route would consist of eight required courses, two electives, and a project. ~~The course requirements and courses for the~~ Counselling specialization appear below.

Admission to the MEd Counselling specialization at the Prince George campus occurs each September; deadline for applications is December 15 of the prior year. Admission to the program at regional campuses does not normally occur each year and will vary in response to demand and resources.

In addition to the admission application requirements outlined in section 1.0 of the Graduate Admissions and Regulations, applicants who are applying to the Prince George campus MEd Counselling specialization are required to have graduated with a Baccalaureate degree a minimum of two years prior to the admission date to which they are applying, and to have obtained some paid or unpaid work experience in a helping capacity at a counselling-related or teaching-related setting since receiving their Baccalaureate degree. The two year post-Baccalaureate requirement does not apply to admissions to the MEd Counselling specialization at regional campuses.

Example: Terry wishes to apply to the Prince George campus MEd Counselling specialization for the 2014 admissions. Terry graduated with a Baccalaureate degree in May of 2012 and six months later obtained employment as a probation officer. Terry's application meets this admissions criteria.

Example: Dan wishes to apply to the Prince George campus MEd Counselling specialization for the 2014 admissions. Dan graduated with a Baccalaureate degree in May of 2013. Dan does not have a minimum of two years between receiving his Baccalaureate degree and the date of admissions; therefore, the application does not meet this admissions criteria.

Example: Mary wishes to apply to the Prince George campus MEd Counselling specialization for the 2014 intake. Mary graduated with a Baccalaureate degree in May of 2010. Since then Mary has not accumulated any experience working in helping capacity in a counselling-related or teaching-related setting; therefore, the application does not meet admissions criteria.

Applicants are also required to submit a Curriculum Vitae or Resumé that indicates the number of hours in each employment or volunteer position. A list of any scholarships or publications should also be included.

3.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

- 3.1 Response to question from last Senate meeting regarding funding related to Canada Foundation for Innovation Bird

Senator Bird indicated that the Canada Foundation for Innovation (CFI) had recently undergone a review process. UNBC's funding has not yet been determined, but Dr. Bird stated she believes it will remain static. Dr. Bird provided a summary of funds and indicated she would also distribute this information to Senators.

- 3.2 Response to question from last Senate meeting regarding current hiring practices for post-doctoral fellows and research assistants Bird

Dr. Bird responded to this question, noting that an easier process and single form were being developed. Dr. Bird added that she was hoping by December or January to have guidelines and streamlined processes in place.

- 3.3 Response to question from last Senate meeting regarding the number of students enrolled in the Co-operative Education Program Owen

Dean Owen responded to this question, providing Senators with statistical information about Co-operative Education between 2003 and 2012. He also noted that there has been an increase in the number of internships. A Senator asked for additional data regarding internships.

- 4.0 President's Report Iwama

Dr. Iwama reported on a number of matters, and his report is attached to these minutes as "Appendix I".

- 5.0 Report of the Provost Dale

Dr. Dale reported on several issues (report attached to these minutes as "Appendix II").

- 6.0 Report of the Registrar Hanschen

Mr. Hanschen reported that the online graduate application project was nearing completion and thanked Ms. Shelley McKenzie and Information Technology Services for their work on this project. He added that Deans and Chairs can review application information and converse electronically. The online application was tested with applicants to the January intake. The Registrar anticipates that the online application will be available for students applying for the May and September 2014 intakes.

- 7.0 Question Period

A question was asked about the reasons for the lack of applications for Co-op positions, and Dean Owen responded that he was uncertain about the reasons. A student Senator replied that she had attempted to apply for Co-op positions but that most of them were in accounting rather than the sciences, and they were also not exclusive to UNBC. Dean Owen added that Senate made changes to the Co-op program in 2007 and the number of students and graduates with Co-op notations on their transcripts declined at that time, so he felt the decline was related to the structure of the Co-op program. Dr. Dale indicated that this decline was not unique to UNBC, but that Co-op has declined across Canada except in specific areas. He added that it would be worth checking with other universities about their experience in this regard. Dr. Owen concluded that there seems to be a shift toward internships, as students prefer the greater flexibility.

A Senator asked about the report from Research Centres and Institutes as required by the policy in that regard, noting that he had not seen a report at Senate in the past two years. Dr. Bird responded that she and Ms. Myers had discussed the reporting requirements and that the report would be forwarded to the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs (SCAAF) in November. Ms. Myers added that the report in question had been provided to Senate last year, and that this year's report was delayed as a result of the amalgamation of the Senate Committee on Academic Policy and Planning and the Senate Committee on Research and Graduate Studies and the resulting change to reporting dates.

The Registrar was asked whether he could provide information about student numbers, and he replied that he had received the information late yesterday. Both head count and FTE were down slightly, approximately 3.0% and 1.9% respectively. The Senator also asked whether a more detailed report could be provided at the next Senate meeting, and Mr. Hanschen replied that it could.

It was suggested by a Senator that all the UNBC policies be updated to reflect the change of the Senate committee names. In response, it was indicated that some policies do not belong to Senate and that a more methodical approach would be required, one which considers all aspects of the policy rather than simply committee names.

A Senator asked whether, consistent with the plan in this year's budget, the number of international students had been increased by 50. Dean Owen replied that the target had not been met, that the number of international students was down by about 10 students overall.

It was questioned whether and when hiring would begin for the position of Director of the Centre for Teaching, Learning and Technology, and Dr. Dale responded that the hiring process had been started this afternoon.

8.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda

No requests were made to remove motions from the consent agenda.

9.0 Committee Reports

9.1 Senate Committee on Academic Affairs Dale

"For Approval" Items:

S-201310.03

New Program Approval (In Principle) – Master of Engineering – Integrated Wood Design

Smith

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the Master of Engineering – Integrated Wood Design be approved in principle.

Proposed Start Date: September 2015

Concerns were raised that communication had already been undertaken with regard to this degree when it had not yet been approved by Senate and the Board of Governors. The role of Senate in governance with regard to "approval in principle" was questioned. Dr. Dale replied that the e-mail communicating details about this degree was premature and that the final version of the degree will require Board approval.

Senator Casperson provided notice of motion for the next regular meeting of Senate (November 27, 2013), as follows:

That Robert van Adrichem (Vice President External Relations) be removed from the membership of Senate for cause.

Several questions were asked about the potential resource implications of approving this degree, and it was requested that it be noted that Senate expressed concerns regarding funding.

It was suggested that motion S-201310.03 be amended to clarify that, in accordance with the University Act, Senate recommends to the Board of Governors the approval of the degree, in principle.

Motion to amend:

Casperson / Whitcombe

That Senate motion S-210303 be amended to state as follows:

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, Senate recommend to the Board of Governors that the Master of Engineering – Integrated Wood Design be approved in principle.
CARRIED.

The motion, as amended, was subsequently CARRIED.

S-201310.04

Approval of Graduate and Undergraduate Academic Dates for the 2014-2015 Academic Calendars

Whitcombe

That on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the Graduate and Undergraduate Academic Dates of the 2014/2015 Academic Calendars be approved as proposed.

Effective Date: September 2014

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Absent:

R. Brouwer, D. de Vries, L. Handfield, K. Kuo, D. Nyce, B. Schorcht, S. Wagner

---

The meeting commenced at 3:35 p.m. Dr. Iwama reported that Ms. Chantal Carriere had recently been elected as a Lay Senator but that Ms. Myers had been unable to reach her by telephone in China for this meeting.

1.0      S-201311.01
Approval of the Agenda
Murray

That the agenda for the November 27, 2013 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.

A Senator indicated that he was of the understanding that the Senate Committee on Nominations was addressing a situation related to the Selection Committee for the President and Vice-Chancellor and that he would appreciate a report on this matter under agenda item 9.4.

CARRIED.

2.0      S-201311.02
Approval of Senate Minutes
Whitcombe

That the minutes of the October 23, 2013 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.

CARRIED.

3.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

- 3.1 Response to question from last Senate meeting regarding letter from the Premier Dale

Dr. Dale noted that a document had been distributed to Senators and that he would comment on it during his report.

- 3.2 Follow-up regarding notice of motion provided at last Senate meeting Zahir

Motion:

Casperson

That the Provost ensures that a UNBC Recruitment and Retention Plan that contains clear and achievable objectives and a budget for such Plan is presented to the Senate in its January 2014 meeting. It is expected that the Plan covers undergraduate, graduate, and international students.
CARRIED.

- 4.0 President's Report Iwama

Dr. Iwama reported on a couple of matters, and his report is attached to these minutes as "Appendix I."

- 5.0 Report of the Provost Dale

Dr. Dale had information to report with regard to several matters (report attached to these minutes as "Appendix II").

- 6.0 Report of the Registrar Hanschen

The Enrolment Services Plan and Convocation were reported on by Mr. Hanschen, and his report is attached to these minutes as "Appendix III."

- 7.0 Question Period

In relation to the Administrative Service Delivery Transformation Project, a Senator asked whether the purchases of items such as photocopiers were affected. Dr. Iwama replied that information would be provided to Senators.

With regard to "Terms of Reference – Post-Secondary Institution Core Review of Programming," distributed to Senators, a Senator asked whether the Ministry understands the term "skills" as it applies to universities. Dr. Dale replied that there have been opportunities to explain this to the Ministry. A Senator asked whether Dr. Dale believed there was a move afoot to begin to specialize universities, and Dr. Dale replied that he did. A Senator commented that, when discussing proposed new initiatives with the government, the roles of the Senate and Board of Governors in approving such initiatives must be stressed.

- 8.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda

No requests were made to remove motions from the consent agenda.

- 9.0 Committee Reports

- 9.1 Senate Committee on Academic Affairs Dale

"For Approval" Items:

Motions S-201311.03 and S-201311.04 were dealt with as an omnibus motion.

S-201311.03

Approval of Job Description for Dean of the Regional Programs

Schorcht

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the job description for Dean of the Regional Programs be approved as proposed.

Effective date: Immediately upon approval by Senate

Some of the language in the job description was noted as a concern, and the following motion resulted:

Motion to amend job description

Whitcombe / Casperson

That all the text beyond the heading "Qualifications" be removed from the job description.

DEFEATED.

The main motion was subsequently CARRIED.

S-201311.04

Approval of Policy on "Selection Procedures for Dean of the Regions"

Schorcht

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the Policy on "Selection Procedures for Dean of the Regions" be approved as proposed.

Effective date: Immediately upon approval by Senate

Two revisions to the terms of reference were recommended. First, it was recommended that rather than one Senator and one faculty member, two Senators be appointed to the committee, one from each College. The addition of Aboriginal-specific representation from the regions or an organization or institution with which UNBC has a relationship was also suggested.

Motion to change the Search Committee Membership with regard to Faculty members:

Casperson / Siakaluk

That, under the heading which begins with "4 Faculty members," one Faculty Senator be appointed from each (rather than either) College in accordance with the first bullet and that the second bullet be deleted.

CARRIED.

Motion to change the Search Committee Membership to include Aboriginal representation:

Robinson / Casperson

That an Aboriginal representative from the regions or an organization or institution with which UNBC has a relationship be added to the Search Committee Membership.

CARRIED.

Motions S-201311.05 and S-201311.05 were dealt with as an omnibus motion.

A list of majors that require BIOL 101 and/or BIOL 102 was included for information, as follows:

11.0 Other Business (no material)

12.0 Information

12.1 Presentation — *Aboriginal and Rural Recruitment

Gillanders

Ms. Gillanders delivered a presentation regarding her role recruiting Aboriginal and rural students. She noted that recruiting Aboriginal and rural students was quite a different process from recruiting other students, and indicated that UNBC invests in these communities by building relationships. At the completion of Ms. Gillanders' presentation, Dr. Iwama asked Senators to join him in thanking her and invited questions. A Senator asked how faculty members might be able to support Ms. Gillanders in her work and she suggested that, when going to rural communities, UNBC community members could take her business card or other materials from the recruitment office with them. She added that there are plans to create an advisory group and training program for those who wish to assist with recruitment endeavours. Another Senator asked what Senate could do to assist, and Ms. Gillanders replied that, for example, the Northern Advancement Program was not meeting the needs of students as well as it had in the past and that some changes were being recommended, which she hoped Senate would support. A Senator added that he would like to see Senate continue to invite people like Ms. Gillanders to present at Senate meetings so that this issue remains on the minds of Senators.

12.2 Link to the University's financial statements, available each year around June 30:

Iwama

<http://www.unbc.ca/finance/statements>

Dr. Iwama thanked Senator Casperson for bringing to the attention of the Steering Committee of Senate Section 32 of the University Act which states that the Board of Governors must make an annual report of its transactions to the Minister and promptly provide a copy of the annual report to the Senate. Dr. Iwama added that the institutional accountability report also forms part of the annual report to the Ministry. Senator Casperson replied that one of the questions that led him to this section of the Act was whether the Ministry required the University to report on anything other than financial matters.

Move to In Camera Session
Smith
That the meeting move In Camera.
CARRIED.

14.0     S-201311.14
Adjournment
Casperson
That the Senate meeting be adjourned.
CARRIED.

The meeting ended at 5:25 p.m.

The meeting commenced at 3:30 p.m. Dr. Iwama thanked Senator Casperson who was attending his last meeting of Senate.

1.0      S-201312.01
Approval of the Agenda

Deo

That the agenda for the December 11, 2013 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.

A Senator asked that an item be added to the agenda (11.1 Report from the Senate Committee on the University Budget). There was no opposition to this request, so the motion to approve the agenda, as amended, was CARRIED.

2.0      S-201312.02
Approval of Senate Minutes

Zahir

That the minutes of the November 27, 2013 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.
CARRIED.

3.0      Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

With regard to a question arising from a previous meeting of Senate about the Administrative Service Delivery Transformation Project, Dr. Iwama indicated that meetings of this group are ongoing and that several committees have been created to further the work that has been done.

- 4.0 President's Report Iwama
- Dr. Iwama had nothing to report, but thanked Senators and the Steering Committee of Senate for their support during his time at UNBC.
- 5.0 Report of the Provost Dale
- Dr. Dale reported that the Board of Governors had approved the job description and selection procedures for the Dean of Regional Programs. They also approved, in principle, the Master of Engineering in Integrated Wood Design.
- 6.0 Report of the Registrar Hanschen
- Mr. Hanschen asked for Senate's indulgence to allow Dr. Owen to report on some recent information received regarding the National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE). Dr. Owen reported that he had just received the information a few days ago so had not had time to review it in detail. However, he noted that, based on comments from first and fourth year students, UNBC provides a supportive environment for students. The snapshot indicates that UNBC is a university that values and provides experiential learning opportunities for students. Dr. Owen stated that he would provide a fuller report in the near future.
- 7.0 Question Period
- A Senator asked whether Senators could see the NSSE data, and Dr. Owen replied that he would share it in the near future.
- A Senator questioned what attributed to the increase in student applications, and the Registrar replied that perhaps it was because the recruiters increased their presence in the high schools.
- 8.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda
- No motions were removed from the consent agenda.
- 9.0 Committee Reports
- 9.1 Senate Committee on Academic Affairs Dale

"For Approval" Items:

A summary of the proposed changes to the Health Sciences curriculum was included for information.

S-201312.03

Changes to Degree Requirements and Calendar Description — Bachelor of Health Sciences (Removal of HHSC 110-3 and HHSC 330-3)

Dale

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the calendar changes to the degree requirements for Bachelor of Health Sciences be approved as proposed: removal of HHSC 110-3 Microbiology from the BHSc degree requirements (not from the Calendar), and of HHSC 330-3 Health Information Management Technology from the BHSc degree requirements.

Effective date: January 2014

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

The Bachelor of Health Sciences degree is a four-year program consisting of a range of courses that relate directly to the science of health, in the recognition that health is a complex entity defying a simple explanation or a single disciplinary perspective. The courses identified within the School of Health Sciences offer learning opportunities from a variety of disciplines, including the Life Sciences, Social Sciences, Behavioural Sciences, and Ethics and Law, to enable students to develop a body of knowledge and understanding relating to the dimensions of Health. Some of these courses are considered to be 'core' and therefore central to the basic understandings of health, while others offer the student opportunities to learn about a specific health perspective that is focused on one of three Majors:

- i. Biomedical Studies,
- ii. Community and Population Health-Environmental Health, or,
- iii. Community and Population Health-Aboriginal and Rural Health.

Graduation from either of the Community and Population Health Majors enables students to embark on careers or graduate programs related to health care management, administration, information systems or public health.

Students pursuing the Biomedical Studies Major are required to complete a set of courses that enables them to be prepared for application to professional programs, such as medicine, nursing, pharmacy, occupational therapy, dentistry, speech pathology or physiotherapy. This major provides a foundational, multidisciplinary knowledge base that is focused on the natural and physical sciences, and social sciences, and includes population health and research methodology. For students interested in other fields requiring extensive biomedical laboratory skills, UNBC also offers a degree in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology (BCMB).

All students graduating with the Bachelor of Health Sciences degree will have developed critical analytical skills, life-long learning skills, and the ability to work from the evidence of best practice.

General Requirements

To be awarded the BSc degree, students are required to complete 122 credit hours of University-level courses. This consists of ~~56~~ 67 credit hours of common requirements for all BSc students, with the remainder coming from the following majors, and electives:

Biomedical Studies: Students take ~~45~~ 34 credit hours of courses from the Biomedical Studies ~~Major~~ and 21 elective credit hours.

Community and Population Health-Aboriginal and Rural Health: Students take ~~33~~ 27 credit hours from the common course requirements for both Community and Population Health Majors, as well as a minimum of 12 credit hours (6 specified, 6 with some choice) in Aboriginal and Rural Health-related courses, thus adding to a focus of knowledge and understanding of this specific subject material. The remaining ~~24~~ 16 credit hours are obtained from elective credit hours.

Community and Population Health - Environmental Health: Students take ~~33~~ 27 credit hours from the common course requirements for both Community and Population Health Majors, as well as a minimum of 12 credit hours (6 specified, 6 with some choice) in Environmental Health-related courses. The remaining ~~24~~ 16 credit hours are obtained from elective credit hours.

Students enrolling in Health Sciences courses with prerequisites are required to have completed all prerequisite courses for those courses with a C- or better, or have permission to enroll from the School Chair.

To change BSc majors, students must apply through Student Advising.

Admission Requirement

Admission to the Bachelor of Health Sciences program is based on academic qualifications and available space. At the time of application, students must specify whether they intend to pursue either the Biomedical Studies Major or one of the two Community and Population Health Majors. Priority admission is given to students who meet admission criteria and apply by the deadline of March 1. Applications received after the deadline may be reviewed based on available space in the program. Self-identified Aboriginal applicants who meet or exceed the minimum requirements for admission to the program are given priority for up to twenty percent (20%) of the first-year seats for the Bachelor of Health Sciences program.

Applicants from BC and Yukon secondary schools must:

- Meet the basic UNBC admission requirements, and
- Have completed Principles of Mathematics 11 or Pre-Calculus 11, Chemistry 11, Biology 12, English 12 and other approved Grade 12 courses as specified in the Admissions sections of the Undergraduate Calendar with a minimum of C+ (65%) in each course.

Other Applicants must:

- Meet UNBC admission requirements, and
- Have completed the equivalent of Principles of Mathematics 11 or Pre-Calculus 11, Chemistry 11, Biology 12, English 12, and other approved Grade 12 courses as specified in the Admissions section of the Undergraduate Calendar with a minimum of C+ (65%) in each course.

Students interested in specializing in the Biomedical Studies Major are strongly encouraged to take: Pre-Calculus 12, or Principles of Mathematics 12, and Chemistry 12 before entering the Program.

Common Requirements: All Majors

In order to meet the graduation requirements for a BSc all students must successfully complete the following common requirements consisting of ~~56~~ 67 credit hours. It is recommended that students take the courses listed below in the year of study indicated:

ENVS 309-3 Women and Environmental Studies

~~An analysis of various perspectives on women in science and women in environmental studies, including concepts such as ecological feminism.~~

Prerequisites:

None

ENVS 309-3 Gender and Environment

This course is an introduction to theories, concepts, and approaches for understanding relationships between gender and the environment. It considers the evolution and utility of approaches such as ecofeminism. It also examines links between gender and the following: science; environmental domains and professions; environmental management; conservation and recreation; and environmental impacts.

Prerequisites: None

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

BIOL 201-3 Ecology This course provides students with an understanding of the relationship of the environment to organisms, principles of animal and plant ecology, populations, communities, ecosystems and human ecology.

Prerequisite: BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1

Prerequisite or co-requisite: BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1

BIOL 202-3 Invertebrate Zoology Systematics, development and evolution of the invertebrates.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1; and BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1

BIOL 203-3 Microbiology This course introduces students to the classification and biology of prokaryotic and eukaryotic microorganisms, and applications to forestry, agriculture, environmental science, medicine and industry. In the laboratory, students will learn techniques for culturing and characterizing micro-organisms.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1; and BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1

Recommended: BIOL 210-3 and at least one of CHEM 201-3, CHEM 204-3, or CHEM 220-3 (may be taken concurrently)

BIOL 204-3 Plant Biology The interrelationships between form and function of the living plant, including systematics, development, physiology and evolution.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1; and BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1

BIOL 210-3 Genetics This course emphasizes principles of both modern and classical genetics.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1

Prerequisite or Co-requisite: BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1

BIOL 301-3 Systematic Botany This course introduces students to plant taxonomy and biodiversity, including principles of systematic botany, nomenclature and classification. Special attention is given to the identification of the native regional flora. Students contemplating registration in this course should consult with the instructor before the end of the previous spring term regarding the making of a summer collection for study during the course. This course includes scheduled field trips as a required course component.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1; and BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1

BIOL 307-3 Ichthyology and Herpetology The identification, comparative anatomy and evolution of fishes, amphibians and reptiles. Particular reference is made to species endemic to British Columbia.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1; and BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1

BIOL 308-3 Ornithology and Mammalogy The identification, comparative anatomy and evolution of birds and mammals. Particular reference is made to species endemic to British Columbia.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1; and BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1

BIOL 318 Fungi and Lichens This course uses lectures, field and laboratory exercises to introduce students to the diversity of the Fungal Kingdom, including lichenized fungi. Students learn to recognize fungal and lichen structures and identify taxa. Emphasis is placed upon fungi and lichens in their natural environments, their ecology and physiology, and their importance to ecosystem function. Field trips and labs teach students to collect, isolate and identify fungi and lichens.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1; and BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1

BIOL 421-3 Insects, Fungi and Society The historical, social and economic importance of insects and fungi to human society, including underlying biological and ecological principles.

Prerequisites: 60 credit hours which includes BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1; and BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1; or permission of the instructor

CHEM 204-3 Introductory Biochemistry A lecture based course designed to introduce the basic principles of biological chemistry, focusing on the structure, composition and role of proteins, nucleic acids, carbohydrates and lipids in living systems. Other major topics include the nature and functions of enzymes, principles of bioenergetics and the energy-trapping metabolic pathways and their regulation in animals and plants.

Prerequisites: CHEM 201-3; BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1; and BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1

Co-requisites: CHEM 203-3

ENSC 202-3 Introduction to Aquatic Systems Aquatic systems are central to all areas of life, as well as human endeavours. In addition to being the site of our earliest evolution, aquatic systems are now recognized as fundamental to the regulation of atmospheric gases and so our climate. This course will provide a broad overview of the physical, chemical, geological, and biological aspects of freshwater and marine systems. Human perspectives will focus on the conservation and exploitation of the resources found within and below lakes, rivers and oceans. Introduction to Aquatic Systems will provide a foundation for students wishing to pursue advanced courses in any area of aquatic study.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101-4, 102-4 or BIOL 103-3, BIOL 123-1, and BIOL 104-3, BIOL 124-1, CHEM 101-3
Recommended: PHYS 100-4 and MATH 100-3 or MATH 152-3 or permission of the instructor
Precluded: ENVS 202-3

FSTY 201-3 Forest Plant Systems This course provides knowledge and understanding of classification, nomenclature and identification, morphology, phenology, range, natural history, evolutionary relationships, and basic ecology of important trees (native and exotic) and forest plant families (woody and herbaceous) in western Canada. The course also provides a survey of plant indicator potential and attributes significant to vegetation management. The course includes the development of a plant collection and field trips are required.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1; and BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1
Co-requisites: FSTY 205-3

FSTY 207-1 Terrestrial Ecological Classification Terrestrial Ecological Classification explores the critical concepts and methodology of classifying terrestrial ecosystems. The course explores the historical context and attributes of several systems of ecological classification. The primary focus is Biogeoclimatic Ecosystem Classification, the standard for natural resource managers in BC. The course also explores regional examples of site classification.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1; and BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1

FSTY 209-4 Forest Biology and Silvics Forest Biology and Silvics explores critical aspects of the biology of forest floor organisms and the autecology of associated regional tree species. The course also examines the biology and ecology of forest ecosystems, the structure and function of forest trees and stands, the influence of biotic and abiotic factors on tree and stand growth, interactions between forest ecosystems and ecological site conditions, and silvicultural attributes of tree species of Western Canada.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1; and BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1; and FSTY 201-3

NREM 204-3 Introduction to Wildlife and Fisheries Introduction to principles of habitat and population biology and management, and human dimensions of wildlife management. Lectures will introduce the life requisites of individual species and compare aquatic and terrestrial systems, and provide an overview of the characteristics needed to estimate parameters of fish and wildlife populations. Labs will emphasize quantification of fish and wildlife habitats.

Prerequisites: BIOL 102-4, or BIOL 104-3 and BIOL 124-1; NREM 100-3

PHYS 304-3 Biophysics Topics include the physics of biological systems, physical principles and techniques used to study the structure and dynamics of biological membranes.

Prerequisites: PHYS 101-4 or 111-4; BIOL 101-4, or BIOL 103-3 and BIOL 123-1

3.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

No business arising was identified.

4.0 President's Report

Dale

Dr. Dale indicated that, in his role as Interim President, his priorities were to prepare the way for the new President and ensure the following current activities were maintained:

- Core review
- Student recruitment and internationalization, with an International Education Director to be hired
- Prioritization outcomes
- Wrapping up of the "Conversation" series, with the final report expected in February
- Regional review and hiring of Regional Dean
- Foundation Year — Pilot Program moving into its second year in CASHS
- Experiential learning and pedagogy
- Revisions to semester structure (3+10+10+3)
- Fund development and profile building
- Administrative Services Delivery Project

5.0 Report of the Provost

Young

Dr. Young was unable to attend the meeting so had no report.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Hanschen

Mr. Hanschen thanked instructors, Chairs, and Registrar's Office staff who manage class wait lists, as collaboration resulted in only 6 students being wait-listed at the add-drop date. He also noted that there were some Freedom of Information sessions taking place tomorrow, and that January 28th is Data Privacy Day, a table for which will be set up on Student Services Street.

7.0 Question Period

A Senator asked whether the University was committed to the "3+10+10+3" revisions to the semester structure or if it is still in the exploratory stage. Dr. Dale replied that a commitment has not yet been made but that it is worthy enough of investigation, which is being done now. The Senator suggested that the Office of the Registrar attempt to look at scheduling now, and Dr. Dale responded that doing so was on the list of things to do. Another Senator asked whether, with regard to this proposal, public consultation with students would be undertaken, and Dr. Dale replied that it would. Another Senator suggested that given program variation, any change to the semester structure must be flexible. When asked if there was a financial component to this proposal, Dr. Dale responded that it should be cost-neutral. It was also commented that there would be an increased cost to students regarding field courses that should be considered and that redesign of lab courses would be needed. When asked what support would be provided to Programs for this initiative, Dr. Dale indicated he would not know until the types of changes required was determined. When asked if there would be an examination period after each block, Dr. Dale replied that there would. A member of the gallery suggested doing interviews of students in classes and talking to instructors who have already done this type of teaching.

8.0 Presentation — *Recruitment and Retention

Owen / Hanschen

Dr. Owen and Mr. Hanschen each delivered a presentation regarding recruitment and retention at UNBC (the presentations are attached to these minutes as "Appendix I"). Senator Zahir asked whether this presentation was in lieu of the motion to Senate regarding the recruitment plan, and Dr. Dale replied that it was about the recruitment plan. Dr. Dale suggested that he, Senator Zahir, and Mr. Hanschen meet to discuss what the recruitment plan consists of.

9.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda

It was requested that motion S-201401.07 be removed from the consent agenda.

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change(s) to the program description and course credit hours for First Nations Studies MA Program and FNST 799-15 Thesis, on pages 80 and 130 of the 2013/2014 graduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2014

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

The UNBC MA program in First Nations Studies establishes the points of view of First Nations people and communities as the starting point for description and analysis, and contextualizes issues from this perspective. Courses orient students to question underlying assumptions of everyday study. A special emphasis is placed on creating opportunities for students to learn from and about the First Nations of the north. This program includes courses taught in First Nations communities, internships, and community-based research projects. Each student's program culminates in completion of either a thesis or major project.

In addition to the high priority ~~on given to~~ the First Nations of northern British Columbia, offerings include topics relevant to the ~~First Nations~~ Aboriginal Peoples of Canada and indigenous peoples of the world. ~~The two specific streams-~~ areas of study within the program are: First Nations Issues and Approaches, emphasizing the development of theory and method for the understanding of contemporary issues; ~~and Northern Nations~~, which facilitates ~~students who aim to develop~~ with the development of skills, knowledge, and experience in the study of the languages and cultures of northern British Columbia; and Aboriginal Health and Healing. Links to Relationships with faculty in other graduate programs at UNBC enrich the options for interdisciplinary work in areas such as Health Sciences, Education, Political Science, Women's Gender Studies, English, History, Environmental Studies, and Geography, etc.

Application deadlines are found in this calendar under "Semester Dates" or online at: www.unbc.ca/calendar/graduate, also under "Semester Dates." The First Nations Studies MA Program ~~accepts~~ admits students for the September Semester only. Admission occurs on a two-year cycle. Refer to the "Application for Admission Deadline Dates.”

For additional information about graduate admissions or to download application materials, go to the Graduate Programs website at www.unbc.ca/graduateprograms.

Requirements

~~The 30 credit hours that make up the MA in First Nations Studies will be normally be completed within 30 36 months of entry into the program. The first year is normally and a half are devoted to course work and the development of a research proposal. The second year and a half are dedicated to preparing completing a thesis or project. All students must take FNST 600-3 (Foundations of First Nations Studies), FNST 602-3 (The Practice of Research), two FNST 650-3 Special Topics courses, and FNST 795-3 Research Seminar, and FNST 790-3 (Internship), one elective course in the student's chosen stream, and one elective course from the University's Graduate Academic Calendar. Students must also register in either the thesis (FNST 799-15 12) or project (FNST 797-12). The project path requires students to take an additional course from either the First Nations Issues and Approaches stream or from the Northern Nations stream.~~

All the students in the cohort take the same required courses, focusing their individual course work and their research on their own particular area of interest. The FNST 650 Special Topics courses are developed relative to the research interests of the students within the cohort, the expertise of the faculty, and the parameters of the discipline. Students have the option to take other elective courses in addition to what the program requires.

The classroom segment of the FNST Masters program is delivered to a cohort of students, face-to-face, in a block format over a two-year period. The program intends to offer three-day sessions spanning one weekend once a month, from September to April. In-person attendance is mandatory.

~~Internships allow the students to gain first-hand experience with communities. A student with experience equivalent to an internship may request that the internship requirement be waived by the Chair, and substitute an additional elective course. Normally, internships are arranged on an individual basis. The student, in consultation with a host community or organization, must write a proposal. Decisions on the appropriateness of the internship are made by the Department of First Nations Studies, based on the merits of the proposal, the nature of the experiential component, and the value of the internship to the host and to the student. In particular, the proposal must indicate the student is under the supervision of the community, in order for the student to acquire direct training in community dynamics. Students are expected to keep a record of the internship, and write a report for the Department of First Nations Studies that places the experiential component of the internship into the context of the student's academic training. The host also provides the Department of First Nations Studies with an independent evaluation of the internship and of the student's performance. A student may be permitted to substitute a second internship for the open elective course.~~

~~Students are expected to demonstrate a general knowledge of the aboriginal peoples. Aboriginal Peoples of Canada. At a minimum, this knowledge must be comparable in scope and depth to the material covered in FNST 100-3 (The Aboriginal Peoples of Canada). Students lacking such knowledge on entering the program will be are required to make up the deficiency through suitable course work, normally during their first semester in the MA program. Such course work will does not count toward the course requirements for the program.~~

Language Requirement

~~No additional~~ There are no language requirements, are required. However, students should be aware that command of one or more languages other than English may be necessary in order to pursue particular types of research.

DISM 799-9                      Disability Management Thesis

Practicum

Students are involved in field-based learning activities for the purpose of pursuing and developing research/policy /administration/practice skills within a related employment area. The practicum component stresses independent learning, and permits students to test or develop theory in the context of fieldwork.

The form of field practice components varies widely in accordance with the learning needs of the students. The practicum leads to a written report that reflects students' critical analyses of their practice settings. The report further demonstrates a deepening of professional competence, analytical skills, and professional judgment, and represents a contribution to the knowledge and skill base of the profession. The duration of this component is equivalent to three months full-time employment.

Major Paper

The Major Paper (MP) option is for those students who have written a letter outlining their experience in the disability management field and obtained permission allowing them to prepare a Major Paper in place of a Practicum (6 credits). It is the aim of the MP to acquaint students with the practice of scholarship. Such acquaintance will normally entail a critical treatment of relevant academic literature using theoretical or philosophical methods. If the student wishes to pursue empirical research, either quantitative or qualitative, the thesis option must be selected.

Comprehensive Examination

The comprehensive examination option of study requires the successful completion of a comprehensive examination that evaluates a candidate's knowledge of theory, research and practices in his/her field of study.

Thesis

An oral examination is required as per University regulations. All students taking the thesis option will be required to be in Prince George for the oral examination.

~~This practicum is for students enrolled in the Pre-MSW program. It represents the major practicum before moving on to the final MSW year. It is required by all Pre-MSW students. This course gives students an opportunity to recast their practice experiences into a social work practice and policy theoretical framework. It is geared to the student's social work thinking and skill development with communities, individuals, families and groups within a field practice setting in this region of British Columbia. Students will usually become involved in the professional practice and delivery of social work within the setting of an agency. A weekly Seminar/Skills Review Lab permits students to reflect on their practice experience. This seminar assists in the integration of theory and practice by broadening the professional knowledge base through the sharing of experience and practice.~~

Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (MA Program)

All students must participate in a ~~g~~Graduate seminar Colloquia course (NRES 704-1.5 701-1) at least twice during their course of studies, complete NRES 700-3 and complete a research design and methods course approved by their supervisor and the Chair of the NRES graduate program (~~NRES 705-3~~). These required courses will provide students with an informed, integrated base for understanding multi-faceted resource and environmental issues. Elective courses will provide students with the option to pursue their specialized interests. Candidates must complete a minimum of 9 6 elective credit hours at the graduate level (i.e., at or above the 600 level) that emphasize the human dimensions of resource or environmental issues. A maximum of 3 credit hours from independent studies can be counted towards the elective requirement. Specific details of coursework ~~will be~~ are determined by the research area ~~undertaken~~ chosen by each student. The supervisory committee will ensure the appropriate selection of elective courses, and may require a student to complete more than 9 6 credit hours if weaknesses in the student's background exist (including undergraduate prerequisites for graduate courses) or if additional courses are required for professional accreditation. The MA (NRES) degree also requires the writing and defense of an independent research thesis (NRES 794-12).

Summary

Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (MNRES Program)

The Master of Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (MNRES) is designed to integrate the complementary aspects of resource and environmental issues. It focuses on an interdisciplinary approach to melding traditional science with social science perspectives, and resource planning and management. This degree is designed to attract students from a diverse range of backgrounds and aspirations, who share an interest in looking beyond traditional disciplinary boundaries.

The MNRES degree is one Master's degree route within the Natural Resources and Environmental Studies Graduate Program (the others are a MA and a MSc). The MNRES is the only one of the three that fully embraces the interdisciplinary philosophy of the Faculty. There are three factors that determine whether a student pursues the MNRES degree: 1) student's background; 2) elective courses undertaken at UNBC and 3) thesis topic. Depending on individualized learning objectives, the MNRES degree allows flexibility in choosing a research emphasis in the social, planned or natural environments from an interdisciplinary perspective.

All students must participate in a ~~g~~ Graduate seminar Colloquia course (NRES ~~704-1.5~~ 701-1) ~~at least twice~~ during their course of studies, take a course in integrated resource management (NRES 703-3), complete NRES 700-3 and complete a research ~~design and~~ methods course approved by their supervisor and the Chair of the NRES Graduate Program (NRES 705-3). These required courses ~~will~~ provide students with an informed, integrated base for understanding multi-faceted resource and environmental issues. Elective courses ~~will~~ provide students with the opportunity to pursue their specialized interests within an interdisciplinary context. The MNRES degree also requires the completion of an independent research thesis (NRES 792-12) or non-thesis project (NRES 793-6).

Thesis Option

Students pursuing the MNRES thesis route must write and defend an independent research thesis (NRES 792-12) which incorporates research design and implementation addressing an integrated research problem. Candidates must complete a minimum of ~~6~~ 3 elective credit hours at the graduate level (i.e., at or above the 600 level) that emphasize an integrated approach to natural resource issues. A maximum of 3 credit hours from independent studies can be counted towards the elective requirement. Specific details of course work ~~will be~~ are determined by the research area ~~undertaken~~ chosen by each student. The supervisory committee will ensure the appropriate selection of elective courses, and may require a student to complete more than ~~6~~ 3 credit hours if weaknesses in the student's background exist (including undergraduate prerequisites for graduate courses) or if additional courses are required for professional accreditation.

Summary of Thesis Option

Core Courses    ~~9~~ 7 credit hours
Methods Course                      3 credit hours
Elective Courses            ~~6~~ 3 credit hours
MNRES Thesis    12 credit hours
Total Required    ~~27~~ 25 credit hours

Non-Thesis Project Option

The non-thesis project option is designed primarily for students who wish to enhance their professional career skills. Students pursuing this option must complete a project (NRES 793-6) —an extended position paper, report, or plan—that addresses a major problem or issue relevant to the field of natural resources and environmental studies. Candidates must complete a minimum of ~~12~~ 9 credit hours of approved elective courses at graduate level (i.e., at or above the 600 level) that result in a broad, well-informed, and integrated exposure to natural resources and environmental issues. A maximum of 3 credits from independent studies can be counted towards the elective requirement. The supervisory committee will ensure appropriate elective course selection, and may require a student to complete more than ~~12~~ 9 credits if weaknesses in the student's background exist (including undergraduate prerequisites for graduate courses) or if additional courses are required for professional accreditation.

Summary of Project Option

Core Courses    ~~9~~ 7 credit hours
Methods Course                      3 credit hours
Elective Courses            ~~12~~ 9 credit hours
MNRES Project    6 credit hours
Total Required    ~~27~~ 25 credit hours

Students must meet UNBC's residency requirements.

Recommended Progression

The normal time for completion of the MNRES is two academic years. While this is the recommended ~~time~~ timeline, it may be adjusted at the discretion of the supervisory committee to suit a particular student's research and program needs.

~~The Research Design and Methods course (NRES 705-3)~~ Research in Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (NRES 700-3) ~~will be~~ is offered annually in the ~~Fall~~ September Semester. Students will normally enroll in ~~the Research Design and Methods~~ this course in Year I of their program. This timing ~~will~~ allows students to pursue their area of specialization with a method course or elective courses during the September Semester; in order to develop an interest-specific framework within which to pose methodological questions for the thesis or project proposal. ~~It will also allow those students lacking a sufficient background in statistics to meet the course prerequisite.~~

~~The Graduate Seminar (NRES 704-1.5)~~ Colloquia (NRES 701-1) ~~will be~~ is offered during ~~all~~ the September and January Semesters. ~~Students will take NRES 704-1.5 at least twice.~~ Electives, the required methods course and Integrated Resource Management (NRES 703-3) may be taken at any time during Years I and II. The sequencing of courses ~~will be~~ is determined by the student in discussion with the supervisory committee. Over the September and January Semesters of Year I, the student, under the direction of the supervisory committee, ~~will~~ develops a thesis or project proposal. By the end of the second semester, the student should have successfully defended the thesis or project proposal to the supervisory committee; ~~This will~~ allowing the student to undertake the collection of data during the Summer of Year I. ~~It is expected that~~ The student will ~~is expected to~~ have successfully defended the thesis by the end of Year II.

Changes to Degree Requirements and Calendar Description — Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (MSc Program)

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the revisions to the NRES MSc degree on pages 95-97 of the 2013/14 graduate calendar be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2014

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (MSc Program)

Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (NRES) is one stream of the Master of Science degree in the College of Science and Management. This degree is designed for candidates whose research interests have a scientific emphasis, and is expected to attract students from science disciplines such as biology, forestry, environmental science, and physical geography, as well as other scientifically oriented areas of resource management. Students studying within the NRES stream will, upon successful completion of the degree requirements outlined herein, obtain a MSc (NRES).

Students must choose from the following areas of study:

- Biology
- Environmental Science
- Forestry
- Geography
- Outdoor Recreation and Tourism Management

All students must participate in a ~~graduate seminar~~ Colloquia course (e.g., NRES 704-1.5 and/or MCPS 704-1.5-701-1) ~~for at least two semesters~~ during their course of studies, complete NRES 700-3 and complete a research ~~design and~~ methods course approved by their supervisor and the Chair of the NRES graduate program (NRES 705-3). It is anticipated that some students may enter the Master's degree program with a strong background in the areas of research design/methods and research analyses. Such students may challenge the requirement of the Research Design and Methods course. Because MCPS 705-3 is symmetrical with NRES 705-3, such students may opt to take the methods course offered as part of the alternate MSc stream to which they are enrolled (i.e., the MCPS stream of the MSc degree). The course instructor(s) and the supervisory committee will together decide upon the appropriateness of this substitution.

Candidates must complete a minimum of 9 6 elective credit hours at the graduate level (i.e., at or above the 600 level), selected from the science courses available at UNBC or courses that emphasize a scientific orientation to natural resource issues. A maximum of 3 credit hours from independent studies can be counted towards the elective requirement. Specific details of course work ~~will be~~ are determined by the research area ~~undertaken~~ chosen by each student. The supervisory committee will ensure the appropriate selection of elective courses, and may require a student to complete more than 9 6 elective credit hours if, for example, weaknesses in the student's background exist (including undergraduate prerequisites for graduate courses) or if additional courses are required for professional accreditation.

The MSc (NRES) also requires the completion of a research thesis (NRES 790-12), in which the student makes a scientific contribution to a traditional science field or to an applied understanding of resources and the environment. Students ~~will be~~ are required to (a) make an oral presentation of the thesis proposal to the supervisory committee, (b) write an original thesis based on the research completed (in accordance with established UNBC guidelines), (c) give a public lecture on the completed thesis, and (d) present an oral defense of the thesis to the examining committee. All core and elective course requirements must have been satisfied prior to the oral defense.

Students must meet UNBC's residency requirements.

Summary

Core Courses ~~6~~ 4 credit hours
Methods Course 3 credit hours
Elective Courses 9 ~~6~~ credit hours
MSc Thesis 12 credit hours
Total Required ~~27~~ 25 credit hours

Changes to Graduate Calendar Description — MBA Program

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change(s) to the graduate calendar description for the MBA Program, on pages 62 & 63 of the 2013/2014 graduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2014

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Business Administration (MBA)

The MBA is recognized worldwide as the hallmark of the management professional. Graduates of the UNBC MBA program develop a well-rounded understanding of the skills needed by leaders of private and public sector organizations, and the challenges facing enterprises in general, and northern ones in particular.

The program is designed to allow professionals to complete their degree within two years while continuing to work full-time. During the first year of the program, students are introduced to the major disciplinary areas within the field of business, including strategy, economics, accounting, finance, organizational behaviour, marketing, and operations management. This part of the program builds the broad base of knowledge and skills required by senior management.

During the second year of the program, students gain a broad understanding of the global, legal and ethical environment in which organizations operate, and of the challenges facing organizations. In the context of northern British Columbia, there are economic, social, and environmental challenges confronting small and rural communities participating in a resource-based economy. Through the development of leadership and management capabilities, the MBA Program helps the communities and organizations of central and northern British Columbia to achieve sustainable success and prosperity in a changing and complex world.

~~A capstone practical business research project is required to complete the MBA degree.~~

Course participants have the opportunity to focus on individual interests during the MBA Project. Working under the supervision of a faculty member, students complete a major research project, applying relevant theory to the study of a substantial organizational problem or issue.

~~Course work during the MBA program~~ Course work normally includes work assessed on an individual and group basis. Enterprise problems are seldom completely resolved through individual effort, and group work reinforces and enhances individual ability to work within multi-disciplinary teams.

Students come to the MBA program with diverse backgrounds, a range of social and cultural perspectives, and different industry and business experiences. The MBA program encourages this diversity as it fosters a rich learning environment.

~~The students in the MBA program reflect the social and cultural diversity of British Columbia and Canada, an enduring source of strength for our nation. Students will develop an appreciation and respect for the diverse perspectives and ways of understanding the world that their fellow students bring to the program.~~

~~Delivery of course material reflects the work and home life demands of participants. Course content is delivered through workshops which are scheduled to facilitate attendance and minimize the need for work-release. Workshops are compulsory, and may require weekend, evening, and summer attendance.~~

Admission Requirements

The number of spaces in the MBA program each year is limited to facilitate quality interaction with faculty and to enrich learning for every student. Admission is by a selection process based on criteria described below.

In addition to the general admission requirements outlined in Section 1.0 of the Graduate Studies Admissions and Regulations, candidates are required to provide:

Evidence of a minimum of three years of work experience in a managerial or professional position;

Three letters of reference from academics, colleagues, supervisors or significant clients;

Demonstrated proficiency in English, as stipulated in Section 1.1 of the Graduate Studies Admissions and Regulations, ~~is required.~~

Recommended

~~A Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) score report (expected minimum score 550). (The GMAT test is recommended but not required).~~

Application deadlines are found under "Semester Dates" online at www.unbc.ca/calendar/graduate, or at the School of Business web page at <http://www.unbc.ca/commerce/index.html>.

For additional information about graduate admissions or to download application materials, go to the Graduate Programs website at www.unbc.ca/graduateprograms.

For additional information regarding admissions, please see the Graduate Studies Admissions and Regulations.

Exceptional Admission

Under special circumstances, candidates who either lack a formal degree or do not meet the grade point average requirements but who have other outstanding qualifications, such as a professional designation, may be eligible for admission. For these candidates, a personal interview is required. The personal interview is designed to assess the applicant's business skills and knowledge.

~~Recommended Progression~~

~~The program is designed in a two-year modular format, preceded in some instances by a pre-MBA stage.~~

~~Pre-MBA Stage~~

~~Students selected who lack specific core skills in key quantitative or qualitative areas are required to supplement or refresh their skills through a program of study established at the time of their application. The pre-MBA program is individually tailored, and determined by the Business Graduate Curriculum Committee before an offer of conditional admission into the program is made.~~

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IASK 107-3 Special Topics be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: September 2014

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Calendar Course Description: This course is one of the “big question courses” that is part of the IASK Program. Based on themes of “intersections and conversations,” the curriculum celebrates and respects the past, challenges students to think in diverse and creative ways, and fosters awareness of and connection to our communities and the world. This course may be repeated to a maximum of 6 credit hours.

Co-requisites: Students will be required to register in IASK courses offered that year

Change to Program Calendar Description and Course Prefixes — Foundation Year Curriculum Program (FNDS) and Courses FNDS 101-3, FNDS 102-3, FNDS 103-3, FNDS 104-3, FNDS 105-3, and FNDS 106-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change(s) to the Foundation Year Curriculum Program (FNDS) and course prefixes, on pages 64, 65, and 242 of the 2013/14 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2014

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

~~Foundation Year Curriculum Program (FNDS)~~

Integrated Analytical Skills & Knowledge (IASK)

The ~~Foundation Year Curriculum~~ Integrated Analytical Skills & Knowledge Program at UNBC offers first-year students a rich and unique learning experience. Supported by seven academic units in the College of Arts, Social and Health Sciences (Anthropology, Economics, English, First Nations Studies, International Studies, Political Science, and Northern Studies), ~~FNDS IASK~~ FNDS IASK delivers an integrated and interdisciplinary curriculum. ~~FNDS IASK~~ FNDS IASK is cohort based: small groups of students will work together across courses. Intake for ~~FNDS IASK~~ FNDS IASK is limited to 65 students who self-select to take part in the Program. ~~FNDS IASK~~ FNDS IASK courses are accepted as meeting the degree requirements for the seven departments listed above.

The ~~FNDS IASK~~ FNDS IASK is made up of 18 credit hours spread out over two terms. However ~~FNDS IASK~~ FNDS IASK does not occupy the full first year, as students can register for other courses and programs. That is, 9 credit hours are taken in the September Semester and 9 credit hours are taken in the January Semester. The courses blend content and teaching in ways that prepare students for success in university and beyond.

Curriculum in ~~FNDS IASK~~ FNDS IASK focuses on learning outcomes and on content breadth across the Liberal Arts. Learning outcomes in ~~FNDS IASK~~ FNDS IASK include the following: 1) Appropriate depth and breadth of knowledge and skills; 2) Analytical, critical, and creative thinking skills; 3) Liberality, inclusiveness, and an appreciation of diversity; 4) Personal growth, leadership skills and effective communication; 5) Life-long learning and intellectual development; 6) Engaged citizenship from the local to global levels.

~~FNDS IASK~~ FNDS IASK is recommended for students entering UNBC for the first time in one of the seven academic units listed above and who desire to work with a small group of students in a learning environment designed to facilitate student engagement with their peers. Through interaction with a small group of professors, this program will also assist first-year students to achieve improved academic performance throughout their four years at UNBC.

Curriculum:

- ~~FNDS IASK~~ FNDS IASK 101-3 Ways of Knowing

- FNDS IASK 102-3 Waves of Globalization
- FNDS IASK 103-3 Foundations of Learning I
- FNDS IASK 104-3 Peoples, Places and Culture
- FNDS IASK 105-3 What is Security?
- FNDS IASK 106-3 Foundations of Learning II
- IASK 107-3 Special Topics

FNDS IASK 101-3 Ways of Knowing This course introduces students to the “ways of knowing” that inform and shape the Humanities and Social Sciences. It is based on three main questions related to knowledge: What is it and how is it defined? How do we assess it? How do we communicate it? Related questions include: What form does knowledge take? What counts as knowledge? Who has the power to define what counts as knowledge? Is there only one “truth”? How do we know what is credible? How do we share knowledge? Who gets to share knowledge? In other words, is knowledge political? What practices define the ways Humanities and Social Sciences disciplines define, assess and communicate knowledge? Student participation in “hands-on” learning is a key element of the course structure.

Co-requisites: Students will be required to register in all six FNDS IASK courses offered that year

FNDS IASK 102-3 Waves of Globalization “Globalization” is one of the most popular words in the Social Sciences today. It is also one whose meaning has been much debated. The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the ways in which globalization has occurred, its causes and its consequences, as a way of better understanding what the concept means and how it affects us today.

Co-requisites: Students will be required to register in all six FNDS IASK courses offered that year

FNDS IASK 103-3 Foundations of Learning I This course parallels and complements the other two FNDS IASK courses offered during the same semester, and integrates foundational readings and course content. The course focuses on critical thinking; academic reading and writing; oral presentation; library skills; and peer learning. Students meet the course objectives by working together in cohorts to discuss and practice university-level standards for writing and critical thought.

Co-requisites: Students will be required to register in all six FNDS IASK courses offered that year

FNDS IASK 104-3 Peoples, Places and Culture This course focuses on how people are shaped by and shape their worlds and where they live. People’s attachment to place is meaningful and the sense of place influences our identity and our social and cultural interactions with others and with the world. Different cultures and peoples within those cultures may hold various and diverse meanings of place. One person throughout their lifetime may even understand their place, and their place in the world, in different and changing ways. All of us are always “in place” somewhere. The goal of this course is to become aware of the impact “being in place” has on our lives and the lives of others by exploring the key concepts of place, identity and belonging.

Co-requisites: Students will be required to register in all six FNDS IASK courses offered that year

FNDS IASK 105-3 What is Security? Focusing on different interpretations of the concept of security, students explore how security is subject to various interpretations over time and how different locations in society and across cultures can result in alternative understandings of security.

Co-requisites: Students will be required to register in all six FNDS IASK courses offered that year

FNDS IASK 106-3 Foundations of Learning II This course parallels and complements the other two ~~FNDS~~ IASK courses offered during the same semester, and integrates foundational readings and course content. The course focuses on critical thinking; academic reading and writing; oral presentation; library skills; and peer learning. Students meet the course objectives by working together in cohorts to discuss and practice university-level standards for writing and critical thought. Co-requisites: Students will be required to register in all six ~~FNDS~~ IASK courses offered that year

Zahir

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the changes to the Academic Performance section in the Northern Collaborative Baccalaureate Nursing Program on page 179 of the 2013-2014 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2014

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Academic Performance

Students must adhere to all policies and regulations of the institution(s) where they are registered for courses. This requirement includes, but is not limited to, matters related to academic appeals and academic dishonesty. Progression through the program is governed by guidelines on academic standing and continuance. Probation guidelines are governed by UNBC.

Students must obtain the minimum passing grade for all required Nursing and Health Sciences (NURS, HHSC or equivalent) courses as defined under “Qualification for Degree.” ~~Students who do not meet these criteria may repeat the course once. If, on the second attempt, the student does not meet the minimum passing grade, he/she will be required to withdraw from the program and will not be allowed to reapply to the program at any time in the future. For fourth year Clinical Focus courses, students may only attempt two courses in total, whether they be the same course or two different Clinical Focus courses.~~

Students are required to withdraw from their respective Nursing programs if they have two instances of not meeting the minimum passing grade requirement either in the same Year or in two consecutive Years, in any combination of the following:

- NURS theory and/or practice courses,
- required HHSC courses,
- equivalents of the above.

A 'Year' is comprised of all the mandatory NURS and HHSC (or equivalent) courses in a given Level (e.g. Year 1 includes all 100-level courses listed under the Lower-Division requirement in the Calendar) regardless of how long it takes the student to complete the courses. Students who are required to withdraw in Year 1 or 2 may reapply to the NCBNP after a minimum of 1 year. Those required to withdraw in Year 3 or 4 (including RNCP and Post-Diploma students) may reapply after 3 years. For NCBNP students, assessments are performed on an individual basis by a joint committee of the UNBC School of Nursing, NWCC, and CNC with no guarantee of readmission. Students who are readmitted must begin the Program at Year 1 and repeat all NURS and HHSC (or equivalent) courses. Any reapplications to the RNCP and Post-Diploma are assessed by the UNBC School of Nursing.

Students may be removed from a clinical setting due to “unsafe or unprofessional” performance/conduct, and may receive a grade of F in the clinical component of the course. When a student receives a grade of F for the clinical component of a course, the overall course grade will be computed on the basis of the grade achieved in all other components of the course, to a maximum grade of C-.

Students who withdraw from more than one NURS and/or HHSC course (or equivalent) in an academic year will be required to meet with the Program Coordinator at the institution they are currently attending to discuss whether the student is suited to continue in the program. Consultation must occur with and permission be granted by the Program Coordinator before the student will be allowed to register in subsequent courses.

In addition to full-time students, the Education degree programs attempt to accommodate part-time students who may hold full-time jobs. For this reason, most of the Education courses are offered in the late afternoon and evening, as well as during Summer Session, so they can be accessed by persons during their annual vacation. It is recommended that students plan to make full use of the Summer Session offerings to complete their degree within the prescribed time limit. It is also recommended that students complete EDUC 602-4 (Quantitative Research Design and Data Analysis) and EDUC 610-4 (Qualitative Analysis in Education) during the first half of their MEd Program.

The MSW program at UNBC emphasizes a pro-active orientation that aims to provide informed theoretical, empirical, and substantive choices for improvements in human service programs, policies, education, and social work practice. This approach to social work and social policy is known as social administration.

The key elements in this social administration approach as they relate to the thematic areas of the MSW at UNBC consist of the following:

- the description and analysis of the operation of human services in northern and remote regions;
- the study of social policies and social work practices, and their individual and social consequences for the people and communities in the interior and northern British Columbia;
- the examination of global, historical, social, and economic changes, and the way these affect the living conditions and the people served by human service agencies and organizations in northern and remote areas; and
- the recognition of the values central to the responsibility of human service professionals to work with socially disadvantaged and powerless groups, and to expand the power and resources of these groups through social work practice.

Within this social administration approach courses are arranged so students develop skills that integrate the research/policy/practice domains of social work. A major emphasis of the MSW is to foster critical intervention skills that link the domains of social policy, social work research, and social work practice. For example, if one chooses to develop a speciality in community practice and research, or social policy, the program of studies will emphasize the linkages between these domains or dimensions of social work.

Ryan

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Admissions and Degrees, the change(s) to Section 2.0 (Registration Procedures and Status) of the Graduate Programs Admissions and Regulations, on page 39 of the 2013/2014 Graduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: Immediately upon approval by Senate; to be reflected in 2014/2015 calendar CARRIED (consent agenda).

2.0 Registration Procedures and Status

2.1 Initial Registration

All students admitted to a Graduate Program must normally register during the dates specified for such registration. All letters of admission that are not used to register in the semester to which they apply are automatically cancelled. Students who are issued a letter of admission for the September Semester may not use this document for entry in the January Semester.

Any requests for deferral of admission to a graduate program must be made in writing to the ~~Graduate Studies Officer~~ UNBC Graduate Admissions in the Office of the Registrar, along with payment of the Admission Deferral Fee.

2.2.3 Reinstatement Students who have withdrawn with permission from their graduate program and later wish to return can only do so if, inclusive of their time away from their graduate program, they have not exceeded the time limit applicable to their graduate program (See Regulation 7.7); and have supervisory support for reinstatement.

Students who have not exceeded the time limit must do the following:

- a. Submit a new Application for Admission to Graduate Programs ~~Form~~ and pay the reapplication fee
- b. Provide a letter to UNBC Graduate Admissions in the Office of the Registrar ~~the Graduate Studies Officer~~ stating their rationale for wishing to return to their graduate program
- c. Provide proof of supervisory support for their reinstatement

Students who have registered at another university or college since last in attendance at the University of Northern British Columbia are required to state the names of all educational institutions of post-secondary level attended and to submit an official transcript of their academic records at these institutions to the Office of the Registrar. Students who have exceeded the time limit period or who have been withdrawn without permission please see section 2.2.4 (Reapplication).

The meeting commenced at 3:30 p.m.

1.0 S-201406.01

Approval of the Agenda

Dickson

That the agenda for the June 25, 2014 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.

It was requested that agenda item 12.3 be moved to the in camera session agenda. As there were no objections to this request, the motion to approve the agenda, as amended, was CARRIED.

2.0 S-201406.02

Approval of Senate Minutes

Horianopoulos

That the minutes of the May 28, 2014 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.
CARRIED.

3.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

No business arising was identified.

4.0 President's Report

Dale

Dr. Dale reported on several matters, and his report is attached to these minutes as "Appendix I."

5.0 Report of the Provost Young

Dr. Young had several items to report on, and his report is attached to these minutes as "Appendix II."

6.0 Report of the Registrar Hanschen

Mr. Hanschen had nothing to report.

7.0 Question Period

A Senator asked whether the Administrative Services Delivery Transformation project would impact UNBC, and Dr. Dale responded that it was too early to determine but that some of the initiatives viewed as potentially helpful will not necessarily be helpful to UNBC. He anticipated more opportunities in the future, however.

When asked about the status of the Presidential search, Dr. Dale replied that the committee continues its work.

A question about a policy in relation to the number of e-mails that NUGSS can send in a year was raised, and Mr. Hanschen agreed to ask the Chief Information Officer about this matter and pass the information along to the Senator who raised the question.

A Senator asked how "the human element" could be addressed in policy enforcement and it was noted that policies often contain words such as "normally" or "may", allowing for some discretion to be exercised. It was also indicated that students can appeal decisions affecting them.

8.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda

There were no requests to remove motions from the consent agenda.

9.0 Committee Reports

9.1 Senate Committee on Academic Affairs Young

"For Approval" Items:

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the Agreement of Cooperation between The Board of Education of School District No. 91 (Nechako Lakes) and the University of Northern British Columbia be approved as proposed.

Effective date: August 2014

CARRIED.

S-201406.04

Approval of Threshold for Administration of Evaluations

Horianopoulos

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, evaluations only be administered if a course has a minimum of 8 students registered in it.

Effective date: September 2014

Dr. Young provided some background information regarding this motion, noting that no policy exists regarding the practice of administering evaluations only for courses containing more than 5 students. The issue was discussed and the question was called.

DEFEATED.

Upon the motion being defeated, Dr. Young suggested the matter be referred back to the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs as the issue was already on the next agenda of that committee for further discussion.

“For Information” Items:

SCAAF201406.05

Changes to Course Co-requisites — NURS 317-5.5

CARRIED.

3.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

No business arising was identified.

4.0 President's Report Dale

Dr. Dale noted that this would be the last Senate meeting he would be chairing in his role as Interim President and thanked Senators for their support. He added that the new President would be arriving on the weekend, and reported on the following matters:

- September 2 will be the kickoff to the 25th Anniversary celebrations, with some funding announcements taking place
- On January 1, Dr. Dale assumes his new role as the Dean of Regional Programs, and will be holding a fireside chat later in September to discuss the new role
- The pandemic plan will be reviewed to ensure it is current

Finally, Dr. Dale thanked Dr. Young for serving as Acting Provost.

5.0 Report of the Provost Young

Dr. Young asked that it be noted in the minutes that Dr. Dale be thanked for serving as Interim President. He also thanked the organizers of the Teaching and Learning Conference. He then reported on the following matters:

- the University is conducting training (provided jointly by Human Resources, the Office of the Provost, and the Faculty Association), on the principles of hiring, for faculty appointment and selection committees
- The “policy on policies” work is moving forward, with the inventory of policies being moved to a SharePoint site, but there is still work to be done to determine the scope and process for instituting policies

Revisions to Admission Requirements for the MEd (Counselling Specialization)

Kitchenham

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change(s) to the admission requirements for the MEd (Counselling Specialization), on page 58 of the 2014-2015 Graduate Calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: August 2014

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

~~In addition to the admission application requirements outlined in section 1.0 of the Graduate Admissions and Regulations, applicants who are applying to the Prince George campus MEd Counselling specialization are required to have graduated with a Baccalaureate degree a minimum of two years prior to the admission date to which they are applying, and to have obtained some paid or unpaid work experience in a helping capacity at a counselling-related or teaching-related setting since receiving their Baccalaureate degree. The two year post-Baccalaureate requirement does not apply to admissions to the MEd Counselling specialization at regional campuses.~~

~~Example: Terry wishes to apply to the Prince George campus MEd Counselling specialization for the 2014 admissions. Terry graduated with a Baccalaureate degree in May of 2012 and six months later obtained employment as a probation officer. Terry's application meets this admissions criteria.~~

~~Example: Dan wishes to apply to the Prince George campus MEd Counselling specialization for the 2014 admissions. Dan graduated with a Baccalaureate degree in May of 2013. Dan does not have a minimum of two years between receiving his Baccalaureate degree and the date of admissions; therefore, the application does not meet this admissions criteria.~~

~~Example: Mary wishes to apply to the Prince George campus MEd Counselling specialization for the 2014 intake. Mary graduated with a Baccalaureate degree in May of 2010. Since then Mary has not accumulated any experience working in helping capacity in a counselling-related or teaching-related setting; therefore, the application does not meet admissions criteria.~~

In addition to the admission application requirements outlined in section 1.0 of the Graduate Admissions and Regulations, priority will be given to those applicants applying for the MEd Counselling specialization who have (a) graduated with a Baccalaureate degree a minimum of two years prior to the admission date to which they are applying, and (b) obtained some paid or unpaid work experience in a helping capacity at a counselling-related or teaching-related setting since receiving their Baccalaureate degree.

Applicants are also required to submit a Curriculum Vitae or Resumé that indicates the number of hours in each employment or volunteer position. A list of any scholarships or publications should also be included.

A concern was raised regarding the eligibility requirements for this award. The SCSB Committee chair, Dr. Owen, responded that the terms of reference are in accordance with those at other institutions in the province who are offering this award, but noted that the SCSB is sensitive to this concern and will report back if any issues arise. A Senator indicated that he wished to publicly thank Senator Rheanna Robinson for helping Senators think through these types of issues. Dr. Owen added that he would like to recognize faculty member Dr. Glen Schmidt for his efforts in the creation of this award as UNBC is one of the first institutions to do so.

3.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

A Senator asked about the budget regarding the 25th Anniversary celebration and Senator Siakaluk responded that Dr. Weeks would report on this matter at the next meeting of Senate.

4.0 President's Report Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks was unable to attend the Senate meeting but supplied a report of his recent activities, which is attached to these minutes as "Appendix I."

5.0 Report of the Provost Dr. Dale

Dr. Dale sent his regrets and therefore did not provide a report.

6.0 Report of the Registrar Mr. Hanschen

Mr. Hanschen reported on two matters. First, he indicated that with regard to the question about publishing the Senate packages on the web with unapproved minutes in them, the minutes would be stripped from the packages before they are published. Second, he noted that Dr. Phil Burton was to be considered by Senate for appointment to the selection committee for the Provost because Ms. Titi Kunkel, who had been appointed at the last Senate meeting, did not meet the eligibility criteria of having a tenured or tenure-track appointment.

7.0 Question Period Dr. Weeks

A. General Requirements

To be awarded the BHSc degree, students are required to complete 122 credit hours of University-level courses consisting of ~~67~~ 64 credit hours of common requirements for all BHSc students, with the remainder coming from the following majors, and electives:

Biomedical Studies: Students take 34 credit hours of courses from the Biomedical Studies Major and ~~24~~ 24

elective credit hours.

Community and Population Health-Aboriginal and Rural Health:

Students take ~~27~~ 21 credit hours from the common course requirements for both Community and Population Health Majors, as well as a minimum of 12 credit hours (6 specified, 6 with some choice) in Aboriginal and Rural Health-related courses, thus adding to a focus of knowledge and understanding of this specific subject material. The remaining ~~46~~ 25 credit hours are obtained from elective credit hours.

Community and Population Health - Environmental Health: Students take ~~27~~ 21 credit hours from the common course requirements for both Community and Population Health Majors, as well as a minimum of 12 credit hours (6 specified, 6 with some choice) in Environmental Health-related courses. The remaining ~~46~~ 25 credit hours are obtained from elective credit hours.

Students enrolling in Health Sciences courses with prerequisites are required to have completed all prerequisite courses for those courses with a ~~C-~~ C or better, or have permission to enroll from the School Chair.

To change BHSc majors, students must apply through Student Advising.

B. Common Requirements: All Majors

In order to meet the graduation requirements for a BHSc all students must successfully complete the following common requirements consisting of ~~67~~ 64 credit hours. It is recommended that students take the courses listed below in the year of study indicated:

1st year - ~~23~~ 20 credit hours

BIOL 103-3 Introductory Biology I

BIOL 104-3 Introductory Biology II

BIOL 123-1 Introductory Biology I Laboratory

BIOL 124-1 Introductory Biology II Laboratory

FNST 100-3 The Aboriginal Peoples of Canada

HHSC 101-3 Introduction to Health Science I: Issues and Controversies

HHSC 103-3 Health Care Systems

HHSC 105-3 Functional Anatomy

PSYC 101-3 Psychology as a Science

PSYC 102-3 Psychology and Human Problems

2nd year - ~~20~~ 18 credit hours

BIOL 203-3 Microbiology

HHSC 111-4 Anatomy and Physiology I

HHSC 112-4 Anatomy and Physiology II

HHSC 201-3 Ethics and Law in Health Care

HHSC 311-3 Nutrition

PSYC 101-3 Psychology as a Science

PSYC 102-3 Psychology and Human Problems

STAT 240-3 Basic Statistics

or ECON 205-3 Statistics for the Social and Management Sciences

3rd year - ~~45~~ 20 credit hours

FNST 302-3 First Nations Health and Healing

HHSC 305-3 Human Physiology I

HHSC 325-1 Human Physiology I Lab

HHSC 306-3 Human Physiology

HHSC 326-1 Human Physiology II Lab

HHSC 350-3 Introduction to Epidemiology

HHSC 351-3 Research Design and Methods for Health Sciences

PSYC 309-3 Introduction to Health Psychology

PSYC 345-3 Lifespan Development

— or SOCW 421-3 Human Growth and Development

4th year - ~~9 6~~ credit hours
~~HHSC 451-3 Health Sciences Research Project~~
~~HHSC 471-3 Aboriginal Health and Chronic Disease~~
~~PSYC 345-3 Lifespan Development~~
~~or SOCW 421-3 Human Growth and Development~~
~~PSYC 409-3 Advanced Health Psychology~~

C. Major in Biomedical Studies

Students pursuing a major in Biomedical Studies are required to complete the following 34 credit hours of courses. It is recommended that students take the courses listed below in the year of study indicated:

1st year - 14 credit hours
CHEM 100-3 General Chemistry I
CHEM 120-1 General Chemistry Lab I
CHEM 101-3 General Chemistry II
CHEM 121-1 General Chemistry Lab II

Two of:
ENGL 100-3 Introduction to Literary Structures
ENGL 102-3 Introduction to Poetry
ENGL 103-3 Introduction to Fiction
ENGL 104-3 Introduction to Film
ENGL 170-3 Writing and Communication Skills

2nd year - 14 credit hours
BIOL 210-3 Genetics
CHEM 201-3 Organic Chemistry I
CHEM 250-1 Organic Chemistry Lab I
CHEM 203-3 Organic Chemistry II
CHEM 251-1 Organic Chemistry Lab II
CHEM 204-3 Introductory Biochemistry

3rd and 4th years - 6 credit hours
BIOL 311-3 Cell and Molecular Biology
BCMB 306-3 Intermediary Metabolism

A total of 9 elective credit hours in upper division (300 and 400 level) from any discipline are required for degree completion.

Note: Students intending to apply to professional health degree programs are encouraged to take the following courses as electives:
PHYS 110-4, PHYS 111-4, MATH 100-3 and MATH 101-3.

D. Majors in Community and Population Health

Students pursuing a major in either Community and Population Health-Aboriginal and Rural Health, or Community and Population Health-Environmental Health are required to complete the following ~~27~~ 21 credit hours. It is recommended that students take the courses listed below in the year of study indicated:

1st year – ~~9 3~~ credit hours
CHEM 110-3 Chemistry of Everyday Life or CHEM 100-3 General Chemistry I
Note: CHEM 100-3 and CHEM 120-1 are recommended
~~ECON 210-3 Introduction to Health Economics and Policy~~

~~— or GEOG 202-3 Economic Geography of Resources and Sustainability~~

One of:

ENGL 100-3 Introduction to Literary Structures
ENGL 102-3 Introduction to Poetry
ENGL 103-3 Introduction to Fiction
ENGL 104-3 Introduction to Film
ENGL 170-3 Writing and Communication Skills

2nd year - ~~3~~ 6 credits

ECON 210-3 Introduction to Health Economics and Policy
~~— or GEOG 202-3 Economic Geography of Resources and Sustainability~~
HHSC 102-3 Introduction to Health Science II: Rural and Aboriginal Issues

3rd year - 6 credits

HHSC 370-3 Occupational Health
HHSC 301-3 Pathophysiology

4th year - 9 credits

HHSC 421-3 Medical Geography
or ENV5 306-3 Human Ecology
HHSC 473-3 Health Promotion
SOCW 444-3 Social Work Critical Issues in Aging

In addition to the ~~27~~ 21 credit hours listed above, students pursuing a major in either Community and Population Health-Aboriginal and Rural Health, or Community and Population Health-Environmental Health, are required to complete 12 credit hours focused in either Aboriginal and Rural Health or Environmental Health, specific to their major, as listed below.

Bachelor of Health Sciences Honours (BHSc, Honours)

Entry to the Honours Program takes place after the end of the second year (i.e., upon completion of 60 credit hours) and requires a minimum CGPA of 3.33 over the most recent 30 credit hours or permission of the School Chair. Consultation with Student Advising is highly recommended before applying. Attaining the minimum requirement does not guarantee entry to the honours program, which is at the discretion of the School Chair. Subsequent to entry and to remain in the honours program, students must maintain a minimum SGPA of 3.33 in each semester. All honours students complete a thesis project (HHSC 490-6 Honours Thesis) under the direct supervision of a faculty member.

To be awarded the BHSc Honours degree, students are required to complete 128 credit hours. This consists of ~~67~~ 64 credit hours of common requirements for all BHSc students, with the remainder coming from the following majors, and electives, as follows:

Biomedical Studies: Students take 34 credit hours of courses from the Biomedical Studies Major; ~~48~~ 21 elective credit hours of which at least ~~3~~ 9 credit hours must be at the Health Sciences upper level; and the following 9 Honours credit hours:

HHSC 490-6 Honours Thesis
HHSC 497-3 Senior Seminar

Community and Population Health - Aboriginal and Rural Health: Students take ~~27~~ 21 credit hours from the common course requirements for both Community and Population Health Majors, as well as a minimum of 12 credit hours (6 specified, 6 chosen) in Aboriginal and Rural Health-related courses; ~~43~~ 22 credit hours are obtained from elective credit hours; and the following 9 Honours credit hours:

HHSC 490-6 Honours Thesis
HHSC 497-3 Senior Seminar

Community and Population Health - Environmental Health: Students take ~~27~~ 21 credit hours from the common course requirements for both Community and Population Health Majors, as well as a minimum of 12 credit hours (6 specified, 6 chosen) in Environmental Health-related courses; ~~43~~ 22 credit hours are obtained from elective credit hours; and the following 9 Honours credit hours:

HHSC 490-6 Honours Thesis
HHSC 497-3 Senior Seminar

The minimum requirement for completion of a BSc Honours is 128 credit hours.

All Honours Thesis research must comply with the Research Ethics Board requirements and is carried out at the discretion of the School of Health Sciences.

- F. HHSC 201-3 Ethics and Law in Health Care This course examines ethical and legal concepts as applied to health care and health care research. Further, students explore how new technology and therapeutic practices change the parameters of ethical and moral reasoning, and the impact this has on health law. In addition, students are exposed to ethical practices and policies that form the foundation of health related research.

Prerequisites: Enrolment in the BSc program, or permission of the instructor
Precluded: NURS 308-3

HHSC 301-3 Pathophysiology This lecture course examines central concepts in pathophysiology. Topics include cell-tissue biology, mechanisms of self-defense, and alterations to organs and systems, all in relation to human health.

Prerequisites: HHSC 112-4
Precluded: NURS 202-3, NURS 301-3

HHSC 305-3 This course begins a comprehensive and detailed review of the mechanistic and integrative physiology of the human body. Throughout HHSC 305-3 Human Physiology I and HHSC 306-3 Human Physiology II the topics emphasized are the integumentary, skeletal, muscular, nervous, endocrine, cardiovascular, lymphatic, immune, respiratory, digestive, and urogenital systems, as well as relevant cell biology and histology. Physiology-related research science and animal biology are covered as appropriate. Anatomy is covered only as necessary for ensuring a complete understanding of body functions.

Prerequisites: HHSC 105-3, or HHSC 111-4 and HHSC 112-4, and completion of 30 credit hours

HHSC 306-3 This course continues the comprehensive and detailed review of the mechanistic and integrative physiology of the human body that was started in HHSC 305-3 Human Physiology I. Throughout HHSC 305-3 Human Physiology I and HHSC 306-3, Human Physiology II the topics emphasized are the integumentary, skeletal, muscular, nervous, endocrine, cardiovascular, lymphatic, immune, respiratory, digestive, and urogenital systems, as well as relevant cell biology and histology. Physiology-related research science and animal biology are covered as appropriate. Anatomy is covered only as necessary for ensuring a complete understanding of body functions.

Prerequisites: HHSC 305-3, and HHSC 325-1

HHSC 311-3 Nutrition This course reviews nutrient requirements across the lifespan and physiological connections of diet to health and disease. Therapeutic aspects of parenteral nutrition (total and peripheral) and special diets in disease states are covered.

Prerequisites: Enrolment in the BSc program and completion of 30 credit hours

Precluded: NURS 206-3, NURS 303-3, ANTH 311-3

HHSC 325-1 In this laboratory course students apply and expand on principles of human physiology covered in the HHSC 305-3 lectures. Students normally take this course concurrently with HHSC 305-3.

Corequisite: HHSC 305-3

HHSC 326-1 In this laboratory course students apply and expand on principles of human physiology covered in the HHSC 306-3 lectures. Students normally take this course concurrently with HHSC 306-3.

An executive summary of the proposed new Master of Engineering in Integrated Wood Design was included for information.

S-201410.08

New Program Approval — Master of Engineering in Integrated Wood Design

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new Master of Engineering in Integrated Wood Design be approved as proposed.
Proposed start date: September 2015
CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Wood is the world's most common and sustainable building material. Known for its aesthetic beauty, durability, and ease of machinability, wood is becoming the leading building material in a new paradigm of sustainable and healthy building practices. Significant renewable wood resources in British Columbia and a wood culture in British Columbia provide a strong impetus for UNBC, the province, and industrial partners to develop a leading education program centred on sustainable healthy building practices using wood.

Built to meet the needs of the profession, the Master of Engineering, Integrated Wood Design develops students' skills in understanding wood as a versatile and sustainable building component that can be used in applications far beyond what could be achieved using concrete and steel. Students investigate wood at the micro and macro level and explore the science and art of designing and building wood structures.

The one-year interdisciplinary Master's program is built on four main pillars:

1. Wood Mechanics and Timber Structures – Students gain a deep understanding of wood. Starting with an understanding of the supply chain, students come to appreciate the sustainable nature of wood, its unique structure, its living nature, and its strengths and weaknesses, all in the context of other commonly used building materials.
2. Hands-on Experience – As it is one of the most complex building materials, the only way to experience wood is to work with it. Students build small-scale structures to explore the versatility and complexity of wood structures. Community or industry internships may be included.
3. Team Work - At the core of successful design teams is the ability to communicate effectively and integrate different points of view. Students undertaking this program are immersed in the science and art of design team work. Multi-disciplinary teams work together throughout the program to build effective communication skills by working with individuals with diverse backgrounds and a wide range of experts such as technical experts, professional engineers, architects, and community members.
4. Sustainability – Students study and come to appreciate a range of state-of-the-art sustainable designs and how they fit within the broader social and political context of sustainability.

Requirements

Semester 1

IENG 611-3 Introduction to Wood as a Building Material

IENG 612-3 Project Design 1

IENG 613-3 Wood Design 1

IENG 614-3 Building Science 1

IENG 615-3 Wood Science

IENG 719-3 Special Topics 1

Semester 2

IENG 626-3 Sustainable Design 1

IENG 722-3 Project Design 2

IENG 723-3 Wood Design 2

IENG 724-3 Building Science 2

IENG 727-3 Wood Processing

IENG 729-3 Special Topics 2

Semester 3

IENG 731-3 Design Project 3

IENG 734-3 Sustainable Design 2

IENG 738-3 Analysis

Internship

In partnership with industry, an optional internship may be offered in the form of work terms for interested students. Students work with industry leaders to hone their skills with experience in cutting edge wood design.

New Course Approval — IENG 611-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 611-3 Introduction to Wood as a Building Material be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: September 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This lecture-based course explores iconic wood structures and gives an overview of the recent history of wood and timber construction. The course also explores the process of forest managing and harvesting to the production of engineered wood products. It covers a variety of traditional and modern applications and recent product development. Field trip(s) are required.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Acceptance into the program as per admission requirements.

S-201410.10

New Course Approval — IENG 612-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 612-3 Project Design 1 be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: September 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This lab-based course focuses on applied structural design and hands-on experience. Students build their own designs and compete in various tasks such as building a chair, a bridge or other structures.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Introduction to Wood as a Building Material

New Course Approval — IENG 613-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 613-3 Wood Design 1 be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: September 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This lecture-based course focuses primarily on structural design with timber and other wood-based products. Other focuses include the behavior and design of various types of wood-to-wood connections and wood to other material such as steel or concrete. Students design various structural elements such as diaphragms, trusses, rigid frames, arches, and prismatic plates of hyperbolic paraboloids for buildings, bridges and other tall wood structures. Conventional lumber or state-of-the-art engineered wood products are discussed.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Introduction to Wood as a Building Material

S-201410.12

New Course Approval — IENG 614-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 614-3 Building Science 1 be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: September 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This lecture-based course focuses on the fundamentals of building science, such as static and dynamic thermal performance including thermal bridges, hydrodynamic processes in buildings and airtightness and convection-based influences.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Introduction to Wood as a Building Material

S-201410.13

New Course Approval — IENG 615-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 615-3 Wood Science be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: September 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This lecture-based course introduces tree growth, macroscopic and microscopic anatomical features of wood, identification of softwoods and hardwoods, wood variability and quality, chemical make-up, physical properties including fire-resistance and structural properties, wood-water interactions, transport phenomena, and wood drying methods.

Laboratory section is required.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Introduction to Wood as a Building Material

S-201410.14

New Course Approval — IENG 626-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 626-3 Sustainable Design 1 be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: January 2016

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This lecture-based course presents an array of tools used to assess and manage wood design activities that impact the environment. Tools considered may include: environmental indicators measurement; environmental risk assessment; life-cycle assessment; environmental management systems; and sustainable forest management certification. Further methods and parameters for healthy living, indoor air quality, thermal comfort, as well as analysis of social responsibility in various contexts, are discussed.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Introduction to Wood as a Building Material

S-201410.15*New Course Approval — IENG 719-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 719-3 Special Topics 1 be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: September 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This course focuses on recent developments in the Canadian and/or international wood construction industry. Topics vary and explore recent trends, methods or new products and approaches in the industry. Field trip(s) are required.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Introduction to Wood as a Building Material

S-201410.16*New Course Approval — IENG 722-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 722-3 Project Design 2 be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: January 2016

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This lab-based course is a wood design studio, based on a realistic design task that applies design skills in structural design, building-science, and sustainable design. This course may be offered in the form of a team competition.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Project Design 1, Wood Design 2

S-201410.17*New Course Approval — IENG 723-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 723-3 Wood Design 2 be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: January 2016

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This lecture-based course focuses on detailed design for structural tasks for large and tall wood structures such as highrises and bridges. Structural connections of wooden components with various materials as well as hybrid systems are discussed in detail.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Introduction to Wood as Building Material, Special Topics 1, Project Design 1, Wood Design 1, Building Science 1, Wood Science

S-201410.18*New Course Approval — IENG 724-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 724-3 Building Science 2 be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: January 2016

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This lecture-based course focuses on the following fundamentals: acoustic design and sound separation; absorbing and reducing transfer of sound in wooden or hybrid buildings; and other forms of vibration.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Building Science 1

S-201410.19

New Course Approval — IENG 727-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 727-3 Wood Processing be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: January 2016

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This course guides students through all stages of construction, starting with design and finishing with the completed building. Faculty select a sample project to guide students through the construction process. Students learn plant layout and state-of-the-art processes of the industry. The course finishes with a small design project, for which the student creates all required documentation from construction drawings, details, schedules of materials, and plant layout, to produce the structure to the highest standard and efficiency.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Introduction to Wood as Building Material, Special Topics 1, Project Design 1, Wood Design 1, Building Science 1, Wood Science

New Course Approval — IENG 729-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 729-3 Special Topics 2 be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: January 2016

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This course focuses on recent developments in the Canadian and international wood and/or sustainable construction industry. Topics vary and explore recent trends, methods or new products and approaches in the industry. Field trip(s) are required.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Introduction to Wood as a Building Material

S-201410.21

New Course Approval — IENG 731-6

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 731-6 Project Design 3 be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: May 2016

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This course is the capstone project and can include various fields covered in the program. Students are encouraged to combine several topics to demonstrate integrated design skills.

This course may extend projects worked on in IENG 738-3 (Analysis), IENG 722-3 (Project Design 2), and/or IENG 739-3 (Special Topics 3).

Prerequisites (taken prior): Wood Design 2, Building Science 2, Sustainable Design 2

New Course Approval — IENG 734-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 734-3 Sustainable Design 2 (Integrated Design) be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: May 2016

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This lecture-based course focuses on the highest priorities of sustainable design in both energy efficiency and moderate and cold climates. Design of energy-efficient buildings, interconnection of architectural volumes, form, envelope design and healthy living are evaluated. Energy efficiency standards are explored. The integration of building services such as HRV, HVAC and renewable energy generation and their influence on the design are introduced.

Prerequisites (taken prior): Sustainable Design 1

New Course Approval — IENG 738-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course IENG 738-3 Analysis be approved as proposed.

Admission Requirement

Admission to the Bachelor of Health Sciences program is based on academic qualifications and available space. At the time of application, students must specify whether they intend to pursue either the Biomedical Studies Major or one of the two Community and Population Health Majors. Priority admission is given to students who meet admission criteria and apply by the deadline of March 1. Applications received after the deadline may be reviewed based on available space in the program. Self-identified Aboriginal applicants who meet or exceed the minimum requirements for admission to the program are given priority for up to twenty percent (20%) of the first-year seats for the Bachelor of Health Sciences program.

Applicants from BC and Yukon secondary schools must:

- Meet the basic UNBC admission requirements, and
- Have completed Principles of Mathematics 11 or Pre-Calculus 11, Chemistry 11, Biology 12, English 12 and other approved Grade 12 courses as specified in the Admissions sections of the Undergraduate Calendar with a minimum of ~~C+(65%)~~ 70% in each course.

Other Applicants must:

- Meet UNBC admission requirements, and
- Have completed the equivalent of Principles of Mathematics 11 or Pre-Calculus 11, Chemistry 11, Biology 12, English 12, and other approved Grade 12 courses as specified in the Admissions section of the Undergraduate Calendar with a minimum of ~~C+(65%)~~ 70% in each course.

Students interested in specializing in the Biomedical Studies Major are strongly encouraged to take: Pre-Calculus 12, or Principles of Mathematics 12, and Chemistry 12 before entering the Program.

The aim of this Program is to provide opportunity for health professionals and others interested in working in the health fields with the knowledge and skills to conduct community-based health-related research, and to develop an enhanced understanding of health care systems and policy. The program provides students with relevant health research and critical appraisal skills, and opportunities to engage in a variety of health-related topics. ~~In addition, nurses who wish to pursue a program that enhances their clinical skills may follow a nursing stream that has been established in this program.~~ Current students in the Program come from a wide variety of backgrounds. These include health professionals such as nurses, social workers, occupational therapists, and physicians, as well as graduates with a background in ~~from Science and other relevant fields related programs.~~

Admission

Application deadlines can be found in the Graduate Programs Admissions and Regulations section of the Graduate Calendar at <http://www.unbc.ca/calendar/graduate/admissions>.

The Community Health Sciences MSc Program accepts students for the September Semester.

In addition to meeting the admission application requirements outlined in Section 1.0 of the Graduate Admissions and Regulations, all applicants to the Community Health Sciences MSc Program are required to submit a Criminal Record Check search prior to the first day of classes in their entry semester.

Domestic applicants must supply a Criminal Record Check search result after receiving an offer of admission and before the first day of classes; the search result is not required with the application. International applicants must submit a Criminal Record Check search result completed by their local ~~policy~~ police authority upon application, and will also be required to submit a British Columbia Criminal Record Check if offered admission. The Office of the Registrar will provide instructions to domestic and international applicants who have accepted offers of admission on how to complete a British Columbia Criminal Record Check.

Prerequisites

Applicants must have completed an undergraduate course in statistics or biostatistics. In addition to courses taught in departments of Mathematics or Statistics, courses that are included in social sciences programs such as psychology or sociology, and in the curricula of undergraduate health professions, meet this requirement.

An undergraduate course in research methodology. Appropriate courses include those found in social science undergraduate programs, and in the curricula of undergraduate health professions.

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course HHSC 790-12 Master of Science: Health Sciences Thesis be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: September 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This thesis is a written report of high academic quality that demonstrates mastery of the health-related field specified and the ability to undertake research. This course is required for graduation in the Master of Science: Health Sciences.

An executive summary of the proposed revisions to the International Studies curriculum was included for information.

Motions S-201411.07 to S-201411.10 were dealt with as an omnibus motion. It was also noted that motions S-201411.09 and S-201411.10 incorrectly listed INTS 307 rather than INTS 207 in the requirements, so this error would be corrected.

Global and International Studies (BA Program)

Ami Hagiwara, Lecturer

Website: www.unbc.ca/international-studies

~~The Department of International Studies seeks to familiarize students with the global community in which they live and to prepare them to pursue careers involving international interactions. Participants are provided with a variety of opportunities to explore issues from economic, political, social, cultural and environmental perspectives.~~

~~Foreign language training and study abroad experiences are incorporated into the program and special attention is given to British Columbia's immediate international neighbours: the Pacific Rim countries, the nations of the Circumpolar North, and the United States.~~

Our world is rapidly globalizing, bringing exciting opportunities and daunting challenges. Global and International Studies, hereafter referred to as Global Studies, seeks to tackle this brave new world in all its complexity. We train students to be global citizens, global thinkers, and global problem-solvers, and prepare them for global careers in academia, business, government, and the non-profit sector, among others. A unique feature of our program is that we train students in foreign languages. Language is the entry-point for understanding the world's cultures and equips students for studying and working abroad.

Global Studies is a holistic and timely field of study whose scope is the whole Earth and whose eyes are on the future, aiding a global transformation toward healthy, just, peaceful, prosperous, and sustainable societies for all. The focus of our program is on the 'big picture,' international to global. Students emerge from our program with knowledge of the macro-level structures, actors, processes, ideas, issues, and events shaping our planet and its societies. This is accomplished in multi-disciplinary, multi-perspective, local-to-global, and critical ways of thinking.

The curriculum is organized around four themes:

- Global environment and sustainability
- Global cultures and diversity
- Global governance and social justice
- Global political economy and development.

Students take courses in each theme, learn to integrate across themes, and can focus on one or more themes if they so choose. Special attention is given to British Columbia's immediate international neighbouring regions: Asia-Pacific, Circumpolar North, and the Americas.

Major in Global and International Studies

Undergraduate students are required to complete 54 credit hours of International Studies coursework as part of their overall program in order to graduate with a major in International Studies. 12 credit hours are required in foreign language study, and 33 credit hours are required at the upper-division (300/400) level. To give students a solid and well-rounded foundation in the social sciences and humanities, the IASK (Integrated Analytical Skill & Knowledge) program is integrated into the Global and International Studies major. In addition to IASK (which consists of 6 courses and 18 credit hours taken over two semesters), 63 credit hours of Global and International Studies coursework are required, of which 21 credit hours are at the lower-division (100/200) level, 30 credit hours are at the upper-division (300/400) level, and 12 credit hours are in foreign language study. Thus, a grand total of 81 credit hours is required for the Global and International Studies major.

The minimum requirement for completion of a Bachelor of Arts with a major in Global and International Studies is 120 credit hours.

Program Requirements

It is also possible to fulfill this requirement by taking courses in more than one language, as long as at least 6 credit hours are in one language. Students wishing to take advantage of this option must get approval from the Department's undergraduate advisor.

Credit for training in languages other than English or French at the university/college level will be considered and prior learning assessment is offered where possible. In all such cases, students must contact the Department Chair prior to registration.

Upper-Division Requirement

300 and 400 Level

At the upper-division level, students must take INTS 310-3, INTS 490-3 (our 'global capstone' course), four INTS upper-division courses, and four non-INTS upper-division courses.

INTS upper-division courses (18 credit hours)

INTS 310-3 Origins and Evolution of International Studies Our Globalizing World

INTS 490-3 Global Capstone any four additional INTS upper-division courses (12 credit hours)

Non-INTS upper division courses (12 credit hours)

Students must take four courses (12 credit hours) from the list of courses below. The courses are organized by Global Studies theme; however, students are not required to take a course in each theme. They are free to take any four courses of their choosing from this list.

Note: Some of these courses have prerequisites that are not met by INTS lower-division required courses. Students must ensure that all prerequisites are fulfilled prior to registering in any course.

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks reported on his recent activities (attached to these minutes as "Appendix I"). He noted that he had attended his first meeting with the Rotary Club and at that meeting he expressed that UNBC has speakers available regarding a number of topics. Dr. Weeks thus encouraged Senators, if invited, to speak with the Rotary Club. Dr. Weeks also expressed thanks to Dr. Dale, who was attending his last Senate meeting in the role of Provost, for his service to UNBC and personally for guiding Dr. Weeks during his transition to UNBC. Lastly, Dr. Weeks reported that Dr. MacDonald's term as Chancellor ends in 2016 and the call for nominations for the next Chancellor will be announced in the near future.

5.0 Report of the Provost Dr. Dale

Dr. Dale reported that two consultants had been retained, one for the purpose of advising on enrolment, recruitment and student engagement and one to provide advice on pedagogical practices regarding distance education and course delivery in the regions. Dr. Dale added that he looked forward to receiving the consultants' reports.

6.0 Report of the Registrar Mr. Hanschen

Mr. Hanschen reported that application numbers were up approximately 33%, mostly in graduate studies (to which the online application may have contributed). Undergraduate applications have increased by 6%. Mr. Hanschen expanded upon the application numbers by region. He also indicated that UNBC had increased their online and web presence (with a tool called UNBC4U) resulting in approximately 2,000 prospects since mid-September. Lastly, it was reported by Mr. Hanschen that a travel reimbursement program had been instituted to provide reimbursement for travel to prospective students wishing to visit the campus, and that students had been taking advantage of it. Mr. Hanschen was asked whether information about how UNBC4U works would be shared with other University members and Mr. Hanschen replied that because they haven't been using the tool for very long, those working with it want to get familiar enough with the product's capabilities to be able to provide a meaningful demonstration. Mr. Hanschen added that he would bear this question in mind.

This graduate seminar course explores different aspects of the relationship between society and natural resource development. The themes explored vary depending on student interests and instructor areas of expertise, but typically involve consideration of the following: social processes by which natural resources are defined and valued; how these processes change over time and space; how conflicting and contradictory values and understandings of natural resources are resolved; and the social processes by which natural resource development is managed. Themes may include considerations of gender, culture, place, economics and governance.

This course provides graduate students in natural resource sciences with advanced, practical training in the analysis of quantitative data. The course focuses primarily on advanced univariate statistics that can be applied to both experimental and observational data. This focus includes a full exploration of generalized linear models (E.g., linear, logistic, and mixed models) as well as methods for experimental data including analysis of variance and associated techniques. Also, students receive instruction in the principles of experimental design, data management, and the review and reporting of statistical results. Students receive instruction in the use of statistical software used for manipulating and analysing data that are applicable to the natural resource sciences.

Preclusions: NRES 798-3 Statistical Methods for Ecologists

Required courses in Psychology are offered on a two-year schedule. These courses provide students with the basic foundations upon which to build their PhD research, In addition, students are required to complete successfully a ~~doctoral candidacy comprehensive~~ examination and a PhD dissertation (PSYC 890-12). The ~~doctoral candidacy comprehensive~~ examination is tailored to ensure each student is adequately prepared to begin work on the PhD dissertation.

Students must have a ~~e~~Cumulative GPA of B+ or better by the end of their second semester of registration, and maintain it at B+ or better thereafter.

Students may be required to address deficiencies within their background preparation in Psychology or in their area of concentration that are identified by the Psychology Graduate Committee. Additional courses may be required.

Normally, students take a ~~doctoral candidacy comprehensive~~ examination by the end of the first year in the program (or 12 credit hours for part-time students). Upon successfully completing the ~~doctoral candidacy comprehensive~~ examination, and presenting an acceptable dissertation proposal to their supervisory committee, a student is granted PhD Candidate status, and embarks upon completion of the dissertation under the supervision of a Faculty Academic Supervisor. Normally, it is expected that the defence of the dissertation by full-time PhD Candidates will take place within three years of acceptance into the program.

Motions S-201412.18 to S-201412.26 were dealt with as an omnibus motion.

Changes to Degree Requirements — Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (MA Program)

Giardino

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change(s) to the description of NRES (MA Program), on page 76 of the 2014/2015 graduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2015

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

The Master of Arts in Natural Resources and Environmental Studies [MA(NRES)] offers students the opportunity to pursue studies of the social dimensions of human-environment interactions from a community-based or regional perspective. The degree is distinguished by its focus on human perspectives on historical and contemporary resource and environmental issues. It encourages the study of the social, cultural, ethical, economic and political dynamics of resource and land use, and environmental change in northern ecosystems.

Students must choose from the following areas of study:

- Environmental Studies
- Geography
- Outdoor Recreation, Conservation and Tourism

All students must ~~participate in complete~~ Graduate Colloquia (~~NRES 701-1.5; registering for the course twice~~) during their course of studies, ~~complete~~ NRES 700-3 and ~~complete~~ a research methods course approved by their supervisor and the Chair of the NRES Graduate Program. These required courses will provide students with an informed, integrated base for understanding multi-faceted resource and environmental issues. Elective courses will provide students with the option to pursue their specialized interests.

Candidates must complete a minimum of 6 elective credit hours at the graduate level (I.e., at or above the 600 level) that emphasize the human dimensions of resource or environmental issues. A maximum of 3 credit hours from independent studies can be counted towards the elective requirement. Specific details of course work are determined by the research area chosen by each student. The supervisory committee will ensure the appropriate selection of elective courses, and may require a student to complete more than 6 credit hours if weaknesses in the student's background exist (including undergraduate prerequisites for graduate courses) or if additional courses are required for professional accreditation.

The MA (NRES) degree also requires ~~the students to writing write and defense defend~~ of an independent research thesis (NRES 794-12).

S-201501.07

Changes to Degree Requirements — Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (MNRES Program)

Giardino

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change(s) to the description of NRES (MNRES Program), on page 78 of the 2014/2015 graduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2015

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

The Master of Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (MNRES) is designed to integrate the complementary aspects of resource and environmental issues. It focuses on an interdisciplinary approach to melding traditional science with social science perspectives, and resource planning and management. This degree is designed ~~to attract~~ for students from a diverse range of backgrounds and aspirations, who share an interest in looking beyond traditional disciplinary boundaries.

The MNRES degree is one Master's degree route within the ~~Faculty of~~ Natural Resources and Environmental Studies Graduate Program (the others are a MA and a MSc). The MNRES is the only one of the three that fully embraces the interdisciplinary philosophy of the Faculty. There are three factors that determine whether a student pursues the MNRES degree: 1) student's background; 2) elective courses undertaken at UNBC and 3) thesis topic. Depending on individualized learning objectives, the MNRES degree allows flexibility in choosing a research emphasis in the social, planned or natural environments from an interdisciplinary perspective.

All students must ~~participate in complete~~ Graduate Colloquia (~~NRES 701-1.5; registering for the course twice~~) during their course of studies, take a course in integrated resource management (NRES 703-3), complete NRES 700-3 and complete a research methods course approved by their supervisor and the Chair of the NRES Graduate Program. These required courses provide students with an informed, integrated base for understanding multi-faceted resource and environmental issues. Elective courses provide students with the opportunity to pursue their specialized interests within an interdisciplinary context. The MNRES degree also requires the completion of an independent research thesis (NRES 792-12) or non-thesis project (NRES 793-6).

Changes to Degree Requirements — Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (MSc Program)

Giardino

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change(s) to the description of NRES (MSc Program), on page 80 of the 2014/2015 graduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2015

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (NRES) is one stream of the Master of Science degree in the College of Science and Management. This degree is designed for candidates whose research interests have a scientific emphasis, and ~~is expected to attract~~ students from science disciplines such as biology, forestry, environmental science, and physical geography, as well as other scientifically oriented areas of resource management. Students studying within the NRES stream will, upon successful completion of the degree requirements outlined herein, obtain a MSc_(NRES).

Students must choose from the following areas of study:

- Biology
- Environmental Science
- Forestry
- Geography
- Recreational Resource Management

All students must ~~participate in~~ complete Graduate Colloquia (~~NRES 701-1.5; registering for the course twice~~) during their course of studies, ~~complete~~ NRES 700-3 and ~~complete~~ a research methods course approved by their supervisor and the Chair of the NRES Graduate Program.

Candidates must complete a minimum of 6 elective credit hours at the graduate level (I.e., at or above the 600 level), selected from the science courses available at UNBC or courses that emphasize a scientific orientation to natural resource issues. A maximum of 3 credit hours from independent studies can be counted towards the elective requirement. Specific details of course work are determined by the research area chosen by each student. The supervisory committee will ensure the appropriate selection of elective courses, and may require a student to complete more than 6 elective credit hours if, for example, weaknesses in the student's background exist (including undergraduate prerequisites for graduate courses) or if additional courses are required for professional accreditation.

The MSc (NRES) also requires the completion of a research thesis (NRES 790-12) in which the student makes a scientific contribution to a traditional science field or to an applied understanding of resources and the environment. Students are required to (a) make an oral presentation of the thesis proposal to the supervisory committee, (b) write an original thesis based on the research completed (in accordance with established UNBC guidelines), (c) give a public lecture on the completed thesis, and (d) present an oral defense of the thesis to the examining committee. All core and elective course requirements must have been satisfied prior to the oral defense.

No business arising was identified.

4.0 President's Report Weeks

Dr. Weeks provided an update on his activities since the January Senate meeting, and his report is attached to these minutes as "Appendix I".

5.0 Report of the Provost Young

Dr. Young took a moment to remember the passing of Dr. James MacDonald, a founding faculty member of the University.

Dr. Young reported on a special Senate Committee on Academic Affairs that met on Tuesday, March 24, 2015. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the January 2015 semester academic dates. There was consensus from the committee which included faculty, students and administration that the dates of the current academic calendar be maintained with the understanding that exceptional circumstances with respect to individual students be dealt with accordingly.

Dr. Young thanked all the students, faculty and staff who volunteered with the Canada Winter Games and helped to make them a huge success.

Dr. Young commented on the University Achievement Awards and mentioned that a plan is in place to have these awarded at convocation.

Dr. Young also reported that a request has been made with the Ministry of Education and the Ministry of Health regarding a North-East Nursing Program in Fort St. John. Conversations with Emily Carr (now located in the Wood Innovation and Design Centre) have also begun.

A Senator asked the Provost for feedback regarding the Policy on Policies Committee. It was reported that this policy is currently being tested and will be brought to the Board. The committee is waiting for the final report on this policy before reporting out.

6.0 Report of the Registrar Hanschen

Mr. Hanschen began his report by thanking Charlene Myers for all her support to Senate over the last number of years.

He then reported on the current Senator vacancies for 2015-2016. There were 5 CASHS vacancies but several applications were received over the last 24 hours and there remains only one vacancy at this time.

Student Elections for Senate will take place April 9 and 10, 2015.

2015-2016 Academic Course Schedule should be available online on Thursday, April 2, 2015.

Enrollment Report as of March 1st, 2015 is as follows:

Undergraduate FTE down -8.3%

Graduate FTE down -7.3%

Applications for Undergraduate and Graduate are up.

7.0 Question Period

A Senator asked for information of the scope of the President's meeting with the mayor. The meeting was with the College, School District 57 and the City with the mandate of making Prince George a destination area for students. At this point it was recognized that representation from the First Nations is needed moving forward.

A Senator asked to the President to address the ongoing labour dispute with the Faculty Association and what role he would play in leading the community through this traumatic time. The President noted that as negotiations are ongoing he must respect the process as any comments he might make could prejudice current negotiations. He did mention that the basis for moving forward is that there is no doubt that everyone involved cares about the university and the students.

A Senator asked a question about whether or not any studies have been done on the effects of such a job action that has occurred here has on students and the reputation of the University. The Provost reported that he is not aware of any studies but that other institutions have shared their experiences and reported that both time and leadership are needed for healing to occur.

A Senator asked for an update on how the University will continue to communicate updates to students on the labour dispute. The Vice-President of External Relations highlighted that updates will continue to be posted on the website as they become available. Emails to students will also be sent to students through the Office of the Provost as needed.

A Senator asked a question regarding academic penalties and if there will be any consideration with respect to the February 17th course withdrawal date. The Registrar highlighted that while there will be no changes to the current academic calendar, our current procedures do allow for exceptional requests. Students are encouraged to engage with their instructors as a first step.

A Senator asked about whether or not students will receive any financial compensation for missed lectures/labs. The President indicated that he has been in communication with the Ministry of Advanced Education and will be able to provide more information once he knows the extent of the impact of the job action. He also noted that it will be the Board of Governors decision on whether or not to reimburse students.

The budget presentation has been moved to the next Board of Governors meeting.

Another question was asked by a Senator about how we will work together as a team. The President highlighted everyone's commitment to the institution and said that he must consider alumni, staff and all stakeholders and Senate is not the appropriate time to address this issue as Senate is an academic body.

A Senator asked a question regarding Residence renovations and whether or not all feedback, including that from students was being considered. It was reported that all feedback is taken into consideration. A suggestion by a Senator was made to consider further consultation with the students before changes to residence are made.

9.2 Senate Committee on the University Budget

Whitcombe

9.2.1 2015/16 Report from the Senate Committee on the University Budget

Senator Whitcombe presented his report to Senate and his report is attached to these minutes as "Appendix II".

Much discussion took place regarding the underlying tone of this report and the importance for more transparency and more detailed information provided to Senators. The President committed to financial transparency and to having clear and shared priorities in which to make budget decisions.

A suggestion was made by a Senator that that this committee should not only look at the operational budget.

Additional suggestion for more detailed, line by line analysis is necessary. Disagreement from one Senator on this suggestion was noted.

A Senator asked for more information about vendor cost increases.

A Senator asked whether or not the committee could work with the budget and audited financial statements to help give the Senate a better understanding of why we come in under budget, yet cuts to teaching continue to occur.

Suggestion was made by a Senator for developing some software to specifically work with the budget for an academic plan.

9.2.2 Notice of Motion

Senator Siakaluk provided notice of motion for the next regular meeting of Senate (April 22, 2015), as follows:

The Vice-President of Finance will present budget documentation for the past five years, showing actual revenues and expenditures to ensure that Senate can have a full grasp and understanding of the true financial situation of the University.

At 5:30 p.m., the following motion was proposed:

Motion to extend Senate meeting

The meeting commenced at 3:30 p.m. The Chair of Senate welcomed the new Senators and thanked them for their service. Mr. Jack Falk was introduced to the Senators. Mr. Falk will be serving as a consultant to the President of the University in the finance and admin portfolio. He will serve as the designate for the VP of Administration and Finance on an interim basis. Although he is not an appointment of UNBC, he will serve in this capacity for a number of weeks coming until there is a transition of that portfolio. Mr. Falk will have a draft of the budget as early as this week and a report on the draft by May 1, 2015. He will be doing a series of presentations on the budget on the following dates: President's Executive Council on May 19, 2015; President's Council on May 20, 2015; the Senate Committee on the University Budget on May 22, 2015 (this will be a public meeting and Senators are encouraged to come); Board of Governors Finance and Audit Committee May 26, 2015; Senate on May 27, 2015; and the Board of Governors on May 30, 2015. The Chair encouraged Senators to engage in every opportunity the can to watch the budget take shape.

4.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

The President of Langara College was in Prince George. Dr. Weeks and he discussed a number of opportunities for partnering, including a number of the ongoing partnership activities. He attended the Winston's Breakfast Group. Dr. Weeks attended the First Nations Elders meeting on March 26, where Dr. Weeks was able to get a sense of where they would like to see some of UNBC's initiatives go and talk about some of his plans. They were able to make some simple changes to some of our practices, including clear announcements and opportunities to help First Nations students engage in the scholarship process. Dr. Weeks travelled to Toronto to meet with potential donors. He attended the Bob Ewert Memorial Lecture and Dinner in Prince George, which he feels was a spectacular event, which was well attended and productive. Dr. Weeks would like to see if it would possible to expand this event to be an even greater benefit to UNBC. Dr. Weeks attended a number of internal meetings. RUCBC has been very active, with several more meetings coming up. Dr. Weeks attended the LEED UNBC Graduation Ceremony and hope we are able to grow programs like this. The Athletic Banquet was last week and was a great opportunity to recognize our student athletes. Dr. Weeks recently met with Kathy Corrigan, who is the Opposition Deputy Chair and the Opposition spokesperson for Advanced Education.

A Senator asked about further details of the donors Dr. Weeks met with in Toronto. Dr. Weeks replied that these are contacts that he brought with him that he has known throughout his career. Dr. Weeks said that he is looking to gear up for a capital campaign, so he is starting to build up a rolodex of potential donors to a capital campaign.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Young

Dr. John Young was not able to attend the meeting, so the Vice-Provost, Dr. William Owen provided a report.

Over the past couple of weeks, Lisa Scheck has been visiting College Councils talking about student orientation and looking for ways for faculty to be more involved with orientation. On April 21, twenty-two institutions from around the province met for an inter-university conversation on sexual assault, prevention, and response. The western universities are looking at a coordinated response, similar to what Ontario has done recently. Through the conversations on April 21, it was clear that Ontario was in a different category than BC. BC institutions already have some pro-active measures already in place. There will be more on this topic in the future as further conversations occur.

A Senator asked if there were any known incidences at the UNBC campus. Dr. Owen replied yes. There is a Presidential Task Force underway and their report will be coming out soon. Victims of sexual assault will report incidences where they feel most comfortable, so they are trying to figure out how to gather that information and find a way to best respond. There are lots of nuances. Dr. Weeks said the problem with numbers is that it may not truly be an indicator. A low number may in fact mean incidents are not being reported. Any number is not good.

A Senator commented that many students do not know about the committees, councils, and boards they can become involved with, and he wanted to know if there is anything in the student orientation that informs students that they are able to serve on Senate, the Board of Governors, councils, and committees. Dr. Owen replied that students are introduced to things they can get involved with at UNBC (NUGSS and clubs) and within Prince George. Dr. Owen said he would have to look into whether or not students are informed about opportunities with Senate.

Action Item: Dr. Owen to let Senators know whether or not students are informed at orientation about the opportunities available to them with Senate.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Hanschen

The Senate elections are now complete. CSAM faculty were reminded of the election for the Board of Governors CSAM Faculty Representative on April 23rd and 24th. A polling station will be set up outside the Registrar's Office and the Senate Office will also be receiving regional votes. The results of the election are expected by April 29, 2015. The first election for the Undergraduate Student Senators was declared invalid because of an error on the ballot. Once the error was rectified, a re-election was held on April 16th and 17th where six undergraduate students were elected.

As noted further on the agenda, there are a number of appointments on Senate Committees. There are still more vacancies on Senate committees that need to be filled. Mr. Hanschen expressed the importance of the Senate Committees and how they are important to the process.

Mr. Hanschen reminded the members of the Senate Committee on Admissions and Degrees that there would be an important meeting coming up in May where the Convocation roll would have to be approved. He also reminded Senators that it is imperative that the May Senate meeting has quorum, as it is the meeting where the list of all the graduating students will be approved.

Dr. Weeks spoke to how he is inspired by the renewed interest in Senate and Senate taking its rightful roll in the university's governance. It is critical to fill the vacancies in the committees, and for the committees to do the necessary advance work.

A Senator asked if there were any plans to review the Senate election procedures for their adequacy and submission. Mr. Hanschen replied that any procedures that he may like reviewed would be outlined in the Senate Handbook and can be brought forward to the Steering Committee of Senate.

A Senator commented on how he understood that this is the first time in a number of years that an election needed to be held for Undergraduate Student Candidates for Senate. He asked if it was known when the last time an election needed to be held for Undergraduate Student Senators.

Action Item: Mr. Hanschen to find out the last time an election needed to be held for Undergraduate Student Candidates for Senate.

A Senator asked about the process for the setting up the schedule. Mr. Hanschen said the data was collected in October. It was vetted in November through December. In late December, a draft schedule went out to faculty. Any changes to the draft schedule were accepted until late January. Adjustments were being made through February, with the intention of having the second draft out in mid-March. That did not happen. April 1st is the Senate approved release date for the schedule; however it was one day late getting out. Requests can be put in to change the schedule; the requests are reviewed and all of the factors are evaluated.

A Senator said that there were classes students needed to graduate changed on them. Mr. Hanschen said he was not aware of this and suggested these students contact the Chairs of these programs in this particular situation.

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

A Senator asked if there are any plans for a joint one day retreat with Senate and the Board of Governors as in the past. It is an opportunity for Senators and Governors to talk about issues of commonality and topics they would like to collectively discuss. Dr. Weeks replied that there was a Board of Governors retreat in January where a lot needed to be covered. He would like to do the joint retreat in the future, perhaps this time of year or in the fall.

A Senator asked about the hiring process of the incoming head of human resources. There was a small number senior administrators from the University of Saskatchewan who departed the university in the wake of a scandal of the improper dismissal of a senior professor there. There was no public reason given as to why this person left the university. The Senator asked what measures UNBC took to ensure that we are not bringing the problem onboard here. Dr. Weeks replied that as there was no public response this may indicate there was nothing to say. The committee did a thorough review of this individual and was satisfied. He said that we are fortunate to attract someone who has such extensive experience in post-secondary and already knows the post-secondary system. Dr. Smith was on the hiring committee, and said the committee did a thorough background check on this individual and they contacted management, past vice-presidents, and past president to ask questions about the individual. The Senator asked if the committee asked any specific questions regarding the incident at the University of Saskatchewan. Dr. Smith said that the candidate was honest and had told them there were things she wished she had done differently. She said there was information she would have reported. She was not asked to leave the university; she resigned. There was a thorough background check, a Skype interview, a thorough interview, and discussion.

A Senator asked for clarification around the Mr. Jack Falk and whether he will hold an official title. Dr. Weeks replied that we still have a VP of Administration and Finance, as appointed by the Board, and she still holds that position. Dr. Weeks has offered this person a different role, leading up to her retirement. As there is a short time frame to complete the budget and bring forward the information Senate should be rightfully provided, Dr. Weeks reached out to the Ministry to ask for advice and to see how to move forward. Through discussions with a number of individuals, it was felt it would be best to hire someone on a consultant basis. Mr. Falk has made it clear he is not interested in a position at the University; he is only here to help through the next several weeks. As soon as the new Provost arrives and gets settled, they will be going through the process of putting together a committee. Mr. Falk's role is that of a consultant; for example he does not have signing authority. With Mr. Falk's expertise, they have made a great deal of progress. The Senator asked for an approximate time frame. Dr. Weeks replied Mr. Falk's services would be required for about three months or perhaps slightly longer, depending on any unforeseen issues with the budget or the transitioning of that portfolio. The Senator asked if the current VP of Admin going to be having any official role in what Mr. Falk is doing. Dr. Weeks replied that the current VP of Admin and Finance has seven years of experience here and is a wealth of knowledge, and it important that Mr. Jack Falk has access to all the information that is available. Weeks has asked her to work on something far more specific than just the budget. A Senator asked why we need an extra consultant even though the University has a VP of Finance. He commented that enrolments are shrinking and budgets are tight and feel this is an unnecessary duplication of roles. Dr. Weeks replied that he can appreciate the question, however as this is nearing the terms and conditions of someone's employment, he was not comfortable discussing this in an open meeting of Senate. Dr. Weeks said that the VP of Admin and Finance has tendered her resignation effective September 30, 2015, and he has accepted it. As a consequence, there is much to do in a short period of time.

A Senator said institutional priorities were discussed at the previous Senate meeting and asked how this relates to the current discussion. Dr. Weeks said that he hopes the presentation that the Senators will have the opportunity to see will be a different kind of budget presentation. Dr. Weeks and Mr. Falk have the same kind of budgeting experience. It will be an integrated budget. There will be priorities built into the budget that come from the faculty, chairs, and deans. It will be a financial and priorities document. Mr. Falk has reached out to all the deans, librarian, and units and asked for a listing of priorities, and he is trying to match up those priorities with the budget document. You will see what we have the money for and what we are trying to accomplish.

A Senator followed up on a discussion that took place at the last Senate meeting regarding compensation for students for lost class time during the job action. Dr. Weeks said he would address this question during the In-Camera session.

A Senator had a question from a faculty member that asked the following: "Under what conditions can the admissions to a program be closed at either the undergrad or graduate levels. Can this decision be made by the Dean or Provost, or does it have to pass through Senate?" Mr. Hanschen replied that there are two answers to this question based upon specific circumstances. The first answer being that Admissions would not determine whether the university is accepting applications to a degree program. The Registrar's Office would go through the established application and admissions process, and it would then have to be determined if there is a viable cohort based upon those students qualified or not qualified for the program. The second answer is that the suspension of admissions to a program must go through Senate. If it is a question of the viability of a program or cohort, the program would work with the Deans to decide whether it is viable or not to run the program. Dr. Weeks said that anything that is final must go through Senate.

Guidelines for Administering Teaching Evaluations

Smith

That upon further review of the minimum number of students suitable for teaching evaluations, SCAAF would recommend to Senate a policy of no lower limit to the size of class for which teaching evaluations would be performed but it should be stressed to students that filling out teaching evaluations is entirely voluntary – both at the time they are administered and through such language being included on the forms. Further, it should be stressed to students that the written comments are for the instructor only and that students have other routes for commenting on a course or content by direct communication with the Chair and/or Dean as appropriate. Faculty members, Chairs, and Deans should be encouraged to use evaluations of teaching beyond surveys, particularly in cases where faculty members consistently teach small classes.

Effective date: Upon approval by Senate
CARRIED.

There was a discussion on when there is a class with low enrolments, as the results are invalid. There is concerned about professors trying to achieve tenure, and negative results of evaluations in classes with low enrolment. One Senator said that even though comments from the evaluations are typed up by administrative assistants, professors may still be able to figure out which students wrote what comments. This may inhibit a student in feeling like they cannot offer honest negative or positive feedback that could help the instructor. Numerical data from evaluations can be skewed based on the number of students enrolled in your class.

Dr. Whitcombe said the sub-committee tried to balance a number of issues. The purpose of the evaluations is to provide the best mechanism of teaching to our students as possible. The evaluations are to help instructors improve their teaching and provide a high quality teaching environment for the students.

A Senator said he would like to see a new type of evaluation instead of continuing with the same default evaluation, at least a new format for those classes where the enrolment is lower. Whitcombe said that this was what they were trying to express in this motion. There are other mechanisms in which evaluations can take place.

A Senator stated that the teaching evaluations should be improved, if not replaced with something better. He pointed out that in the past, he was not aware students could go to the Dean or Program Chair regarding an instructor. It would nice to be for students to be made aware that they have those options. He asked if it sending the evaluations to the Program Chairs instead of the instructor had ever been considered. Dr. Whitcombe replied they did not consider this because of the legalities involved and the structure of the institution.

A Senator asked for clarification around the motion; that there would be no lower enrolment limit on class evaluations. Dr. Whitcombe said yes.

Point of order:

Senator Schwab pointed it out that it may be easier to ask for the no votes first before the yes votes. Weeks replied that in a recorded vote, we should take those in favor for a motion first.

A Senator asked if there would be an opportunity to discuss this further. Dr. Weeks replied that replacing this evaluation with another evaluation will bring along other challenges. Dr. Weeks suggested any further discussion on this topic should be what can be added to this to add to the tool kit of teaching evaluations.

3.0 Information

3.1 Presentation – Northern Medical Program Dr. Winwood

Dr. Paul Winwood delivered a presentation on the Status of the Northern Medical Program at UNBC (attached to the minutes as Appendix I) and responded to questions from the Senators.

4.1 Student Orientation – Information given to incoming students about Senate. Dr. Owen

Dr. Owen reported that the current Student Orientation has three main components (academic, personal, and social development); the orientation contains a lot of information, so information about Senate to incoming students is not given. Dr. Owen said the point raised is important, and they are looking at a way to try to inform students later in the semester on how they can contribute to Senate and other bodies at the University.

4.2 Last time election needed to be held for undergraduate candidates for Senate. Mr. Hanschen

Mr. Hanschen was unable to attend the meeting. Ms. Lawson (Designate for Secretary of Senate) reported that the last time an election for undergraduate student candidates for Senate was held was in 2011. There were seven candidates that ran for that election.

4.3 Counselling services and mental health counselling services available at the institutions that UNBC has exchange agreements with. Dr. Owen

Dr. Owen asked that this be deferred until the fall. He would like the opportunity to review all the exchange agreements that UNBC has with other institutions.

4.4 Senate Engagement in the Consultation of Physical Infrastructure at UNBC - Establishment of an ad hoc committee of Senate Dr. Weeks

As Dr. Weeks was unable to attend the meeting, Ms. Lawson spoke on behalf of Dr. Weeks. She said that Dr. Weeks has done quite a bit of follow-up on this and has a lot to report back to Senate, so with their indulgence, he would like to ask that this be postponed to the September meeting of Senate.

There were no objections or questions from the Senators.

5.0 President's Report Dr. Weeks

Dr. Siakaluk spoke on behalf of Dr. Weeks, who wanted Senate to know that he would like to delay this report until the next Senate meeting.

There were no objections or questions from the Senators.

6.0 Report of the Provost Dr. Krane

Dr. Krane spoke about Academic Planning Committee. The Academic Planning Office, where Bernadette Patenaude is now the Director, will support the group. One of the first responsibilities of the Academic Planning Office was to draft a process chart. The draft has been completed and it is being revised. Dr. Annie Booth is designing and overseeing the community engagement piece. Both the process chart and the community engagement plan will go up on the website that is currently under development.

7.0 Report of the Registrar Mr. Hanschen

Ms. Lawson let the Senators know that the Steering Committee of Senate has decided to cancel the July 22, 2015 Senate meeting. The next Senate meeting will take place on August 26, 2015.

Ms. Lawson also let the Senators know that some of the 100 level classes are filling up, so faculty can expect emails coming to various departments from the Registrar's Office requesting permission to open more sections of classes.

8.0 Question Period

Dr. Krane was asked several questions regarding Academic Planning Committee. A discussion on the committee followed. Dr. Krane said the committee is made up of people from the Deans Council, the two Colleges, First Nations and Aboriginal Peoples, undergraduate and graduate students, Senate, and Alumni. The committee will make proposals and recommendations to Senate and will require the approval of Senate before it can move ahead with those proposals. The purpose of the committee is to reflect on some of the work that has already gone on in respect to how the community in general have used this University, some of the priorities that have been previously set to determine if they still apply in the current environment, and to try to come up with some basic elements that are missing in order for an effective job to be done. Dr. Krane is dealing with a hard deadline that will occur towards the beginning of November and a group needed to be pulled together quickly that would be able to start working on some of these issues. The committee is coming up with a list of issues for people to consider, and what the community feels are the things that need to be articulated in an Academic Plan. The Chairs will take part in the consultation and engagement process that is being designed. The committee will continue to work throughout the summer and into the fall. The committee should be able to wrap up its work by November. Then other groups will probably pick up various pieces after that. The entire process will take at least a couple of years.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This course examines the nature and types of crisis situations faced by children and youth, with special attention to Aboriginal children and youth. Basic crisis intervention skills are identified and aimed at the restoration of balance. There is a particular focus on suicide, including assessment of suicide lethality, intervention skills, skills for working with survivors, cluster suicide and suicide epidemics, and prevention work. The course addresses other trauma or crisis work, critical incident debriefing with children and youth and individual, family and community risk and protective factors.

Prerequisites (taken prior): BSW, Bachelor of Child & Youth Care or other bachelor-level degree subject to Chair Approval.

New Course Approval - SOCW 675-3 Community-Based Prevention: Creating Balance
Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course SOCW 675-3 Community-Based Prevention: Creating Balance be approved as proposed.
Proposed semester of first offering: September 2017
CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This course examines community prevention strategies and risk reduction as it applies to child and youth mental health, and highlights the role and restoration of traditional activities that promote wellness for Aboriginal children and youth. Interventions and practical application of prevention strategies in relation to suicide, parenting, disability, and other issues are addressed. The course emphasizes approaches to identifying and building on existing community programs and community strengths.

Prerequisites (taken prior): BSW, Bachelor of Child & Youth Care or other bachelor-level degree subject to Chair Approval.

Motions S-201506.21 to S-201506.24 were dealt with as an omnibus motion.

Changes to Degree Requirements - Master of Science in Business Administration

B. Deo

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change to the program prerequisites for the Master of Science in Business Administration, on page 50 in the PDF calendar accessible on the UNBC web page of the 2014/2015 graduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Additional Required Courses

~~(taken in either first or second year)~~

~~STAT 671-3 Linear Models~~

~~STAT 675-3 Methods for Multivariate Data~~

~~With permission of the Chair of the MSc Program in Business Administration, alternative courses in other programs may be taken as substitutes for STAT 671-3 and STAT 675-3 if the STAT courses are not available when needed to meet MSc Program requirements. When the above two STAT courses are available they are to be taken in preference to alternative courses.~~

Additional Required Courses In Statistics

~~(taken in either first or second year)~~

STAT 671-3 An Introduction to Linear Modelling;

and one of the following:

STAT 672-3 Survey Sampling Design and Analysis;

STAT 673-3 Experimental Design and Analysis; or

STAT 675-3 Methods for Multivariate Data.

The student and supervisor choose the additional STAT course from the above list to best fit the student's MSc program of study. More specifically, the three additional STAT courses align to the business disciplines within the MSc as:

_____ STAT 672-3 (All business disciplines);

_____ STAT 673-3 (Human Resources Management, Marketing, and Operations Management); and

_____ STAT 675-3 (All business disciplines)

A different graduate-level statistics course may be taken from the School of Business or other UNBC department as an alternative to STAT 671-3, STAT 672-3, STAT 673-3, or STAT 675-3. Students select both required statistics courses in consultation with their supervisor and require the permission of the Chair of the MSc – BA Program.

Change to the Undergraduate Calendar Entry - School of Business (BCOMM Program)

B. Deo

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change to the undergraduate calendar entry for the School of Business (BCOMM Program) on page 68 in the PDF calendar accessible on the UNBC web page of the 2014/2015 graduate / undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Common Requirements for all Business Students

Students

Note: Students enrolling in any course required for a major in the Bachelor of Commerce degree must have completed all prerequisite courses with a minimum of "~~C-~~ C- or better. BCOMM students can only register in 300- and 400-level BCOMM courses when MATH 150-3 and MATH 152-3 are completed with a minimum grade of "~~C-~~ C- or better. In exceptional circumstances the Program Chair may waive these requirements, ~~on a case by case basis.~~

New Academic Program Proposal - Bachelor of Commerce Honours Program

B. Deo

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new Bachelor of Commerce Honours Program be approved as proposed.

Proposed Start Date: September 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

General Calendar Description:

BCOMM Honours

Students in the BCOMM Honours Program must complete all requirements for the BComm in their major(s) of choice. In addition, the students must successfully complete 6 credit hours of COMM 497-(3,6) Honours Thesis. The Honours Thesis must be conducted under the supervision of a faculty member with PhD qualifications. Entry to the Honours Program takes place after the end of the second year of BComm studies (i.e., upon completion of at least 60 credit hours) and requires a minimum GPA of 3.33 calculated on the last 60 credit hours completed at the time of declaration to the Honours Program. Prospective BComm Honours Students must have successfully completed MATH 150-3, MATH 152-3, CPSC 250-3, and ECON 205-3, or their equivalents, before they will be considered for entry to the BComm Honours Program. Attaining a minimum GPA of 3.33 in the first two years of the BComm does not guarantee entry to the Honours Program, which is at the discretion of the Department. To remain in the Honours Program students must maintain a minimum Semester GPA of 3.33 to be calculated at the end of each semester and receive no grade lower than a C+ in any course after entry to the Honours Program.

Curriculum: Students in the BCOMM Honours Program must complete all requirements for the BCOMM in their major(s) of choice. In addition, the students must successfully complete six credit hours of COMM 497-(3,6) Honours Thesis. The minimum requirement for completion of a BSc Honours in Business Administration is 120 credit hours which includes six credit hours of COMM 497-(3,6) Honours Thesis.

Specialties within Program: Students will complete an Honours thesis as appropriate to the area of concentration of their faculty supervisor, including but not limited to, the Majors in the Business Program: Accounting, Finance, Marketing, International Business, General Business and Human Resources Management.

Related Programs at Other Institutions: The Honours degree in Business Administration at Simon Fraser University is a non-research program that gives students “additional depth” in their area of concentration, rather than research skills. UBC has a “Commerce Scholars Program” which serves the function of a BCOMM Honours at their Business School. The University of Victoria’s Business School does not have a BBA or BCOMM Honours Program option. There does appear to be a unique niche for a BCOMM Honours Program that is dedicated to business-related research at UNBC when we are compared to the Business Programs at the other three research-intensive universities in British Columbia.

Relation to Existing Programs: The proposed BCOMM Honours will direct highly-qualified graduates of our undergraduate business program into our existing Master of Science Program in Business Administration.

Articulation Arrangement: None

Consultations with Other Institutions: None. There does not appear to be an substantive basis for such discussions with other research-intensive universities in British Columbia given the uniqueness of this proposal.

S-201506.24

New Course Approval - COMM 497-(3,6) Honours Thesis in Business Administration

B. Deo

That the new course COMM 497-(3,6) Honours Thesis in Business Administration be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: September, 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Students pursue an independent research study under the supervision of a PhD-qualified faculty member in the School of Business. Students present the results of their thesis research to members of the School of Business and other interested members of the university community.

Changes to the Program Requirements - Geography GIS Minor

Schorcht

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the changes to the program requirements for the Geography GIS Minor on pages 138 of the 2014-2015 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Minor in GIS (Geographic Information Systems)

The aim of the minor is to provide a level of competence in, and exposure to, a combination of courses in Geographic Information Systems and Computer Science technologies. ~~This grouping is designed to serve both majors in NRES programs and in Computer Science.~~ Combining these selected courses in Geography and Computer Science will provide a level of proficiency in geographic data processing and analysis suitable for careers in the GIS industry.

The three required Geography courses are the core of the minor, along with four additional courses selected from a list of GIS courses and Computer Science courses, ~~of which~~ CPSC 110-3 (Introduction to Computer Systems and Programming); CPSC 126-3 (~~Introduction to Computer Systems~~ Introduction to Computing); and CPSC 350-3 (~~Introduction to Computer Graphics~~) and CPSC 344-3 (Data Communications and Networking) are aimed at those not majoring in Computer Science.

A maximum of two courses (~~six~~ 6 credit hours) at or above the 200 level used to fulfill program requirements for a major or another minor may also be used to fulfill requirements for a minor in GIS.

The minimum requirement for the completion of the minor in GIS is 21 credit hours, of which at least 12 credit hours must be upper-year credits in the division.

Changes to the Program Requirements - Public Administration and Community Development major

Schwab

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the changes to the program requirements for the Public Administration and Community Development major on pages 134-136 of the 2014-2015 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2015

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Major in Public Administration and Community Development

The Public Administration and Community Development major gives students the skills required to function within a range of groups, organizations, and offices. ~~The graduate~~ Graduates are able to interact with appropriate professionals, receive their input and reports, and collate a wide range of information and material in service of their group/organization/office. Skills in analysis and synthesis are complemented by an ability to work cooperatively and effectively, and an ability to communicate clearly through written, oral, and graphic ~~mediums~~ media.

The Public Administration and Community Development major requires completion of 120 credit hours, 48 of which must be at the upper-~~division~~ division level. At the lower-~~division level~~ division, students must take the seven required courses and a minimum of one course from each of the seven categories. At the upper-~~division level~~ division, students must take the four required courses and a minimum of one course from each of the seven categories. To complete the 120 credit hours, students must take 45 credit hours of electives, of which ~~48~~ 15 credit hours must be at the upper-~~division level~~ division.

It is possible for students to organize their course choices (categories and electives) to achieve a "specialization" of course work. An Area of Specialization requires eight courses (24 credit hours) ~~(eight courses)~~ in one of the following:

- Specialization in Local Public Administration
- Specialization in Aboriginal Community Development

- Specialization in Planning

S-201506.36

Changes to the English Language Requirements for Admission to Graduate Studies

Bankole

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Admissions and Degrees, the change(s) to the English Language Requirements for admission to Graduate Studies, on page 36 of the 2014 Graduate Academic Calendar be approved as proposed.

Effective date: Upon approval of the Senate for the January 2016 admission cycle

CARRIED.

There was a question about whether the motion went through CSAM College Council or not, as the motion only had a CASHS CC motion number. Dr. Smith said it had gone to the Graduate Deans Advisory Group.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

English is the primary language of instruction and communication at UNBC. Consequently, it is expected that an applicant be able to demonstrate an acceptable level of proficiency in the use of English in order to receive and participate in classroom instruction and discussion as well as to complete written assignments.

Applicants whose first language is not English, regardless of citizenship or country of origin, must submit evidence of English language proficiency prior to admission. French-speaking Canadians and Canadian First Nations language speakers are exempted from this requirement. ~~Students who completed their undergraduate degree program entirely in the English language are exempted from this requirement.~~ Students who have completed a degree program entirely in the English Language at a recognized institution from a country approved by UNBC where English is an official language may be exempted from this requirement. A listing of English Language Proficiency test exempt countries is maintained by the Office of the Registrar. Applicants from countries not on the waiver list who have completed their four year undergraduate degree entirely in the English language may request a waiver of the English Language Proficiency Requirement. The Office of the Registrar and the Dean of Graduate Programs, in consultation with programs, will assess each waiver and supporting documentation. Waivers are not guaranteed. The decision of the Office of the Registrar and the Dean of Graduate Programs will be final. It is recommended that applicants for whom English is not their primary language submit an accepted English Language Proficiency test score.

Acceptable evidence of English language proficiency may be any one of the following:

- TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) score of 88 or higher in the internet-based test, with not less than 20 in any of the Reading, Listening, Writing or Speaking components; or equivalent other TOEFL score. UNBC's institutional TOEFL code is 0320.
- IELTS (International English Language Testing System) score of at least 6.5 overall, with not less than 6.0 in any of the four modules.
- ~~LPI (Language Proficiency Index) score of at least 5.~~
- Comparable results in any other internationally recognized English Language Assessment test considered as equivalent to TOEFL or IELTS.
- A final grade of 3.00 (B) or better in both the UNBC English Language Studies 50 and English Language Studies 170, obtained concurrently and prior to application for Graduate admission.
- ~~A final grade of 2.00 (C) or better in the UNBC English Language Studies 50 Component 1 and 2, obtained prior to application for Graduate admission.~~

In order to be considered valid, these scores must be sent directly from the testing agency/institution to the Office of the Registrar. Scores are valid for a period of two years.

Graduate programs may require higher English Language proficiency scores. Please consult the Program section of the calendar for additional requirements.

The University of Northern British Columbia reserves the right to consider, in addition to test scores, any factors that it considers appropriate in making a final determination of the English language proficiency of an applicant.

3.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate (no material)

There was a discussion about the Northern Medical Program presentation at the Senate meeting on June 24, 2015 and how the NMP may fit into the UNBC structure.

4.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks met with a number of college Presidents over the summer and discussed reconstituting the Northern Post-Secondary Council. He attended a conference in Nanaimo about Indigenous Higher Education, which was facilitated by the Canada Mexico Accord and largely relevant to First Nations People in British Columbia. Vancouver Island University hosted the event. Dr. Weeks had two meetings over the summer with the Assistant Deputy Ministers in International Affairs for the province to see how UNBC can align international activity with the province's agenda. Dr. Weeks has been asked to the BC Business Council, and he has attended two meetings in Vancouver, one of which was with Rheanna Robinson. Dr. Weeks said it is useful for UNBC to try to align with some of the opportunities that business and industry present for students. He has also had a number of conversations with government individuals and a conference with the President of the Canadian Bureau of International Education.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Krane

Dr. Krane updated Senate on the Academic Planning exercise. There are websites available for people to peruse. A tight schedule is being followed in order to meet the deadline of the November Senate meeting. The extensive community engagement process has begun, which has been coordinated by Annie Booth. There are two engagement processes that are being operated in parallel. Themes have been identified by the committee and collaborative groups have been established to pursue work on those themes. In order to move on from the first phase in November, it is important to come to a conclusion about what will be adopted as the University's vision, mission, values, and some of the institutional goals. This engagement process is going on along with the engagement process in the other themed areas. Graffiti Walls exercises have begun. The week of August 24 –August 28 include sessions with CUPE Staff, Faculty/Post-doc/Research Managers & Associates, and CUPE Staff again. The week of August 31-September 4 consist of sessions for Exempt/Administration, CUPE Staff/ Faculty/Post-doc/Research Managers & Associates/Exempt, and Faculty. The week of September 8-11 consists of three sessions for students. Then there will be a travelling road show where there will be sessions at the Regional Campuses. There are plans on engaging the University's external stakeholders. Dr. Krane and Rheanna Robinson attended an Educational Council earlier in the week which was hosted by the City of Prince George. School District 57 was represented and both the President and Provost from CNC were in attendance. Dr. Krane told the members of the council about the process the University has begun around vision, mission, values, and institutional goals, and there was a great deal of interest expressed from around the table. All of the parties at the table wanted to have some input, so arrangements are being made to do this. The Alumni Representative on the committee works at the Prince George Library, so she has been able to arrange for some of the surveys to be delivered to the public through the library. This will give a broad discussion on the kind of institution UNBC should be. This first step must be completed as everything must align with the institution's vision, mission, values, and goals.

There will be an Extraordinary Senate Engagement session (graffiti wall) in regard to the Academic Planning on September 16, 2015 from 3:30 – 5:00 p.m. Annie Booth and Bernadette Patenaude will be hosting the event.

There was a discussion on what led to the exercise in identifying the University's vision, mission, values, and institutional goals. Dr. Krane said one of the main reasons why it was decided that this was a good place to start was, depending on which document you pick up, the wording in the vision, mission, values, and institutional goals is not used consistently across the University. It is important for the vision, mission, values, and institutional goals to be absolutely clear as they will be the foundation moving forward with the Academic Planning.

There was discussion on what a good mission statement should be. There is often a lot of commonality between universities' vision, mission, and value statements. Dr. Krane said he has not been able to find what would be characterized as institutional goals at UNBC yet. It is important to set some of those goals. Everyone at the University should know how their role aligns with the goals of the University.

There was a discussion about the Action Plan from 2003 on the University website and on the Policy on Policies.

There was a question about standardization. Dr. Krane said that what he meant was that the same words need to be used in the vision, mission, values, and institutional goals across the University.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Hanschen

The Senate Committee vacancies have been included as Appendix I.

Mr. Hanschen said that the Senate Committee on Nominations is still looking for a Chair. A call for a Chair will be put out to the committee. If no one fills the vacancy, the Chair of Senate will have to appoint someone.

Mr. Hanschen announced that the election of the Vice-Chair of Senate will take place in September. Vice-Chairs are able to serve two terms.

Mr. Hanschen reminded Senate committees and their Chairs that of their reporting months. The list of the committees and their reporting months have been attached to the minutes as Appendix II. Mr. Hanschen asked that the Chairs and committees work with himself and Ms. Howitt on completing the reports.

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks spoke about a topic discussed at a previous Senate Meeting, regarding Senate Engagement in the Consultation of Physical Infrastructure at UNBC. Dr. Weeks said that the University already has committees with a significant representation by faculty. The Teaching Space Optimization Committee (Chaired by a faculty member and two faculty members, one from each College), which is a sub-committee of the Space Allocation Committee; The Research Sub Space Sub-Committee (Chaired by the VP of Research and it is made up of six faculty members, three from each College), which is a subcommittee of the Space Allocation Space Committee; there is a Five Year Capital Plan, like other universities, there has not been a planning committee in recent years, largely due to the provincial freeze on capital funding; the Director of Facilities Management plans to reinvigorate this committee. There are Capital Plans that need to be made. Faculty members from both Colleges would be included in this committee. Senate can request a report from any of those committees anytime it chooses. Dr. Weeks said that he wanted Senate to have this information before they decide to strike another committee. Dr. Weeks said he will leave this with Senate for information and will raise the topic again at the next Senate meeting when the Senator that asked the question would be available.

A senator asked how many meetings Dr. Weeks had with the Northern Post-Secondary Council. Dr. Weeks replied two meetings; one of which was with just the Northern Post-Secondary Representatives. There was a question about the redundancy of course offerings in the north. Dr. Weeks said while there is not a lot we can do about the redundancy, we can continue to improve the pathways and transitions between the institutions.

The meeting commenced at 3:30 p.m.

As part of developing the new Academic Plan, the purpose of the Senate Extraordinary Session was for the members of Senate to participate in a critical opportunity to discuss core elements of UNBC's current Mission, Mandate, Values and Goals.

1.0 Opening remarks

Dr. Weeks started the session with some opening remarks and introduced Ms. Patenaude and Dr. Booth.

Ms. Patenaude gave an overview of the graffiti wall process. She said that those who would like to provide further feedback can do so through the word document that was circulated in the email invitation (included in the minutes as Appendix I). Responses can be sent by email to unbcplan@unbc.ca. She said the Academic Planning Collaborative Team will be hosting two open engagement sessions; one on Thursday, September 17 from 2:30 – 4:00 p.m. in the Bentley Centre and the second on Monday, September 21 from 9:00 – 11:00 a.m. in the Gathering Place. These are drop in sessions and everyone is welcome.

Dr. Booth introduced the Graffiti Wall exercise. The members of Senate participated in the exercise, made comments, and discussed various points.

As this was an open session of Senate, members arrived and left at their discretion. The session ran from 3:30 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

3.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

3.1 Policy on Minute Taking

Mr. Hanschen

Mr. Hanschen said the Minute Taking Policy had been included in the meeting package on pages 17-18 for information.

There was question on how Senate could change the policy. Mr. Hanschen replied that the policy is an administrative policy and not a Senate policy so Senate cannot change it. There was discussion around abstaining; Mr. Hanschen said that abstentions are not recorded in the minutes.

4.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks welcomed everyone back and updated Senate on Dr. Krane's condition and will continue to keep everyone updated on Dr. Krane's condition.

Shortly after the announcement of the crisis in Syria, the executive tried to quickly find a way to assist. Dr. Weeks is hoping that they will be able to announce soon that UNBC will be able to assist five Syrian students to come and study at UNBC. There are financial concerns and other considerations to be made in regard to international students. The City of Prince George and some local service groups are interested in helping UNBC on this front.

Dr. Weeks said he sent out a couple of email messages prior to the Senate meeting stating that Dr. Ranjana Bird has resigned from her position as the Vice President of Research. She will take an administrative leave and then return to UNBC as a full professor.

The President's Report to Senate from June 1, 2015 – September 23, 2015 has been attached to the minutes as Appendix I.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan has only been in the role for about a week. He thanked Dr. Erik Jensen for taking on the role of the Acting Dean of CSAM. Dr. Ryan has been learning about the portfolio. He will be supporting Dr. Krane's direction on the Academic Planning. The Academic Planning website has a number of updates. Dr. Ryan was at an Academic Planning meeting in Quesnel in the morning and he will travel through the region in the next few days for further meetings.

Dr. Ryan said that the Master of Engineering in Integrated Wood design received approval from the Degree Quality Assessment Board about a week ago, and students are now in the midst of being enrolled.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Hanschen

Mr. Hanschen had nothing to report.

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

A Senator asked for further explanation as to why UNBC has lost the Vice President Finance and Administration, the Vice President External Relations, the Vice President Academic and Provost, and the Vice President Research in the past year. Dr. Weeks replied that each situation is unique and has its own nuances. He has reported openly about each one.

A Senator asked if there was a hold on the search for the Associate Vice-President Academic and Vice-Provost. Dr. Weeks said they are re-examining the terms of reference for the position and clarifying the role that person will play. The intention is to still proceed with the position and the recommendation to the search committee will be that the search should begin internally. A Senator asked with the changes in the position, if it will come back to Senate for approval. Dr. Weeks said it will come back to Senate. The terms under which this position exists will not change. All of the newly created positions that are not accounted for as a line item, will be softly funded and have a term attached to them. When the terms are ready to expire, and if it can be justified to keep these positions, Dr. Weeks will make the case that these are necessary positions that add value to the institution.

A Senator asked if it was a good idea to continue to move ahead with the Academic Planning without all the key people in place. He asked what the advantage was in moving ahead quickly rather than taking a step back and moving ahead slowly. Dr. Weeks expressed the importance of continuing to move forward. Dr. Krane gave a very good roadmap as to how to proceed. There are some unanticipated challenges, but it is important to move onto the second phase because we need to find out where we are heading, and we no longer have the luxury of postponing this. The problem with the budget and how it interacts with our academic aspirations has existed for about a decade. Ms. Daigle said we are in an urgent situation with our budget and it is important to have more conversations about what our priorities are as an institution, so they can align with the University budget. There are many financial factors that need to be considered, and Ms. Daigle would like to do a presentation with the Provost at an upcoming Senate meeting around what that looks like, building on the work Mr. Falk did.

A Senator asked if Dr. Dale had been considered for the Acting Vice President Academic and Provost, as he has been in this portfolio before. Dr. Weeks said that given Dr. Dale's current role as the Dean of Regional Programs, it was important he stay engaged in this critical portfolio moving forward with the Academic Plan. It would not be a tenable decision to move him out of this role now. Dr. Weeks said that Dr. Dale is a constant source of information and support.

A Senator said she heard there will be elected faculty members on the committee in the second phase of the Academic Plan and wanted to know what the composition of that committee will be. Dr. Weeks said we are currently finishing up phase one and are discussing how to deploy phase two. In phase two, high level thematic ideas will be taken from phase one and put into an operational context. As these ideas work their way down, it will make more sense to have the people best positioned to advice on them. Dr. Weeks said they have not yet determined how they will appoint or elect people to these committees.

A Senator said that there is a substantial feeling from College Council that the planning process should have originated with Senate in the first place and faculty feel there should be a democratic presence in this. Due to the number of unfortunate circumstances, she suggested it would better to start the process from the beginning in Senate where she felt it should have happened in the first place. Another Senator said the process started in Senate a year and a half ago with a SCUB report that said the University needed to change its priorities and develop an Academic Plan, and the Academic Plan would be what would drive the budget. The report was presented to Senate, and Senate that said the University needed to start this process. Dr. Weeks said he has been at several universities where this process has taken place, and he does not know of them doing things differently. He said Senate has the absolute authority in determining the academic direction of the University. Information that comes from the Academic Planning will be recommendations to Senate.

A Senator said in order to involve Senate and have an Academic Plan move forward, it is important to have the expertise and experience of senior administrators on these committees.

A Senator said that Dr. Weeks was not present at the meeting where Senators found out that a lot more work had been done in regard to the Academic Plan than they initially thought, and it was said at that meeting that faculty felt people should have been elected onto the committee. He said it is difficult for faculty to understand why senior administration does not understand this is a big issue to the people that deliver the academic programs at the University. Dr. Weeks said Dr. Krane came in with no agenda and that he looked around for people willing to help. He has heard an overwhelming response to the activities that have taken place over the summer. Dr. Weeks said moving forward, there will be elections for faculty. He said that at other universities he has been at, the planning process was led by the Provost. A lot of people have a stake in the decisions that will be made and it was not intended as a slight to Senate by not holding elections.

Dr. Weeks asked Senators to not throw out all the hard work that has been done so far. He said UNBC has gotten to this point in the Academic Planning Process on more than one occasion in the past. It is at our peril if we do not move onto the next step and make it a reality.

8.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda

Dr. Weeks

Menounos asked for motion SCSB20150826.03 - Governor General's Gold Medal Adjudication Process & Criteria to be removed from the Consent Agenda. Hanschen said this motion came to Senate for information as Senate has delegated deciding authority to the Senate Committee on Scholarships and Bursaries. It was decided that the motion would be discussed under Other Business.

There were no other requests made to remove motions from the Consent Agenda.

However, ancillary student fees are still applied. All students attending other institutions under the provisions of the Western Deans' Agreement must register concurrently at the University of Northern British Columbia in their thesis or project, and pay the semester appropriate fees.

4.1 Course and Program Requirements

4.1.1 Graduate Programs Within the first semester of attendance registration in a graduate degree program, the supervisor will forward to the Office of Graduate Programs forward a completed Graduate Program Approval Form ~~will be forwarded to the Office of Graduate Programs by the Supervisor~~ on behalf of each student.

4.1.2 Graduate supervision Supervision Unless otherwise specified, the graduate supervisor nominates the supervisory committee ~~will be nominated by the graduate supervisor~~ and the Program forwards the names forwarded ~~by the Program~~ to the Office Dean of Graduate Programs ~~by the Program~~ for approval, normally within one semester of the first registration in the thesis, project, practicum, comprehensive examination or dissertation.

4.1.4 Integrated courses Courses Normally, Master's students ~~enrolled~~ enrolled in thesis programs should complete at least ~~six~~ 6 credit hours of graduate course work in addition to any integrated delivery courses that may be taken. The Chair of Program or, if applicable, the Chair of the Graduate Committee decides whether or not a graduate course qualifies as part of the 6 credit hours requirement of a student's degree.

4.2 Time Limit

The maximum time for completion given below is not intended to be the normal time for completion. It is intended to take into account a wide variety of extraordinary circumstances and events that may delay completion.

4.2.1 Normally, a student proceeding toward a Master's degree will be required to complete all degree requirements within five years (60 consecutive months) from the date of the first registration in the Master's degree. In no case will a degree be awarded in less than 12 consecutive months from the time of the first registration. However, it is expected that a full-time student will complete a Master's degree within 36 consecutive months from the date of first registration.

4.2.2 Variances to the time limits specified in 4.2.1 are as follows:

~~Master of Education (Part time) seven years (84 consecutive months).~~

4.2.2 If a degree is not ~~awarded~~ completed within the specified period following the first registration, the student will be withdrawn from the program. Under exceptional circumstances, time extensions may be granted by the Dean of Graduate Programs. Such requests for time extension must be made in writing to the Dean of Graduate Programs prior to the end of the semester in which the student's time limit expires. The request must include a timeline for the completion of the degree and a letter of support from the student's supervisor.

4.2.3 A time extension will normally be approved for one semester with the expectation that all outstanding degree requirements of a student's graduate program (including the defence and thesis corrections) are completed within this period of time. Only in exceptional circumstances will further time extensions be granted. Students who fail to complete at the end of a time extension will be required to withdraw from their graduate program.

4.2.4 Variances to the time limits specified in 4.2.1 and 4.2.3 are as follows:

~~Master of Education (Part time) seven years (84 consecutive months).~~

The request must include a timeline for the completion of the degree accompanied by supporting documentation from the student's supervisor.

4.3 Academic Performance

4.3.1 Students must attain a ~~semester grade point average~~ Semester GPA of at least 3.00 (B) for every semester in which they are registered. Individual programs may set higher standards. Any student with a ~~semester grade point average~~ Semester GPA below 3.00 may be allowed to register in the next semester while their academic performance is reviewed by their supervisory committee. ~~and~~ Continuation in their Graduate Program is recommended by the supervisory committee ~~and approved~~ subject to approval by the Dean of Graduate Programs.

Students who were registered in one course in a semester that resulted in a ~~semester grade point average~~ Semester GPA less than 3.00 based on a B- grade may be allowed to continue in their graduate program. However, if the student's ~~cumulative grade point average~~ Cumulative GPA is lower than a 3.00, a continuance review is ~~needed~~ required.

4.3.3 Graduate students may not repeat graduate courses except under exceptional circumstances if recommended by the supervisory committee ~~and approved~~ subject to approval by the Dean of Graduate Programs.

4.3.4 ~~Students registered in a thesis, project, practicum or comprehensive examination will have their progress evaluated through progress reports completed by their~~ The supervisor in consultation with the supervisory committee (if applicable) and the student, completes a progress report for students registered in a thesis, project, practicum or comprehensive examination on a yearly basis and ~~submitted~~ submits to the Dean of Graduate Programs for approval. If the progress report indicates a second Needs Improvement or Unsatisfactory progress, the supervisory committee with the Graduate Program Chair reviews the student's continuation is reviewed by their supervisory committee with the Graduate Program Chair in a formal continuance review meeting and ~~submits~~ Recommendations are submitted to the Dean of Graduate Programs for final decision.

4.3.5 Conditions may be imposed by the Dean of Graduate Programs for continuation in the program. The conditions normally must be met within the next semester or the student will be required to withdraw.

4.5 Final Oral Examinations and Examining Committees

4.5.6 Students who are awarded a pass decision with minor or major revisions will be required to submit a corrected thesis, which has been approved by the supervisory committee and /or external examiner, if applicable, to the Office of Graduate Programs by the date stated on the outcome of defence form. Students who do not submit a corrected thesis or fail to provide revisions which are acceptable to their examining committee will be deemed to have failed the defence and will not be recommended for the award of their graduate degree.

7.1 Admission

7.1.3 The Dean of Graduate Programs may approve the ~~Admission~~ of an applicant to a Doctoral program without a Master's degree if the applicant has received ~~normally requires~~ a Baccalaureate degree from a recognized institution with a ~~cumulative grade point average~~ Cumulative GPA of at least 3.67 ("A-") (A-) and the completion of has completed at least two semesters of a Master's degree program at the University of Northern British Columbia with a cumulative grade point average Cumulative GPA of at least 3.67 (~~"A-"~~) (A-).

7.7 Time Limit

7.7.3 A time extension is approved for one semester with the expectation that all outstanding degree requirements of a student's graduate program (including the defence and thesis corrections) are completed within this period of time. Only in exceptional circumstances are further time extensions granted. Students who fail to complete at the end of a time extension are required to withdraw from their graduate program.

~~7.7.3~~ 7.7.4 Residency Requirement A student with a Master's degree registering in a Doctoral program must pursue studies under the direction of a faculty member as a full-time student for at least two full semesters within 24 consecutive months of initial registration.

7.10 Final Oral Examinations (Doctorate)

7.10.7 Format of the Examination The first part of the oral examination shall consist of 25- to 30-minute oral presentation by the candidate to include a summary of the salient points of the research. ~~This~~ which is followed by the questioning and examination of the candidate by the examining committee. The question period is normally a maximum of two hours in duration. The initial questioner will be the external examiner, followed, if required, ~~thereafter~~ by the members of the supervisory committee. There will be two rounds of questions in total by all members of the examining committee followed by a final opportunity from the external examiner to ask any outstanding questions.

The Chair of the oral examination may exercise discretion in allowing questions from the audience following completion of the formal examination.

The adjournment of a defence at any point is under the discretion of the Chair of the defence

9.4 Senate Committee on the University Budget

Dr. Whitcombe

Dr. Whitcombe presented the draft document of the Guiding Principles for the Budget Planning Process (2015 – 2018) (included as Appendix II in the minutes) and asked for feedback from Senators. Feedback included:

- under the People category and Operational Effectiveness, Research Plan should be included, as well as other plans (for example, something like a business plan);
- should include effective leadership at the research level;
- the language in point 5 is too broad and could create possibility of conflict. It was decided that the statement was more about accountability than authority and will go back to SCUB for rewording.

Dr. Whitcombe asked for further feedback to be sent to Ms. Howitt. Dr. Whitcombe said SCUB wants to know if these guidelines are workable and meet the requirements of Senate in order to go forward with the budget. SCUB would like to bring the final version back to Senate for approval.

Action Item: Ms. Howitt is to send all feedback regarding the draft document of the Guiding Principles for the Budget Planning Process (2015 – 2018) to the Senate Committee on the University Budget.

CARRIED.

3.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

3.1 Motion SCSB20150826.03 - Governor General's Gold Medal Adjudication Process & Criteria – Data Dr. Owen

Dr. Owen reported that the distribution of the award began in 1995-1996. 19 of these awards have been given out; 9 to CSAM students; 7 to CASHS students; and 3 to Interdisciplinary Studies students. Some examples of the students' disciplines are Math, NRES, Biology, Environmental Science, MCSP, Gender Studies, Psychology, Social Work, Education, and English. There appears to be a non-biased distribution of the single Governor General's Award to both colleges.

4.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks said the Alumni Tour started last week in Prince Rupert, with a small but well-attended rigorous group. While in the northwest, he met with the President and faculty of Northwest Community College. Dr. Weeks attended the 10th Annual World Religions Conference at UNBC. Dr. Weeks attended a meeting with the Presidents from the Northern Post-Secondary Council who have not met in a number of years. He also attended the BC Business Council Board Meetings. While in Vancouver, Dr. Weeks met with a supporter of the University, Peter Webster, which led into a number of meetings with potential donors. In October, Dr. Weeks met with a number of MLAs via teleconferencing, and he met with potential funders and supporters of the University. There were a few great soccer games to start off the season. He, along with some senior administrators and others in a few units, attended a webinar on collegial environments and higher education. He attended a number of events at CNC, including their Team Canada Dinner, and spoke at a Rotary Club luncheon. He met with a number of individuals from several other institutions across the province, including UBCO and TRU. Students who are the recipients of the President's Scholarship Award were invited to the President's house for dinner. Some dignitaries from China came to UNBC and there were a number of meetings he participated in talking about the possibility working with a few institutions there. He attended the Prince George Chamber of Commerce Business Excellence Awards and was excited that the UNBC Students from the Pave the Way Campaign were the winners of the 2015 Environmental Leadership Award and also a number of the businesses that won significant awards are owned, run, and championed by UNBC alumni. On October 27th, Dr. Weeks has been participating in work for NSERC. NSERC is looking at potentially funding the next round of funding for the Canadian Council on Animal Care.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan congratulated everyone on UNBC achieving the #1 position in Maclean's Magazine. Dr. Ryan acknowledged the contributions Dr. Krane made to the University. Dr. Ryan has been spending time with colleagues listening about the opportunities and challenges within a number of portfolios. He has attended a number of meetings, including the Northern Post-Secondary Council with Dr. Weeks, the North Caribou Community Council, meetings with people from ministries, and meetings with external visitors, specifically related to external reviews in nursing and computer science, and updates on arbitration news. Dr. Ryan has been working on the Academic Planning and attended a number of the meetings and engagement sessions. He will be attending The Conference Board of Canada conference on post-secondary education and The Research Universities' Council of BC meeting next week. Dr. Ryan plans on communicating regularly with what he is doing, particularly at Senate. He expressed his appreciation for the opportunity to work in his current role, and he looks forward to working with colleagues, Senate, and members of other committees on the opportunities and challenges we have ahead.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Hanschen

Mr. Hanschen reminded CSAM faculty of the election for a CSAM Faculty Senator on November 2nd and November 3rd, from 10:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m. out front of the Registrar's Office. A Call for Nominations has been sent out for two CASHS Faculty Senator Positions that need to be filled; one due to the resignation of a faculty member and one due to an upcoming retirement. The deadline for nominations is November 10, 2015 at 4:00 p.m. A second call for nominations went out for a CASHS faculty representative on the Board of Governors. The deadline for nominations is November 10, 2015 at 4:00 p.m. Mr. Hanschen reminded Senators of the short turnaround on the next couple of upcoming Senate meetings; the next meeting on November 25th and following one on December 9th.

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks said the celebration he announced in his email regarding UNBC's ranking in Maclean's magazine to take place at 12:00 p.m. on October 29th has been changed to 11:00 a.m. due to a faculty event already scheduled for 12:00 p.m. The announcement will come out in another email.

A Senator asked about Dr. Weeks' meetings with local MLAs and politicians, and if he asked them about getting rid of the balanced budget approach. Dr. Weeks said that there was no indication from government in changing this approach.

A Senator asked if there is a timeline for the hiring of an Associate Vice-President Academic and Vice-Provost. Dr. Weeks said there is no timeline at the moment. The terms of this position were very clear while Dr. Krane was here, but with his absence terms of the position are not as clear. Dr. Weeks said he will not act without speaking with Senate. For now the position has been put on hold and is not advertised.

A Senator said that according to Research Info Source, research at UNBC increased by 21% last year and Dr. Bird deserves recognition for this. UNBC was the only university in BC to go up significantly. The Senator asked if it is known when the new Vice President of Research will be hired. Dr. Weeks said once he knows the transition plan for Dr. Krane, he will give a fulsome report about all the positions at that time.

A Senator asked how long Dr. Ryan will be away from CSAM. Dr. Weeks said he does not know at this time. When the search begins for a person for this position, it will be according to the position search procedure.

A Senator asked for clarification as to what Dr. Weeks meant by Dr. Krane's transition; did he mean his health. Dr. Weeks said he meant transition in his status as a faculty member at the University.

8.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda Dr. Weeks

There were no requests made to remove motions from the Consent Agenda.

9.0 Committee Reports

3.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

No business arising was identified.

4.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks said with the indulgence of Senate, he would like forgo his report for this meeting and report to Senate at the next meeting in two weeks as there was a fulsome agenda before Senate. There were no objections from Senate.

Dr. Weeks said that his intention for this meeting was to participate as little as possible in the discussion regarding the Phase I Academic Planning Report. He said it was an important discussion for Senate to have, and he would help in any way he could in answering questions that may arise.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

The Provost asked Senate if he could forgo his report until the December meeting to allow more time for discussion on the Phase I Academic Planning Report. There were no objections or questions from Senate.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Hanschen

The Registrar asked Senate if he could forgo his report until the December meeting to allow more time for discussion on the Phase I Academic Planning Report. There were no objections or questions from Senate.

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

A Senator asked why a Special Meeting of Senate had been called for November 12, 2015 and then cancelled. Dr. Weeks said he apologized to the SCS regarding this as he needed to secure a time for a Senate meeting first before discussing agenda items with the SCS. The SCS determined there was no need for a meeting. The Senator wanted to know what the original reason was to call the meeting. Dr. Weeks said he could answer this question more fully under Agenda Item 13.3 in the In camera session.

A Senator asked for an update on the senior administration positions. Dr. Weeks said as soon as they come to closure with the Provost's situation, he will be giving a full explanation about those positions that are not filled, or are acting or interim, and how they will proceed forward. The Senator asked about the other senior administration positions. Dr. Weeks said that both search committees had met with the search company again that day and things are proceeding well. There are some very good and fulsome possibilities. Face-to face interviews will begin soon. A Senator asked what the connection is between the Provost position and the Vice President of Research position. Dr. Weeks said the issue is the University is currently trying to fill two senior administrator positions right now, and the advice of the search company and Dr. Weeks feeling is that you should not have four searches going on at the same time for these positions; you cannot expect people to apply for positions when they do not know who their colleagues are going to be. Dr. Weeks wants to get these first two positions filled and get some stability, and then begin the search for the other two positions.

A Senator asked if the administration had a plan to deal with low faculty moral, which she said came across to her in the data from Phase One of the Academic Plan. Dr. Weeks said there are typically four plans in a University integrated plan; an academic plan, a research plan, a budget/financial plan, and a people plan. The people plan is largely missing and needs to be integrated in with the other plans. He has charged Ms. Daigle to work on the people plan as it falls under her portfolio. He expects that plan to dovetail with parts of the Academic Plan.

A Senator said shortly after the work stoppage, he and Dr. Weeks proposed a motion together stating that Senate would be provided with the past ten years of budgets. The Senator said Senate had not been provided with this yet, and he was wondering where things stood with this. Dr. Weeks said he committed he would provide Senate with as many years of budget information as Senate felt was useful. Dr. Weeks said is slowly being worked on, but the limited staff that work on this have been consumed with other finance issues. Dr. Weeks said it would be brought forward to Senate as soon as it is possible. Dr. Weeks said, depending on the outcome of the meeting today, some of the committees involved may well need some of that information in order to do their work.

A Senator asked about the Research Plan timeline. Dr. Weeks said the current Research Plan runs until 2017 and the Interim Vice President Research, Dr. Payne, gave Dr. Weeks an update the day before (which he needs to read still) about the plan, merging opportunities and issues, and his thoughts around timeframes.

A Senator asked Dr. Weeks him what his leadership philosophy of president, faculty, and senior administrators relations. The Senator said he has been at the University for eleven and a half years, and he believes that the senior administration and faculty relations are at or close to an all-time low. The Senator wanted to know what the President's leadership philosophy is in strengthening those relationships. Dr. Weeks said he could not speak for the past eleven years, but the overwhelming message he gets from faculty is they are pleased with the direction they are going and moral is moving in a positive direction. Dr. Weeks said the letter he wrote when he applied for the position captures his leadership philosophy clearly; he explicitly serves at the pleasure of the board, but he implicitly serves at the pleasure of the faculty, students, staff, and alumni. This is who he believes he serves, and he believes in servant leadership. .

A Senator asked what concrete steps Dr. Weeks will take to rebuild trust with senior administrators and faculty. Dr. Weeks said there has not been a period of much stability at the University since he came where he has been given the opportunity to build trust, but he was unaware of what he did to lose or gain trust. He remains committed to making the University a vibrant, prosperous, and a happy place for faculty, staff, and students to come to. Another Senator said that there is a difference between what is said and what gets done. Another Senator asked what concrete things Dr. Weeks has done since his arrival at UNBC to ameliorate relationships between senior administration and faculty. Dr. Weeks he started this tenure with a listening tour that took him through the north and all of the UNBC campuses. He has invited many of the departments to his home and most recently asked the President of the Faculty Association to provide him with a list of individuals that he thought Dr. Weeks should talk to, and he has spoken to all of those individuals. The events at Dr. Weeks' home continue. said he has had different groups of people to his home, including a group from the Faculty Association. UNBC's relationship with RUCBC has improved. He has built considerable traction in Ottawa and with First Nations communities in the north, particularly in Prince George. UNBC's relationship with the City of Prince George has improved greatly. Dr. Weeks said he knows there is a lot of work to be done and he is committed to doing the work.

The meeting commenced at 3:30 p.m. Dr. Weeks asked that all recording devices be turned off as per the Senate Handbook, and indicated there was an audio feed to the Canfor Theatre for the overflow of the gallery.

1.0 S-201512.01
Approval of the Agenda

Kehler

That the agenda for the December 9, 2015 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.

Amendment 1

Koehn

That Agenda Item 8.4 be located after Agenda Item 3.1 and before Agenda Item 3.2.

CARRIED

Dr. Weeks - reported a discussion at the Steering Committee of Senate (SCS) re: placement of items on the agenda and placement and time to be allocated to discussion of Chancellor appointment specifically. The SCS considered putting a time limit on the conversations, but decided not to. The SCS agreed in principle that no more than half the time designated for the meeting should be spent on Agenda Item 3.1 (Appointment of Chancellor).

Consent Items under Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate. Hanschen reported agenda was discussed at the SCS and that these motions could be removed at Agenda Item 7.0 and would be approved under Agenda Item 9.0.

Amendment 2

Whitcombe

That Agenda Item 8.1 be moved between Agenda Item 2.0 and Agenda Item 3.0

DEFEATED

The main motion and Amendment 1 were CARRIED.

2.0

S-201512.02

Approval of Senate Minutes

Payne

That the minutes of the November 25, 2015 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.

CARRIED

3.0

Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

Appointment of Chancellor -Dr. Weeks- referred back to a question raised that he had intended to answer in the in-camera session, but the meeting was adjourned prior to the in-camera portion. Specifically

Question: “why had a Special Meeting of Senate had been called and then cancelled”

Dr. Weeks indicated he had been given clear direction from Senate regarding the Chancellor candidate at the previous Senate meeting, and had expressed those concerns to the Board of Governor’s Chair. The Board Chair asked if it would be of value for Senators to meet with the candidate to respond to concerns. Dr. Weeks secured a meeting time for a Special Meeting of Senate and then convened a meeting of the SCS to set the agenda. He presented the opportunity to meet with the candidate, and after discussion, the SCS concluded this would not be helpful. Having no agenda item, the Senate meeting was cancelled.

Appointment of Chancellor

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks invited each Senator to speak on the appointment of the Chancellor and initiated a round table discussion.

A thorough discussion occurred, with all Senators, and eventually, many of those in the gallery, being given the opportunity to contribute. Many concerns and specific questions were raised with respect to:

- process followed in the nomination and appointment of the Chancellor
- composition of the Chancellor Advisory Task Force
- meaning of “consultation with Senate”
- absence of notice and information at certain stages of the process
- the need for confidentiality throughout the process
- advisability of members of Senate and the University Community conducting this debate in the public and through the media
- the eligibility and qualifications of the appointee
- the decision of the SCS to not meet with the Candidate and allow an additional opportunity to discuss the appointment
- whether the candidate adequately represents the values of UNBC

The University Secretary committed to create a record of the process and decisions, and report back to Senate as a means of more efficiently responding to specific questions about process, and that report will include whatever is allowable under Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy laws.

Motion

Siakaluk

That Senate ends the discussion on Agenda Item 3.1 Appointment of Chancellor and move forward with the agenda.

DEFEATED

Discussion – visitors in the gallery were invited to contribute to the discussion, and a number of them did so.

Motion

Casperson

In accordance with Senate regulation 3(w) iii, that the Senate session extend beyond 5:30 p.m.

Discussion continued

Concerns were raised about the relationship and communications between Senate and the Board going forward. Dr. Weeks indicated that the Board would receive full disclosure on the discussion that had taken place at Senate and also noted that Mr. Moore has publically stated he is willing to come anytime to speak and answer any questions.

Motion

Clarkson

That Senate directs the President to express Senate's view that the Board of Governors failed to effectively and sufficiently consult Senate as is required by Section 11.1 of the University Act on the appointment of the Chancellor.

CARRIED

Discussion – the possibility of Senate meeting with the Board directly to express these views was raised. Dr. Weeks suggested this be put to the SCS.

Action Item: The SCS is to discuss a meeting between Senate and the Board of Governors so Senators can express their views directly to the Board and ask they take a course of direction directly.

Motion

Siakaluk

That Senate ends the discussion on Agenda Item 3.1 Appointment of Chancellor and move forward onto Agenda Item 3.2 and beyond.

CARRIED

Aboriginal Community Resource Planning

The Aboriginal Community Resource Planning Certificate (ACP) consists of 10 courses (minimum 30 credit hours) drawn primarily from First Nations Studies and Environmental ~~Studies Planning~~, with offerings from Geography, Commerce, ~~Resource~~ Outdoor Recreation and Tourism, and Natural Resources and Environmental Management. The courses from First Nations Studies provide students with foundations in First Nations in Canada, cultures and languages, internal and external issues, and First Nations environmental philosophies, ~~and the~~ The courses from Environmental Studies Planning provide foundations in the principles of traditional planning. The program is generic in nature so that the knowledge can be transferred to different community settings, as well as to the variety of situations that students will encounter throughout their lives.

Two important purposes of the Certificate are, first, to provide requisite education to assist individuals involved in the resource planning in First Nations communities and, second, to provide expanded educational opportunities at the university level for students who are not in a position to commit to a four-year program of study. Students must meet with a First Nations Studies undergraduate student advisor prior to starting this program.

5.1.1 Discussion on the Presentation of the Phase I Academic Planning Report Dr. Ryan

The Phase I Academic Planning Report was included in the meeting package for review.

S-201511.05

Approval of the Recommendations made within the document “Developing a New Academic Plan – Phase I”

Schorcht

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, Senate approve the Recommendations made within the document “Developing a New Academic Plan – Phase I”

Effective Date: Upon Approval by Senate

Senate discussed Phase I Academic Planning Report Recommendations.

Discussion:

- sub-recommendations were meant as guidelines, but this is not stated
- does not state what committees are being formed.
- concern about the construction of the committees, particularly in respect to Recommendation 2; Senate should be notified about the terms of reference and composition of the action/planning group established by SCAAF
- any document produced should be ratified by Senate

Motion:

Adjourn for a short break

Menounos

That Senate adjourns for a short break and reconvenes at 6:05 p.m.

CARRIED

The meeting reconvened at 6:10 p.m.

Senate continued to review and discuss Phase I Academic Planning Report Recommendations 1- 7.

Discussion:

Recommendation 2

Discussion of role of SCAAF, composition of action planning groups, possible utility of joint meetings of Senate Committees and questions on process for appointing committee members. Possibility of an ad hoc committee to look at composition of working groups raised.

Motion

Lightfoot

That the motion be broken down into the individual recommendations.

WITHDRAWN

Decision to review and approve Phase I Academic Planning Report Recommendations by general consent, one by one, with the option once completed to go back and fine tune recommendations based on other revisions made.

Discussion:

Recommendation 1

General Consent

Recommendation 2

Motion

Keen

That the discussion on Recommendation 2 from the Phase I Academic Planning Report be postponed until the other recommendations have been discussed.

CARRIED

Recommendation 3

Amendment to Recommendation 3

Casperson

To strike the final period after “warranted” in the main part of the text, and to replace it with

;that Senate direct SCAAF to create a working group to implement Recommendation 3; and that the working group be charged to:

CARRIED

- Question raised re: list of comparator institutions. Dr. Ryan indicated working groups would decide. Dr. Weeks indicated significant data is available and whatever data or information the working groups need, every effort will be made to provide it
- Question raised as to whether the sub recommendations were to be viewed as guidelines to the committee.

General consent

Recommendation 4

- suggested to change - “That UNBC develops an enrolment plan...” to the concept of a working group be struck to talk about the enrolment plan.
- Question - who will do Recommendation 4.4 Dr. Weeks indicated his understanding is that “Assist” is not the action; it’s that the enrolment plan will serve to assist academic units in managing; Needs to be clarified.

- Dr. Weeks indicated that “UNBC” was put in because, even though Senate plays a critical role in the enrolment plan, without the other actors in place (recruiters, Registrar’s Office, Facilities...), an enrolment plan would not be completed. Possible wording: “That Senate will establish a working group to assist in the development...” Clarification requested – that all the recommendations come back to Senate.
- Recommendation - that for all recommendations from 3 on the same language is used :“That Senate considers the development of an enrolment plan...”.
- Dr. Ryan - the recommendation should capture capsule that it is Senate that is forming this working group and that Senate will consider the end product. This should be consistent for every recommendation. Suggestions: “That Senate develops a working group to develop...” Dr. Weeks said it could not be done in isolation.
- Inconsistency was identified with the use of “Senate will” and “UNBC will” This was in part intentional; “UNBC” could be changed to “Senate” as long as the intent is that the whole of the University is involved in the process and that all of the appropriate stakeholders be at the table; faculty, staff, students, and administration.

Amendment to Recommendation 4

Casperson

To strike the final period after “circumstances” in the main part of the text, and to replace it with:

; and that Senate direct SCAAF to create a working group to implement this Recommendation.

CARRIED

- Clarification - what was meant by “periodically” in the first line as “annually” was used in the last sentence? Dr. Ryan indicated periodically meant a relatively frequent basis. Dr. Weeks suggested it be left for the working group to articulate. Enrolment plans need a timeframe that is not annual; Senate needs to leave the working group leeway to figure out what is the right way to report but ensure that reporting is sufficient to ensure Senate will have a sense of progress.

Motion

Adjournment

Lightfoot

That the Senate meeting be adjourned.

DEFEATED

General Consent

Recommendation 5:

Amendment to Recommendation 5

Casperson

To insert between the first and second sentences:

That Senate directs SCAAF to create a working group to implement this Recommendation.

CARRIED

- Question - what is meant by strategies and themes? Dr. Ryan indicated this committee would look fairly broadly at other institutes to see if there were other strategies or mechanisms for working with faculty development and bring those for consideration. Question - what was meant by development? Dr. Ryan indicated faculty at different stages of their career have different challenges and areas they want to build on. This is an opportunity to say what mechanisms we should have at the University to aid them in that development. Question - is this about individual faculty development rather than general faculty issues. Dr. Ryan - yes.
- Clarification - R5.4 - what was meant by “reliance on non-tenure employed faculty”? does it mean not relying on these people anymore, or does it mean giving these non-tenured faculty who continuously have their contracts renewed but not the stability of tenure the - respect they deserve and give them something better? Dr. Weeks confirmed that the sentiment was to give the proper respect to people who are a part of our community. Dr. Ryan - suggested wordsmithing that would be included in the document moving forward.

- General consensus that R5.4 should include ...non-tenure and non-tenure track employed faculty.

Recommendation 6

- Question - what was meant by scholarship.
Dr. H. Smith - scholarship meant teaching decisions based on evidence and based, as much as possible, on best practices, and simultaneously allowing for the flexibility of faculty as they engage in their teaching practices. The intention of scholarship was to feed into those sub-recommendations.

Amendment to Recommendation 6

Siakaluk

To strike comma between “scholarship and teaching” in the main part of the text, and to replace it with “of”.

CARRIED

Amendment to Sub-Recommendation R6.5:

Murphy

To modify Sub-Recommendation R6.5 to include the following, “...incorporation of existing research into the planning process (or planning document) and to ensure the wider dissemination of this material across the University (e.g. National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE) Report).

CARRIED

- Question - R6.1 – is there evidence we need flexible scheduling for learning inside and outside the classroom? Will it be considered if this is necessary? Dr. Ryan - it was something that was heard from the community that should be considered.

Recommendation 7

- Discussion point raised - Undergraduate and Graduate research experience is different and should not be included in the same sub-recommendation.

Amendment to Sub-Recommendation R7.1

Schwab

To divide R7.1 into Undergraduate research experience and Graduate research experience into two different sub-recommendations.

CARRIED

- Discussion point raised - there were no sub-recommendations for international students and a Senator felt international students have a very unique experience and should be included.

Amendment to the Sub-recommendations of Recommendation 7

Desai

That International student experience be included as its own sub-recommendation between R7.3 and R7.4.

CARRIED

- Clarification - Meaning of high impact teaching and learning - Dr. H. Smith - it means to enhance student experience and learning through particular kinds of activity; many of which are already done on campus in a variety of classes.

Recommendation 8

- Question - was there any consideration for a financial aid component. Ms. Kehler - it was not specifically mentioned but this recommendation was about taking care of the whole student. Dr. Weeks - any credible enrolment plan will look at how you enhance enrolment planning, reach out to underserved populations and marginalized students of need; all of these have to be part of any credible enrolment plan.

Motion to Postpone

Casperson

To postpone further discussion on Senate motion S-201511.05 Approval of the Recommendations made within the document "Developing a New Academic Plan – Phase I" until the next regular meeting of Senate.

CARRIED

General Consent - that Senate would like to see a clean copy of the document based on the amendments and discussion that took place.

Question - Dr. Ryan - should the suggestion for consistency in language be carried into Recommendation 9 even though Recommendation 9 had not yet been discussed? General consent - wait to make any changes to Recommendation 9 until it is discussed at the next Senate meeting.

Dr. Ryan deferred the Provost report to the next meeting with the approval of Senate.

7.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Hanschen

Mr. Hanschen deferred the Report of the Registrar to the next meeting with the approval of Senate.

8.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

Question - overflow space in the CANFOR Theatre.

Dr. Weeks - there was an understanding that there would be a large crowd coming to the meeting.

There was no intention of preventing anyone from attending the meeting, but rather it was a safety issue with respect to how many people were in the room.

Question - has it been considered to have the Senate public session meetings webcasted regularly?

Dr. Weeks - there has been conversation about this. In each effort to be open and transparent, new challenges are created. We could report back on some of those options in the future.

The meeting commenced at 3:30 p.m. Dr. Weeks welcomed new Senators, and asked for a moment of silence in memory of Dr. Joselito (Lito) Arocena, a founding faculty member who passed away in December. Dr. Weeks reported that a memorial scholarship was being set up in Dr. Arocena's name, and more information would be available in the future.

1.0 S-201601.01
Approval of the Agenda

Whitcombe

That the agenda for the January 27, 2016 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.

Senator Murphy provided two notices of motions for the next regular meeting of Senate (February 24, 2016), as follows:

1. That Senate lacks confidence in the leadership of the Board of Governors Chair.
2. That Senate requests that the Lieutenant Governor in Council replace the Chair of the UNBC Board of Governors.

Senator Keen provided two notices of motions to be included under Other Business for the next regular meeting of Senate (February 24, 2016), as follows:

1. That the Chair of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs report to Senate the status and financial cost of each External Program Review initiated since 1 January 2014, at the March 2016 meeting of Senate.
2. That the Chair of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs report to Senate the existing procedure for External Program Reviews and a consideration of whether this needs to be formalized in writing through a Policy recommended to the Board of Governors by Senate, at the March 2016 meeting of Senate.

Approval of the Recommendations made within the document “Developing a New Academic Plan – Phase I”

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, Senate approve the Recommendations made within the document “Developing a New Academic Plan – Phase I”
Effective Date: Upon Approval by Senate

A clean copy of the Developing a New Academic Plan – Phase I “Planning Framework” incorporating the recommendations and amendments from the December 9, 2016 Senate meeting was included in the meeting package. Discussion on the recommendations continued, starting with Recommendation 9.

Recommendation 9

Amendment to Recommendation 9

Murphy

To strike the final period after “Plan” in the main part of the text, and replace it with:

“and that Senate will direct SCAAF to create a working group that will assist the Provost in implementing Recommendation 9 with due consideration given to:”

CARRIED

- A description of academic administrative organizations is to be included.

General Consent

Recommendation 2

Amendment to Recommendation 2

Casperson

At the beginning of Recommendation 2 to prepend the words:

“That Senate direct SCAAF to propose working group compositions and selection procedures for Senate approval; and, once approved,”

CARRIED

Amendment to Recommendation 2

Menounos

That a period be placed after “groups” in the first sentence of the main text and “by January 27, 2016” be removed.

CARRIED

- SCAAF should report back to Senate at the next regularly scheduled meeting on February 24, 2016.
- SCAAF should give due consideration that the working groups include members with specific skills and expertise, and members with a more general understanding of the subject
- SCAAF may want to consider conducting elections first to fill some positions, and then fill in the remaining positions where there are gaps in the skills and knowledge needed.

Amendments to Sub-Recommendations R2.1- R2.7

Whitcombe

- That all the sub-recommendations under Recommendation 2 be struck, with the exception of R2.1 bullet 3 and R2.2 bullet 1;
- R.2.5 - Something similar to this statement could be used as a rider somewhere at the beginning as all the planning groups should draw upon the data and;
- R2.5 change “draw on” to “consider”

CARRIED

General Consent

Discussion on the General Document

- Recommendation 5.4 - new language to sub-recommendation 5.4, changing “reliance on” to wording that is respectful towards non tenured and non-tenure track faculty.
- Some Senators said they would like to see a document where recommendations 1-9 are clear and unambiguously stand alone, and the sub-recommendations are clearly separated as commentary.

Motion to Recess

Casperson

That Senate recess for three minutes.

CARRIED

Senate reconvened at 4:50 p.m.

Motion to Postpone S-201511.05

Lightfoot

CARRIED

Motion

Dale

That Senate authorize SCAAF to make recommendations on the composition of the working groups which will then come back to Senate for approval once completed.

CARRIED

4.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks welcomed everyone back to a new semester. He reported that he had sent an important letter to the UNBC community and asked everyone to please review it.

There will be a budget Town Hall on January 28, 2016 at 10:30 a.m. and Senators were encouraged to attend.

The University Secretary has begun to assemble the record with respect to the selection of the Chancellor. A hard copy of Part I (the decisions), was provided to Senators. The call for records has been expanded and additional documents will be provided, along with a rationale for redactions.

Initial plans are being made for a joint Senate and Board of Governors workshop on March 19, 2016. The SCS has put forward a suggestion for one agenda item. Dr. Weeks will speak to the Chair of the Board of Governors regarding other agenda items.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

As the meeting was running long, Dr. Ryan deferred the Provost's Report to the next meeting of Senate. There were no specific questions for the Provost.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Hanschen

The March Board of Governors meeting, where the budget is typically approved, has been moved to March 18, 2016. The SCS had proposed at their last meeting that the March Senate meeting be moved to March 16th so that Senate would be able to review and discuss the budget before approved by the Board. Dr. Weeks proposed instead that on March 16th there be an Open Session of Senate to present the budget for information and discussion. On March 18th, the budget will be presented to the Board of Governors meeting for discussion but not for approval. On March 23rd, the budget will be presented formally at the regularly scheduled meeting of Senate. The Board of Governors could call an extraordinary meeting after the March 23rd Senate meeting to approve the budget. There was general consent to Dr. Weeks' proposal.

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

Question – What is the quorum for convocation?

Mr. Hanschen - It is laid out in the University Act, Part 4 – Convocation, Composition of convocation 5(2) Twenty members of convocation constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Question – Is there any indication as to how the appointment of the Chancellor is affecting donors?

Dr. Weeks - Fundraising is tracking very well, and we are well ahead of last year at this point.

Question – What is the status of the job searches that are currently underway for the top administrators?

Dr. Weeks – They are going well. The search consultants have brought some great options. We are down to shortlists; the interviews of the shortlisted candidates began a couple of days ago and will continue over the next couple of weeks.

Question – Is there a timeline for starting the searches for a Provost and Vice-President of Research?

Dr. Weeks – This is outlined in the letter sent to the University community.

Question – Can you give some sense as to why the Chair of the Board of Governors did not specifically respond to the concerns expressed by Senate in the email he sent out?

Dr. Weeks – Indicated he could not speak for the Board Chair but could only give his thoughts. The brevity of the email should not be interpreted as having a particular meaning, nor should it be assumed that the concerns expressed by Senate were or were not considered. The concerns of Senate were clearly represented and the meaning of consultation will be discussed again in other contexts.

Statement from Senator – The Board should give justification as to why the Board is proceeding with this decision, particularly given the overwhelming opposition of Senate and others from the University community.

Motion

Casperson

In accordance with Senate regulation 3(w) iii, that the Senate session extend beyond 5:30 p.m.

CARRIED

Question – Do you know the relation between Mr. Matheson and Mr. Moore? Have they known each other prior to this?

Dr. Weeks – They are both alumni and were both students at UNBC; he does not know how they would characterize their relationship.

Question – Is there public relations material coming from the institution in regard to the new Chancellor?

Dr. Weeks – At the next Board meeting there will be a discussion on Chancellor engagement, as there would be for any new incoming Chancellor.

8.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda Dr. Weeks

Economic development remains a critical issue for more than three quarters of the world's population who reside in countries classified as "low income" or "middle income." The causes and consequences of economic development remain contested issues. This academic program considers the changing global, regional and national contexts for economic development; the policy lessons that can be learned from comparative studies; and the tools required to enable development economists to contribute to the development process.

Economic development cannot be studied in isolation from other dimensions of development.

An understanding of poverty, for example, requires not only economic analysis but also an understanding of the insights provided by other social and health sciences. The training of a development economist must therefore expose students to interdisciplinary approaches to development.

The Master of Arts degree in Development Economics is available on a full-time or part-time basis, involving coursework and, where chosen and approved, the ~~mandatory~~ completion of a graduate project or thesis. Upon admission into the Development Economics MA program, each student will be assigned a supervisor, who will work closely with the students to monitor their program of study and progress. In consultation with the supervisor, students will choose courses designed to complement and inform their areas of interest.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the UNBC Development Economics MA program must follow the admission requirements outlined in Section 1.0 of the UNBC Graduate Academic Calendar. Applicants normally should have a four-year undergraduate degree that is equivalent to a UNBC degree in Economics. In addition to these requirements, applicants must also provide a sample of written work (usually a senior-level undergraduate essay or research paper) as part of their application.

Entrance to the MA will be competitive: only applicants with a record of excellence in undergraduate work, strong letters of academic recommendation, and strong letters of intent will be considered. In their letters of intent, applicants should demonstrate evidence of interest in the MA's areas of specialization (Development Economics).

Application deadlines are found in ~~this the~~ calendar under "Semester Dates," ~~or online at www.unbc.ca/calendar/graduate,~~ ~~also under "Semester Dates."~~ The Development Economics MA Program accepts students for the September ~~and or~~ January ~~S~~semester.

For additional information about graduate admissions or to download application materials, go to the Graduate Programs website at www.unbc.ca/graduate-programs.

Admission

Application deadlines can be found in the Graduate Programs Admissions and Regulations section of the Graduate Calendar at <http://www.unbc.ca/calendar/graduate/admissions>.

In addition to full-time students, the Education degree programs attempt to ~~accommodate~~ accommodate part-time students who may hold full-time jobs. For this reason, most of the Education courses are offered in the ~~late~~ late afternoon and evening, as well as during Summer Session, so they can be accessed by persons during their annual vacation. It is recommended that students plan to make full use of the Summer Session offerings to complete their degree within the prescribed time limit. It is also recommended that students complete EDUC 601-3 (Educational Research Design and Methodology) and either EDUC 602-4 (Quantitative Research Design and Data Analysis) and or EDUC 610-4 (Qualitative Analysis in Education) during the first half of their MEd program.

Requirements

Provided that such courses have not been associated with the receipt of either a degree or diploma from UNBC or another educational institution, students may apply to the Dean of Graduate Programs for up to six credits for previously completed ~~graduate-level~~ graduate-level course work that is equivalent to that completed in the MEd program. Where equivalent courses have been associated previously with the receipt of either a degree or diploma, students will be permitted to elect alternative courses from the MEd program to satisfy the requirements for the degree.

Students in an MEd Program may take up to ~~six~~ 6 credits hours of elective course work from UNBC programs other than that in which they are completing their specialization or from other institutions under the Western Deans' Agreement (students require permission of their Academic Supervisor and the Education Graduate Program Chair). ~~Except under highly unusual circumstances, depending on~~ The supervisory committee may advise thesis students ~~will may be advised~~ to take the research seminar course, EDUC 795-3. ~~Students completing a thesis may be advised to include EDUC 603-4 (Advanced Educational Research Data Analysis) in their degree program in addition to the required courses.~~

NURS 455-(6, 8) ~~Critical Care~~, Foundations in Emergency and Trauma Nursing This course provides students with the practical evidence-based information, skills and tools necessary to identify clients with critical conditions and to intervene appropriately and effectively within the context and confines of rural nursing practice. The most salient aspects of adult, geriatric and pediatric emergency and ~~critical care~~ trauma encountered in rural practice are examined. The course includes a focused lab experience and a practicum, which are both mandatory. The NCBNP requires the 8-credit-hour course. RNCP and Post-Diploma BScN students complete the 6-credit-hour course.

Prerequisites: NURS 330-4, or permission of the Chair, School of Nursing for 8-credit-hour course

Major Restriction: Rural Nursing Certificate Program or Post-Diploma BScN students, or permission of the Chair, School of Nursing for 6-credit-hour course

Changes to Degree Requirements and Description - Minor in Biology and Conservation

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the changes to the degree requirements and description for the Minor in Biology and Conservation, on page 67 of the 2015/15 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2016

CARRIED

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Minor in Biology and Conservation

The minor in Biology and Conservation provides students with a background in ecological principles and techniques associated with the management and conservation of animal and plant populations and communities associated with a range of ecosystems. Upon completion of the minor, students will have a broad background in genetics and evolution, population and community dynamics, ecological analysis, and the key problems and approaches for conserving biological diversity.

The minor in Biology and Conservation requires the completion of a minimum of 27 credit hours of study (plus associated prerequisites). A maximum of two courses (6 credit hours) used to fulfill the ~~requirements~~ requirements for a major, or another minor, may also be used to fulfill requirements for this minor. Forest Ecology and Management Majors will have the following prerequisites as part of the major core requirements. Students from other majors will need to fulfill the prerequisite requirements for this minor.

- BIOL 103-3      Introductory Biology I
- BIOL 104-3      Introductory Biology II
- BIOL 123-1      Introductory Biology I Laboratory

The main motion and amendments were CARRIED.

3.0

S-201602.13

Dr. Murphy

Murphy

That Senate lacks confidence in the leadership of the Board of Governors Chair.

Dr. Murphy said this motion stems from the Chancellor selection process and he summarized concerns with the process that has been followed.

Dr. Weeks asked Senate to consider a roll-call vote or that Senate vote on this motion as per usual with a show of hands.

S-201602.131

Schwab

That the vote on motion S-201602.13 be held by secret ballot.

CARRIED.

Discussion points on motion S-201602.13 included:

- Concerns with the Chancellor nomination process
- the responsibilities of the Board of Governors and the Board of Governors Chair as per the University Act
- the issue of “Senate Caucus” meetings taking place outside of Senate and Senate committees was raised, and some Senators, including Lay Senators and Regional Senators, expressed interest in being included in Senate Caucus
- Some Senators took issue with the suggestion that Senate Caucus was not a legitimate gathering or a “shadowy organization”; The Chair asked that the minutes reflect he never used the word shadowy nor did he suggest there was intimidation ; only that the perception and opportunity existed
- the responsibility of the Board of Governors to look out for the interests of Convocation in of choosing a Chancellor
- concern regarding the timing of the process were raised; the Chancellor elect was still a member of Parliament until sometime on October
- the need to move on and promote the University positively; the University community needs to work together
- A student Senator indicated that the Student Senators have met regularly since September to discuss various matters, and they would have liked the opportunity to have met with administrators including the President; The Chair responded that he often meets with students and student leaders, and student Senators are welcome to contact his office to set up a meeting
- the need to trust the people who make decisions even though outcome may not be agreed upon

- some Senators felt that the Board Chair had still not addressed the motion passed in December that Senate was not sufficiently consulted regarding the appointment of the Chancellor
- the University Act does not stipulate that the Alumni Association has to ask all of its members or hold a vote; the Act states the Alumni Association will make a nomination> The Association determines their own processes.

Motion to Close Debate

Burke

That the debate on motion S-201602.13 be closed.
CARRIED.

Senate Committee on Academic Affairs

Dr. Ryan

Report on the composition of the working groups from the recommendations in the document “Developing a New Academic Plan – Phase I.”

Dr. Ryan presented the draft of Academic Planning working groups’ composition to Senate and a discussion on the document followed. Discussion Points included:

- people should be elected, except where clearly stated that they should be appointed.
- there is a process in the Senate handbook that could be used regarding elections; there would be a call for nominations which would be sent to the students, NUGSS, and GSS.
- one of the key concerns discussed at SCAAF was the break during the summer months; people may self-select out of the working groups as they would not be able to commit to the working groups during the summer. This should be addressed in some way.
- as a motion approving the composition of the working groups would not be presented to Senate until March 23, 2016, the March 30th and March 31st election deadline cannot be met; timeframes should be worked on or SCAAF could potentially work on another election process other than the one outlined in the Senate Handbook.
- Senators are to send their thoughts on the document to Ms. Howitt to compile for the SCAAF meeting on March 2nd.
- a reminder that SCAAF is an open meeting and all Senators can attend.
- SCAAF has direction from Senate to work on the document and produce a motion/recommendation for the next Senate meeting.

Motion

Casperson

In accordance with Senate regulation 3(w) iii, that the Senate session extend beyond 5:30 p.m.

4.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

A UNBC student recently passed away and there was a memorial for her on February 23, 2016. Her family was on campus for a few days and attended the memorial service. Dr. Weeks thanked Dr. Owen and his team for liaising with the hospital, Northern Health, and the family. UNBC's flags were flown at half-mast in her memory.

Dr. Weeks will be traveling with UNBC's International Director to Vietnam and China from February 26, 2016 to March 16, 2016. He will be working with the Canadian Bureau of International Education on a Canadian MOU for the exchange of students in Vietnam. In China, they will be refreshing some of the MOUs that UNBC has in place there and will talk about some new possibilities. Dr. Ryan will be the Acting President while Dr. Weeks is away.

The Lieutenant Governor will be at UNBC in June as the patron of a young leaders' development event for students in grades 9-12.

Mr. Patrick Lane and Dr. Leroy Little Bear have been confirmed as the 2016 Honorary Degree recipients.

There will be an Open Session of Senate on March 16, 2016 at 3:30 p.m. for a budget presentation. This will be open to Senators for information and discussion. The budget will go to the Board of Governors on March 18th for information and to provide initial feedback from Senate. On March 23rd, the budget will come to Senate for a formal presentation. The budget will then go to the Board of Governors for approval on May 20, 2016.

The joint Board of Governors and Senate workshop will take place March 17th and March 18th. On March 17th, there will be a dinner with a "thank you" to the outgoing Chancellor Dr. MacDonald, and a presentation. The speaker will be announced. On March 18th, Christine Tausig Ford will be presenting at, and facilitating the Joint Board – Senate breakfast and workshop.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

As the meeting was running long, Dr. Ryan deferred the Provost's Report to the next meeting of Senate.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Hanschen

A call for nominations went out for students on Senate and the Board of Governors. There was also a call for nominations for the vacant CSAM faculty position and the faculty member at large position on Senate. The deadline for nominations is March 1, 2016. Elections, if required, are scheduled for March 30, 2016 and March 31, 2016.

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

Question – The Pride Centre has no financial support or otherwise from either of the student societies or from the University. Are there any plans to rectify this unfortunate situation?

Dr. Weeks – indicated that he reached out to representatives from the Pride Centre about a week ago; right after the events on the UBC campus. The Pride Centre representatives reported to him that they have not experienced any ripple effect as a result of those events and feel very safe and welcome on the UNBC campus. They talked about the Pride Centre's funding model and talked about different options moving forward; they gave up their standing under the Societies Act. They will reach out to their friends and colleagues at other BC research universities, and talk again with Dr. Weeks about other funding model suggestions. Even though they do not have funding, they do not feel particularly underfunded; they are still able to do what they want to do, however some stable funding would be helpful. Dr. Weeks' intention is for UNBC to have a Pride flag on campus and will be moving forward on that.

Question – Will members of the UNBC media and students have an opportunity to meet with the new Chancellor?

Dr. Weeks – Matt Wood, Communications & Media Relations Manager, is entertaining all requests to meet with the new Chancellor.

Mr. Wood – indicated he has connected with student media, and it is in motion.

Question – Is it possible to get the result of the secret ballot vote?

Ms. Sanford – There was no motion to record the vote, but we will look into it and release if appropriate.

Mr. Hanschen – The Senate Handbook stipulates that unless there is a motion to record the votes, the votes are documented as either CARRIED or DEFEATED.

Dr. Weeks – We can see if it is possible to report it.

Question – Has there been any consideration of hoisting the appropriate Nation's flag based on the locations of UNBC's campuses, to bring more awareness to First Nations' territories and First Nations' issues?

Dr. Weeks – UNBC is actively working on opportunities for translating signage on its' campuses to include First Nations' languages

Dr. R. Robinson – In the next couple of months, Senate will see an MOU between UNBC and Lheidli T'enneh, and included within that is a paragraph about the flag raising and the relationship between UNBC and Lheidli T'enneh First Nation in that regard.

8.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda

Dr. Weeks

There were no requests made to remove motions from the Consent Agenda.

"For Approval" Items:

S-201602.03

New Academic Program Approval - the Associate of Arts Degree and Associate of Science Degree

Schorcht

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the Associate of Arts Degree and Associate of Science Degree be approved as proposed.

Proposed Start Date: September 2016

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

General Calendar Description: The Associate of Arts and Associate of Science Degrees are provincial credentials offered by many institutions in the BC Transfer System. The Associate Degree is designed to provide an educational experience that prepares students for life as an educated person, and to lay a solid foundation for further study.

The Associate Degree curriculum comprises two years of university level study in a variety of academic areas. Students are required to complete a broad range of course offerings balanced with in-depth study in specific disciplines. Since many students will continue their studies, the requirements are sufficiently flexible to enable students to complete the required prerequisites for upper level course work in their intended major.

Curriculum:

Associate of Arts Degree

General Requirements

60 credit hours of first- and second-year courses. These must include a minimum of 18 credit hours in Arts at the second-year level taken in two or more subject areas.

Specific Requirements

- A. 6 credit hours in first-year English; and
- B. 9 credit hours in Science which shall include at least:

- 3 credit hours in Mathematics, Computing Science or Statistics (Statistics courses taught in subject areas such as Business, Commerce, Economics, Psychology, etc. may also be used to meet this requirement);
  - 3 credit hours in a laboratory science, and
- C. 36 credit hours in Arts which shall include:
- 6 credit hours in the Social Sciences;
  - 6 credit hours in Humanities (including the Creative and Performing Arts) other than English;
  - 24 additional credit hours in Arts, and
- D. 9 credit hours in Arts, Science, or other areas.

Associate of Science Degree

General Requirements

60 credit hours of first- and second-year courses. These must include a minimum of 18 credit hours in Science at the second-year level taken in two or more subject areas.

Specific Requirements

- A. 6 credit hours in first-year English; and
- B. 6 credit hours in Mathematics which shall include at least 3 credit hours in Calculus; and
- C. 36 credit hours in Science, which shall include at least 3 credit hours in a laboratory science; and
- D. 6 credit hours in Arts other than English (excluding Mathematics and laboratory-based science courses); and
- E. 6 credit hours in Arts, Science, or other areas.

Requirements for Both Degrees

1. All general and specific requirements must be met but an institution may set higher standards or additional requirements over and above these general and specific requirements.
2. No course can be used to meet more than one of the specific requirements.
3. An average overall grade of "C" (Cumulative GPA of 2.00 or its equivalent) calculated on all courses counting towards the Associate Degree must be achieved.
4. The number of credit hours awarded for any particular course are determined by the institution granting the Associate Degree. Although the number of credit hours awarded for any particular course may vary from institution to institution, it is expected that a student will have completed the equivalent of approximately twenty 3-credit-hour courses to fulfill the degree requirements.

A Summary of revisions to Elective Courses for the School of Health Sciences Masters Programs was included for information.

S-201602.04

Changes to Program Requirements – MA Disability Management

"For Approval" Item:

3.1 Senate Committee on Academic Affairs

Dr. Owen

S-201603.03

Principles and Composition of the Academic Planning Action Groups

Smith

That the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs (SCAAF) recommends to Senate that the principles and the composition of the five Action Planning Groups be adopted; and the selection of the members for the Action Planning Groups be conducted as proposed.
Effective Date: March 23, 2016

There was a discussion regarding motion S-201603.03. The following motions were a result of the discussion:

Amendment 1

Murphy

That one of the three faculty members from the Faculty Renewal and Development Collaborative Team be appointed by the Faculty Association.
CARRIED.

Amendment 2

DEFEATED.

Amendment 5

Whitcombe

That the Senate Committee on Nominations will have an open call for both faculty members and Senators. SCN will then hold an election based on all nominated individuals. Voting will be by all faculty. SCN will propose the elected individuals to Senate.
DEFEATED.

Motion S-201603.03 was CARRIED as amended.

This motion, as amended, will go directly to the various bodies involved in populating the Action Planning Groups. The Principles and Composition of the Academic Planning Action Groups document as amended has been attached to the minutes as Appendix I.

4.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks reported on his recent and productive trip to Vietnam and China with UNBC's Director of International Education. Some MOUs were renewed and new opportunities identified.

Dr. Weeks commented on both the provincial and federal budgets. Provincially, the President, Vice Presidents and other RUCBC members are working to advance post-secondary interests. Federally there are a number of positive prospects and opportunities in the budget for the post-secondary sector, and Dr. Weeks is working on the details for a trip to Ottawa in early May to meet with cabinet ministers, and if possible the Prime Minister to pursue some of these opportunities.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Owen presented in Dr. Ryan's absence. Only one item was reported on: The report to Senate on the External Review process was sent to Senators on March 21, 2016 for review. It will be included in the April Senate meeting package, and Dr. Ryan will speak to it at that time.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Hanschen

Mr. Hanschen reported that elections for a CSAM Faculty Representative on Senate and an Undergraduate Student Representative on the Board of Governors will be conducted on March 30, 2016 and March 31, 2016. One Graduate Student Representative position on Senate is still vacant. All other vacancies have been filled by acclamation. The SCN will be meeting on April 12, 2016 to consider applications to fill Senate committee vacancies. Mr. Hanschen asked that Senators who are on committees where their terms are ending, please continue to serve until such a time as they can be replaced.

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

Question – A concern was raised about how to ensure that the environment in Senate is not intimidating, particularly for student senators who only serve a one year term. Reference was made to use of sarcasm which can make individuals hesitate to contribute.

Dr. Weeks – Dr. Weeks indicated that efforts are being made through the office of the University Secretary to ensure a more fulsome onboarding process for all Senators and members of the Board of Governors.

Dr. Owen also indicated that he would raise this with the student engagement team to consider available options for leadership development that might be helpful in this regard.

Question - What is the status of the vice presidential hires and timelines?

Dr. Weeks – indicated he would speak about this during the President's Report in-camera.

Question – At the December 9, 2015 meeting, the University Secretary promised Senate clarification on the process used to select the Chancellor. One set of documents was received at one of the Senate meetings, but there is also a second set of documents that have been circulated online for a couple of weeks. Is there a reason why the second set of redacted documents has not been made available to all Senators and where are we with the clarification on the Chancellor Selection process?

Dr. Weeks – The University Secretary is on vacation and there was not enough time before she left to get the documents out to Senators. Copies of the document can be made once she returns. The question about the Chancellor selection process was to be answered in-camera.

Question – There were a number of people in the gallery that day as well. When will the information be made available to the public?

Dr. Weeks – The information will be made public as soon as it is possible. As the information originally came to Senate in-camera, clarification of the process will be reported to Senate in camera as well.

Question – Ten months ago the Vice Chair of Senate asked for the past five years of financial statements. Will these be provided?

Dr. Weeks – indicated Senate could have whatever years they want. He believes the data is available on the SharePoint site and asked Ms. Daigle and Ms. Smith for clarification.

Ms. Daigle – She said she would need to confirm this and get back to Senate.

Dr. Whitcombe indicated that SCUB has an extensive record of the financial statements, there is an Extensive record of the operating statements, and it goes back about ten years. It is on the Board of Governors site and people can look at budgets over a number of years.

Ms. Daigle – As long as they do not have to create new documents and there is additional information needed, let them know. There is nothing they will not share that is available.

Action Item: Ms. Howitt will send the Members of Senate the link to the financial statements requested.

Quorum was lost at 6:35 p.m. – any motions not passed by 6:35 p.m. are to appear on the April 27, 2016 Senate public agenda under Business Arising.

10.0 S-201603.14

Approval of Motions on the Consent Agenda

Dr. Weeks

That the motions on the consent agenda, except for those removed for placement on the regular agenda, be approved as presented.

POSTPONED until the April 27, 2016 meeting. Quorum was lost before the approval of the motions on the consent agenda.

11.0 Other Business

S-201603.15

Mr. Clarkson

BE IT RESOLVED THAT Senate requests that the Registrar to investigate and recommend various options for the inclusion of a full-week reading break in the Fall semester prior to the consideration of the 2017/18 academic year.

POSTPONED until the April 27, 2016 meeting. Quorum was lost before the motion could be considered.

Senate discussed motion S-201603.15. Dr. Weeks said there are only four options in regard to this motion:

1. The fall semester could start earlier;
2. The end of the fall semester could be tightened up;
3. Go with the status quo, which is a short 4 day reading break in the fall; or
4. No break at all.

Mr. Hanschen will bring a short explanation regarding the consequences to each of these choices forward when the process to set the following year's academic calendar begins, which generally begins in the late summer/early fall. Mr. Clarkson said he was okay with this decision.

S-201603.16

Mr. Clarkson

BE IT RESOLVED THAT Undergraduate Regulations #50 (Appeals Process) and #5 (Senate Committee on Academic Appeals) be referred to the appropriate committee of Senate for study and provision of recommendations on:

- a. Providing for non-adversarial adjudication as an intermediate step in the appeals processes;
- b. Establishing standards of evidence;
- c. Clarifying the reasons for which a grade can be appealed;
- d. Specifying the kinds of remedies which can be sought and awarded by the Senate Committee on Academic Appeals; and
- e. Setting out the procedural rules for hearings of the Senate Committee on Academic Appeals;

AND FURTHERMORE,

BE IT RESOLVED THAT the Undergraduate Regulations and Policies be amended as follows (the amendments can be found on page 85 of the Senate public session meeting package).

POSTPONED until the April 27, 2016 meeting. Quorum was lost before the motion could be considered.

There is a process to get the consideration of something like motion moving. Mr. Hanschen said it would originate at the committee. For this motion, that committee would be the Senate Committee on Academic Appeals. The committee would discuss the motion and decide if they wish to move forward.

Most academic appeals are dealt with at the professor/chair/dean level; more informal appeal. there are many changes in this motion that have implications to faculty like this would that it be brought to the committee level, then College Councils.

There was a discussion on whether this motion should go to SCAA, or if a small committee should be struck by Senate that would report back to Senate regarding the policy issues.

Dr. Weeks said he will speak to the University Secretary about reviewing the terms of reference for several of the Senate committees and the structure that could be put into place to examine motions like this one when she returns.

That Senate requests that the Registrar investigate and brings back for the fall discussions of the 2017/2018 academic calendar dates the options for the inclusion of a full-week reading break in the Fall semester.

CARRIED.

Motion S-201603.15 was CARRIED as amended.

S-201603.16

Casperson

BE IT RESOLVED THAT Undergraduate Regulations #50 (Appeals Process) and #51 (Senate Committee on Academic Appeals) be referred to the appropriate committee of Senate for study and provision of recommendations on:

- a. Providing for non-adversarial adjudication as an intermediate step in the appeals processes;
- b. Establishing standards of evidence;
- c. Clarifying the reasons for which a grade can be appealed;
- d. Specifying the kinds of remedies which can be sought and awarded by the Senate Committee on Academic Appeals; and
- e. Setting out the procedural rules for hearings of the Senate Committee on Academic Appeals;

AND FURTHERMORE,

BE IT RESOLVED THAT the Undergraduate Regulations and Policies be amended as follows (the amendments were included on page 31 of the Senate public session meeting package).

Motion

Casperson

That Senate invites a member of the gallery, Mr. Clarkson, to speak to motion S-201603.16.
CARRIED.

Mr. Clarkson spoke about the motion S-201603.16. There was a discussion on the motion and Mr. Clarkson answered questions.

Motion to Commit

Casperson

That motion S-201603.16 be referred to a committee consisting of the Dean of the College of Arts, Social and Health Sciences, Senator Palmer, and Mr. Clarkson.

The committee is charged with considering the motion and reporting back to Senate as to the questions of principle within the motion. Senate can then have a discussion on the substance of the motion.

Friendly Amendment to the Motion to Commit

Smith

That a designate from the Office of the Registrar and a designate from the Office of Graduate Programs be added to the committee membership.

The Chair asked for leave of Senate so Ms. Lawson could speak about academic appeals. There were no objections, and Ms. Lawson explained the current academic appeals process.

The Motion to Commit as amended was CARRIED.

Dr. Whitcombe tendered his resignation effective immediately as the Chair and a member of the Senate Committee on Academic Appeals.

4.0 President's Report

As Dr. Weeks was unable to attend the meeting, there was no report.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan welcomed Robert Knight, the new Vice President Finance and Business Operations. He Also recognized Barb Daigle's work as the Interim Vice President of Finance and Administration.

Dr. Ryan further reported that:

The Registrar resigned from his position effective April 30, 2015, and Pam Flagel was appointed as the Acting Registrar by the Board of Governors. A search for the new Registrar will begin in accordance with the University's selection procedures for Registrar. A search firm will be used as there have been a number of recent Registrar searches at other post-secondary institutions, and it is important to find the right Registrar for UNBC. The selection committee needs to be populated, and opportunities will be provided for the various stakeholders to offer input on the position profile.

As of April 1, 2016 applications and admissions for the 2016/2017 academic year were up. As of April 1, registration was not open so they were not sure of enrollment numbers. The enrollment numbers have been down for a couple of years and there are some downward trends with certain groups of students. It is important to look at the enrollment management plan moving forward as it is tied to funding.

Recent changes were made to the senior administration committee structure to improve efficiencies of those committees and a summary was provided.

Dr. Ryan and the President are planning on visiting as many of the academic and non- academic departments as possible over the coming months to hear from the various units

A significant amount of money has been allocated to the provincial governments (in BC about $280 million under the Federal Strategic Initiatives Fund is a federal government initiative where, The money is designated for public sector post-secondary institutes (with some significant restrictions). UNBC has looked at items at various levels and will put a number of projects forward.

At a recent Town Hall budget meeting, concerns were expressed about faculty positions that had not been filled. Decisions have been made regarding some of the positions, and it has been recommended that six of the positions to be filled (two in Psychology, one in Social Work, one in Math, one in ESM, and one librarian). There are a few other positions being considered.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Ms. Flagel

No report

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Keen

A Senator asked if the Provost could provide a written appendix for the minutes outlining the senior Administration committee structure outlined in the Provost's report. Dr. Ryan said the Senior Leadership Forum has asked for similar information, so he will prepare a document for that committee first and then provide Senate with a document for the May Senate meeting.

Action Item: Dr. Ryan will provide Senate with a document outlining the senior administration committee structure for the May Senate meeting.

A Senator asked what the three projects are that are being put forward for the Strategic Initiatives Funds. Dr. Ryan said they are: the engineering high head research lab, the QRRC, and an expansion to the Northern Sports Centre. The provincial ministry provides 55% of the funding and the federal government provides 45% of the funding.

A Senator asked why the questions on the employment engagement survey were only directed towards their department or program and no other components of the University if the purpose of the employment engagement survey was to find out what people thought of their work environment at the University. He wanted to know if this could be remedied.

He also said the question regarding relationships and communication was leading, and he was concerned about the survey gathering inaccurate results.

Dr. Ryan said the questions were modified from other organizations, including the Gallup, who have used the questions in the past.

A Senator asked if the survey was meant to be anonymous. She said there were identifiable characters in the survey.

Dr. Ryan said the survey was meant to be anonymous, and his understanding was the surveys will be summarized by an external body.

A Senator asked how the outcome of the survey will be used.

Dr. Ryan said he understood the summaries will be used to get a better idea of what is going on at the University and how challenges can be addressed. The surveys are optional. Concerns about the employment engagement survey should be brought forward to the Director of HR.

8.0 Presentation — 2016-2017 Proposed Budget

Dr. Ryan and Mr. Knight

The 2016/17 Financial Planning Overview was included in the meeting package.

There were a number of Town Halls where the budget had been discussed, and there will be another one on April 29, 2016. The last day for feedback is May 4, 2016. Feedback can be sent to unbcplan@unbc.ca. The budget will be presented to the Board of Governors on May 20, 2016 for approval. The budget was first presented to Senate in March. Ms. C. Smith provided Senate with information about the budget. There was a discussion about the budget and Senators asked questions.

9.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda

Dr. Keen

There were no requests made to remove motions from the consent agenda.

Disability Management (MA Program)

Henry Harder, Professor

~~Cindy Hardy, Professor (Psychology)~~

Shannon Wagner, Professor

~~Sarah deLeeuw, Associate Professor (Northern Medical Program)~~

R. Luke Harris, Associate Professor

Margot Parkes, Associate Professor and Canadian Research Chair, Health, Ecosystem and Society

Chelsea Pelletier, Assistant Professor

Mamdouh Shubair, Assistant Professor

~~Arlene Ward, Adjunct Professor~~

Website: www.unbc.ca/health-sciences/disability-management

The program provides graduates with the knowledge and skills necessary to assist labour, management, insurance providers, employers, and employees with the development of successful work entry or return-to-work strategies for persons with disabilities.

The program is attractive to students interested in integrating the fields of economics, community health, social work, psychology, education, and business. The combination of course work, research, and the practical application of knowledge gives students a well rounded, applied education in the field of Disability Management.

The program is available at the Prince George campus, either full-time or part-time, or on a part-time basis via distance delivery on the World Wide Web. Please see the information below and our website www.unbc.ca/health-sciences/disability-management for additional details.

Admission

Application deadlines can be found in the Graduate Programs Admissions and Regulations section of the Graduate Calendar at <http://www.unbc.ca/calendar/graduate/admissions>.

The Disability Management MA program accepts students for the September Semester.

In addition to meeting the admission application requirements outlined in Section 1.0 of the Graduate Admissions and Regulations, all applicants to the Disability Management MA program are required to submit a Criminal Record Check search prior to the first day of classes in their entry semester.

Domestic applicants must supply a Criminal Record Check search result after receiving an offer of admission and before the first day of classes; ~~the~~ search result is not required with the application. International applicants must submit a Criminal Record Check search result provided by their local policy authority upon application, and will also be required to submit a British Columbia Criminal Record Check if offered admission. The Office of the Registrar will provide instructions to domestic and international applicants who have accepted offers of admission on how to complete a British Columbia Criminal Record Check.

Delivery Modes

~~There are two modes of delivery for the Disability Management (MA) Program: face to face and distance. Both have a thesis option or a comprehensive examination option. Each option is described separately below; courses for each delivery mode follow the description.~~

Thesis Option

The Thesis Option consists of four components:

Core courses in Disability Management	12 credit hours
Research methods courses	6 credit hours
Electives	9 credit hours
Thesis DISM 799-9	9 credit hours
Total	36 credit hours

All students in the Thesis Option are required to write a letter outlining their practical experience. If their experience is considered insufficient by the program they will be required to do a practicum in addition to all requirements listed above. In addition, all students in the Thesis Option are required to travel to the Prince George campus to fulfill some of their thesis requirements.

Comprehensive Examination Option

The Comprehensive Examination Option consists of ~~five~~ four components:

Core courses in Disability Management	12 credit hours
Research methods courses	6 credit hours
Electives	9-15 credit hours
Practicum or Major Paper	6 credit hours
Comprehensive Exam	3 credit hours
Total	36 credit hours

~~Students in the comprehensive examination option will be required to do a practicum unless they have significant experience in the field already. In that case they will write a letter outlining their experience and request that they are allowed to prepare a Major Paper in place of a Practicum.~~

Requirements ~~Face-to-Face Mode~~

~~The Face-to-Face Mode is available to those students who take the program full or part-time. The courses for the Face-to-Face Mode are listed below:~~

Core Courses

DISM 609-3 Professional Ethics in Health Care Management
DISM 710-3 Foundations in Disability Management
DISM 711-3 Disability Management: Legislation, Policy & Procedures
DISM 712-3 Disability Management Interventions

Other courses may be substituted or added with the approval of the student's Supervisory Committee.

Research Courses

Additional two courses from the following:

EDUC 602-4 ~~Educational~~ Quantitative Research Design and Data Analysis
EDUC 603-4 ~~Advanced Quantitative Educational Research~~ Data Analysis
HHSC 603-3 Community Research Methods
HHSC 703-3 Qualitative Research Approaches in Health and Human Sciences
NURS 703-3 Health Program Planning, Community Development and Evaluation
PSYC 600-4 Quantitative Methods I
PSYC 605-4 Quantitative Methods II
SOCW 609-3 Advanced Quantitative Research

Other courses may be substituted or added with the approval of the student's Supervisory Committee.

Elective Courses

Candidates must complete a minimum of 9 credit hours from the following list.

COMM 630-3 Organizational Studies
COMM 631-3 Labour Management Relations
DISM 720-3 Special Topics
DISM 798-(3-6) Directed Studies
ECON 610-3 Health Economics
ECON 611-3 Cost Benefit Analysis
EDUC 613-3 Interpersonal Counselling Skills
HHSC 602-3 Organization and Financing of Canadian Health Care
POLS 603-3 Social and Health Policy in the Context of Health and Health Care
PSYC 620-3 Health Psychology
PSYC 720-3 Cross-Cultural Communication in Health Care Settings
SOCW 605-3 Community Work/Politics of Change
SOCW 698-3 Special Topics

Other courses may be substituted or added with the approval of the student's Supervisory Committee.

~~Practicum (or Major Paper) and Comprehensive Examination, or Thesis~~

~~DISM 794-6 Disability Management Major Paper
DISM 795-6 Disability Management Practicum
DISM 796-3 Master of Arts: Disability Management Comprehensive Examination
DISM 799-9 Disability Management Thesis~~

Requirements Distance Mode

~~The Distance Mode is available to those students who take the program part time. Students completing the Distance Mode have a restricted set of elective courses. Courses for the Distance Mode are listed below.~~

~~Core Courses~~

~~DISM 609-3 Professional Ethics in Health Care Management
DISM 710-3 Foundations in Disability Management
DISM 711-3 Disability Management: Legislation, Policy & Procedures
DISM 712-3 Disability Management Interventions~~

~~Other courses may be substituted or added with the approval of the student's Supervisory Committee.~~

~~Research Courses~~

~~HHSC 603-3 Community Research Methods
NURS 703-3 Health Program Planning, Community Development and Evaluation~~

~~Other courses may be substituted or added with the approval of the student's Supervisory Committee.~~

~~Elective Courses~~

~~Candidates must complete a minimum of 9 credit hours from the following list.~~

~~DISM 720-3 Special Topics
DISM 798-(3-6) Directed Studies
HHSC 602-3 Organization and Financing of Canadian Health Care
POLS 603-3 Social and Health Policy in the Context of Health and Health Care
PSYC 620-3 Health Psychology
SOCW 605-3 Community Work/Politics of Change~~

~~Other courses may be substituted or added with the approval of the student's Supervisory Committee.~~

~~Practicum (or Major Paper) and Comprehensive Examination, or Thesis~~

~~DISM 794-6 Disability Management Major Paper
DISM 795-6 Disability Management Practicum
DISM 796-3 Disability Management Comprehensive Examination
DISM 799-9 Disability Management Thesis~~

Practicum

Students are involved in field-based learning activities for the purpose of pursuing and developing research/policy/administration/practice skills within a related employment area. The practicum component stresses independent learning, and permits students to test or develop theory in the context of fieldwork. The form of field practice components varies widely in accordance with the learning needs of the students. The practicum leads to a written report that reflects students' critical analyses of their practice settings. The report further demonstrates a deepening of professional competence, analytical skills, and professional judgement, and represents a contribution to the knowledge and skill base of the profession. The duration of this component is equivalent to three months full-time employment.

Major Paper

The Major Paper (MP) option is for those students who have written a letter outlining their experience in the disability management field and obtained permission allowing them to prepare a Major Paper in place of a Practicum (6 credit hours). It is the aim of the MP to acquaint students with the practice of scholarship. Such acquaintance will normally entail a critical treatment of relevant academic literature using theoretical or philosophical methods. If the student wishes to pursue empirical research, either quantitative or qualitative, the thesis option must be selected.

Comprehensive Examination

The comprehensive examination option of study requires the successful completion of a comprehensive examination that evaluates a candidate's knowledge of theory, research and practice in his/her field of study.

Thesis

An oral examination is required as per University regulations. All students ~~are taking the thesis option will be~~ required to be a resident in Prince George for the duration of their thesis work and their oral examination, as well as during the semesters thesis work is developing.

Motions S-201604.04 - S-201604.05 were dealt with as an omnibus motion.

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Transfer Credit

Students who have completed a Registered Nurse Diploma at a recognized post-secondary institution may be eligible to receive up to 60 credit hours towards the Post-Diploma Baccalaureate Nursing Program.

~~A total of 15 credit hours may be transferred from other recognized institutions into the nursing program. In order to meet the clinical concentration requirement of the nursing program, students may transfer credit from successfully completed studies at the nursing post-diploma level, provided that the certificate or diploma was completed within the five years prior to the semester of admission. Normally, the student is currently practicing in that specialty area.~~

In addition to the block credit awarded for the diploma, a maximum of 15 credit hours from other recognized institutions may be transferred into the Post-Diploma Baccalaureate Nursing Program. Nursing courses, or their equivalents, must have been completed within five years prior to the semester of admission to be eligible for transfer credit into the Nursing Program.

Changes to Rural Nursing Certificate Program - Transfer Credit

Payne

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the changes to the Transfer Credit section under the Rural Nursing Certificate Program on page 174 of the 2015/2016 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2016

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

The Certificate requires successful completion of 30 credit hours. Admission occurs in September and January.

~~A maximum of 15 credit hours from other recognized institutions may be transferred into the Certificate and the BScN completion option.~~

The Certificate is designed to be completed on a part-time basis through distance education. Students can complete their BScN through the attainment of 15 additional credit hours of prescribed courses.

This Certificate does not replace the UNBC Post-Diploma BScN program as it offers a focus in one specialized area only. Other focus areas provided through the UNBC Post-Diploma BScN, notably community health, community continuing care, First Nations health and nursing, and nursing management are not included in the Certificate program.

Nursing Program policies for Registered Nurse students pursuing a degree apply to Certificate students.

Transfer Credit

A maximum of 15 credit hours from other recognized institutions may be transferred into the Certificate and the BScN Completion. Nursing courses must have been completed within five years prior to the semester of admission to be eligible for transfer credit into the nursing program.

Students who have completed a Registered Nurse Diploma at a recognized post-secondary institution may be eligible to receive up to 60 credit hours towards the BScN Completion.

New Academic Program Proposal for Civil Engineering Degree and Modification of the Environmental Engineering Degree

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new degree program in Civil and the modification of the Environmental Engineering Degree be approved as proposed.

Proposed Start Date: September, 2017

CARRIED.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

General Calendar Description:

ENGINEERING (BASc Program)

Engineers serve society across a wide range of economic sectors in a number of capacities. Highly skilled engineers require a solid technical and academic background, good communication skills, and the ability to work across a number of disciplines. Engineers deal with problems ranging from mine and dam construction to transit systems to air, water, and soil pollution control.

The Engineering program at UNBC has two degree programs – Civil and Environmental Engineering – and prepares graduates for a wide range of employment opportunities where their technical expertise and problem-solving skills are required. The program provides graduates with a strong awareness and understanding of environmental issues and problems. Our graduates are prepared for employment in the resource industries (e.g. forestry, fisheries, mining, oil and gas, pulp and paper, and the agri-food industry), various government ministries, research organizations, and with engineering firms of all sizes. Our graduates help shape the new environmental economy.

The Engineering Bachelor of Applied Science program is designed around a mandatory Co-operative education component. Students gain valuable and practical skills through four paid Co-op work terms while being gainfully employed. The degree program is also designed to minimize the semester hours during the nine academic semesters to ensure students gain the necessary knowledge in a timely fashion. By incorporating Co-op into the degree program, our graduates finish their degree in five years with over a year and a half of relevant work experience on their resume to ensure a high probability of successful employment.

Both the Civil and Environmental Engineering degrees start with a common first year in which the basic sciences and mathematics are emphasized along with an introduction to the Engineering discipline. In year two, a number of courses are common to both engineering streams but students will also need to differentiate between the Civil and Environmental Engineering degrees. In the remaining years, some of the courses are common to both programs while each degree stream develops the in-depth knowledge to allow students to qualify within their discipline upon graduation. The final year exposes students to practical engineering problems.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the program is limited and is based on academic qualifications and available space. Priority admission is given to students who meet the admission criteria and apply by the deadline of March 1.

Applicants from BC and Yukon secondary schools must:

- Meet UNBC admission requirements, and
- Have an average of at least 75% based on the following four courses: Principles of Math 12 or Pre-calculus 12, English 12 and two provincially examinable Science 12 courses. In addition, applicants must have successfully completed Chemistry 11 in order to meet course prerequisites in the Program. Physics 12 or an equivalent is strongly recommended, as it is a prerequisite for first-year Physics courses in the program. Students who are admitted without the Physics 12 prerequisite may be delayed in their studies as they may not be able to complete the first four semesters of the program in the normal two year time period. Meeting the minimum GPA does not guarantee admission. Under exceptional circumstances the prerequisites may be waived.

Other applicants must demonstrate that they possess qualifications at least equivalent to the BC and Yukon requirement.

Standards of Professional Conduct

In addition to fulfilling all University and Program regulations and expectations, all students are expected to abide by professional standards as set forth by the Association of Professional Engineers and Geoscientists of British Columbia. Violation of professional standards may result in suspension or dismissal from the program and/ or the University.

Academic Performance

Students must adhere to the policies and regulations as specified in the UNBC calendar. This requirement includes, but is not limited to, matters related to academic offenses and progression through the program. Progression is covered by the guidelines on academic standing and continuance. Offenses are governed by the relevant regulations in the appropriate calendar.

Students must obtain the minimum passing grade for all courses. Failure to do so may result in suspension or removal from the program. Note that the courses ENGR 217, ENGR 400, ENGR 401, MATH 200, and MATH 230 must be completed at UNBC.

Qualification for Degree

It is the responsibility of the student to ensure that his/ her degree requirements are met.

General graduation requirements are found in the Regulations and Policy section of the UNBC Calendar. To fulfill the requirements of graduation, the student must also:

- maintain a minimum Cumulative GPA of 2.00 (C) on courses for credit towards an Engineering degree.
- obtain a minimum passing grade of 1.67 (C-) in each of ENGR 217, ENGR 400, ENGR 401, MATH 200, and MATH 230; and
- complete all requirements for the B.A.Sc. program within eight years of admission into the program or from the first Engineering course used for credit towards the degree.

Letter of Permission

Once admitted to Engineering at UNBC, students who want to take course work at another institution for credit must obtain a Letter of Permission prior to registration in the course. Students who complete courses without first having obtained a Letter of Permission risk not having those courses accepted for transfer credit. A student who has committed an academic offence or is on academic probation may be denied a Letter of Permission for subsequent course work. Students should consult the Engineering Academic Advisor before considering course work for transfer credit. (Refer to Academic Regulation 19).

Graduation

It is the responsibility of the student to ensure that his/ her degree requirements are met. Students must have a Cumulative GPA of at least 2.00 (C) over all courses to graduate.

Transfers

Transfers into the program are allowed provided that the prerequisite courses or articulated courses are completed, and space is available in the program. Acceptance of transfers into the program will be based upon GPA, with priority given to those with the highest GPA. The admission GPA for transfer students into the Environmental Engineering program will be assessed on the following four courses or their university transferrable equivalents: Principles of Math 12 or Pre-calculus 12, English 12, and two provincially examinable Science 12 courses. In order to be considered for admission into the program transfer students must have at least a 75% average based on these four courses or their equivalents. Where both high school and university transfer coursework are provided for each of these four courses, the most recent GPA for each course will be used. Transfer students must also have an overall Cumulative transfer GPA of 2.00, which is based on all their university transferrable coursework. Regardless of the articulated courses transferred, students must satisfy the residency requirement of a minimum of 90 credit hours. In addition, students within the program must complete ENGR 217, ENGR 400, ENGR 401, MATH 200, and MATH 230 at UNBC.

Co-operative Education

Engineering at UNBC requires students to successfully complete four one semester long Co-operative Education work terms. These work terms are interspersed within the degree program and occur in semesters 6, 8, 10, and 12. Each work experience will meet the following criteria:

- each work situation is developed and/or approved by the co-operative educational institution as a suitable learning situation;
- the co-operative student is engaged in productive work rather than merely observing;
- the co-operative student receives remuneration for the work performed;
- the co-operative student's progress on the job is monitored by UNBC Engineering;
- the co-operative student's performance on the job is supervised and evaluated by the student's co-operative employer;
- the time spent in periods of work experience must be at least 30 per cent of the time spent in academic study

The overall timetable for semesters is as follows:

Year	Fall	Winter	Summer
1st year	Academic Semester 1	Academic Semester 2	(semester 3)
2nd year	Academic Semester 4	Academic Semester 5	Co-op Work Term I
3rd year	Academic Semester 7	Co-op Work Term II	Academic Semester 9
	Co-op Work Term III	Academic Semester 11	Co-op Work Term IV
4th year	Academic Semester 13	Academic Semester 14

Engineering at UNBC is a mandatory Co-operative Education program and successful work terms are required for degree completion. For further information, contact the Co-operative Education Advisor.

Note: Co-operative education terms are completed in Semesters 6, 8, 10, and 12. Only under extraordinary circumstances will a student be allowed to deviate from this pattern.

CIVIL ENGINEERING DEGREE PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

UNBC offers a rigorous Civil Engineering education augmented by business skills training and opportunities for specialized instruction in timber structures, renewable energy technology, cold climate, and geotechnical engineering. Today's civil engineer not only designs the infrastructure essential to modern society (buildings, bridges, highways, transit systems, water and waste treatment facilities, foundations, tunnels, dams, etcetera) but also analyzes the effects of deterioration on infrastructure elements while considering system interdependencies and the evaluation of life-cycle impacts. Civil engineers must consider environmental impact and economic sustainability in the development of modern infrastructure.

UNBC offers an integrated systems approach to Civil Engineering which is in keeping with the themes of design, life-cycle assessment, systems engineering, sustainable materials, renewable energy, and low-impact development throughout.

The minimum requirement for completion of a Bachelor of Applied Science degree with a major in Civil Engineering is 156 credit hours. Students are also required to successfully complete 12 credit hours of Co-operative Education.

Technical Electives

Technical electives are chosen, as appropriate to the student's discipline, from the technical electives list.

- ENSC 302-3 Low Carbon Energy Development
- ENSC 404-3 Waste Management
- ENSC 406-3 Environmental Modelling
- ENSC 408-3 Storms
- ENSC 425-3 Climate Change and Global Warming
- ENSC 450-3 Environmental and Geophysical Data Analysis
- ENSC 452-3 Reclamation and Remediation of Disturbed
_____ Environments
- ENSC 453-3 Environmental Resources Management and _____ Decision Making
- ENSC 460-3 Soil Chemical Processes and the Environment
- NREM 410-3 Watershed Management

Students may also choose appropriate courses from other engineering disciplines as technical electives. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that they have the prerequisites for the technical electives they wish to take.

ENVIRONMENTAL ENGINEERING DEGREE PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Environmental and ecological problems are increasingly of concern to all Canadians but particularly in the resource rich northern portion of British Columbia. The concerns are especially acute due to a primarily resource-based economy which depends on forestry, mining, oil and gas, and fisheries. Further, the northern economy generates a significant portion of British Columbia's primary wealth and feeds the provincial economic growth. UNBC offers an Environmental Engineering degree which integrates basic science with modern Engineering practices. Our graduates are prepared to take on the challenges facing modern society, from problems in water, air, and soil pollution control to mine waste disposal to solid waste management and mine remediation. Modern issues require highly skilled engineers with a solid background in environmental engineering, strong communication skills, and the ability to work across disciplinary boundaries. This program prepares graduates for a wide range of employment opportunities where the technical expertise and problem-solving skills of engineers are needed in conjunction with a strong awareness and understanding of environmental issues and problems.

Our graduates work in the new environmental economy – in areas related to environmental reclamation, remediation, and restoration.

The minimum requirement for completion of a Bachelor of Applied Science degree with a major in Environmental Engineering is 154 credit hours. Students are also required to successfully complete 12 credit hours of Co-operative Education.

S-201604.07

Change to Course Description - NURS 458-6

Smith

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change to the course description for NURS 458-6 Remote Nursing Certified Practice on page 276 of the 2015/2016 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2016

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

NURS 458-6 Remote Nursing Certified Practice This course focuses on Remote Nursing Certified Practice competencies. Key content areas include history and physical assessment, advanced clinical reasoning, informed judgment and pharmacotherapeutics for the management of specified common and predictable health conditions. Dispensary management and medication dispensing functions are also included. Content and course evaluation are based on a body-systems approach and incorporate the CRNBC Decision Support Tools for Remote Nursing Certified Practice. A mandatory extended workshop focusing on nursing practice in remote communities is included. Upon successful completion students may apply for ~~CRNBC~~ Remote Nursing Practice Certification through CRNBC.

Major Restriction: Restricted to the Rural Nursing Certificate Program or Post-Diploma BScN students only, ~~or~~ and by permission of the Chair, School of Nursing

S-201604.08

Change to Preclusion - NURS 422-(6, 8)

Smith

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change to the preclusion for NURS 422-(6, 8) First Nations Health and Nursing on page 274 of the 2015/2016 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2016

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

NURS 422-(6, 8) First Nations Health and Nursing This course provides the opportunity for students to increase their understanding of the theories, roles and practices required by nurses in First Nations communities. Included are the theoretical and practical exploration of the impact of colonization on health, effects of rapid cultural changes, nursing management of specific health issues, culturally sensitive approaches to nursing care, the health transfer process, and special topics related to health. During an extended clinical practicum, students integrate theoretical understandings and evidence in contributing to services and programs in First Nations communities, or in agencies that primarily serve First Nations clients. The NCBNP requires the 8 credit hour course, and Post-Diploma BScN students complete the 6 credit hour course.

Prerequisites: NURS 418-7, or permission of the Chair, School of Nursing for 8 credit hour course

Major Restriction: Post-Diploma BScN students, or permission of the Chair, School of Nursing for 6 credit hour course

Precluded: NURS 441-(3, 5, 8), NURS 457-3

S-201604.09

Change to Preclusion - NURS 453-3

Smith

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change to the preclusion for NURS 453-3 Nursing Practice with Older Persons on page 275 of the 2015/2016 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2016

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

NURS 453-3 Nursing Practice with Older Persons This course focuses on health-promoting, person-centred practice for nurses working with older persons in rural communities. Assessment focuses on the physical and mental health of older persons within the context of their everyday experience and their families and/or cultures. Particular attention is paid to the strengths of the individual as well as the presenting health challenges. Nurses explore strategies to prevent and/or address common health issues experienced by older persons.

Major Restriction: Rural Nursing Certificate Program or Post-Diploma BScN students, or permission of the Chair, School of Nursing

Precluded: ~~NURS 313-3, NURS 316-2.5, NURS 323-5.5, NURS 653-3~~

S-201604.10

Change to Preclusion - NURS 456-3

Smith

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change to the preclusion for NURS 456-3 Mental Health and Addictions on page 275 of the 2015/2016 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2016

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

NURS 456-3 Mental Health and Addictions This course provides knowledge and skills required to care for people living with common mental health and addiction issues encountered in rural nursing practice. A holistic relational nursing focus allows students to apply concepts to a variety of health challenges and to intervene appropriately. Nursing approaches to clinical decision-making with clients who have specific mental health problems such as psychotic, mood, anxiety and personality disorders are highlighted. Nursing practice approaches to addictions, substance use, and crisis intervention, including aggression and suicide attempts, are addressed.

Major Restriction: Rural Nursing Certificate Program or Post-Diploma BScN students, or permission of the Chair, School of Nursing

Precluded: ~~NURS 312-3, NURS 315-2.5, NURS 326-5.5, NURS 656-3~~

S-201604.11

Changes to Preclusion - NURS 457-3

Smith

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the preclusion for NURS 457-3 Living and Working in a Rural Community on page 276 of the 2015/2016 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2016

CARRIED (consent agenda).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

NURS 457-3 Living and Working in a Rural Community This course enables students to gain an understanding and appreciation of the unique challenges facing nurses who live and work in rural communities. Confidentiality, anonymity, cultural safety, interprofessional relationships, population health, and maintaining competence are addressed. Students gain greater knowledge and sensitivity in the provision of ethical and effective health care for First Nations populations.

Renewal of the Agreement of Cooperation between the University of Northern British Columbia and the University of Applied Sciences and Arts, Switzerland

Smith

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the motion to approve the renewal of the Agreement of Cooperation between the University of Northern British Columbia and the University of Applied Sciences and Arts, Switzerland be approved as proposed.

Effective Date: Upon approval of the Senate
CARRIED (consent agenda).

“For Approval” Items:

S-201604.20

Revision to SCAAF Membership

Blanding

That, on the on the recommendation of the Steering Committee of Senate, the Director of the Centre for Teaching, Learning and Technology be added as a voting member of SCAAF as proposed.

Effective Date: May 2016

Amendment

That the Centre for Teaching and Learning be changed to the Centre for Teaching, Learning and Technology.

DEFEATED.

There was an assertion that there is a more generic problem with Senate committees and suggestion that the composition of the committees needs to be reviewed as some of the committees have a lot of administrative representation but little student representation. There was also a discussion on where the Centre for Teaching, Learning and Technology fits within the institution.

Schedule of UNBC Senate Meetings

Erasmus

That, on the recommendation of the Steering Committee of Senate, Section 3 (w)(i) of the Senate Handbook be amended as proposed.

Effective Date: April 27, 2016

DEFEATED.

There was a discussion about the current Senate schedule. The Office of the University Secretariat will follow up with further research from other BC research universities to compare tasks carried out during their Senate meetings, scheduling, distribution of decisions to, and the e autonomy of, their Senate committees.

“For Information” Item:

Senate Handbook – Electronic Meetings and Yes/No/Hold Votes

Page 12 from the Senate Handbook was included for information.

There was some confusion during a recent electronic meeting regarding the impact of a single Hold Vote. In order for a vote to be held for a face-to-face meeting, there needs to be a sufficient number of hold votes to postpone the motion for a face-to-face meeting.

President’s Report

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks attended alumni events in Toronto and Prince George and he has been elected to the Prince George Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Weeks and the Provost have been visiting various University departments and he and his wife continue to host people from departments/units at his home for social gatherings.

The engineering curriculum recently passed by Senate is now being prepared for consideration by the Board and for presentation to the Ministry’s Degree Quality Assurance Board.

Enrollment numbers look good for the fall. From May 10th -12th and May 17th – 19th the President and other senior administrators and leaders made calls to UNBC applicants and it is estimated that 36 students were converted from “admitted” to “registered” as a result of this initiative.

The Chancellor’s father passed away on May 23, 2016. His father was planning to be at UNBC for Convocation on May 27, 2016.

Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

The Registrar search committee met for the first time on May 25, 2016 and began working on the search process. Boyden is assisting in the search for a Registrar and it is anticipated that interviews may take place in August.

Action Item: The list of members on the Registrar’s Search Committee will be circulated to Senators.

Dr. Ryan thanked the Registrar’s Office for their work, on registrations, convocation planning and in putting together the lists of graduates.

Student registration numbers are up. Planning for the next recruitment cycle for 2017/2018 has begun with the new cycle beginning in mid to late August. An RFP has gone out to find a company to help the University with marketing strategies. Proposals for the RFP will be reviewed in the next couple of weeks.

Report of the Registrar

Ms. Fligel

The Registrar’s Office has been working on convocation. 740 students are graduating this year. There are about 400 undergraduates registered for the September semester, which is up about 129 students from May 15, 2015. There were 850 new undergraduate students registered for September last year.

Question Period

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks thanked Senator Sanborn who sent a question in prior to the meeting, and he stated it was an encouraging trend which will hopefully continue in the future. The question was not directly related to Senate business; however it is an important issue that is being addressed and is part of a longer term issue for facilities and a number of other units.

A Senator asked the Provost how he is going to ensure the findings of the Provost Committee on Pedagogical Practices (PCPP) be communicated to the Academic Planning Groups. The draft will be shared with the Provost and SCAAF. It will also be made public. The Provost will make it available on his website and it will go on the SharePoint site. Any documents that the Academic Planning groups may need that are not already on the SharePoint site will be made available. A Senator recommended that if there are members of the PCPP who are not on specific Academic Planning Groups that they be invited to give presentations to each of the groups.

A Senator stated efforts that have been made by the Registrar and senior administration to boost student enrolment are great, but the Board of Governors passed a stand-pat budget on May 20, 2016. There are a lot of courses where the number of students will put a strain on departments as further sections will be necessary. Is there a plan come September, to assist in opening up further course and lab sections? Dr. Weeks said those conversations should already be happening between the departments and the Deans, and the Deans and the Provost. It is the responsibility of the Deans to ensure there are the necessary resources in place. Dr. Ryan said they will have to see what the actual enrolments once closer to the September semester.

A Senator asked if the University's relationship with Chartwells could be reconsidered given the findings in the food security report. Dr. Weeks indicated that Senate may not be the right forum to bring this up, and there may be a proper forum where these questions can be raised, but he would have to get back to the Senator regarding this. He meets regularly with the leadership of the NBCGSS and NUGSS and the topic of food security is discussed.

A Senator raised the issue again of the Chancellor selection process and indicated that he still felt there were unanswered questions about the process followed. The President and the University Secretary reiterated that the Chancellor was appointed in accordance with the University Act, and the Secretary read an email from the Alumni Association President and Vice-President expressing their understanding of the "open call" for nominations.

9.4 Senate Committee on Nominations

Dr. Casperson

Dr. Casperson asked to suspend the rules of Senate and modify the voting process slightly. Senate usually votes by majority, but Dr. Casperson requested that if there is a clear last place on any particular ballot, where no one candidate has a majority, that the last place candidate be dropped. Also if there are three ballots in a row in one election, and there is still no majority, that the voting stops.

Motion

Dale

That the rules of Senate be suspended and the voting process be modified so if there is a clear last place on any particular election that does not have a majority, that the last place candidate be dropped. Also if there are three elections in a row for a majority and there is still no majority, that the voting stops.

CARRIED.

Dr. Kevin Keen

The NUGSS Academic Representative was recognized from the gallery, and asked how much clout and weight the Academic Planning Action Planning Groups will have, and how much time and work will be involved. Part of the attraction for dedicated individuals would be knowing if the recommendations and work would be carried out.

Dr. Weeks indicated that he recently spoke to the NUGSS President regarding this question. The action planning groups are incredibly important for the future of the University. He reported that he had asked the NUGSS President to tell him if students felt they could not move forward in the way Senate had envisioned. He could bring this back to Senate, and Senate could look for acceptable alternatives. Brief further discussion on point occurred.

Jensen

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the changes to the Common Requirements for all Business Students on page 68 in the PDF calendar accessible on the UNBC web page of the 2015/2016 undergraduate calendar be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2017

Amendment

Whitcombe

That the Effective Date on page 28 of the meeting package be changed from September 2016 to September 2017.

CARRIED as amended.

There was a discussion about a broader plan for other Programs to implement FSNT 100-3 or a similar course. Some programs like Nursing and Social Work already have First Nations content. It was suggested this could be a good opportunity to bring SCFNAP, SCAAF, and Senate to meet to discuss the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's findings and how to integrate recommendations from the Commission's Report into planning and curricula. Senate decided to discuss this further under Other Business.

4.0 President's Report

No report.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan welcomed Ms. McKenzie as the new Interim Registrar and thanked Ms. Flagel for her work as the Acting Registrar.

The Registrar Search Committee has met and is preparing an executive brief to present to potential candidates. Search consultants (Boyden) will provide the Committee with a candidate list in late August/early September, and a shortlist of candidates should be ready by the end of September/early October. Interviewing will begin shortly after that. The goal is to have a Registrar in place by January 1, 2017. Dr. Ryan asked that suggestions for candidates be put forward to Boyden. A list of the members of the Registrar Search Committee had been circulated to the members of Senate.

According to the enrolment audit, UNBC was at 73% of its ministry enrolment target for the 2015/2016 calendar year. It is critical to look at enrolment moving forward as a significant portion of the tuition funding is not being realized. That translates into the University budget. There will be a Town Hall to go over the relationship between the enrolment numbers and the budget in the fall.

Registrations were up over the same time last year and up over the last three year average. Residence applications were up as well.

Dr. Owen's portfolio has been re-focused and his title changed to Vice Provost of Student Recruitment. A recruitment task force will be struck with a mandate to review and refine targets for achieving the University's overall target of 3455 FTEs within an identified timeline. Members will include: Registrar, Director of International Education, Associate Registrar, the Deans, and marketing and IT representatives. The task force will review what UNBC does well and what can be improved. Dr. Owen and Mr. Wood reviewed the RFPs for marketing companies and have sent out an offer. Marketing materials will need to be ready for early to mid-August for the new recruitment cycle. The focus for the marketing company will be "getting UNBC's story out".

Work has been done on a flow chart for academic appeals addressing some of the concerns raised in Senate. It will be given to the Senate ad hoc committee tasked with reviewing motion S-201603.16 regarding the academic appeals process.

Mr. Tim Tribe will begin as the Vice President Advancement and Communications on July 11, 2016.

Dr. Ryan and Dr. Weeks will continue visits and meetings with departments and units into the fall.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Ms. McKenzie

No report.

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Keen

A Senator asked when the duties of the position for the Director of the Success Centre will be finalized and when the hiring process will begin.

Dr. Owen indicated the posting should be up within the week. It will be a Coordinator position, not a Director. The position will report to the Assistant Director Student Affairs. If the position is not filled quickly, an acting coordinator should be appointed.

A Senator asked Ms. McKenzie if she was aware that the Registrar was to appoint someone to the ad hoc committee reviewing the academic appeals process.

Ms. McKenzie replied she was, and needed some time to consider who to appoint.

A Senator asked if the Vice Presidential searches will be postponed until there is a new Registrar.

Dr. Ryan indicated that he understands the VP searches will begin in the fall.

A Senator asked whether there would be an impact on the Academic Planning Enrolment Initiatives Collaborative Team due to the refocusing of Vice Provost's portfolio and the task force.

Dr. Ryan said the change should not have an impact on the Collaborative Team as the teams are meeting with various groups to gather information.

The Bachelor of Health Sciences degree is a four-year program consisting of a range of courses that relate directly to the science of health, in the recognition that health is a complex entity defying a simple explanation or a single disciplinary perspective. The courses identified within the School of Health Sciences offer learning opportunities from a variety of disciplines, including the life sciences, social sciences, behavioural sciences, and ethics and law, to enable students to develop a body of knowledge and understanding relating to the dimensions of health. Some of these courses are considered to be 'core' and therefore central to the basic understandings of health, while others offer the student opportunities to learn about a specific health perspective that is focused on one of three Majors:

- i. Biomedical Studies
  - ii. Community and Population Health-Aboriginal and Rural Health
  - iii. Community and Population Health-Environmental Health
- Graduation from either of the Community and Population Health Majors enables students to embark on careers or graduate programs related to health care management, administration, information systems or public health.

Students pursuing the Biomedical Studies Major are required to complete a set of courses that enables them to be prepared for application to professional programs, such as medicine, nursing, pharmacy, occupational therapy, dentistry, speech pathology or physiotherapy. This major provides a foundational, multidisciplinary knowledge base that is focused on the natural and physical sciences, and social sciences, and includes population health and research methodology. Students interested in other fields requiring extensive biomedical laboratory skills may enroll degree in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology (BCMB).

Admission Requirement

Admission to the Bachelor of Health Sciences program is based on academic qualifications and available space. At the time of application, students must specify whether they intend to pursue either the Biomedical Studies Major or one of the two Community and Population Health Majors. Priority admission is given to students who meet admission criteria and apply by the deadline of ~~March 4~~. February 1

Motion

Dale

That the rules of Senate be suspended and the voting process be modified, should there be nominations from the floor, so if there is a clear last place on any particular election that does not have a majority, that the last place candidate be dropped. Also if there are three elections in a row for a majority and there is still no majority, that the voting stops.

SCS201608.06

Discussion on the Integration of First Nations Content into Degree Programs

That discussion on the inclusion of First Nations content in degree programs be referred to the Senate Committee on First Nations and Aboriginal Peoples (SCFNAP). In addition to committee level discussions, SCFNAP will engage in discussions with: the College of Science and Management; the College of Arts, Social and Health Sciences; and the Office of Graduate Programs. SCFNAP will provide a report and put forth a recommendation regarding the inclusion of First Nations content in UNBC's degree programs at the November 23, 2016 Senate Meeting.
Effective Date: August 18, 2016

Approval of Senate Minutes

Blanding

That the minutes of the June 22, 2016 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.
CARRIED

5.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks attended UNBC's regional convocations at the end of May and beginning of June.

In June, Dr. Weeks attended 17 off campus meetings, including meetings regarding fundraising, potential donations, and potential international partnerships.

In July, Senior Administrators from UNBC and Royal Roads University met to discuss opportunities for their institutions to collaborate.

In August, Dr. Weeks traveled to China with the Director of International Education and they met with several potential partners to look at pathways to UNBC.

6.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan reported that the Registrar Search Committee will meet on August 26, 2016 to review candidates put forward by the search company, and interviews will begin at the end of September or beginning of October.

Enrollment numbers were up compared to the same time last year. FTEs were up as well.

For the first time, UNBC posted a small deficit. A new budget process is being developed for the next budget cycle and will be brought forward to the Senate Committee on the University Budget, the Board of Governors, a Town Hall, and Senate in September.

The Provost and the President continue to meet with various units within the University.

Dr. Ryan congratulated Dr. Henry Harder on his appointment to, The Governing Council of the Canadian Institutes of Health Research - Institutes Advisory Boards on Indigenous Peoples' Health.

Dr. Ryan congratulated Dr. Oscar Venter on the recognition his research on the global impact of human activity recently received in National Geographic.

7.0 Report of the Registrar

Ms. McKenzie

Report attached to these minutes as Appendix I.

Dr. Ryan added that the University Residences are currently at 99% occupancy for the September.

8.0 Other Business

8.1 Letter from NUGSS and NBCGSS – Academic Planning Action Planning Groups

Dr. Weeks

A letter from NUGSS and NBCGSS regarding student representation on the Academic Planning Action Planning Groups was included for information, and was discussed

The President of the Northern Undergraduate Student Society, Ms. Arctica Cunningham, and the President of the Northern British Columbia Graduate Student Society, Ms. Trina Johnson, were present and responded to questions. Dr. Weeks asked Dr. Heather Smith to look into alternative (more effective and efficient) methods of receiving student input on Academic Planning. Dr. Weeks will report back to Senate and NUGSS and NBCGSS on this issue.

Motion

Casperson

In accordance with Senate regulation 3(w) iii, that the Senate session extend beyond 5:30 p.m.

CARRIED

The following motion was put forth:

Motion

Whitcombe

Be it resolved that Senate encourages the Academic Planning Action Planning Groups to endeavor to complete their work by February 1, 2017.

Senate further encourages the Academic Planning Action Planning Group Chairs to make all best efforts to ensure that the time required by student representatives on the Academic Planning Action Planning Groups does not exceed five hours in any given week, and;

Senate directs the Secretary of Senate to prepare a letter of recognition, acceptable to Senate, for students who serve on the Academic Planning Action Planning Groups.

Changes to Program Requirements - Minor in Atmospheric Science

Smith

That, on the recommendation on the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the changes to the Minor in Atmospheric Science, on page 116 of the 2015/2016 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2016

CARRIED

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Minor in Atmospheric Science

The minor in Atmospheric Science provides students with an opportunity to focus on atmospheric processes.

Atmospheric Science, or meteorology, is the study of Earth's atmosphere, weather and climate. The minor in Atmospheric Science provides students with an opportunity to focus on atmospheric processes that occur near Earth's surface. Emphasis is given to physical and chemical processes that govern the development of weather systems on timescales of days and that regulate Earth's climate on timescales of decades.

Students are required to take ~~32~~ 35 credit hours. Of these, ~~14~~ 17 credit hours are foundational courses in Chemistry, ~~Geography~~, Mathematics, and Physics; 12 credit hours are required atmospheric science courses; and 6 credit hours are selected from a list of suggested elective courses. In addition to the ~~14~~ 17 credit hours of foundational courses at the 100 level, an additional 6 credit hours of ~~upper-division~~ courses can also be used to meet the requirements of a major or another minor.

NOTE: Some upper-division courses ~~are may be~~ taught in alternate years; students should consider this when planning their course schedules.

Required Courses

CHEM 100-3	General Chemistry I
CHEM 120-1	General Chemistry Laboratory I
ENSC 201-3	Weather and Climate
ENSC 312-3	Biometeorology
ENSC 408-3	Storms

MATH 100-3	Calculus I
MATH 101-3	Calculus II
PHYS 100-4	Introduction to Physics I
or PHYS 110-4	Introductory Physics I: Mechanics
(PHYS 110-4 is strongly recommended.)

Elective Courses*

Six credit hours from the following list:

ENSC 412-3	Air Pollution
ENSC 450-3	Environmental and Geophysical Data Analysis
ENSC 454-3	Snow and Ice
GEOG 310-3	Hydrology
or NREM 410-3	Watershed Management

*Students must ensure that all prerequisites are fulfilled prior to registering in any course.

Biochemistry and Molecular Biology (BCMB) investigates how molecules work in living systems. There is no clear line dividing living from non-living systems; rather, there is a gradual increase in complexity from clearly inanimate molecules up to obviously complex organisms. The goal of biochemistry and molecular biology is to understand how simple, inanimate molecular interactions support life and how living systems are shaped by their molecular foundation.

The BCMB degree has two main components: learning about molecules, and learning about the scientific method. The former involves acquiring expertise in the foundations of biochemistry, such as organic and physical chemistry, and then exploring biological molecules and how they operate in living systems. The latter involves exploring how science asks questions to understand the workings of nature, while developing competence in laboratory skills and analysis. These two aspects are linked in that understanding how information is acquired is as important as the information itself, since different experimental systems can yield different insights into complex biological problems.

BCMB majors continue on to successful careers in a diverse range of fields, notably medicine, teaching, pharmacy, the biotechnology industry, science policy, and law. BCMB majors acquire strong skills in laboratory techniques, and are therefore qualified for many kinds of research positions, including graduate programs such as immunology, molecular genetics, and developmental biology. For students with interests in human health but not necessarily its molecular basis, UNBC also offers a degree in Health Science (the BHSc degree), which focuses on the social determinants of health and how health care is delivered. BCMB majors are encouraged to pursue their interests by combining the BCMB degree with minors in other fields, such as computer science, physics, business, or education.

Major in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology

The major in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology requires students to take at least 74 credit hours of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology-oriented courses, of which 33 credit hours must be upper division (i.e., 300 or 400 level). The minimum requirement for completion of a Bachelor of Science with a major in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology is 127_credit hours.

BSc Honours-Environmental Science

The BSc Honours-Environmental Science provides a higher level of specialization and research experience, especially for students planning to proceed to postgraduate work.

Honours students are required to complete the degree requirements for the BSc Environmental Science Major, with the exception that Honours students must complete an undergraduate thesis chosen from ENSC 430-6 (Undergraduate Thesis), or NRES 430-6 (Undergraduate Thesis) in place of the requirement for ENSC 440-3 (Internship) or ENSC 499-3 (Independent Study). ENSC 440-3 or ENSC 499-3 may be taken by Honours students, but they are not required for the Honours degree.

The undergraduate thesis must be conducted under the supervision of a faculty member.

The minimum requirement for a BSc Honours degree is 129 ~~127~~ credit hours. Students are responsible to find their own undergraduate thesis research supervisor. Faculty members are under no obligation to supervise Honours students.

To be admitted to the Honours degree program, students must have completed 60 credit hours and obtained a minimum Cumulative GPA of 3.33. Attaining the minimum requirement will not guarantee admission into the Honours program, which will be at the discretion of the Environmental Science Program. Maintenance of a Cumulative GPA of 3.33 is required to remain in the Honours program.

Major in Environmental Science

The Environmental Science Bachelor of Science degree is an interdisciplinary degree in which students take a core curriculum along with an area of specialization. The core curriculum is designed to provide students with knowledge of the fundamental biological, chemical, physical and applied aspects integral to the field of environmental science. In addition, students receive exposure to many of the human dimensions that underlie environmental issues. This approach ensures a uniform preparation among students and allows for the development of a diversity of expertise necessary to address the complexity of present environmental problems and future unanticipated ones.

The degree has been designed in part to address educational components of the National Occupational Standards (NOS) for Environmental Employment set out by Environmental Careers Organization (ECO Canada). The NOS forms the basis of the Canadian Certified Environmental Practitioner (CCEP) accreditation process of the Canadian Environmental Certification Approvals Board (CECAB).

Undergraduate students are required to take a total of ~~93~~ 97 credit hours of program core requirements in addition to an Area of Specialization as indicated below. The Area of Specialization allows students to develop expertise within an area of their interest. The major requires elective credit hours as necessary to ensure completion of a minimum of ~~126~~ 124 credit hours, including any additional credit hours necessary to meet the Academic Breadth requirement of the University (see Undergraduate Academic Regulation 15). Students needing to improve their communication skills should take ENGL 170-3 Writing and Communication Skills or NRES 100-3 Communication in NRES as an elective. Note that ENGL 170-3 also fulfills the Academic Breadth requirement for Arts and Humanities. ~~while courses from the remaining three quadrants are required in the Major.~~ Other areas of Academic Breadth are covered in the major.

Area of Specialization Requirement for BSc (Major) in Environmental Science

Environmental Science majors are required to complete an ~~a~~sArea of specialization satisfying the requirements of any available minor at UNBC as part of their degree. A minor allows students to specialize in a subject area relevant to the advancement, utilization and dissemination of environmental knowledge. Some minors may result in students taking more than the required ~~126~~124 credit hours in order to obtain the Environmental Science Major. Many minors allow 100-level prerequisite courses and an additional 6 credit hours of other courses to be used for meeting the requirements of both the major and minor. ~~Check~~ Consult the current ~~UNBC~~UNBC ~~u~~Undergraduate ~~e~~Calendar for the requirements of minors available at UNBC.

Minor in Soils and the Environment

Processes and their dynamics at the interface between the biosphere, atmosphere, hydrosphere and lithosphere are critical to the regulation of environmental quality from the micro-scale of millimetres to macro-scale climatic conditions. The minor in Soils and the Environment provides students with an opportunity to focus on the Earth's "Critical Zone," the thin outer layer which supports terrestrial life on the planet. The emphasis is on key biological, chemical and physical processes active in soils, and how they influence environmental conditions.

Students are required to take 34 credit hours. Of these, 16 credit hours are prerequisites to FSTY 205 and ENSC 435, 15 credit hours are required soils courses, and 3 credit hours are selected from a list of suggested elective courses. In addition to the 16 credit hours of prerequisite courses at the 100 level, an additional 6 credit hours can also be used to meet the requirements of a major or another minor.

5.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks spoke about the dedication ceremony on September 28th to mark the renaming of the Administration Building to Charles J McCaffray Hall.

As a follow-up to Senate's conversation about student participation on Academic Planning Action Planning Groups, the leadership of the student societies presented a document to Dr. Weeks and other senior administrators with ideas and options. Once he has had an opportunity for further discussion with the student leaders on their ideas, and additional options presented by senior administrators, he will bring specific options to Senate. Heather Smith has been working on options for an experiential learning "for credit" course, and the Provost spoke to Dr. Summerville, who volunteered to help pull some of the information together to see how a "for credit" course could be implemented.

The Lheidli signage, flag, and MOU ceremony will begin at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, September 30th at the main entrance to UNBC. Additional signage at the Prince George campus and throughout the regional campuses will be updated to include the local First Nations' dialects over time.

UNBC is reviewing a partnership agreement with the national Truth and Reconciliation Centre (housed at the University of Manitoba). He and Dr. Robinson will be reaching out to the research community and Senate to ensure there is a solid commitment and interest in this collaboration.

The Town Halls on Integrated Planning have begun and more are planned.

The Board approved the Civil and Environmental Engineering proposals. UNBC is in the process of putting the applications together for DQAB and is lobbying government to fund the programs.

Dr. Weeks received the final report completed by the President's Task Force on Sexual Violence. A steering committee will be formed to oversee the implementation of some of the recommendations. The Vice Presidents have been tasked to own this initiative and be responsible for implementing the recommendations. The steering committee will be tasked with finding opportunities to reach out to the UNBC community for input.

Dr. Weeks, the Vice President of Research, Dr. Thomas Tannert, and Mr. David Claus will be going to Columbia to present to the Inter-American Organization for Higher Education. Dr. Weeks is the Canadian member of that board and the President designate. At the organization's last meeting in Victoria, Dr. Weeks made a presentation about UNBC, and there were a couple of universities intrigued about UNBC's bioenergy system and related research. Dr. Weeks will be working on student recruitment as well.

A Senator emailed Dr. Weeks asking about the Interior Universities Research Coalition. This group was formed to facilitate a joint submission of a research proposal to the Canada First Excellence Fund. The proposal was not successful, but the Vice Presidents of Research from UNBC, TRU, and UBC Okanagan decided to remain in conversation to see if there are other ways to get the proposal funded. There have also been conversations about other possible collaborations.

Dr. Weeks was asked about the Northern Marketing Strategy. There is a group called the Northern Post-Secondary Council, which includes the Presidents of UNBC, the College of New Caledonia, Northern Lights College, and Northwest Community College and members of the ministry. The group is supposed to meet to come up with interesting ways to collaborate on courses. After Dr. Weeks became Chair of the council, they decided to ask the government for funding to launch a marketing strategy for the north, and they were successful. The Northern Marketing Strategy is meant to market the region as a post-secondary destination. The council was successful in finding a marketing company, who will be consulting with people from the regional communities, including Terrace, Fort St. John, Dawson Creek, and Prince George, to talk about how to make the region an attractive place for students.

Dr. Weeks attended approximately 37 social and business events in relation to the University in September, which included the welcome back social for faculty and staff at the Thirsty Moose that he hosted, and the Wine, Women, and Song fundraiser at the Northern Lights Winery.

6.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan reported that the Registrar Search Committee had narrowed down the list of candidates. Dr. Ryan is hopeful initial conversations with candidates will begin within the next month. Dr. Weeks said there has been great response to the search and there are excellent options.

Fall enrollment is up.

A consultant has been retained to help with international student recruitment. An announcement will be made soon about this. The consultant will look at a suite of things to ensure UNBC has a solid international program moving forward.

The President and Provost will continue to meet with academic units over the next two to three months. Dr. Weeks said the meetings have been very helpful and they have learned a lot from them.

7.0 Report of the Registrar

Ms. McKenzie

The Report of the Registrar has been attached as Appendix II.

A Senator asked what the scheduled times are for various presentations by Jan Unwin on October 24th.

Ms. McKenzie said once the schedule has been finalized, it will be sent out to the University community.

8.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks reported that Paul Davidson, President of Universities Canada, will be coming to UNBC on November 17th. An open presentation is planned for students on scholarships and international programs. Senate and the Board will be invited to a reception with Mr. Davidson that will be held at approximately 4:00 p.m. He is active on the indigenous file at Universities Canada and would be happy to meet with SCFNAP and any other members of faculty and Senate. Additional details and a proposed schedule will be available soon.

Dr. Weeks announced that the Joint Board of Governors and Senate Dinner/Workshop will take place in February. The dinner will be on the evening of February 2, 2017 and the workshop will take place on February 3, 2017. The Chair and the Vice Chair of Senate will talk soon about possible speakers. Senators are to contact Dr. Weeks, Dr. Keen, or Ms. Sanford if they have ideas about speakers.

A Senator asked what the next step for the Academic Planning Action Planning Groups will be as the groups are almost fully staffed: who will convene the committees, when will they start work, how will they interact with SCAAF, and how this work be reported back to Senate?

Dr. Ryan indicated that once the groups are staffed, the Provost's Office will bring the Planning Groups and SCAAF together to go over their committee terms of reference. The direction from SCAAF has been to wait for the groups to be entirely populated before proceeding. The Provost's Office will wait unless Senate gives other directions.

The Senator noted that the Senate Committee on Nominations is responsible for filling one more Faculty Senator vacancy, but he would like to see the groups begin.

There was clarification that the Academic Planning Action Planning Groups will report to the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs.

Motion

Whitcombe

That by October 15th, the Academic Planning Groups be convened and engaged to start the exercise regardless of whether they are fully staffed or not.

A Senator stated that he felt October 15th would be too soon for the student positions on the committees to be filled.

Amendment 1

Searle

That October 15th be changed to October 31st.

Amendment 2

Whitcombe

Add "at the latest" to October 31st.

CARRIED as amended.

A Senator noted that in the School of Education, there is an ad hoc committee to review and revise the MED Application Process. She asked whether there is a process or regulation to follow once the Office of the Registrar deems the applicants meet the minimum requirements, or if the process is at the discretion of the Program.

Dr. Smith replied that the process is at the discretion of the Program.

A Senator noted that the MBA program was initiated and administered by the School of Business, through the approval of Senate. Recently the Chair of the School of Business indicated to faculty that the MBA program was no longer with the School of Business. The Senator requested clarification on this point.

Dr. Weeks replied that he had some awareness of this, but did not have the full answer. He indicated that he would seek out the information and report back to the Senator.

Action Item: Dr. Weeks will follow up with Senator Deo on his question about the MBA program.

A Senator referred to a motion that was brought to Senate a few months ago, to change the dates of Senate meetings and it was defeated. He asked if the SCS could arrange a time at an upcoming Senate meeting to discuss this further.

As the Chair of the SCS, Dr. Weeks said he would ensure the SCS would discuss this at their next meeting.

Action Item: At the October 19, 2016 Steering Committee of Senate meeting, the SCS will arrange a suitable time for Senate to discuss changes to the Senate's meeting dates.

9.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda

Dr. Weeks

There were no requests to remove motions from the consent agenda.

10.3 Senate Committee on First Nations and Aboriginal Peoples

Dr. Owen

SCFNAP tasked Dr. Schorcht and Dr. Wilson with gathering information on various indigenization models at other institutions. Some institutions require students to take a particular course, and other institutions provide students with a list of courses with indigenous content or content taught from an indigenous perspective. Dr. Schorcht reviewed a list of courses in BC and how they are articulated. She will attend a First Nations Articulation meeting on October 18th. Dr. Schorcht suggested that UNBC may want to consider creating a Canada Research Chair (CRC) on Truth and Reconciliation. Lakehead University recently created the first CRC in this area.

Dr. Weeks said he was pleased SCFNAP is focusing on academic issues. Dr. Weeks feels he needs more input from outside the institution around engaging aboriginal communities. He intends to strike an advisory committee to support the President and executives around First Nations issues in the north and around Canada. It will not interfere or replicate the work of SCFNAP.

A Senator noted that it is important to look at other institutions' models, but UNBC's model should be very unique and she felt that faculty need advice as well. Dr. Schorcht agreed and noted that the cultural situation in British Columbia is different from other provinces.

The University Librarian noted that he is a member of the Indigenize Knowledge Task Force which is a member of the Council of Prairie and Pacific University Libraries (COPPUL). During the course of the task force's consultation regarding MOUs, they looked at UNBC's MOUs some of which are being used as models at the University of Manitoba. The Librarian also reported that work is being done on a classification system that reflects indigenous content and knowledge.

A Senator suggested a Chair of Cultural Diversity is needed.

A Senator noted that School District 57 has a list of elders willing to participate within the school system, and maybe there are partnership opportunities for UNBC as well.

Dr. Weeks reported that he recently met with the superintendent of School District 57, and they spoke about the list of elders.

Dr. Scott Green

Further nominations were sought from the floor, and there being none, the motion was CARRIED.

Dr. Casperson reported on vacancies on the Senate Committees: A Faculty Senator is needed for the Steering Committee of Senate and the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs; a Student Senator is needed for the Senate committee on the University Budget; and a CASHS Faculty Senator is needed for the Senate Committee on Student Discipline and Appeals. He asked that Senators contact Ms. Howitt if they are interested in any of the vacancies.

10.5.1 Student Election Dates

Dr. Casperson noted that the Senate Committee on Nominations is charged with creating election procedures, under the University Act. He asked if Senators felt it would be better to elect students in October rather than March. Terms could begin in January. From October to December, the students could attend Senate to learn more about it before their terms begin.

A Senator noted that student elections took place in the fall in the past but it was determined that by the time students got up to speed and were in a position to contribute, their terms were over. The elections were changed to the spring with the thought that if students were going to graduate from UNBC two months after the election date, they would not run. There could be some overlap in the summer so the newly elected students would be ready to contribute in September.

For general information, Ms. Sanford noted that Term dates for Senators at other BC institutions, t fall under the same section of the Act are varied. There is flexibility.

Dr. Casperson noted that faculty elections used to be earlier but were moved to March, as Senators felt faculty should be starting in April so when Senate gets the budget in March, the Faculty Senators would be up to speed. Student elections were moved at the same time.

A Senator asked how the change would affect the current Student Senators' terms.

Dr. Weeks said if it was the will to change, then Senate would have to look at a transition process, and there would likely be a proposal to stagger the implementation. He liked the October election and January start date concept because they are trying to build an educational component for Student Senators before starting Senate.

A Senator asked why the terms of office on Senate are limited to one year.

Ms. Sanford indicated that the term of office is set by University Act.

Dr. Casperson indicated that the SCN will consider the matter and asked that Senators contact one of the members of the SCN if they have input.

10.6 Senate Committee on the University Budget

Dr. Whitcombe

Dr. Whitcombe reported that the Senate Committee on the University Budget continues to meet often and things are going well.

10.7 Ad Hoc Committee of Senate Considering Motion S-201603.16 -

Dr. Schorcht

Recommendations for Changes to Undergraduate Regulations 50 and 51 (no material)

Dr. Schorcht reported that the Committee was not able to meet over the summer due to holiday schedules. The Committee is mostly populated, but there is no student representative. The Committee would like clarification on Senate's intentions with respect to a student representatives as the student who was appointed to the Committee when the original motion was made, graduated. The Committee also felt there should be both an undergraduate and graduate representative on the Committee, and that the students should not be members of the Senate Committee on Academic Appeals.

A Senator suggested that a motion could come forward to amend the original committee nominations that could appoint two students to the committee, and then Senate could direct how they would like to fill those positions.

It was noted that the original motion appointed specific people rather than positions to the committee.

Dr. Casperson, who moved the original motion, indicated that his intention was for specific people to be appointed, so that those people would be eligible to remain on the committee until it was dissolved or until the terms of its membership were changed.

This was identified as problematic, as the student is no longer at UNBC.

A Senator noted concern that someone would be on this Committee, looking at University business who is not a student. He felt the committee structure should be changed.

There was a suggestion to amend the original motion. There was another suggestion to dissolve the Committee and start again.

Dr. Weeks asked that the University Secretary and the Steering Committee of Senate will work together to propose a solution to Senate.

Action Item: The University Secretary and the Steering Committee of Senate will work together to propose a solution to revise the membership of the Ad Hoc Committee of Senate

Revisions to the Senate Handbook

Blanding

That, on the recommendation of the Steering Committee of Senate,

Whereas, the administration position of Dean of Graduate Programs will be closed;

And whereas the Dean of Graduate Programs administration position is a voting member of Senate;

And whereas s. 35(2)(k) of the University Act requires that the ratio established in subsections (g) and (h) of 35(2) be preserved;

Now therefore, be it resolved that, s.1 of the Senate Handbook be amended by removing the words “the Dean of Graduate Programs” in subsection (g) and substituting the words “the Vice-Provost of Student Recruitment.”

Effective Date: October 26, 2016

Due to the restructuring of the operation of graduate programs, the Dean of Graduate Programs position will close. UNBC is required under the University Act to preserve the voting ratio of Senior Administrators to Faculty to Students (1 – 2 – 1) on Senate. Dr. Ryan clarified that the position is currently vacant. The SCS felt the motion put forth was the simplest solution.

The Vice President of Research and Graduate Programs will be working on the transition with the Registrar and the Vice Provost Student Recruitment. At the Town Hall on October 28, 2016, there will be a discussion on the next steps.

There are several places in the Senate Handbook where the Dean of Graduate Programs appears and those will need to be changed. There are also a number of changes that need to be made to the undergraduate and graduate calendars in relation to the restructuring that will be brought to Senate for approval.

Point of Information from the Gallery

In 2007, the position of the Dean of Graduate Studies was eliminated. In that instance, Senate approved a motion to the effect that for the purpose of the calendar, any reference to the Dean of Graduate Studies would now be referred to the Associate Dean of Graduate Programs. Until the calendar revisions can be made, a similar motion would address any issues.

Some Senators expressed concern that the decision to close the position was rushed, and there was not much foresight associated with the decision which has major impacts to the University. Some Senators felt a detailed explanation of the rationale for the decision should have come to Senate.

Concern was also expressed, that Senate is just starting the Academic Planning Process and part of that planning process will deal with the academic administrative structure; however this decision means some of that work has already been done.

Dr. Payne and Dr. Ryan indicated that there were further decisions to be made regarding the structure of the department that have not been addressed by this decision. They will be working on this with the Academic Administrative Organization Collaborative Team.

A Senator called a Point of Order, asking that Senate deal with the motion at hand.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan noted that the shortlisted candidates in the Registrar's search will be visiting the Prince George campus over the next few weeks.

The MBA Director now reports to the Chair of the School of Business.

Dr. Owen noted that enrollment numbers are up overall. Head count is up 6% and FTEs have increased by 3.5%. This year there was a 19.6% increase in new registrations.

The Integrated Planning Strategic Road Map was presented at a Town Hall and other meetings over the past month. Some final adjustments were made and it was sent to the Senior Leadership group. UNBC has a projected 3.4 million dollar deficit for next year that needs to be addressed. With the projected deficit, the Ministry of Finance continues to monitor the University monthly. The Vice President of Finance and Business Operations is working closely with the Ministry as the University prepares for the next budget.

There have been discussions with the Librarian, the Deans, and the Director of the CTLT about opening up a small number of tenure and tenure track positions and continuing positions soon. This information will be passed on to the Deans shortly. Units will be asked to discuss and identify where those positions are most needed.

Dr. Weeks and Dr. Ryan continue to meet with academic units. They have a few more to meet with, and then they will begin meeting with non-academic units.

NUGSS has submitted a list of undergraduate representatives for the Academic Planning Action Planning Groups, and the list is attached to the minutes as Appendix I. There is still one Faculty Senator vacancy on the Academic Administrative Organization Collaborative Team. The groups will meet for the first time in the second week of November.

Maclean's magazine rankings are about to be released. UNBC has been ranked as the top university in the Primarily Undergraduate category for the second year in a row. UNBC improved in a number of areas, particularly student related areas.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Ms. McKenzie

None

7.0 Question Period

Discussion on the closing of the Dean of Graduate Programs continued.

A Senator asked why UNBC was moving towards a model where the University will not have a Dean of Graduate Programs.

Dr. Ryan noted the following rationale:

- they are trying to raise the profile of Graduate Programs;
- there are structural barriers in respect to process;
- and enrollment in Graduate Programs has been dropping.

There are few issues around assignment of workload that have not been addressed by this change and this presents an opportunity for the Academic Planning Action Planning Groups to give input.

A Senator felt it would have made more sense to make a personnel change and put an acting Dean in place until Senate could review a proposal for the change. He wanted to know the rationale for this particular model, and if this model will improve enrolment and the programs. The Senator wanted to know why more time was not taken for this decision.

Dr. Ryan reiterated that part of the rationale was to raise the profile of the Program. He indicated that he recognized that the Academic Planning is going on, and he looks forward to the recommendations from the groups; however, management has the responsibility to continue to do their work and to move the University forward. If there are other models that may work better, they will be happy to hear about them.

A Senator said that if the Academic Planning Groups overturns this decision, Senate could be passing numerous motions for changes that may have to be changed again, which may appear chaotic for both the University community and potential students.

The University Secretary clarified that management had the authority to make the decision, and the decision could not be over-turned by Senate.

A Senator expressed the opinion that if the Academic Planning process is going to be meaningful, the University will have to respect the recommendations the planning groups make. He indicated that Senate has control over the content of the calendars.

Ms. Sanford clarified that Senate having responsibility and authority over the calendar, does not mean that Senate can limit management's right to make a management decision over academic administrative structure, by refusing to change an administrative title in the calendar.

A Senator noted that if this alignment was done to enhance Graduate Programs academically, it should have come to Senate before the decision was made.

A Senator noted that he was not convinced this change is onside and within the bounds of the University Act.

A Senator indicated that Senate made regulations using the term the Dean of Graduate Programs. The Dean makes important decisions, and who exercises that authority is an important issue that is more than a title change. This change has a significant effect on the academic mission of the University and therefore lies under the purview of Senate.

A Senator indicated that Senate has no authority in this decision. The position has been changed in the past and could be changed again in the future.

Dr. Payne spoke about the opportunities available by aligning Research and Graduate Programs.

A Senator asked about graduate student enrollment numbers.

Dr. Owen noted that the numbers are relatively flat. The head count for Graduate Programs last year was 594 and this year is 590. FTEs are down by about 21.

A Senator asked where the University is in terms of the targets set by the Ministry of Advanced Education for graduate students.

A Senator reported that according the Ministry of Advanced Education website, as of October 15th Graduate Program FTE is down by 4%; UNBC is at 106.5 % of the Ministry's target; and we are at 88% of UNBC's target.

For undergraduate students, UNBC is at 74.7 % of the Ministry's target and at 102% of UNBC's target.

The Chair clarified that the University's funding is based on the Ministry's targets.

A Senator asked how this type of decision has been handled in the past.

Ms. Sanford noted that the Board was advised of the decision. The Board has delegated authority to the Board's Human Resources Committee, to receive an annual report on management structure.

A Senator asked where the University is in the process of hiring faculty members for the Co-op Program.

Dr. Ryan said the purpose of the faculty internship positions for Co-op is to put someone in the positions to do research on cooperative education. They received applications which are now being considered.

A Senator asked if there are plans to organize an event to recognize Dr. Kevin Smith's contributions and efforts to the Graduate Programs portfolio at the University.

Dr. Ryan said there are plans to hold such an event.

A Senator asked where the University is at in respect to the Vice Presidential searches.

Ms. Daigle reported that both of the searches have gone out for tender for a search firm. The process for the Provost search will begin first, and then part way through that process the Vice President of Research search will begin.

The Senator wanted to know when they expected to have the positions filled.

Ms. Daigle said they recognize the urgency in filling the positions but want to ensure they do a good job and get the right candidates. They are only about a week or two off the timeline outlined in a recent Weeks Review.

8.0 Return to Agenda Item 3.2

Motion S-201610.04

Revisions to the Senate Handbook

Blanding

That, on the recommendation of the Steering Committee of Senate,

Whereas, the administration position of Dean of Graduate Programs will be closed;

And whereas the Dean of Graduate Programs administration position is a voting member of Senate;

And whereas s. 35(2)(k) of the University Act requires that the ratio established in subsections (g) and (h) of 35(2) be preserved;

Now therefore, be it resolved that, s.1 of the Senate Handbook be amended by removing the words “the Dean of Graduate Programs” in subsection (g) and substituting the words “the Vice-Provost of Student Recruitment.”

Effective Date: October 26, 2016

DEFEATED

A Senator asked how Senate will proceed with the membership.

Dr. Ryan indicated that the question of the Senate membership will go back to the Steering Committee of Senate.

Ms. Sanford noted that the assembly will not be properly constituted if it does meet the ratio as outlined in the University Act.

The Senator said if the position closes before Senate meets again then Senate cannot meet to discuss what Senate is going to do about the structure of the Senate membership.

A Senator requested clarification on when the Faculty of Research and Graduate Studies ceased to exist. In 1997, the other four faculties were dissolved into two Colleges, but the Faculty of Research and Graduate Studies was not dissolved.

A Senator asked if a motion could be brought to the next Senate meeting to approve of the portfolio of the Vice President of Research and Graduate Programs.

The University Secretary noted the fundamental problem in bringing such a motion to Senate, is that it confuses the lines of governance if Senate is asked to approve something over which Senate does not have authority.

The Chair noted that collegiality is the sharing of power between the Board and Senate and suggested that Senate should think about whether there has been an acknowledgement of collegiality in this instance.

A Senator asked for clarification on the need to preserve the ratio.

Ms. Sanford noted that the University Act is clear on the need for the ratio.

Dr. Ryan said the best option was to take this information back to the SCS for discussion to try to figure out the best solution moving forward.

A Senator expressed the opinion that the question as to whether or not the Senate has the power and authority to determine the closing Dean of Graduate Programs position still needs to be answered.

The Chair said the University Act permits that Senate can make a recommendation to the Board regarding the continuation or discontinuation of the Faculty of the Graduate Programs.

Ms. Sanford noted that there has been no discontinuance or closing of a department or faculty. There has been a change in management structure.

The Chair noted said that if we haven't lost the faculty over time then a faculty needs a chair, and that chair is referred to as the Dean under the University Act.

Approval of Graduate and Undergraduate Academic Dates for the 2017-2018 Academic Year

Nixon

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the Graduate and Undergraduate Academic Dates for the 2017-2018 Academic Year be approved as proposed, with one of the September Semester options being selected.

Effective date: September 2017

There was a discussion on the two September semester options.

Motion

Reimer

That the September Semester Option B be selected.

CARRIED, with Option B as the selection for the September semester.

Dr. Owen noted that according to limited Canadian research, there is little evidence that a fall semester break has a positive impact. There is significant evidence of the positive effects of a winter semester break.

The Registrar and Provost confirmed that the academic dates are approved every year, and this is something Senate could discuss again in the future.

Dr. Ryan noted that these are great topics for the Academic Planning Groups to discuss.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

The terms of reference for the SSAS were included. The committee was formed in 2014 but has never been fully populated or met. The Chair of the subcommittee will be a Faculty Senator appointed by Senate. The Chair of the SCN stated the committee will be following up with Faculty Senators to fill the vacancy.

5.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

The President attended more than 30 meetings since his last report to Senate. He and the Provost continue to meet with academic departments. The meetings are well attended and informative.

Dr. Weeks, Dr. Payne, a faculty member, and a staff member were in Bogota, Columbia for work related to UNBCs environmental research, Environmental Engineering and the Wood Engineering Programs, and the Bio Energy Plant. They made excellent contacts that he believes will help with recruiting and research opportunities for faculty.

Dr. Weeks met with the engineering accreditation team when they were at UNBC, and it was a positive meeting.

Dr. Weeks has met several times with the David Douglas Botanical Garden Society. Ms. Rennick is Re-visiting the Campus Master Plan and the David Douglas Botanical Garden Society will have a big impact on that plan working together with the University to develop green spaces on campus.

The President was in Ottawa for the Canadian Bureau on International Education Annual Conference, and UNBC had a booth there. Representatives from the BC provincial government did a presentation related to the Northern Marketing Strategy at the conference.

The President and the Provost will be in China at the beginning of December to meet with partner institutions to look at increasing the number of students coming to UNBC from China.

A delegation from Wenzhou University visited UNBC in November.

Mr. Paul Davidson, President of Universities Canada, recently visited UNBC. There was a joint Senate and Board gathering. Mr. Davidson did a number of presentations on campus for students and staff.

The Joint Board of Governors and Senate meeting will take place in February. Senators are asked to forward their ideas for speakers to Dr. Weeks or Dr. Keen.

Dr. Weeks and the senior leadership team attended a workshop, in concert with Inspiring Women Among Us events, looking at how to increase diversity on campus.

6.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

The Provost reported there are two final candidates in the Registrar search. They were on campus November 23rd and 24th. The search committee will meet soon to make a decision on the successful candidate and an announcement will be made.

The President and Provost will soon start meeting with non-academic units.

The Academic Planning Action Planning Groups met for the first time on November 8, 2016 and discussed next steps. The groups also met with their Academic Planning Phase One counter-parts for a transfer of knowledge. There will be another meeting on November 25th to discuss engagement with the UNBC community. The groups felt they may be better served if the timeline for reporting to Senate was slightly adjusted to March; however they would like some time to consider the work that needs to be completed first.

A Senator asked Dr. Ryan what the impact would be to the budgeting model if the timeline for Academic Planning exercise is moved from February to March. Would their findings still be able to inform the budget?

Dr. Ryan noted that there can be some flexibility with the Academic Planning exercise timeline in order to inform the budget. Each Action Planning Group needs to consider a reasonable timeline they can meet.

The Deans have been asked to come up with a set of priorities for faculty positions opening up, and the Provost will be meeting with the Deans to go over the priorities. An announcement will be made by December 1st regarding the positions that recruitment will be initiated for in December.

7.0 Report of the Registrar

Ms. McKenzie

8.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

A Senator asked if the Provost Search committee had been formed yet.

Dr. Weeks said the contracts for the Provost and Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs search consultants were awarded November 23, 2016. The search committees should be populated over the next few of weeks. They are only about a month off of the timeline set out in a recent Weeks Review.

A Senator asked if the University has considered an influx of American students due to the recent events in the USA.

Dr. Weeks replied that at the undergraduate level, UNBC already aggressively markets in parts of the USA, and there is an opportunity to expand. The University is currently working with a consultant to look at targeted recruitment in the Pacific Northwest and California. If, at the Graduate level, faculty see an increase in interest from students, they should contact the Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs, the Provost, or the President to let them know if there is anything they can do to help.

The Senator noted that the American Geophysical Union Conference will soon take place in San Francisco. It may be a good opportunity for the University to set up an information booth as there are about 25,000 – 28,000 people who attend the conference.

Dr. Weeks asked the Senator to pass the dates of the conference on to the Vice Provost of Student Recruitment as soon as possible, along with any other ideas or opportunities that could be built into the visit.

The Director of CTLT issued her report "Students as Partners: Considerations for UNBC" in response to concerns about improving the experience for Student Senators. A Senator asked what the next steps are in terms of implementing the recommendations or discussing the recommendations at Senate.

Dr. Weeks noted that part of the report was motivated by trying to understand how the University Could improve student participation and the student experience in university governance. A student bursary will be implemented that will be available to students involved in university governance. Dr. Summerville is looking at developing a course.

The Vice-President of Advancement responded from the Gallery that up to 10 - $1000 bursaries are intended to be made available to students on a needs basis.

Dr. Weeks said the terms for these bursaries will make their way through the SCSB.

Dr. Weeks said with respect to student experience in governance, some work has been done with onboarding. He asked Senators if there were other things that could be done to improve student experience.

A Senator suggested that the Steering Committee of Senate consider allocating some time under Other Business at the January Senate meeting to discuss ideas about improving student experience in governance.

Action Item: The Steering Committee of Senate will consider allocating time for Senate to discuss ideas about improving student experience in governance at the January Senate meeting under Other Business.
--

Senator asked if the bursary money would roll over to the next year if there were not enough student recipients.

Dr. Weeks said the SCSB will outline the terms, but as this would be a needs based bursary, his hope is that the money would be fully distributed each year.

A Senator asked if there will be any criteria that the bursary be given based on their leadership roles in the University or will it be strictly based on financial need.

Dr. Weeks said the bursaries are a way to honour the work done by the students who volunteer their time to university governance. They will be based on need as this was one of the barriers identified as to why students may not get involved in university governance. In addition to the bursary, the credit course that will be developed will be available to students who are participating in governance, tuition free.

A Senator asked if a motion will be coming forward making the necessary changes to the references of the Dean of Graduate Programs in the Graduate Calendar.

Ms. Sanford replied that the motions will go to the relevant Senate committees and then come to Senate in December.

A Senator asked for clarification on Giving Tuesday and the Employee Challenge.

Mr. Tribe said the University will match employee donations up to a total of $10, 000. Employees are encouraged to make a gift in an area where you want to see support. This will support UNBC's capital campaign.

Dr. Weeks said large donors often ask what the level of giving from within the institution is.

A Senator asked how two Interim Research and Graduate Program Leads were chosen; what are the authorities or powers they are exercising; and what are the terms for the positions.

Dr. Weeks said it would be better for the Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs to answer that question when he returns.

A Senator asked which of the leads have signing authority for the various forms.

Dr. Hartley responded from the Gallery that he and Dr. Kitchenham are the two Leads appointed by the Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs. They have been told their terms will end on May 30, 2017. Whether there is a renewal or not, should be discussed with Dr. Payne. Information and forms that are required for graduate students will go forward to the Graduate Office as usual. All the authority will sit with the Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs. The Graduate Office staff will work with Dr. Hartley and Dr. Kitchenham to decide who will have the delegated authority to sign-off on forms.

A Senator noted an issue that came up at a Chairs' meeting recently was that there are some discrepancies between what appears in the PDF version of the Calendar and the online version. He asked if there is a mechanism where the two versions of the calendar can be reconciled.

The Registrar was not in the room when the question was asked. Ms. Lawson, Assistant Registrar, Records and Operations, noted from the Gallery that the PDF version is the one people should refer to if there are discrepancies between the two versions. Ms. Lawson said any noted discrepancies can be sent to the Registrar's Office for correction

9.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda

Dr. Weeks

A Senator asked for motions S-201611.19 and S-201611.25 to be removed from the consent agenda.

New Academic Program Proposal - Master of Applied Science in Engineering

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new Master of Applied Science in Engineering be approved as proposed.

Proposed Start Date: September 2017 (entry to degree is September, January and May semesters)

CARRIED

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Program Description

The Master of Applied Science in Engineering degree is offered with either a thesis or a project option. The degree is expected to attract students from engineering disciplines such as, but not limited to, civil, environmental, structural, and building sciences. The Master of Applied Science (MASc) degree is suited to students who wish to pursue a research-based program in Engineering.

The thesis option has, as a substantial component, the completion of an original research program, culminating in the preparation of a thesis, and will prepare graduates for careers in applied research and engineering or for further academic study. The project option provides training across disciplines particularly suitable to individuals with more defined career objectives, as well as providing a mechanism for non-traditional students (e.g. working students, teachers, and professionals) to upgrade their skills and technological knowledge. Students will, upon successful completion of the degree requirements outlined herein, obtain an MASc in Engineering.

All students must participate in the Graduate Seminar in Engineering course (ENGR 701-1.5) for at least two semesters during their course of studies.

Thesis Option

The Master of Applied Science thesis option is designed for candidates who wish to develop career interests related to applied scientific research or who intend to pursue further academic research degrees. MASC students are required to complete 3 credit hours of the ENGR 701-1.5 Graduate Seminar in Engineering course, along with ENGR 700-3 Technical Writing, a minimum of 9 credit hours of approved electives, and a 12 credit-hour thesis (ENGR 790-12). It is expected that electives will consist of engineering oriented courses, and the thesis will involve an independent investigation resulting in a scientific contribution.

The 9 elective credit hours must be graduate-level study (i.e., at or above the 600 level) selected from the courses available at UNBC. A maximum of 6 credit hours from independent studies can be counted towards the elective requirement. Specific details of course work are determined by the research area undertaken by the student. The supervisory committee ensures an appropriate selection of elective courses is taken and may require a student to complete more than 9 elective credit hours if, for example, weaknesses in the student's background exist (including undergraduate prerequisites for graduate courses) or if additional courses are required for professional accreditation.

As part of the MASC thesis (ENGR 790-12), students are required to (a) make an oral presentation of the thesis proposal to the supervisory committee; (b) write an original thesis based on the-completed research (in accordance with established UNBC guidelines); and (c) present an oral defence of the thesis to the examining committee as per Regulation 4.5 Final Oral Examinations and Examining Committees. All course requirements must have been satisfied prior to the oral defence.

ENGR 790-12	MASC Thesis	12 credit hours
Total Required for Degree		27 credit hours

Project Option

The Master of Applied Science project option is designed for candidates who wish to upgrade their skills or who are constrained in their ability to undertake an applied research thesis. MASC students are required to complete 3 credit hours of the ENGR 701-1.5 Graduate Seminar in Engineering course, along with ENGR 700-3 Technical Writing, a minimum of 15 credit hours of approved electives, and a 6 credit-hour project (ENGR 792-6). The project will involve an independent investigation resulting in a scientific contribution, although this contribution need not include original research.

The 15 elective credit hours must be graduate-level study (i.e., at or above the 600 level) selected from available courses. A maximum of 6 credit hours from independent studies (e.g. ENGR 798-3) can be counted towards the elective requirement. Specific details of course work will in part be determined by the nature of the project undertaken by each student. The supervisory committee will ensure an appropriate selection of elective courses is taken and may require a student to complete more than 15 credit hours if weaknesses in the student's background exist (including undergraduate prerequisites for graduate courses) or if additional courses are required for professional accreditation.

In order to complete an MASC project successfully, a student is required to (a) make a presentation of the project proposal to the supervisory committee; (b) write a project report; (c) give a public lecture on the completed project; and (d) pass an evaluation of the project report by the examining committee. All core and elective course requirements must have been satisfied prior to the oral presentation of the Project.

Recommended Progression

The normal time for completion of the MASC is two academic years as a full-time student. While this is the recommended timeline, it may be adjusted at the discretion of the supervisory committee to suit a particular student's research and program needs.

The Graduate Seminar in Engineering course is offered during the September and January semesters. Students are expected to enrol in the seminar course at least two times during their degree program.

Electives may be taken at any time. The sequencing of electives is determined by the student in discussion with their supervisor and the supervisory committee. In Year I, the student, under the direction of the supervisory committee, develops a thesis or project proposal. By the end of the second semester after enrolment, the student should have successfully defended their proposal to the supervisory committee. This allows the student to start the collection of data and/or preparation of experiments and models during the last semester of Year I. It is expected that the student will have successfully defended the thesis or completed the evaluation phase of the project by the end of Year II.

Admission, Regulations and Committee Structures

Admission Requirements

In addition to the admission application requirements outlined in Section 1.0 of the Graduate Academic Calendar, applicants are required to hold a four-year Baccalaureate degree (or equivalent) from a recognized institution in Engineering or related area. Acceptance to the MASc program is contingent upon prospective students finding a faculty member to serve as their supervisor. Applicants must provide a completed Teaching Assistantship Application and a completed Funding Worksheet with their application material for this program.

Applicants are required to provide three letters of recommendation. Normally, at least two of the three letters, exclusive of any letter provided by an intended supervisor, must be from individuals who are able to comment on the applicant's academic and research potential.

Application deadlines are found in this calendar under "Semester Dates" or online at www.unbc.ca/calendar/graduate, under "Semester Dates." The Master of Applied Science Program accepts students for the September, January, and May semesters.

For additional information about graduate admissions or to download application materials, go to the Graduate Programs website at www.unbc.ca/graduateprograms.

Transfer Students

On the recommendation of the program, the Dean of Graduate Programs may accept courses taken at other institutions for credit toward a UNBC graduate program. At the time of application, it is recommended applicants clearly state in a letter their intent to transfer courses and identify the courses to be considered for possible transfer.

Normal Time Required for Completion

Normally, the degree should be completed within two years. Students may take longer to complete the degree depending on their personal circumstances and the nature of their research or project involvement.

Committee Structure

Students are advised by a supervisory committee consisting of at least three members, including the academic supervisor who will serve as the chair of the committee. At least one of the committee members must be from outside the student's program. The committee will be struck during the student's first semester of study.

New Course Approval - ENGR 700-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new course ENGR 700-3 Technical Writing be approved as proposed.

Proposed semester of first offering: September 2017

CARRIED

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

This course is an introduction to technical writing concepts for graduate students focusing on thesis and report writing. It is intended to help students improve their general writing skills while learning principles and approaches for producing good quality thesis, report, and article manuscripts. Specific topics to be covered include thesis and report writing, improving grammar and organization, literature reviews, and referencing and documentation, including how to avoid plagiarism. Students prepare and submit a written report on a topic in Engineering related to his/her field of research.

Wood is the world's most common and sustainable building material. Known for its aesthetic beauty, durability, and ease of machinability, wood is becoming the leading building material in a new paradigm of sustainable and healthy building practices. Significant renewable wood resources in British Columbia and an international wood culture ~~in British Columbia~~ provide a strong impetus for UNBC, the province, and industrial partners to develop a leading education program centred on sustainable healthy building practices using wood.

~~In order~~ Built to meet the needs of the profession, the Master of Engineering, Integrated Wood Design develops students' skills in understanding wood as a versatile and sustainable building component that can be used in applications far beyond what could be achieved using concrete and steel. Students investigate wood at the micro and macro levels and explore the science and art of designing and building wood structures. The one-year interdisciplinary Master's program is built on four main pillars:

1. Wood Mechanics and Timber Structures – Students gain a deep understanding of wood. Starting with an understanding of the supply chain, students come to appreciate the sustainable nature of wood, its unique structure, its living nature, and its strengths and weaknesses, ~~all in the context of~~ in relationship to other commonly used building materials.

2. Hands-on Experience – The only way to experience wood is to work with it, as it is one of the most complex building materials. ~~As it is one of the most complex building materials, the only way to experience wood is to work with it.~~ Students build small-scale structures to explore the versatility and complexity of wood structures. Community or industry internships may be included.
3. Team Work - At the core of successful design teams is the ability to communicate effectively and integrate different points of view. Students undertaking this program are immersed in the science and art of design team work. Multi-disciplinary teams work together throughout the program to build effective communication skills by working with individuals with diverse backgrounds and a wide range of experts such as technical experts, professional engineers, architects, and community members.
4. Sustainability – Students study and come to appreciate a range of state-of-the-art sustainable designs and how those designs ~~they~~ fit within the broader social and political context of sustainability.

Admission Requirements

In addition to the admission application requirements outlined in Section 1.0 of the Graduate Academic Calendar, applicants are required to hold a four-year (120 credit-hours) baccalaureate degree from a recognized institution in Civil Engineering.

~~In addition to the English Language Requirements outlined in Section 1.1 of the calendar, for For~~ entry into the MEng degree program, students must fulfill the English Language Requirements outlined in Section 1.1 of the calendar, and they must have also passed one of the tests listed below ~~must have been taken~~ within the last 24 months at the ~~time~~ time of application. In order to be considered valid, these scores must be sent directly from the testing agency/institution to the Office of the Registrar. ~~No test waiver is allowed for the admission to the Master of Engineering.~~

Score requirements must meet one of the following criteria:

IELTS (International English Language Testing System) score of at least 7.0 overall, with not less than 6.5 in any of the four modules.

TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) score of 100 in the internet-based test, with not less than 25 in any of the Reading, Listening, Writing or Speaking components; or equivalent other TOEFL score.

LPI (Language Proficiency Index) score of 6 (essay score of at least 36).

Exceptional Admission

Applicants who have a four-year (120 credit-hours) baccalaureate degree (or equivalent) may be granted admission to the program if ~~sufficient~~ sufficient related engineering content can be demonstrated. The Pre-Entry program as outlined in Section 1.7.2 is not applicable for applicants to gain entry to the MEng Program.

4.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan reported that the Registrar Search Committee completed its work and made a recommendation. The chosen candidate has tentatively accepted the position. Once the candidate has been formally approved, by the Board, an announcement will be made.

The Provost and President continue to meet with Programs and units.

The Academic Planning Action Planning Groups continue to meet. There was a meeting of the Leads on December 14th. The groups will meet again in January and then there will be a Town Hall to talk about the budget process. There have been some requests for action plans to be developed. This will be an opportunity to talk to the University Community about some of the action plans and initiatives submitted so far.

An announcement went out to the University Community that 7 faculty positions have been approved for recruitment.

The Ministry continues to monitor the University budget. UNBC is reporting monthly rather than quarterly in the short term. Representatives from the Ministry recently came to UNBC to review the University's deficit mitigation plans and seem satisfied with the direction the University is going.

Shad Valley is an organization that runs summer camp for exceptional students. The organization is considering UNBC as a host site for a camp.

Mr. Allan Wilson, the University Librarian, has taken a medical leave. James MacDonald and Heather Empey will be acting on the behalf of the University Librarian in the interim.

Dr. Owen gave an update on enrollment. According to the winter 2017 semester report, the University's FTEs are up about 7% over last year. Head counts are also up for the winter semester over the 2016 winter semester. There has been an increase in applications, admissions, and registrations from the 2016 fall semester to the 2017 winter semester.

Applications and admissions for the 2017 fall semester are up compared to the same time last year for the 2016 fall semester. Applications are up almost 40% (446 head count), and admissions are up almost 18% (92 head count). Dr. Owen pointed out this there is still a lot of work to do as the University is at approximately 40% of the target for applications and 48% of the target for the admitted numbers at this point in time for the Undergraduate level.

A Senator asked how the University is doing in terms of retaining students between the 2016 fall semester and the 2017 winter semester.

Dr. Owen replied that he did not currently have that information.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Ms. McKenzie

The Report of the Registrar has been attached to the minutes as Appendix I.

The Chair of Senate arrived in the Senate Chambers and took over in the Chair.

7.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

7.1 Students as Partners: Considerations for UNBC Report

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks reported that Dr. Summerville completed a first draft of a proposed course syllabus which was a part of the commitment made with respect to supporting students involved in governance at UNBC.

Dr. Weeks asked that an opportunity be provided at the January meeting for Senate to have a more fulsome discussion about the Report and other actions Senate may wish to take.

Senators thanked Dr. Smith for putting the report together, Dr. Summerville for putting the course together, and Dr. Weeks for commissioning the report. A Senator requested that Senate discuss the report at the current meeting.

Senate discussed the Students as Partners Report.

Dr. Smith stated that UNBC has the opportunity to be a national leader with initiatives around students as partners in university governance.

A Senator noted that one of the recommendations from the report was for Senate to discuss students as partners prior to the Academic Planning Action Planning Groups meeting and beginning their process, which did not happen. The Senator suggested Senate strike an ad hoc committee to formally review and have a fulsome discussion on all of the recommendations in the report and be prepared to report back to Senate in time for the February 22, 2017 Senate meeting. This would hopefully influence the Academic Planning discussions.

Dr. Weeks pointed out that there are several things Senate needs to consider in regard to Academic Planning, including Truth and Reconciliation.

Motion

Searle

Membership of the Ad Hoc Committee to respond to the Students as Partners Report recommendations

Members

- Minimum 3 Student Senators
- 1 undergraduate student representative to be appointed by NUGSS
- 1 graduate student representative to be appointed by GSS
- 1 Faculty Senator Representative from CASHS
- 1 Faculty Senator Representative from CSAM
- Assistant Director of Student Affairs
- Director of the Centre for Teaching, Learning, and Technology

Committee Chair – a Student Senator

CARRIED

The mandate of the committee is to respond to the recommendations put forth in the Students as Partners Report. The ad hoc committee should submit an initial report to Senate by February 22, 2017.

Senate decided to discuss the report further at the January 25, 2017 meeting.

Senate decided to nominate Senators from the floor to the ad hoc committee during Agenda Item 9.5 the Senate Committee on Nominations Report.

8.0 President's Report

The President and Provost recently travelled to China to meet with several universities interested in partnering with UNBC on academic programming. They also visited a number of high schools and met with guidance counsellors and others to explore opportunities.

Dr. Weeks reminded Senate of the Joint Board Senate session that will take place on February 2nd and 3rd. There will be a joint dinner on Thursday evening. Dr. Julia Eastman, the University Secretary at the University of Victoria, will be speaking at the dinner about trends and issues in university governance across Canada. On the Friday, representatives of the Ministry of Advanced Education's Degree Quality Assessment Board (DQAB) will be talking about the process the University goes through when programs are approved.

9.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

A Senator raised a concern about the Sexual Violence Report being redacted in its release and asked how the University intends to disseminate quantitative factual information about sexual violence to the University community and when will it start doing so.

Dr. Weeks noted his disappointed with how this issue was reported in the media and reported that the Steering committee is working on the issue of quantitative information and how to implement various recommendations from their report within deadlines outlined by government.

10.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda

Dr. Weeks

No motions were removed from the Consent Agenda.

Jalil Safaei Borojeny, ~~Associate~~ Professor

~~Ajit Dayanandan, Associate Professor~~

Karima Fredj, Associate Professor

Website: <http://www.unbc.ca/economics>

Economic development remains a critical issue for more than three-quarters of the world’s population who reside in countries classified as “low income” or “middle income.” The causes and consequences of economic development remain contested issues. This academic program considers the changing global, regional and national contexts for economic development; the policy lessons that can be learned from comparative studies; and the tools required to enable development economists to contribute to the development process.

Economic development cannot be studied in isolation from other dimensions of development. An understanding of poverty, for example, requires not only economic analysis but also an understanding of the insights provided by other social and health sciences. The training of a development economist must therefore expose students to interdisciplinary approaches to development.

~~The Master of Arts degree in Development Economics is available on a full-time or part-time basis, involving coursework and, where chosen and approved, the completion of a graduate project or thesis. Upon admission into the Development Economics MA program, each student will be assigned a supervisor who will work closely with the students to monitor their program of study and progress. In consultation with the supervisor, students will choose courses designed to complement and inform their areas of interest.~~

The Master of Arts degree in Development Economics is available on a full-time or part-time basis. Students must complete all required work to meet the degree requirements in one of the following options: coursework only, project-based, and thesis option. Normally, students are initially admitted into the coursework only option.

Admission Requirements:

Applicants to the UNBC Development Economics MA program must follow the admission requirements outlined in Section 1.0 of the UNBC Graduate Academic Calendar. Applicants normally should have a four-year undergraduate degree that is equivalent to a UNBC degree in Economics. In addition to these requirements, applicants must also provide a sample of written work (usually a senior-level undergraduate essay or research paper) as part of their application. Entrance to the MA will be competitive; and only applicants with a record of excellence in their undergraduate work, strong letters of academic recommendation, and strong letters of intent will be considered. In their letters of intent, applicants should demonstrate evidence of interest in the MA's areas of specialization (Development Economics).

Application deadlines are found in the calendar under "Semester Dates." The Development Economics MA Program accepts students for the September or January semester.

For additional information about graduate admissions or to download application materials, go to the Graduate Programs website at www.unbc.ca/graduateprograms.

Requirements:

~~The course of study is composed of a minimum of 25 credit hours for the coursework only and project options and a minimum of 28 credit hours for the thesis option. Students in the coursework only option are required to complete eight courses successfully totaling 24 credit hours plus ECON 700. At the time of application or after successfully completing 12 credit hours, students may choose between one of two other options:~~

~~(i) to produce a detailed project proposal with bibliography and to defend, in a formal oral examination, a 9-credit-hour project of a maximum of 50 pages in length and to complete an additional 3 credit hours of course work;~~

~~or~~

~~(ii) to produce a detailed thesis proposal and to defend, in a formal oral examination, a 12-credit-hour thesis of a maximum of 75 pages.~~

~~Students choosing option (i) or (ii) must obtain the support of a supervisor and of the Program Chair.~~

Students in the coursework only option are required to complete coursework totaling 24 credit hours plus ECON 700. Depending on academic performance, students in this option may be eligible to apply to transfer to either the project or the thesis option after they have completed their first 12 credit hours of coursework (which must include at least 9 credit hours from required courses). Students wishing to transfer to the project or thesis option must obtain the support of a supervisor and of the Department Chair. Students approved to transfer to the project option must complete any remaining required courses and produce a detailed project proposal with bibliography, and successfully defend a formal oral examination, a 9-credit-hour project of a maximum of 50 pages in length. Students approved to transfer to the thesis option must complete any remaining required courses and produce a detailed thesis proposal and successfully defend in a formal oral examination, a 12-credit-hour thesis of a maximum of 75 pages.

In addition, any student who does not, at the time of entry to the program, have a course in econometrics at the undergraduate level will be required to take ECON 312-3 (Econometrics) as part of their graduate degree program in order to meet graduation requirements. A minimum grade of B is required in such a course.

Required Courses:

ECON 601-3	Global Economy and Development
ECON 604-3	Poverty, Inequality and Development
ECON 651-3	Microeconomic Theory and Applications
ECON 710-3	Macroeconomic Policy for Development
ECON 712-3	Applied Econometrics
ECON 700-0.5	Graduate Colloquia*

*All students must complete Graduate Colloquia ECON 700-0.5 twice during their course of study.

Additional requirements are based upon the option followed:

Coursework Program only Option:

9 credit hours of elective courses:

At least one of:

ECON 610-3	Health Economics
ECON 611-3	Cost-Benefit Analysis
ECON 625-3	Trade and the Environment
ECON 635-3	Financial Economics and Quantitative Methods

Students may take up to two of their elective courses from other graduate programs with the permission of the Chair of Economics.

Project Option:

~~One elective course normally chosen from Economics courses and~~

ECON 798-9	Economics Project
----------------------------	-------------------

Thesis Option:

ECON 799-12	Master's Thesis

CARRIED

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

1.1 English Language Requirements

English is the primary language of instruction and communication at UNBC. Consequently, it is expected that an applicant be able to demonstrate an acceptable level of proficiency in the use of English in order to receive and participate in classroom instruction and discussion as well as to complete written assignments.

Applicants whose first language is not English, regardless of citizenship or country of origin, must submit evidence of English language proficiency prior to admission. French-speaking Canadians and Canadian First Nations language speakers are exempted from this requirement. Students who have completed a degree program entirely in the English Language at a recognized institution from a country approved by UNBC where English is an official language may be exempted from this requirement. A listing of English Language Proficiency test exempt countries is maintained by the Office of the Registrar. Applicants from countries not on the waiver list who have completed their four year undergraduate degree entirely in the English language may request a waiver of the English Language Proficiency Requirement. The Office of the Registrar and the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate, in consultation with programs, will assess each waiver and supporting documentation. Waivers are not guaranteed. The decision of the Office of the Registrar and the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate will be final. It is recommended that applicants for whom English is not their primary language submit an accepted English Language Proficiency test score.

1.3 Admission to Master's Degrees

1.3.3 A faculty member who wishes to supervise an applicant who has a four-year (120 credit hours) Baccalaureate degree (or equivalent) that does not meet the GPA requirements stated above and who obtains the recommendation of the appropriate program must have approval from the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate who admits the applicant. The applicant must have significant formal training and relevant professional experience to offset such GPA deficiencies.

1.4 Admission to the Master's Degree as a Conditionally Admitted Mature Student

Five years after completion of a Baccalaureate degree as defined in 1.3.1, applicants whose academic record is such that they would not be admissible to a Master's program may be admitted conditionally as mature students, provided they are recommended by the appropriate Program. Such recommendations must be made in writing by the Program and approved by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate.

The minimum grade point average for admission to a Master's program as a conditionally admitted mature student is 2.67 ("B-").

~~A student conditionally admitted to a graduate program must earn a grade point average of at least 3.00 (B) in each of the first two 3 credit hour graduate courses taken. The first two courses will be determined by the Program and approved by the Dean of Graduate Programs Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate.~~ If this condition is successfully met, the student's status will be changed to regular graduate student status. If it is not, the student will be required to withdraw from the program.

1.5 Admission to Non-degree Coursework

1.5.2 Exchange graduate students are those covered by the Western Deans' Agreement (see 2.6.1 for the Western Deans' Agreement) or other formal exchange agreement. If a student is admitted under the Western Deans' Agreement or other formal exchange agreement, all tuition fees at UNBC will be waived; however, ancillary student fees will be charged. Applicants in this category must submit a completed Application for Admission to Graduate Programs and the completed and duly signed Western Deans' Agreement form ~~from the Dean of Graduate Programs~~ at their home institution (if applicable) certifying the applicant as an exchange student, under the provisions of the Agreement. Courses to be taken toward their degree must be specified in the documentation. No other supporting material is required. Students must request that an official transcript be sent directly to their home institution upon completion of course work.

1.5.4 If a student admitted as a non-degree student is later admitted to a graduate degree program, course work taken as a non-degree student may be applied to the graduate program subject to the recommendation of the supervisory committee and the approval of the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate.

1.7 Upgrading for Admission to Graduate Programs

Individuals wishing to apply to graduate programs may not meet the normal requirements for admission. Such cases normally fall into either of the following categories:

1.7.1 Admission requirements satisfied but course background inappropriate or prerequisites lacking Upon the recommendation of the Program concerned, the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate may approve the inclusion of the missing background or prerequisites as part of the requirements for the Master's degree.

1.7.2 Pre-Entry Program When admission requirements are not satisfied and upon the recommendation of the Program concerned, the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate may approve a pre-entry program of undergraduate course work totaling at least 12 credit hours of upper division courses. An average of not less than 3.33 (B+) must be achieved in the course work, and no course must be completed at a level below 2.67 (B-). Courses taken for a pre-entry program may not be used for credit towards a graduate degree. Students approved by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate for a pre-entry program are guaranteed admission to the appropriate Graduate Program upon successful completion of the recommended courses.

1.7.3 Graduate course challenge is not permitted.

1.9 Permission for Undergraduates to Take Graduate Coursework

1.9.1 Students in their final year of a Bachelor's degree program at the University of Northern British Columbia who have a grade point average of at least 3.33 (B+) in the last 30 credit hours of course work attempted and have completed all required lower-division course work may be permitted to register in a maximum of 6 credit hours of graduate courses at the Master's level with the permission of the Instructor and the Graduate Program concerned and with the approval of the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice President Research and Graduate Programs or designate. If a student is subsequently admitted to a Graduate Program, graduate courses used for credit toward an undergraduate program cannot be used for credit toward a graduate program.

2.0 Registration Procedures and Status

2.5 Withdrawal from the University

Students in degree programs who wish to withdraw, either temporarily or permanently, must do so formally in accordance to the following procedures.

2.5.1 Students who wish to request a leave of absence must apply using the Leave of Absence Form to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Office of Graduate Programs, with supporting documentation from their supervisor, and with detailed documentation (E.g., a doctor's note) explaining the need for such a leave. A student should apply prior to the beginning of the leave of absence or in the same academic year if the request is retroactive. A leave of absence is normally for no more than one year in a graduate degree program. Under exceptional circumstances and only as recommended by the supervisor and approved by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate, a further leave of absence may be granted. Students cannot undertake academic or research work nor use any of the University's facilities during the period of leave. After the leave of absence is completed, students must register for the next semester. The transcript will record the notation: "Leave of Absence".

2.5.2 Time spent on an approved leave of absence (see Regulation 2.5.1) is not counted as part of the total time allowed for completion of the degree program (see Regulation 4.2).

2.5.3 Students who wish to withdraw from their Graduate Program and have their transcript indicate that they were in good standing when they withdrew, must apply using the Request to Withdraw Form to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate, with supporting documentation from their supervisor. The transcript will record the notation: "Withdrawn with Permission".

2.5.4 The transcript of students who fail to notify the University of their intention to withdraw from their Graduate Program or who have not maintained continuity of registration in accordance with Regulation 2.2.1 will record the notation "Withdrawn without Permission".

2.6 Letter of Permission for Studies Elsewhere

~~Students currently registered in a Graduate Program who wish to undertake studies at another institution for transfer credit toward their graduate degree at the University of Northern British Columbia~~ must apply in writing to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate, specifying the host institution, the courses to be taken, and their credit values. The application must be supported by the supervisor. Students must request that an official transcript be sent directly to the Office of the Registrar at UNBC from the host institution upon completion of the course work.

Note: Students are required to maintain continuous registration and pay the fees for the semester at the University of Northern British Columbia while studying elsewhere.

2.6.1 Western Deans' Agreement

Students currently registered in a graduate program who wish to undertake studies at a western Canadian university for transfer credit toward their graduate degree at the University of Northern British Columbia may be eligible for exchange status under the provision of the Western Deans' Agreement. Information and relevant forms are available from the Graduate Programs website, www.unbc.ca/graduateprograms, or at the Office of Graduate Programs. Students must include an outline of the course work that they propose to undertake, including a demonstration of the appropriateness of the selected course to act as a replacement of existing courses in the program of study. The application must be submitted to, and supported, by the supervisor. If the application is approved by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate, the university concerned is notified by the Office of Graduate Programs. All applicable tuition fees are waived by the host institution. However, ancillary student fees are still applied. All students attending other institutions under the provisions of the Western Deans' Agreement must register concurrently at the University of Northern British Columbia in their thesis or project, and pay the appropriate fees.

4.0 Regulations Governing Master's Programs

4.1 Course and Program Requirements

4.1.1 Graduate Programs Within the first semester of registration in a graduate degree program, the supervisor will forward to the Office of Graduate Programs a completed Graduate Program Approval Form on behalf of each student.

4.1.2 Graduate Supervision Unless otherwise specified, the graduate supervisor nominates the supervisory committee and the Program forwards the names to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate for approval, normally within one semester of the first registration in the thesis, project, practicum, comprehensive examination or dissertation.

4.1.6 UNBC course requirements and applicability of transfer of credit At least half of the course work taken must be completed as a degree candidate in a Graduate Program at the University of Northern British Columbia and be UNBC courses. On the recommendation of the Program concerned, the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate may accept courses taken at other institutions for credit toward a UNBC graduate degree.

4.2 Time Limit

4.2.2 If a degree is not completed within the specified period following the first registration, the student will be withdrawn from the program. Under exceptional circumstances, time extensions may be granted by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate. Such requests for time extension must be made in writing to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Office of Graduate Programs prior to the end of the semester in which the student's time limit expires. The request must include a timeline for the completion of the degree and a letter of support from the student's supervisor.

4.3 Academic Performance

A student who fails to meet academic standards, or whose thesis, project, practicum, or comprehensive examination is not progressing satisfactorily, may be required to withdraw by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate on the advice of the supervisor and supervisory committee.

4.3.1 Students must attain a Semester GPA of at least 3.00 (B) for every semester in which they are registered. Individual programs may set higher standards. Any student with a Semester GPA below 3.00 may be allowed to register in the next semester while their academic performance is reviewed by their supervisory committee. Continuation in their Graduate Program is recommended by the supervisory committee subject to approval by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate.

4.3.2 A grade of F in a course taken for credit in a Graduate Program must be reviewed by the supervisory committee and a recommendation must be made to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate concerning continuance of the student in the program. Such students will not be allowed to register in the next semester until approved to do so by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate.

4.3.3 Graduate students may not repeat graduate courses except under exceptional circumstances if recommended by the supervisory committee subject to approval by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate.

4.3.4 The supervisor, in consultation with the supervisory committee (if applicable) and the student, completes a progress report for students registered in a thesis, project, practicum, or comprehensive examination on a yearly basis and submits it to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate for approval. If the progress report indicates a second Needs Improvement or Unsatisfactory progress, the supervisory committee, with the Graduate Program Chair, reviews the student's continuation in a formal continuance review meeting and submits recommendations to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate for final decision.

4.3.5 Conditions may be imposed by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate for continuation in the program. The conditions normally must be met within the next semester or the student will be required to withdraw.

4.4 Academic Supervision

4.4.1 Supervisor Each Master's student shall have, at the time of their application for admission, identified and gained the agreement of a member of the faculty assigned as a supervisor (or academic advisor). Subject to an offer of admission to the program, the agreement is approved by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate.

The supervisor and student must maintain contact through mutually agreed upon regular meetings. Supervisors who expect to be absent from the University for an extended period of time (including during sabbaticals) are responsible for making suitable arrangements (including the appointment of a temporary replacement) with the student and the chair of the program, or if applicable the chair of the graduate committee for the continued supervision of the student or the nomination of another supervisor. All changes of this nature must be approved by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate who can recommend further changes of the supervisor or supervisory committee.

4.4.2 Supervisory Committee Each student shall have a supervisory committee nominated by the Program and approved by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate. The chair of this committee shall be the supervisor.

All such changes require the approval of the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate who may recommend further changes of the supervisor or supervisory committee.

4.5 Final Oral Examinations and Examining Committees

4.5.1 General Regulations

- b. Degrees that have a final examination by project, comprehensive exam, major paper, etc., may be examined in a manner agreed upon by the Program and the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate; otherwise, the examination shall be as for theses.
- c. For all theses, students may proceed to an oral examination when the supervisory committee is satisfied that the scholarly work represents an examinable document for the degree requirements. The supervisory committee and student confirm this by signing the Request for Oral Examination and Appointment of an External Examiner form. This form must be submitted to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Office of Graduate Programs at least six weeks before the anticipated date of oral examination. Two copies of the document are required by the Office of Graduate Programs upon submission of the Request for Oral Examination and Appointment of an External Examiner form. One copy of the document is forwarded to the External Examiner by the Office of Graduate Programs.
- e. The ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs (or designate) acts as Chair at the oral examination. Any tenured member of the faculty at the Associate Professor level or higher with extensive experience in Graduate Programs is eligible to serve as the ~~Dean's~~Vice President's designate.
- f. Normally, the oral examinations are open to the University community. Copies of the thesis abstract shall be made available to all those attending the examination. The ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate shall have the right to attend all phases of the examination. In rare circumstances where a public examination would be detrimental to the student or the sponsor of the research to have it made public, the author of the thesis, project or dissertation may request a closed oral examination. The request for a closed oral examination must be made in writing to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate for review and approval when the Request for Oral Examination is made.

4.5.2 Examining Committees ....

For Master's degrees without a thesis, the membership of the final oral examining committee and the examination procedure shall be determined and approved by the Program and the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate (see 4.5.1a)..

4.5.4 Results of Oral Examinations The decision of the examining committee shall be based on the content of the scholarly work or thesis as well as the candidate's ability to defend it. After the examination, the committee shall recommend to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate one of the following results:

d. Adjournment of the Examination

When an examination is adjourned, each member of the examining committee shall make a written report to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Office of Graduate Programs within 14 calendar days of the date of the oral examination. After reviewing these reports the ~~Dean Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate~~ sets a date for reconvening the examination. ~~The Dean~~ The Vice President or designate shall also determine whether or not the composition of the original committee is appropriate for the reconvened examination. The date for reconvening shall be no later than six months from the date of the first examination. If the date for reconvening falls outside the last day of the semester in which the adjourned oral examination took place, registration for the subsequent semester is required in order to maintain continuous registration (See 2.2.1).

e. Failure

If two or more members of the examining committee are opposed to passing the student, the student will not be recommended for the degree. In this case, the examining committee shall make a written report to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Office of Graduate Programs within 14 calendar days from the date of the oral examination outlining the reasons for this decision. A student who fails the oral examination has the right to appeal, and should consult with the Office of the Registrar regarding the appropriate procedures.

7.0 Regulations Governing Doctoral Programs

7.1 Admission to Doctoral Degrees

7.1.3 The ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate may approve the admission of an applicant to a Doctoral program without a Master's degree if the applicant has received a Baccalaureate degree from a recognized institution with a Cumulative GPA of at least 3.67 (A-) and has completed at least two semesters of a Master's degree program at the University of Northern British Columbia with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.67 (A-).

7.1.4 Continuation to a Doctoral Program Students enrolled in a Master's program at the University of Northern British Columbia may continue to a Doctoral program prior to completion of the Master's degree. Students may apply to be transferred to Doctoral status no sooner than two semesters after initial registration in the Master's program at the University of Northern British Columbia. After a review, which must include an evaluation by the student's supervisory committee, the Program will recommend to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate one of the following:

Students admitted to a Doctoral program under 7.1.4.a must complete courses from the Master's and Doctoral programs as recommended by the existing Supervisory Committee and approved by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~ Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate.

7.2 Minimum Requirements

The minimum requirement for a Doctoral degree is 24 credit hours of coursework beyond the Master's level, or 36 credit hours of coursework beyond the Bachelor's level, and satisfactory completion of the prescribed program. Individual programs may require more credit hours of coursework.

7.3 The Dissertation

A Doctoral program requires a broad and comprehensive knowledge of the field or fields of study, such knowledge to be demonstrated through a candidacy examination. It also requires the completion of a research project culminating in a dissertation which meets the requirements and standards of Graduate Programs. This dissertation must contain original work, and must be a significant and original contribution to knowledge in the candidate's field(s) of study. It must contain evidence of broad knowledge of the relevant literature, and must demonstrate a critical understanding of the works of scholars eminent in the field(s) related to the dissertation. The dissertation should, in the opinion of scholars in the field(s), merit publication, in whole or in part.

The general style and form of dissertations may differ from program to program, but all dissertations must be presented in a form which constitutes a connected and continuous text. The dissertation may contain material previously published by the candidate, whether alone or in conjunction with others. Such previously published material must be fully integrated into the dissertation. In such cases, the candidate's own work must be clearly distinguished from that of other researchers. The candidate is responsible at the final oral examination for defense of the entire contents of the dissertation.

Before beginning to write the dissertation, the candidate should obtain a copy of the Formatting Guidelines For Graduate Dissertations, Theses, Projects & Practicum Reports from the Office of Graduate Programs; this document specifies the academic and technical requirements necessary to ensure that the work is acceptable to the University and to the National Library of Canada.

7.4 Language Requirements

A Doctoral program may require a reading knowledge of one or more languages other than English. Language requirements will be set for individual students by their supervisory committees according to the regulations of the Programs and shall as a rule be geared to the individual research requirements of each candidate. Where language requirements are set, they shall be considered part of the student's program, and must be met at the latest before the student defends the dissertation.

7.5 Course Transfer

On the recommendation of the Program concerned, the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate may accept courses taken at other recognized universities for credit towards a Doctoral program. However, at least half of the courses taken for the degree must be taken as a graduate student at the University of Northern British Columbia.

7.7.2 If a degree is not awarded within seven years of the first registration, the student will be withdrawn from the program. Under exceptional circumstances, time extensions may be granted by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate. Such requests for time extension must be made in writing to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Office of Graduate Programs prior to the end of the semester in which the student's time limit expires. The request must include a timeline for the completion of the degree, accompanied by supporting documentation from the student's supervisor.

7.8 Academic Supervision (Doctorate)

7.8.1 Supervision Each Doctoral candidate has, at the time of their application for admission, identified and gained the agreement of a member of faculty to act as supervisor. Subject to an offer of admission to the program, the agreement is approved by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate.

The Supervisor must be aware of, and adhere to, the various and relevant university regulations; must provide guidance to the student on the nature of research, the standards required, the adequacy of the student's progress, and the quality of the student's work; and must be accessible to the student to give advice and constructive criticism.

The Supervisor and student must maintain contact through regular meetings. Supervisors who expect to be absent from the University for an extended period of time (including during sabbaticals) must make suitable arrangements (including the appointment of a temporary replacement if appropriate) with the student and the Chair of the program, or if applicable the chair of graduate committee for the continued supervision of the student, or must request that the Program or College nominate another Supervisor to be approved by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate.

A member of a supervisory committee who has an adjunct or emeritus positions with UNBC cannot be the sole supervisor of a graduate student. A faculty member who leaves UNBC cannot remain as a sole supervisor for a graduate student. The chair of the degree program will be expected to ensure that a new supervisor or co-supervisor is appointed from existing faculty. All such changes require the approval of the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate who may recommend further changes of the supervisor or supervisory committee.

7.8.2 Supervisory Committee Each student has a supervisory committee nominated by the chair of the program, or if applicable, the chair of the graduate committee and approved by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate. The chair of this committee will be the supervisor.

The duties of the committee include recommending a program of study chosen in conformity with degree program requirements, supervising the dissertation, and participating in a final oral examination. The committee may conduct other examinations, and recommends to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate whether or not a degree shall be awarded to the candidate.

7.9 Doctoral Candidacy Examination

...
~~When a student has successfully completed the candidacy examination, the chair of the program, or if applicable the Chair of Graduate Committee is responsible for sending confirmation signed by all members of the supervisory committee to the Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate.

7.10 Final Oral Examinations (Doctorate)

All Doctoral programs require a final oral examination. The regulations for such examinations are the same as for Master's programs, except as noted below.

7.10.1 Formation of the Examining Committee The final oral examining committee for the Doctoral degree shall consist of the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate as Chair, the supervisory committee, and an external examiner from outside the university, who will normally attend the oral examination. At a minimum, the people attending the defence in person must be the student, supervisor (or one of the co-supervisors), the external examiner and one committee member.

Before the dissertation is forwarded to the external examiner, doctoral supervisory committee members shall each declare in writing to the supervisor and the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Office of Graduate Programs either that the dissertation is of adequate substance to warrant that the student proceed to the final examination or that the dissertation is unsatisfactory and that the student should not be allowed to proceed to the final oral examination. An evaluation of the dissertation's merits and deficiencies should accompany the declaration. A declaration of satisfactory does not constitute final approval of the dissertation. A judgement of unsatisfactory performance by a doctoral supervisory committee member will be reviewed by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate, but normally constitutes grounds for not sending a copy of the dissertation to the external examiner.

7.10.2 External Examiner A distinguished scholar with particular experience both in the field of the dissertation research and in supervising doctoral students shall be chosen as the external examiner.

The proposed external examiner must be in a position to review the dissertation objectively and to provide a critical analysis of the work and the presentation. It is therefore essential that the external examiner not have a current or previous association with the student, the supervisor, or the graduate program which would hinder this type of objective analysis. The external examiner should hold a PhD and an appointment with a recognized university or be a recognized scholar in their field, and have no past, current or planned involvement or association with the student or the supervisor. The supervisor and the student must submit a declaration to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Office of Graduate Programs that neither party has performed collaborative research work with the external examiner within the last five years. The external examiner is required to attend the defence in person.

The external examiner is from outside UNBC and has no association with the program, supervisor or doctoral student. Ideally, they should be at associate or full professor rank if they are at a university or be of comparable stature if they are not at a university.

The student's supervisory committee recommends the external examiner, and the supervisor then makes an informal inquiry as to the prospective external examiner's willingness to serve. If the individual is prepared to serve, the nomination is then made by the supervisor supported by the appropriate ~~Chair~~Chair to the Dean of Graduate Programs Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate who makes the formal invitation to the external examiner.

The formal request for defence shall be made to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Office of Graduate Programs no less than eight weeks before the chosen date of defence. The application will only be considered for approval if certain conditions have been fulfilled including the approval of the external examiner and the identification of an appropriate defence date.

The ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate will request that the external examiner provide a detailed report on the merits and deficiencies of the dissertation, as well as an overall evaluation using the same categories as those used by internal examiners. The external examiner is requested to present the report to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Office of Graduate Programs within one month of the receipt of the dissertation. Adequate time must be allowed for the transmission of the dissertation and the receipt of the report. A judgement of unsatisfactory performance by the external examiner will be reviewed by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate, but normally constitutes a failed attempt of the dissertation defence.

7.10.3 Changes in the Examining Committee The ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate must also approve changes to the membership of the examining committee. No changes shall be made to the examining committee after the dissertation is distributed by the Office of Graduate Programs to the committee for examination. Should the dissertation not be submitted for examination within 12 months after the appointment of the examining committee, the committee appointment will lapse and a new appointment shall be necessary.

7.10.5 Guidelines For Advancement to the Oral Examination When considering the candidate's advancement to the final oral examination, the doctoral supervisory committee members may wish to use the following guidelines:

- a. If all the reports judge the dissertation to be satisfactory, advancement to the oral examination should be automatic. The Office of Graduate Programs shall send copies of all reports to each doctoral supervisory committee member and also to the candidate.
- b. If one or more of the reports judge the dissertation to need major revisions, the Office of Graduate Programs shall send copies of all the reports to doctoral supervisory committee member and the Graduate Program Chair. Two copies of all the reports are sent to the supervisor who shall provide one copy to the candidate. The doctoral supervisory committee members should strive to provide the supervisor and the candidate with specific advice about the nature and scope of the revisions required and any other pertinent matters (such as the time that should elapse before the dissertation will be accepted for reconsideration).
- c. If the doctoral supervisory committee members judge an unfavorable report by an external examiner to be unwarranted, they may recommend, through the Graduate Program Chair, that the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Office of Graduate Programs submit the dissertation to a second external examiner.

7.10.6 Requirements Prior to Oral Examination Scheduling The examination will normally be held at the Prince George Campus. Exceptions must have the unanimous agreement of all doctoral supervisory committee members and the student. Normally, the oral examination shall be open to all members of the University of Northern British Columbia community. In exceptional cases, the final oral examination may be closed, for example, when the results of the dissertation research must be kept confidential for a period of time. In such cases, the doctoral supervisory committee members and Graduate Program Chair shall recommend such action to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate who may then approve that the final oral examination be closed to all but the examining committee and the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs (or designate).

7.10.9 Report of the Committee The final judgment of the examiners on the dissertation and the oral examination shall be reported to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Office of Graduate Programs in the term "pass" or "fail". The criteria for the nature of the pass or fail are as previously detailed in section 4.5.4. The dissertation must be passed by the external examiner and a majority of members of the examining committee. In the case of a failure for the dissertation at the PhD level a detailed written report will be prepared by the Chair and made available to the candidate and also submitted to the Office of Graduate Programs.

A student who receives a failure on either the dissertation or the oral examination twice shall be required to withdraw from his/her doctoral program.

V. General Academic Regulations

10. Registration After the Published Revision Deadline Date

No graduate student is permitted to alter their registration for any course after the last date to revise registration as published in the Calendar except on the express written permission of the instructor and the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate.

11. Change of Grade after Submission of Final Grades

Except for grade changes resulting from formal Academic Appeal, any changes in final grade after the initial grade submission must be transmitted to the Office of the Registrar ~~through the Dean of Graduate Programs~~.

12. Repeating Courses

Graduate students may not repeat graduate courses except under exceptional circumstances and only with the approval of the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate on the recommendation of the supervisory committee. In the event that a course is repeated, it is the second grade earned which will be used in the grade point average calculation.

17. Academic Distinction

Each year a very small number of students will be graduated with Distinction. Selection criteria take into account the student's overall academic record and, as appropriate, the quality of the thesis; and are applied by a Dean's Committee on Graduate Honours chaired by the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate. Students do not apply for graduation with distinction.

33. Appeals Concerning Academic Program Matters

In the case of appeals concerning matters other than those listed above, the following procedures shall be followed:

- a. The student must meet with the supervisor, or the supervisory committee, or the Chair of the Program as appropriate (or, if the instructor is also the supervisor, the Chair, or, if the Chair is the supervisor, the College Dean, or, if the College Dean is the supervisor, the Provost) in an attempt to resolve the matter. Within 5 days of the meeting, the Chair of the Program (or College Dean) must send a written report of the meeting to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Office of Graduate Programs, with a copy to the student. The report shall notify the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Office of Graduate Programs of the particulars of the case, and of the result of the meeting.
- b. If, after the process set out in 26.a) is completed, the student is unsatisfied with the result and wishes to continue the appeal, a written notice of the student's intention must be sent to the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate within 15 days of receiving the letter from the Chair or other appropriate official. The ~~Dean~~The Vice President or designate will acknowledge receipt of the notice within 5 days of receiving it.
- c. The ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate will conduct an investigation of the matter. In the course of this investigation, ~~the Dean may ask for~~ written reports from each member of the Committee may be requested. Committee members may submit reports even if not asked to do so. Copies of all reports will be made available to the student. After reviewing these reports, the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate will come to one of the following decisions:
  - i. If ~~the Dean~~the Vice President is convinced that the process was appropriate, and that the reports clearly indicate academic deficiencies on the part of the student for which the original decision which led to the appeal was appropriate and reasonable, the ~~Dean~~Vice President may decide to uphold the decision.
  - ii. If the ~~Dean~~Vice President is convinced that the examination or other assessment process was flawed or improper, the ~~Dean~~Vice President may order a re-examination or other re-evaluation as appropriate. The new examination or evaluation will be conducted either by the same examining committee as the original one, or by a new one, as deemed appropriate by the ~~Dean~~Vice President.
  - iii. If the ~~Dean~~Vice President is convinced that the examination or other process was correct, but that factors other than academic merit may have influenced the decision, the ~~Dean~~Vice President may order a re-examination or a re-evaluation, as he/she deems appropriate. The new examination or evaluation will be conducted either by the same examining committee as the original one, or by a new one, as deemed appropriate by the ~~Dean~~Vice President.
  - iv. If the ~~Dean~~Vice President is convinced that a new examination or evaluation is unlikely to resolve the issue, or if the result of the new examination or evaluation is appealed, he/she may, with the consent of the Program, appoint external assessors to evaluate the student's performance.
  - v. In all cases concerning appeals, a further appeal may be made to the Senate Committee on Academic Appeals which shall deal with it according to its rules of procedure (see Academic Regulation 28).

34. Appeals Concerning Academic Relationships

Appeals may arise out of other difficulties involving the academic relationship between students and faculty members. It is sometimes necessary, for instance, for a student to change supervisors, or a student may have other difficulties with a supervisor, or a student may have difficulties of a personal nature with a faculty member. Because the personal and professional relationship between student and faculty member can become entangled, and because problems of this sort can be perceived as potentially career-threatening by a student, there is a need for a process by which a student can seek mediation and resolution in such cases. Because each is different, and because a formal committee procedure as outlined under Academic Regulation 24 may not be appropriate in such cases, the following procedure shall be followed:

- a. A student experiencing such difficulties should attempt to resolve them informally at the level of the individual instructor or the Program Chair.
- b. If this cannot be done, or if the nature of the problem is such that the student does not wish to attempt it, the student should seek the advice of the ~~Dean of Graduate~~ ~~Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs or designate, who shall follow one of the following procedures:

- i. If the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs thinks it advisable, the ~~Dean~~Vice President shall seek to bring about a solution through informal means.
- ii. If in the opinion of the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs the complaint is invalid, the ~~Dean of Graduate Programs~~Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs shall advise the student of this opinion, and take no further action.
- iii. If in the opinion of the ~~Dean~~Vice President the complaint is valid but an informal solution is unlikely, or if the ~~Dean~~Vice President has attempted an informal solution and has failed, he/she shall advise the student of this fact.
- iv. In the case of 31.b) ii) and 31.b) iii), the student may choose not to proceed further, or the student may choose to proceed with the matter. In the latter case, the student shall make a written complaint, through the Registrar, to the Senate Committee on Academic Appeals which shall consider it according to its rules of procedure.

1.2 GRE Requirement for Graduate Programs

~~The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is prepared and scored by the~~ GRE Board and Educational Testing

Service. ~~Applications are available from: Graduate Record Examinations, Box 6000, Princeton, NJ 08541-6000, USA, or from the University's Counselling Services.~~ UNBC's institution code is 0320. The GRE is used widely by universities to supplement undergraduate records and other qualifications for admission to graduate study.

~~GRE requirements are prescribed by individual programs.~~ For some programs, completion of the examination is may be mandatory. Applicants are advised to check program listings for detailed information. However, the ~~Office of Graduate Programs~~ University of Northern British Columbia reserves the right to require a GRE score (on Subject and General Tests) for any applicant. Voluntary submission of a GRE score may facilitate the admission process.

Admission Requirements

In addition to the admission application requirements outlined in Section 1.0 of the Graduate Academic Calendar, applicants are required to hold a four-year Baccalaureate degree (or equivalent) from a recognized institution in Engineering or related area. Acceptance to the MASc program is contingent upon the prospective student finding a member of the faculty to serve as her/his supervisor. Applicants must provide a completed Teaching Assistantship Application and a completed Funding Worksheet. Both forms are included with the application material for this program.

Applicants are required to provide three letters of recommendation. Normally, at least two of the three letters, exclusive of any letter provided by an intended supervisor, must be from individuals who are able to comment on the applicant's academic and research potential.

Application deadlines are found in this calendar under "Semester Dates" or online at www.unbc.ca/calendar/graduate, under "Semester Dates." The Master of Applied Science Program accepts students for the September, January, and May Semesters.

For additional information about graduate admissions or to download application materials, go to the Graduate Programs website at www.unbc.ca/graduate-programs.

Transfer Students

On the recommendation of the program, the Dean of Graduate Programs may accept courses taken at other institutions for credit toward a UNBC graduate program. At the time of application, it is recommended applicants clearly state in a letter the intent to transfer courses and identify the courses to be considered for possible transfer.

Normal Time Required for Completion

Normally, the degree should be completed within two years. Students may take longer to complete the degree depending on their personal circumstances and the nature of their research or Project involvement.

Committee Structure

Students are advised by a supervisory committee consisting of at least three members, including the academic supervisor who will serve as the chair of the committee. At least one of the committee members must be from outside the student's program. The committee will be struck during the student's first semester of study.

* Applications for admission should be submitted as early as possible to the Office of the Registrar. Incomplete applications and applications received after the deadlines will be considered late and may not be processed in time to permit admission.

** Applications for admission are accepted for one semester only. Applicants must indicate whether they are applying to the May or September Semester.

Admission to a Graduate Program is valid only for the semester indicated in the letter of offer of admission.

The University of Northern British Columbia specifically reserves the right to exercise its sole, absolute, and unfettered discretion in admitting individuals to the University, its programs, or courses.

Applicants who have been offered admission to a graduate program must indicate, in writing, their intention to accept or decline the offer of admission within 30 days. Failure to notify the University may result in cancellation of the offer of admission.

In order to be considered for admission to Graduate Programs, all applicants must provide the following to the Office of the Registrar by the deadlines noted above:

1. Application form for admission to Graduate Programs.
2. Application fee.
3. Document evaluation fee (if applicable). Please see Fees.
4. Three assessment reports (letters of reference) sent directly to UNBC from the referees.
5. Official transcripts (one copy) from all post-secondary institutions attended.
6. Statement of Academic Interests (letter of intent).
7. Official English Language Test Scores (required for applicants whose first language is NOT English) sent directly to UNBC from the testing agencies.

The following programs require the submission of additional application material in order to complete the application: Business Administration; Community Health Science; Development Economics; Disability Management; Education (Counselling); Engineering; English; Health Sciences; History; Interdisciplinary Studies; International Studies; Mathematical, Computer, and Physical Sciences; Natural Resources and Environmental Studies; Nursing and Family Nurse Practitioner; Psychology; and Social Work. 12.1 Faculty Appointments on non-Senate University Committees

Dr. Weeks reported that a call for nominations went out last week for three faculty positions on the Search Committee for the Provost and Vice President Academic. The Policy provides that Senate will appoint the faculty representatives. The Senate Committee on Nominations (SCN) has made appointments of Senators to University Committees, and of faculty to Senate Committees, however the SCN does not have a clear authority to appoint faculty; members to non-Senate Committees, either in the Senate Handbook or under the SCN's terms of reference.

There was general consensus among Senators that the Senate Committee on Nominations will review the nominations and put forward recommendations to Senate for approval, as the SCN does for Senate committee appointments.

A Senator noted that the Dean of Graduate Programs is listed as a member of the search committee.

A Senator noted that it is the responsibility of Senate under the University Act to recommend to the Board the composition of search committees. If changes are to be made, they should be brought to the January 2017 meeting of Senate.

A Senator suggested replacing the Dean of Graduate Programs with the Dean of Regional Programs on the search committee.

Notice of Motion

Whitcombe

That the Dean of Graduate Programs position listed on the policy on the Selection Procedures for the Search Committee for the Provost and Vice President Academic be changed to the Dean of Regional Programs. This change is to come forward to the January 25, 2017 Senate meeting.

A Senator asked what will happen to the search timeline if this motion is to come forward to the January Senate meeting.

Dr. Weeks replied the timeline would have to be adjusted accordingly. The search consultant is already in place, and the University will proceed when they can.

3.1 Students as Partners: Considerations for UNBC Report

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan noted that this item was on the agenda, at the request of Senate, to allow for further discussion of the recommendations in the Report.

Ms. Blanding reported that the Ad Hoc Committee on Students as Partners had met twice and are committed to meeting once a week for the foreseeable future. An initial report will be presented to Senate on February 22, 2017. Ms. Blanding suggested Senators familiarize themselves with the literature referenced in the Students as Partners Report.

Dr. Summerville noted that the Leadership and Governance course for students will start soon and a course syllabus has been developed.

There was a discussion of a motion that the Ad Hoc Committee on Students as Partners had submitted to the SCS to change the timing of student elections to Senate, so that new Senators would be elected earlier and there would be time for shadowing outgoing Senators.

The Motion is to be referred to the Senate Committee on Nominations for consideration of the current election rules in the Senate Handbook, logistics and timing. The motion may then come back to the SCS for the Senate agenda. The SCS did not put the motion on the agenda for the January meeting because of practical issues in implementing the change in election date.

Action Item: Ms. Howitt is to forward the motion from the Ad Hoc Committee on Students as Partners to the Senate Committee on Nominations for review.

4.0 President's Report

The Provost delivered a report on behalf of the President, which included an update on international strategies: UNBC is considering an opportunity to partner with an external party to host an international high school on campus. This would provide an opportunity for international students to study in English, in Prince George, and provide a potential pathway for international students to study at UNBC. This would also provide practicum opportunities for UNBC education students here and internationally. There would be a pilot project for 3-4 years. The partner would run the high school. Space on campus would be leased out appropriately. It is also potentially an economic driver for the community as well. The partner will be visiting the campus again, to further discuss feasibility of the initiative.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan noted that the new Registrar, Mr. Bert Annear, will begin March 1, 2017.

The Provost and the President continue to meet with various academic Programs.

Dr. Ryan reported that the Academic Planning Action Planning Groups are meeting on a regular basis. Reports from these groups should be ready in time for the April Senate meeting, and they are looking at opportunities to report to the entire University community, including Town Halls which are planned for February and March.

There will be a Budget Town Hall in early February to present ideas for the next budget.

Shad Valley is an organization that hosts students at summer camps at various universities across the country. They are considering UNBC as a potential host location.

Dr. Owen added that Winter 2017 semester head counts and FTEs are up by approximately 3%. For the Fall 2017 semester, applications are up 18-19%, and admissions are up 16.5% compared to the same time last year. Registration opens April 1, 2017.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Ms. McKenzie

The Report of the Registrar has been attached to the minutes as Appendix I.

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Keen

A question was raised with respect to speakers for the joint Board and Senate workshop and whether one of the speakers could be chosen by faculty.

The University Secretary noted that ideas were solicited and provided to the Chair and Vice Chair of Senate who met to discuss speakers.

The intent is that the Joint session will happen each year at the same time, and Senators can forward their ideas for speakers again in the fall.

A question was raised about the ratio of faculty members on search committees for senior administrators, The Senator noted that, at some of the other BC institutions, 40% of the search committees are made up of faculty, and the Senator asked about the process for making changes to increase the faculty representation on the search committees.

The Vice Chair noted that the University Act, provides, at section 27 (2) (f)

with the approval of Senate, the Board establishes procedures for the recommendation and selection of candidates for president, deans, librarians, registrar and other senior academic administrators as the board may designate.

It was suggested that Senate could discuss selection committees and their concerns at the February or March meeting under Other Business.

A Senator asked for more information about the proposal for the international high school initiative.

Dr. Ryan provided additional information: it would be a partnership. The partner runs many other schools like this outside of Canada. The intent is to have more international students enrolled at the University in the future who are well prepared to study in English.

A concern was expressed about English proficiency and a question was raised as to whether additional resources would be put into place to support students.

Dr. Ryan noted that these high school students would be taught for four years in English and primarily by Canadian teachers.

A Senator expressed a concern about space and asked how many students would attend this high school.

Dr. Ryan noted that during the pilot phase there could initially be 50-100 students, that space would be leased, and if the project is successful the partner would build their own facility at the Prince George campus.

A Senator asked who is responsible for recruitment of students in the USA. He asked if anything had been done to advertise more in the USA.

Dr. Owen replied that they are working with the Office of University Advancement. There is a meeting scheduled later in the week to address that question, and there has been an increase in the number of American students wanting to study at UNBC.

8.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda Dr. Keen

There were no motions on the consent agenda.

9.0 Committee Reports

9.1 Senate Committee on Academic Affairs (no material) Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan reported that SCAAF met on January 4, 2017, but the motions presented to the Committee were referred back to the program chairs for clarification and revision.

Dr. Weeks

The 2017 BC Provincial Government Budget was announced on February 21, 2017. The Presidents of the BC research universities met on February 22, 2017 to discuss the impact of the budget on post-secondary institutions

Dr. Weeks reported that discussions had begun on the University's budget and that the University community will be provided opportunities to provide feedback ..

Dr. Weeks will not be at the March Senate meeting as he will be on another recruiting effort in China. He will also be attending the first UNBC Alumni Event in Hong Kong.

The Master of Applied Science in Engineering Degree was approved by the Board on February 3, 2017. The University is now determining whether a full DQAB submission is required.

Dr. Weeks provided Senate with an update on progress that had been made on some of the recommendations from the Students as Partners Report: Dr. Summerville is offering the first iteration of the Leadership Course this semester; The nomination call for student positions on Senate went out early; Student leaders are making additional efforts to increase awareness about leadership opportunities available to students; The student leaders will be holding a Student Governance Town Hall on February 24, 2017 where they will talk about leadership opportunities available to students; After elections, the University Secretary and Governance Officer will offer an orientation session to new Senators before they attend their first Senate meeting, and; The student leadership bursary proposal is currently with the Financial Aid office and will go forward to the Senate Committee on Scholarships and Bursaries and then to Senate.

The President of the University of Regina, Vianne Timmons, will be giving two presentations on May 4th at UNBC. One presentation will be on the University of Regina's work on enhancing First Nations offerings and reconciliation issues on their campus, and the other presentation will be on Women in Leadership and Academia. The events are sponsored by the Office of the President.

There was recently an article in the local press about UNBC exploring the possibility of an international high school at the Prince George campus. The proposal is in the early planning stages. The University has not been presented with a business plan yet. As the plan moves ahead, the University community will be provided opportunities for consultation before a decision is made.

Dr. Weeks thanked Senators for participating in the joint Board/Senate dinner and workshop on February 2 and 3rd.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan reported that the budget was presented to the Senior Leadership Forum on February 21st. The tentative timeline for the upcoming budget consultations and engagement sessions is as follows:

- February 23, 2017 – the Senate Committee on the University Budget
- Shortly after February 23, 2017 - the Finance and Audit Committee
- March 8, 2017 – the Senior Leadership Forum
- March 10, 2017 - UNBC Town Hall
- March 22, 2017 - Senate
- March 29, 2017 - the Finance and Audit committee
- March 31, 2017 - the Board (for approval)

The Academic Planning Groups spent time reviewing data initially collected. The tentative timeline for the Academic Planning Groups is as follows:

- February 24, 2017 from 1:00 - 4:30 p.m. – There will be an overview and engagement session for the University Community with each of the Academic Planning Groups
- March 7 and 8, 2017 – There will be engagement sessions with faculty.
- March 24, 2017 - The Academic Planning Groups will meet together to review their respective recommendations as some recommendations may be similar.
- March 28 to April 19, 2017 – further engagement sessions (specific dates TBD).
- April 26 to May 10, 2017 –The Academic Planning Groups will meet and make further revisions to their recommendations.
- On May 24, 2017 – The Academic Planning Groups will make a presentation on their final recommendations to Senate.

Dr. Owen gave an enrollment report. At the undergraduate level, applications are down slightly, but admissions are up by 20 % compared to the same time last year. As of last week, 1125 students were admitted at the undergraduate level. At the graduate level, there has been an increase in applications and admissions. Admissions are up 26 % over the same time last year. The University needs to continue to drive more applications and admissions.

Between February 9, 2016 to February 9, 2017, Dr. Owen reported that 389 USA prospects were entered into the University's system compared to the prior year and a half time period when there were 132 American prospects. A majority of the effort was made in Northern California. In regard to the 'Trump effect', no impact has been reported to Recruitment or International Education. For the 2017/2018 calendar year, there are currently 44 American students admitted to UNBC and a majority of them are from Northern California.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Ms. McKenzie

Ms. McKenzie reported that a call for nominations was sent to faculty and students on February 10, 2017. There are 9 faculty positions and 10 student positions with terms that will end on March 31st. The deadline for nominations is 2:00 pm on February 24th. Nomination forms can be submitted electronically or at the Office of the Registrar. Elections will take place March 13th and 14th if required. There will also be approximately 50 Senate committee positions with terms ending March 31st.

The May 2017 schedule is out. There are still a couple of field schools that will be published once details are finalized.

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Weeks

Dr. Weeks noted there were no questions submitted before the Senate meeting.

The Senate thanked Ms. McKenzie on her last Senate meeting as the Interim Registrar and Secretary of Senate. The new Registrar, Mr. Bert Annear, will begin on March 1, 2017.

A Senator enquired about the University's progress with recommendations from the Truth and Reconciliation Report and other First Nations initiatives.

Dr. Weeks stated he continues to meet with the Senior Advisor to the President on Aboriginal Relations. They talked about developing a dashboard for UNBC on the efforts made around reconciliation and UNBC's participation. Vianne Timmons' visit is in part to continue the dialogue at UNBC. The President and Senior Advisor are also working on other engagements and presentations. The Provost Committee on Pedagogy Practices is looking at course content. There continues to be work done on MOUs with other related constituencies. UNBC was recently in the news regarding its participation in the language program and the funding associated with that program.

Ms. Sanford noted that the University is working on a partnership agreement with the National Center for Truth and Reconciliation.

Dr. Schorcht said the Indigenization Report from the SCFNAP subcommittee should be ready for the March Senate meeting.

A Senator asked if the proposal for the International High School will be brought to Senate for discussion as it sounds like there will be academic implications.

Dr. Weeks replied the timeline is difficult to predict as the discussions are still in the preliminary stages. If a proposal goes forward, there would likely be nothing coming forward to Senate prior to September 2017. The earliest start date would be September 2018.

A Senator noted that the Respect in the Workplace Policy on the UNBC website has been under review as of 2013/2014. The Senator asked where the University is at with the policy.

Ms. Daigle stated the Respect in the Workplace Policy is required under the WCB legislation for workplaces to deal with bullying and harassment. The policy was drafted quickly and Ms. Daigle has been told there was some, but not enough, discussion. It is under review as are a number of other policies. Consultation on the policy will continue. It is on the top of the priority list along with a number of safety policies.

A Senator asked if Senate could state a position on events like those happening now in the USA regarding Islamophobia to indicate to students UNBC is a safe place.

Dr. Weeks said this could happen in different ways. Dr. Weeks spoke out quickly after the recent travel ban. When there is an acute or sudden event and there needs to be an instant response, either the President or the Board Chair would respond. If there is a sufficient, grass root movement, the President would speak to the Board Chair about supporting the University on a topic. The University needs to be careful to not react to every turn of events.

With the potential of the travel ban being implemented again, a Senator asked if the University is prepared to target recruitment in the countries affected by the ban.

Dr. Weeks indicated that UNBC will be putting application fee waivers in place for people from countries affected by the travel ban as soon as possible. Those markets are targeted by the University through various agents. There are currently offers out to students in Mexico and Bangladesh.

Dr. Owen stated UNBC does not receive a lot of undergraduate or graduate application from the countries effected by the travel ban. The University has agents that work in those countries and have reached out to them to see if there are more things the University can be doing. When the original travel ban was put in place, the Chancellor also offered support through his law firm to anyone at UNBC impacted by the ban. To date, no students have come forward to say they are impacted by the travel ban. Dr. Owen asked Senators to let them know if they hear of anyone requiring support. There is a program in Mexico where many students were being sent to the USA to study. The program is now shifting their focus to Canada. The British Columbia Council on International Education has contacted UNBC to explore partnerships as well.

A Senator said the President received a letter from the Faculty Association asking for regular meetings between the President and the FA President to resume.

Dr. Weeks stated he meets regularly with the FA President to talk about a number of issues. Beyond that, he would not comment on matters regarding labour relations that are outside the scope of responsibility of Senate. The FA President is welcome to contact the President about matters concerning the UNBC community anytime.

In regard to the issue of the executive orders from Trump on the travel ban, the Chancellor stated the offer to help anyone on Senate or the broader UNBC community requiring pro bono help is a standing offer.

The Chancellor stated that the Federal Government budget may come down the second or third week of March. It has been speculated that the government will be more definitive than they have been in the past on innovation clusters around Canada. A lot of money is being considered in that space. This will affect every provincial budget on the infrastructure side in terms of how they will align with the Federal government on innovation. The University needs to do some intelligence seeking and inventory of the infrastructure asks being made by the larger post-secondary institutions and those of comparable size to UNBC. When the federal budget is introduced, UNBC will then be better prepared to have the conversations they need to have to compete.

Dr. Weeks and Dr. Payne are working within the province to gather this type of intelligence. Dr. Weeks has been arguing strongly in BC, that the research universities should work together on a cluster ask. The Vice President of Research and Graduate Programs is on a couple of committees working on this. Hopefully there will be an announcement at the BC Tech Summit on some of the asks the province will be funding to better align with what will come in the federal budget.

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the changes to the Immunizations section under the Admission Requirements for the Post-Diploma Baccalaureate Nursing Program on page 175 of the 2016/2017 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2017

CARRIED (consent agenda)

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~striketrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

Admission Requirements

Applicants must:

- meet UNBC admission requirements
- submit official transcript(s) from diploma program
- provide evidence of active and continuing registration as a nurse in British Columbia. Annual documentation of current, practising CRNBC licensure is required while enrolled in the program.

Immunization

Once accepted to the Post-Diploma Baccalaureate Nursing Program, all students must complete and submit the specified immunization forms prior to commencing a course with a clinical component. Failure to do so may result in the student not being allowed to practice in the clinical setting. ~~Current status for the following immunizations is strongly recommended: diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles, mumps, rubella, hepatitis B and varicella. A Mantoux test (PPD) for tuberculosis is also strongly recommended.~~

In order to meet the graduation requirements for the BScN, the post-RN student must successfully complete the following courses:

Effective date: May 2017

CARRIED

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

The Master of Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (MNRES) is designed to integrate the complementary aspects of resource and environmental issues. It focuses on an interdisciplinary approach to melding traditional science with social science perspectives, and resource planning and management. This degree is designed to attract students ~~from~~ with a diverse range of backgrounds and aspirations, who share an interest in looking beyond traditional disciplinary boundaries.

The MNRES degree is one Master's degree route within the Natural Resources and Environmental Studies Graduate Program (the others are an MA and an MSc). The MNRES is the only one of the three degrees that fully embraces the interdisciplinary philosophy of the Faculty. There are three factors that determine whether a student pursues the MNRES degree: 1) student's background; 2) elective courses undertaken at UNBC; and 3) thesis topic. Depending on individualized learning objectives, the MNRES degree allows flexibility in choosing a research emphasis in the social, planned or natural environments from an interdisciplinary perspective.

All students must complete Graduate Colloquia (NRES 701-.5) ~~twice~~ during their course of studies, take a course in integrated resource management (NRES 703-3), complete NRES 700-3 and complete a research methods course approved by their supervisor and the Chair of the NRES Graduate Program. These required courses provide students with an informed, integrated base for understanding multi-faceted resource and environmental issues. Elective courses provide students with the opportunity to pursue their specialized interests within an interdisciplinary context. The MNRES degree also requires the completion of an independent research thesis (NRES 792-12) or ~~non-thesis~~ project (NRES 793-6).

Thesis Option

Students pursuing the MNRES thesis route must write and defend an independent research thesis (NRES 792-12) which incorporates research design and implementation addressing an integrated research problem. Candidates must complete a minimum of 3 elective credit hours at the graduate level (i.e., at or above the 600 level) that emphasize an integrated approach to natural resource issues. A maximum of 3 credit hours from independent studies can be counted towards the elective requirement. Specific details of course work are determined by the research area chosen by each student. The supervisory committee will ensure the appropriate selection of elective courses, and may require a student to complete more than 3 credit hours if weaknesses in the student's background exist (including undergraduate prerequisites for graduate courses) or if additional courses are required for professional accreditation.

Summary of Thesis Option

Core Courses	19 credit hours
NRES 700-3 Research in Natural Resources and Environmental Studies
NRES 701-.5 Graduate Colloquia (taken twice)
NRES 703-3 Integrated Resource Management
NRES 792-12 Master of Natural Resources and Environmental Studies Thesis
Methods Course	3 credit hours
Elective Courses	3 credit hours
MNRES Thesis	12 credit hours
Total Required	25 credit hours

~~Non-Thesis Project Option~~

~~The non-thesis project option is designed primarily for students who wish to enhance their professional career~~

skills. Students pursuing this option must complete a project (NRES 793-6) —an extended position paper, report, or plan—that addresses a major problem or issue relevant to the field of natural resources and environmental studies. Candidates must complete a minimum of 9 credit hours of approved elective courses at graduate level (i.e., at or above the 600 level) that result in a broad, well-informed and integrated exposure to natural resources and environmental issues. A maximum of 3 credit hours from independent studies can be counted towards the elective requirement. The supervisory committee will ensure appropriate elective course selection, and may require a student to complete more than 9 credit hours if weaknesses in the student's background exist (including undergraduate prerequisites for graduate courses) or if additional courses are required for professional accreditation.

Students are required to pass an evaluation of the project set by the supervisory committee.

Summary of Project Option

Core Courses	13 credit hours
NRES 700-3 Research in Natural Resources and Environmental Studies
NRES 701-.5 Graduate Colloquia (taken twice)
NRES 703-3 Integrated Resource Management
NRES 793-6 Master of Natural Resources and Environmental Studies Non-Thesis Project
Methods Course	3 credit hours
Elective Courses	9 credit hours
MNRES Project — 6 credit hours
Total Required	25 credit hours

Recommended Progression

The normal time for completion of the MNRES is two academic years. While this two years is the recommended timeline, it may be adjusted at the discretion of the supervisory committee to suit a particular student's research and program needs.

Research in Natural Resources and Environmental Studies (NRES 700-3) is offered annually in the September Semester. Students normally enrol in this course in Year I of their program. This timing allows students to pursue their area of specialization with a methods course or elective courses during the September Semester in order to develop an interest-specific framework within which to pose methodological questions for the thesis proposal.

The Graduate Colloquia (NRES 701-.5) taken twice) is offered during the September and January Semesters. Electives, the required methods course, and Integrated Resource Management (NRES 703-3) may be taken at any time during Years I and II. The sequencing of courses is determined by the student in discussion with the supervisory committee. Over the September and January Semesters of Year I, the student, under the direction of the supervisory committee, develops a thesis or project proposal. By the end of the second semester, the student should have successfully defended the thesis or project proposal to the supervisory committee, allowing the student to undertake the collection of data during the summer of Year I. The student is expected to have successfully defended the thesis by the end of Year II.

Admission Requirements

In addition to the admission application requirements outlined in Section 1.0 of the Graduate Academic Calendar, acceptance to the MNRES program ~~will be~~ is contingent upon the prospective student finding a member of the faculty to serve as her/his supervisor. Applicants must also provide a completed ~~Continuing Teaching Assistantship~~ Application and a completed Funding Worksheet. Both forms are included with the application material for this program. Normally, at least two of the three letters of recommendation, exclusive of any letter provided by an intended supervisor, must be from individuals who are able to comment on the applicant's academic and research potential.

Application deadlines are found in this calendar under "Semester Dates" or online at: www.unbc.ca/calendar/graduate, also under "Semester Dates." The Natural Resources and Environmental Studies MNRES Program accepts students for the September, January, and May Semesters.

For additional information about graduate admissions or to download application materials, go to the Graduate Programs website at www.unbc.ca/graduateprograms.

Transfer Students

On the recommendation of the program ~~concerned~~, the Dean of Graduate Programs may accept courses taken at other institutions for credit toward a UNBC graduate program.

Normal Time Required for Completion

Normally, the degree should be completed in two years. Part-time students may take longer to complete the degree depending on their personal circumstances, and the nature of their research involvement.

Committee Structure

Students ~~will be~~ are advised by a supervisory committee consisting of at least three members, including the academic supervisor who ~~will~~ serves as the chair of the committee. At least one of the committee members must be from outside of the student's program. The committee ~~will be~~ is struck during the student's first term of study.

A Senator stated that last year Senate learned there was a healthy surplus of scholarship money. He asked where the University was at in terms of the balance for scholarship funds.

Dr. Weeks said the money set aside for scholarships and bursaries remains healthy.

A Senator stated admissions for graduate students go out and many of the students have above a 4.00 GPA. Most of those students would likely be eligible for a scholarship, but it may take a month or two after they get an admissions letter for them to find out about a scholarship. The Senator stated that students likely make their decision about attending UNBC based on those scholarship decisions. Are there opportunities in the future to make those two decisions appear closer together or at the same time?

Dr. Owen said ideally admission and scholarship decisions should be made at the same time, but it will take time to get there.

Dr. Weeks stated the Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs, the Vice Provost Student Recruitment and the Registrar need to work on getting this in sync as it will help in converting admissions to registrations. .

Dr. Payne said there are extra funding levers as Graduate Programs now fall under the Vice President Research and Graduate Programs. They can exhaust what is available through the current scholarship program and then provide additional funding as well. This would improve the conversion rate for graduate students .

Dr. Weeks asked the Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs, the Vice Provost Student Recruitment and the new Registrar to have a conversation about this and report back to Senate on efforts to align admissions and scholarship notification.

9.8 Students as Partners (Ad Hoc Committee)*Ms. Blanding

A report from the Students as Partners Ad Hoc Committee was included in the meeting package.

Ms. Cunningham, President of NUGSS, was invited to speak about a few items not included in the Report by . She noted that there would be a Student Governance Town Hall on February 23, 2017, 11:30 a.m. – 1:30 p.m. in the Bentley Centre. It is open to all undergraduate and graduate students to learn about the governance structure at the university, prior to the upcoming elections. Student Senators, Student Board of Governors, members of the NUGSS executive and NBCGSS executive will give presentations about each of the governing bodies and answer questions.

Ms. Blanding said the Student Leadership Forum meets regularly to work collaboratively.

The mandate of the Students as Partners Ad Hoc Committee was to review the recommendations made in the Students as Partners Report written by Dr. Heather Smith. Ms. Blanding said that the committee will bring motions to the March Senate meeting.

Ms. Blanding presented Recommendation A from the Report. She stated the Students as Partners have discussed the recommendation with the Director of the CTLT. The suggested timeline for the first item is September 2017. The committee members felt the actions under the second bullet could be done before that deadline.

A Senator asked who would be doing the facilitation and what would the basis of that be.

Ms. Blanding replied there has been some discussion on facilitators. Dr. Summerville, Dr. H. Smith, and others have volunteered to facilitate sessions about the culture of students as partners in governance and the institution in general. Potential facilitators have been identified.

Dr. Weeks agreed with Dr. Casperson that if through discussion today, Senators and/or committee members want to act on the recommendations, then notices of motions should be put forth. Once those motions are brought to Senate and approved, then the process in which they are completed will be another conversation.

Ms. Sanford suggested she and Ms. Howitt attend the ad hoc committee’s next meeting and help frame and articulate the motions.

Ms. Blanding presented Recommendation B.

Dr. Weeks said he believes a response to this recommendation could be put into place easily.

A Senator asked if this is something that should be done annually at something like the annual joint Board and Senate meeting.

Ms. Blanding replied that at the end of the report, there are recommendations about the onboarding process. She said through discussion it has been realized that faculty would like more help with onboarding.

Mr. Searle stated he hopes with engagement in the Town Hall, that positions will be filled within the April timeframe, so having a session at that time would be best. Ideally, it would be good to have a session of this kind twice a year. Mr. Searle said the committee recognizes that it will take time to create this culture.

Ms. Blanding presented Recommendation C.

In regard to Recommendations C.2, a Senator pointed out that the University does not have a Dean's List at all, not even for academic achievement. He suggested that they look at a Dean's List for academics as well.

Dr. Weeks said they have been having a long term conversation with the NUGSS President about a Dean's List. The Provost has been engaged in those conversations. They are almost ready to move forward with such a recommendation .

Dr. Ryan said he has a meeting on February 23rd with the NUGSS President to look over some of the ideas. The idea was to start with the Dean's List for Academics as it is easier to define. It will still be a little while before it will be brought forward for consultation.

A Senator suggested a Chancellor's List instead with an annual lunch with the Chancellor.

Mr. Searle said considering how long things take to get done at the University, he put forward the following motion

Motion

Searle/Murphy

That the Senate Committee on Honorary Degrees and Other Forms of Recognition be tasked with looking at how to make Recommendation C happen and respond back to Senate.

There was a discussion as to the respective roles of the SCS and the SCHDSR on this. The Chair and Vice Chair felt the SCS should be tasked with this as it is not clear that the SCHDSR is the place for this recommendation to go.

A Senator said that the points under Recommendation C.2 fit under the mandate of the SCHDSR.

The SCHDSR will try to schedule a meeting in March and report back to Senate at the March 22nd meeting.

CARRIED

In regard to Recommendation C.4, a Senator asked for clarification about extra-curricular leadership at UNBC.

Mr. Searle replied that when they were first discussing this they were thinking of leadership in all facets of University life. It could be Senate, Senate committees, University clubs, peer tutoring, and any number of other things. Much like the Olasanmi, where students often come up with their own plan on the research they want to conduct, this could be an opportunity for students it take on leadership projects all over the institution.

A Senator asked if it could be outside of the institution.

Ms. Blanding replied that has yet to be determined. The idea of leadership at UNBC was how they defined leadership and it has yet to be part of the discussion.

A Senator stated that students involved in the Undergraduate Research Experience have a supervisor. He asked if they are thinking about something similar along those lines.

Ms. Blanding the discussion mirrored what is happening with the Undergraduate Research Experience.

Dr. Weeks said what they want recognized as leadership would need to be discussed by a committee over a period of a few meetings and it is a great idea.

In regard to Recommendation C.4, Dr. Weeks said the issue of the actual transcript and how that may be done was a topic during the interviews during the Registrar search. Co-curricular transcripts were discussed. Dr. Weeks suggested that the new Registrar reports to the Provost and the Provost will ask the Registrar to report to Senate what it would take to implement co-curricular transcripts.

A Senator pointed out the committee should be a sub-committee of SCAAF and not Senate which is charged with Academic Planning and is the body that should look at these things in the context on how such a transcript would fit into the bigger picture of the academic administration structure and academic affairs of the institution. SCAAF would then make the recommendation to Senate.

Dr. Casperson asked what this subcommittee should then bring to the March meeting. Should SCAAF be charged with exploring a co-circular committee or SCAAF be directed to create a sub-committee?

Dr. Whitcombe said the latter; SCAAF should be directed to create a sub-committee that would explore co-curricular transcripts at UNBC.

Ms. McKenzie said the Student as Partners may want to speak with Student Affairs or Student Life. They have a leadership program in place as well.

Ms. Blanding replied that the Assistant Director, Students Affairs is on the ad hoc committee.

Ms. Blanding presented Recommendation D.

Mr. Searle said a meet and greet for all Senators at the beginning of each term is important and should be easy to implement.

A Senator asked if there are other institutions that have their student society presidents on Senate as non-voting members.

Mr. Searle said they were not sure, but if not, UNBC could be a leader on that. He also said that in the University Act, there should be a 1:2:1 administration to faculty to student ratio for voting rights, but Senate ends up having a lot more administrators as non-voting members, so the voices in the room often do not reflect that 1:2:1 ratio. This could help balance that ratio.

Dr. Weeks pledged a meet and greet event will be created going forward and a motion was not necessary for this.

Ms. Blanding said specifically of the University Act 101, there was a request for a panel discussion because interpretation of the Act is diverse.

Ms. Blanding noted that the ad hoc committee meets weekly and welcomes communication. The ad hoc committee will bring forward motions for the March 22nd Senate meeting.

The Students as Partners: Considerations for UNBC Report officially received by Senate on December 14, 2016 was included in the meeting package for information.

Sexual Violence and Misconduct Policy - Update on Consultation Process

Dr. Wilson, the Chair of the Sexual Violence Steering Committee, stated the committee was tasked with developing the University's Sexual Violence and Misconduct Policy and Procedures as mandated by the provincial government. The committee will be using information gathered through consultations to inform and develop the policy. There are three parts to the consultation process.

A survey was recently sent UNBC students. About 500 students completed the survey.

A series of focus group consultations has been organized with students for the weeks of February 20th and 27th at the Prince George campus. There will also be consultations at the Quesnel and Terrace campuses.

Students can also participate in one on one interviews with the Executive Director of the Northern Women's Centre.

A student researcher has been hired to help compile the gathered information. The data will be used to help develop some recommendations that will inform the policy.

The committee anticipates consultation will end March 3rd. Then they will work on developing a policy over a two week period. The draft policy will be available to the UNBC community to review and provide feedback. The policy will go to Senate on March 22nd for discussion, and then go to the Board for approval on March 31st. The policy has to be in place by May.

The policy will be a living document. The University is mandated by the Province to have the policy in place in May. There will be opportunities to amend the policy and consult more widely beyond the student body.

Dr. Weeks said he pressed the minister recently and told him we want to get this right. He immediately responded that he understood the implications of the document and that there is a lot of behind the scenes work that needs to be done. He understands but he is set on the date.

Dr. Wilson stated he understands there are other stakeholders that will have to be consulted with in the future, but the primary mandate from the province was to consult with students.

A Senator asked if some kind of support will be on site or readily available as they move to use focus groups. Due to the nature of the discussions, the Senator was concerned some people may become traumatized during discussions.

Dr. Wilson responded that this was incorporated into the organization of the focus groups.

12.0 Other Business

12.1 Senior Administrator Selection Committees

A Senator stated at other BC research universities, the composition of faculty on senior administrator selection committees makes up 40 to 45 % of the composition of the committee. The Provost Selection Committee is made up of 20% faculty. To increase collegial governance, students and faculty should make up about 50% of the committee. The committees should ideally mirror the composition of Senate. Faculty and students should own some of the decisions that happen.

Notice of Motion

Menounos

To propose the ideal composition for senior academic administrator selection committees.

The Senator stated the selection committees should mirror the composition of Senate.

Ms. Sanford stated she pulled 17 separate UNBC policies for positions that would be deemed academic administrators. They were all passed by the Board and Senate over time. The faculty representation on the committees range from 3-6 members.

Dr. Weeks said it will be helpful to follow up. At SFU, the make-up of most of the committees were based upon the number of faculties and appointments from those positions. The mechanism for appointing people was not geared toward creating a particular percentage. It was by post, position and faculty of origin. If the goal was some sort of percentage, another mechanism would be needed.

The Senator said the easiest way would be to mirror Senate.

A Senator said perhaps the University will be able to go from 17 policies to 3 or 4.

The Senator said the FA President sits on the committees at either UBC or UVic.

4.0 President’s Report

The President attended Senate via teleconferencing from Hong Kong. He reported on communications with Universities Canada regarding the Federal budget released earlier in the day.

As it was the last Senate meeting for Dr. Owen as the Vice Provost Student Recruitment, Dr. Weeks thanked Dr. Owen for his service to UNBC.

Outgoing Senators were presented with certificates of appreciation signed by Dr. Weeks in recognition to their service on Senate. Dr. Weeks hopes this will be a lasting tradition, and he thanked the Senators for the dedication and service to UNBC.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

Dr. Ryan reported that the Academic Planning Groups were continuing to meet and have now presented their recommendations to each other, Work is being done to bring all of the committees’ recommendations together into one document, and then there will be further opportunities for engagement with the University Community. The Planning Groups are on track to make their presentations to Senate in May. Dr. Ryan thanked Ms. Patenaude for her work and dedication to the academic planning process.

Dr. Ryan also thanked Dr. Owen for all his work as Vice-Provost.

Dr. Ryan reported that the residences are on track to be full this coming academic year, and there could be a wait list.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Ms. McKenzie

Ms. McKenzie reported that after the recent elections, all faculty and student positions on Senate were filled. New Faculty members were elected to their positions by acclamation. Student elections were conducted electronically for the first time which resulted in a significant improvement in student engagement. No issues were reported with this first effort with electronic voting.

Senators whose terms on Senate committees end March 31st were asked to remain to in their positions until a successor is appointed. Most Senate committee appointments will come to Senate for approval in April.

7.0 Question Period

Dr. Keen

A Senator asked what the student voter turnout rate was for the Student Senate Elections.

Ms. McKenzie replied 12% of eligible graduate students voted and 16% of eligible undergraduate students voted.

A Senator asked if there was a plan to fill the Vice Provost Student Recruitment position.

Dr. Ryan replied that in the interim, the duties will be divided among people already working at the University to ensure initiatives continue to move forward. The intent at this point is to wait for the Academic Planning to be complete so that those recommendations can be considered in any restructuring of that position.

A Senator asked if the Director of International Education position will be filled.

Dr. Ryan indicated that the position remains open. As with the Vice-Provost position, the intent is to wait for the recommendations from Academic Planning. In the interim, a manager has been put in place.

A Senator asked how someone who is reading the Graduate Calendar could find out who the designate for the Vice Provost Student Recruitment will be.

Dr. Ryan stated Dr. Owen will be in the position until the end of March, and they will work out the transition plan by that time.

A Senator stated that at the Town Hall Dr. Ryan stated there was a safety audit and there were some non-compliance issues. The Senator wanted to know if there are any risks for the University community.

Dr. Ryan reported that some of the risks identified related to employee onboarding and training in some areas, and overall processes and structures, rather than specific risks or incidents.

Ms. Daigle noted that the audit was done from a WorkSafe BC perspective. One of the biggest findings was safety cannot be just the responsibility of the Assistant Director of Safety and Security. Anyone in supervisory position, or anyone who assigns work, should be aware of safety. The report will be available for review.

8.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda Dr. Keen

There were no motions on the Consent Agenda.

9.0 Presentation - 2017/2018 Proposed Budget Dr. Ryan

Dr. Weeks reported that he asked the senior administration to create a series of financial plans based on different scenarios. On March 20th, there was a Budget Town Hall and a UNBC Budget and Finances 101 session. He thanked SCUB for their work this year.

Dr. Ryan presented the budget. The PowerPoint Presentation, including the correction to slide 35 regarding faculty positions, is attached to the minutes as Appendix I.

Minor in Natural Resources Planning and Operations

The Natural Resources Planning and Operations minor is designed for students primarily interested in planning and operations (and their governing policies) related to the management of forested and non-forested lands. Students will learn about natural resource policy, forest-management planning and operations, environmental impacts of management practices, forest productivity and timber supply, and resource sustainability along with current computer-based management tools. It is strongly recommended that students taking this minor have a background in forest ecology and management. The minor in Natural Resources Planning and Operations requires the completion of 19 credit hours, of which 12 credit hours must be at the upper-division (i.e., 300 or 400) level. Courses used to fulfill major requirements may not be applied toward the minor in Forest Planning and Operations. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that they have the required prerequisites.

Dr. Owen reported that next month Senate will receive the annual report from the SCSB. UNBC has increased the value of the awards given by over 1%. If the University continues on the same trajectory as it has over the past number of years, next year UNBC will exceed the $3 million scholarship mark. A majority of that money is given out to students. Around 1% of the available funds are not distributed in any given year. 5 years ago, that number was at about 5%.

A question was raised with respect to the Chartwells Award and the need for there to be separation between donations and awarding of contracts to companies. Ms. Sanford and Ms. Smith noted that there are very strict rules and regulations for procurement in the public sector that the University must follow.

10.8 Senate Committee on Nominations

Dr. Casperson

Dr. Casperson urged Senators to contact either Ms. Howitt or members of the SCN regarding upcoming Senate committee vacancies.

10.9 Students as Partners (Ad Hoc Committee)

Ms. Blanding

"For Approval" Item:

S-201703.09

Environmental Scan of Students as Partners Work Being Done at UNBC

Erasmus

That, on the recommendation of the Senate ad hoc committee on Students as Partners, Senate tasks the CTLT with conducting an environmental scan of students as partners work being done at UNBC in a manner similar to the CTLT exemplar's project (informal survey and self-identification) and present the work back to Senate for information during the October meeting of Senate.

Effective Date: Upon the approval of Senate

Amendment I

Keen

That "Senate tasks CTLT" be changed to "Senate tasks the Provost".

Amendment II

Ryan

That "Senate tasks the Provost" be changed to "Senate tasks the President to direct the Provost"

CARRIED as amended.

11.0 Information

11.1 Sexual Violence and Misconduct Draft Policy

Dr. Wilson

The draft of the Sexual Violence and Misconduct Policy, and the Sexual Violence and Misconduct – Response Procedures were included in the meeting package for information.

Dr. Wilson presented the draft Policy and Response Procedures which are also available on the UNBC Sexual Violence and Misconduct website. There was a discussion and opportunity for feedback. Senators were encouraged to send any further feedback through the portal on the website.

The Policy and Response Procedures will be presented to the Board of Governors at their March 31, 2017 meeting for discussion. After final consultations the Policy will go to the Board for approval before the May 18, 2017 provincial government deadline.

12.0 Approval of Motions on the Consent Agenda

Dr. Keen

There were no motions on the Consent Agenda.

13.0 Other Business

13.1 The Health of Senate

Motion to Postpone

Menounos

That the discussion on the Health of Senate be postponed until the April 26, 2017 Senate meeting.

CARRIED

13.2 Election of the Vice Chair of Senate

An open nomination and election process was conducted and Dr. Menounos was elected as Vice Chair of Senate effective immediately.

As Dr. Keen's term as the Vice Chair ended, he left the Senate Chambers.

Dr. Menounos assumed the Chair.

Quorum was lost at 6:49 p.m. and the Vice Chair declared the meeting adjourned.

Blanding

That the agenda for the April 26, 2017 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.

CARRIED

2.0 S-201704.02

Approval of Senate Minutes

Blanding

That the minutes of the March 22, 2017 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.

CARRIED

3.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

3.1 The Health of Senate (30 minutes)

Blanding

Senator Blanding introduced the topic and noted collegiality, process and efficiency as topics of interest. She requested a timestamp for the discussion, and suggested Senate considers timestamps for discussions and presentations in the future.

Summary of points raised are as follows:

- good practice for assemblies to review their own processes and to consider ways to improve
- timestamps suggested for some discussions and respect for time important generally – SCS should address the issue of timing of meetings

- clarity of protocol and process, and consistency with protocol and process
- important to be mindful of power dynamics and hierarchy
- Question Period should be focused on questions and answers - follow up comments/questions could be restricted
- suggestion made that perhaps Lay Senators, Regional Senators, and Student Senators could be asked specifically at the beginning of Question Period if they have any questions
- important to arrange agenda items meaningfully so discussion can happen
- ensure presentation material is out to Senators ahead of time – at least 48 hours in advance
- impact and preferences discussed with respect to use of formal or informal titles in addressing fellow senators
- a workshop on Robert’s Rules of Order and How to Chair meetings will be offered in the fall for Board members and Senators need for broader participation of all senators in discussions
- it is helpful for people participating in the meeting via teleconference if people say their name before they speak

Action item: President to raise the issues of: timestamps on discussions, timing of agenda, and the structure of Question Period with the SCS.

4.0 President’s Report

Dr. Weeks

The President reported Mr. Roy Stewart and Mr. Fredy Peccerelli will receive Honorary Degrees at the May 26, 2017 UNBC Convocation. Mr. Peccerelli will be at the University by May 24, 2017 and Dr. Nolin is trying to organize a public lecture on his work with the Guatemalan Forensic Anthropology Foundation. There will also be a screening of the film “Finding Oscar” on the evening of May 25th in the CANFOR Theatre.

The Provost Selection Committee met with the search consultants. The search consultants are developing advertising/search materials and will also be doing an outreach to the community to ask a series of questions about the desired attributes of the next Provost. The committee will meet again on April 28, 2017.

5.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

The Provost reported that the 2017/2018 Budget was approved by the Board and there will be a meeting with some of the senior leaders to begin the next stage of implementation.

Summer semester FTEs are up by 25 % and the fall semester FTEs are up by 76 % compared to the same time last year. Applications are up by about 16 %, admissions are up by about 10%; and the total registrations are up by about 149%. The Provost noted that registration opened earlier this year, and that, in part is impacting the early numbers

The Academic Planning Groups are on target to make a presentation to Senate in May. The Groups have combined their recommendations into one document and are revising and editing. There will be additional opportunities for engagement once the edits are complete. After Senate and UNBC community feedback is incorporated, a further presentation to Senate is planned for the June meeting.

6.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Annear

The University Registrar will be meeting with the student societies to discuss a Dean’s List proposal. A proposal will be brought to Senate.

The University Registrar is also researching options for co-curricular transcripts. On May 1, 2017, people from across the campus have been invited to look at the Visual Schedule Builder which is intended to improve the student side of the time tabling process. On May 8, 2017, the Provost will lead broader UNBC discussions on options for scheduling.

7.0 Question Period

No questions were submitted in advance of the Senate meeting. The Chair called for questions from the floor.

A Senator questioned the brevity of the Senate Minutes and indicated that, after an absence it was difficult to understand what had happened at Senate.

The University Secretary noted that the formal minutes are meant to be a record of action items and decisions only, and that the brief summaries of points raised are only included in the minutes because of the requirement in the Senate Handbook. An audio recording is kept until the minutes are approved.

A Senator asked how the Vice Provost Student Recruitment's duties, as assigned in the Graduate Calendar specifically, are being handled.

The Provost noted that, in the interim, while the Vice-Provost position is vacant, and until the Academic Planning Groups complete their work, some individuals are reporting to the Provost, and some to the University Registrar. The Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs is reviewing admissions files and signing-off.

A Senator asked for an update on the status of the Respect in the Workplace Policy

The President indicated he would enquire and report back to the Senator.

A Senator asked whether anything prevented Senate from recording meetings and making them public?

There was a brief discussion of past practice and pros and cons of transcriptional minutes or recordings. The issue of the overall size of bulk the Senate meeting packages was also raised.

Action item: The President will raise the issue of recording meetings, and the issue of the overall content of the Senate Meeting packages with the SCS for discussion and for recommendations.

A Senator asked if the Provost could provide Senate with a spreadsheet showing progress with external reviews. This would also help in preparation for the DQAB review in 2020.

The Provost and President agreed and indicated this could be done.

Action item: Information on progress of external reviews will be posted to the Senate website in a spreadsheet format.

A Senator asked for the expected number of FTEs for the September 2017 semester.

The President noted it is still difficult to say, but the goal is to increase enrollment by 5% each year over the next several years and early numbers indicate the University is on track to meet that goal this fall.

A Senator referred to a report titled "How Are We Doing" which deals with First Nations education and the dissolution of School District 57's Aboriginal Education Board (AEB). The Senator asked whether the University would support the reinstatement of the AEB, and whether the University and/or Senate could show support for the Tribal Chief of the Carrier Sekani Tribal Council who has indicated support for the re-instatement of the AEB?

The Senior Advisor to the President on Aboriginal Relations noted movement and ongoing discussion about the AEB. The University did have a prominent voice at the regular meetings of that Board and the Senior Advisor felt that the University should show support.

A Senator asked if Senate's proposals for changes to the selection committee procedures for Senior Academic Administrator Appointments were considered by the Board.

The University Secretary reported that the proposals were taken to the Human Resources Committee of the Board in March. The University Secretary was tasked with re-drafting the selection committee procedures and those revised procedures will be taken to the Human Resources Committee at their June meeting. Any approved revisions will be brought back to Senate.

UNBC's Bachelor of Education degree (BEd) program and Bachelor of Education degree completion program are offered at the Prince George and Terrace campuses. At the Prince George campus, the BEd program offers both the Elementary Years (Grades K-7), and Secondary Years (Grades 8-12) streams. At the Terrace campus, only the Elementary Years ~~S~~stream is offered. The BEd degree is a two-year program that consists of ~~73~~ up to 67 credit hours in Education course work of which ~~20~~ 16 credit hours is classroom experience. The BEd degree completion program is available only to applicants who have completed a UNBC Education Diploma in a First Nations Language and Culture and consists of an additional ~~53~~ 50 credit hours of Education course work of which ~~17~~ 13 credit hours is classroom experience. All Education courses within the BEd degree program and the BEd degree completion program are required; ~~there~~ There are no elective courses offered.

Subject to the admission requirements for the Elementary Years stream (Grades K-7), students may apply to enter the BEd Elementary Years program stream with, as described in the Admission Requirements, one of the following: (a) an acceptable three- or four-year bachelor's degree or (b) a minimum 90 credit hours of undergraduate course work or (c) a UNBC Education Diploma in a First Nations Language and Culture (minimum 92 credit hours). Students applying for admission under item (c) will be admitted to the BEd Elementary Years degree completion program and must complete, prior to graduation, the required Education courses not taken as part of the Education Diploma program and sufficient additional credit hours in a teachable field to attain a minimum 150 credit hours of combined academic, Education Diploma and BEd course work. Upon completion of the two-year BEd program or the two-year BEd degree completion program, students graduate with a Bachelor of Education degree.

Subject to the admission requirements for the Secondary Years stream (Grades 8-12), students may apply to enter the BEd Secondary Years program stream after having completed a four-year Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, or Bachelor of Commerce degree (120 credit hours) or the equivalent as described in the Admission Requirements. Upon completion of the two-year BEd program, students will graduate with a BEd degree.

UNBC's BEd program provides students with the course work and classroom experience to prepare them to be qualified teachers. Upon successful completion of the program, graduates are recommended to the Ministry of Education Teacher Regulations Branch (TRB) for professional certification. Certification by the TRB is required for employment in the British Columbia public school system.

The Elementary Years and Secondary Years ~~programs~~ streams in Prince George begin in September of each year. The Elementary Years program in Terrace begins in September of each odd-numbered year. The application deadline for all Education programs is March 15 of the year in which students intend to begin their program. Students needing advice about the application process or about admission requirements are encouraged to contact either the Student Recruitment and Advising Centre or the ~~School Experience Office~~ Practicum Placement Coordinator/BEd Advisor in the School of Education. Students who are interested in applying to the BEd program at the Terrace campus may also contact the Northwest Regional campus for information.

Elementary Years (Grades K-7)

The Elementary Years ~~program~~ stream prepares teacher candidates to work with the unique learning needs of children who are beginning their school years. This model reflects current thinking about optimizing the match between educational theory and children's levels of cognitive and social development. The Elementary Years ~~program~~ stream is designed to educate teachers to combine pedagogical excellence across disciplinary areas with a learner-centered approach to practice. Philosophically, the ~~program~~ stream is designed around constructivist principles, ~~and it~~ It emphasizes approaches to practice such as inquiry-based learning, strategies for instruction, integration of language across the curriculum, inclusion of diverse learners and perspectives, the development of caring and respectful communities of learners, and reflective practice. Successful applicants to the Elementary Years ~~program~~ stream are assigned to a cohort group of students and normally take their Education courses with that cohort group over the two years.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the BEd degree Elementary Years ~~program~~ stream must have completed ~~(with a minimum GPA of 2.33 (C+) on the most recent 60 credit hours of university credit hours,~~ completed) one of the following:

- (a) an acceptable three- or four-year Bachelor's degree of which 60 credit hours, including 30 senior level credit hours, must be in Arts, Science, or other teachable fields relevant to the BC School system, or
- (b) a minimum of 90 credit hours of undergraduate course work, of which 60 credit hours, including 30 senior level credit hours, must be in Arts, Science, or other teachable fields relevant to the BC School system.

Applicants to the BEd degree completion program must have completed a UNBC Education Diploma in a First Nations Language and Culture (minimum 92 credit hours).

Transfer credit for course work relating to the 90 credit hours that have been completed prior to UNBC registration shall not be subject to the ten-year provision in the University Calendar regulation regarding Time Limit for Transfer Credit but shall be determined by the School of Education. In addition to the admission requirements described above, the following requirements must be met (see note following):

1. Successful completion, with a C+ average, of 6 credit hours of acceptable English literature and composition at any level (one of the following: (a) 3 credit hours of English literature and 3 credit hours of English composition or (b) 6 credit hours of acceptable English literature). Courses in linguistics, language study, grammar, technical or business writing, communication, or English as a Second Language are not acceptable to meet the English requirement.
2. ~~Three~~ 3 credit hours in Mathematics (not including Statistics).
3. ~~Three~~ 3 credit hours in a laboratory science. Laboratory science credit hours are normally selected from Biology, Chemistry, Physical Geography, or Physics.
4. ~~Three~~ 3 credit hours of Canadian History or 3 credit hours of Canadian Geography plus 3 credit hours of Canadian Studies (this course must contain significant Canadian content). Credit hours will normally be selected from Anthropology, First Nations Studies, Geography, History, Northern Studies, or Political Science courses that contain significant Canadian content (upon review, credit hours from other disciplines may be recognized as meeting the Canadian content requirement).
5. Submission of the completed application forms including the Experience with Children and Youth statement (resumé format), three Confidential Reference Forms, and the Personal Statement.

Note: Applicants who do not meet the requirements in items 1-4 above but who otherwise meet the admission requirements may be admitted provisionally to the BEd program with the approval of the Chair if they have completed a minimum of 12 credit hours of the required course work. Applicants admitted provisionally to the program under this section will not be recommended to the ~~BC Ministry of Education – Teacher Regulation Branch~~ BC Ministry of Education, Teacher Regulation Branch for certification until they successfully complete the course work requirements.

Program Requirements

Elementary Years Stream (K-7) (Prince George campus)

The ~~Entry~~ route to this stream requires completion of ~~with~~ 60 credit hours of acceptable undergraduate course work in a teachable field, via ~~one of~~ (a) an acceptable three- or four-year Bachelor's degree or (b) a minimum 90 credit hours of acceptable course work: _

Secondary Years (Grades 8-12)

The Secondary Years program stream is a two-year after-degree program that prepares individuals to teach in grades 8 through 12 in specialty areas. This model reflects current thinking about optimizing the match between educational theory and children's levels of cognitive and social development. The Secondary Years program stream is designed to educate teachers to combine pedagogical excellence across disciplinary areas with a learner-centered approach to practice. Philosophically, the program stream is designed around constructivist principles, ~~and it~~ It emphasizes approaches to practice such as inquiry-based learning, strategies for instruction, integration of language across the curriculum, inclusion of diverse learners and perspectives, the development of caring and respectful communities of learners, and reflective practice. Successful applicants to the Secondary Years program stream will be assigned to a cohort group of approximately 35 students and will take all of their courses with that cohort group.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the Secondary Years program stream must have completed, ~~(with a minimum GPA of 2.33 (C+) on the most recent 60 credit hours of university credit hours completed)~~, a four-year Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, or Bachelor of Commerce degree (120 credit hours) or the equivalent (i.e., a three-year Bachelor's degree with a teachable major plus 30 additional approved university credit hours) with a minimum of 90 credit hours in Arts, Science, or Business Administration or in other teachable fields relevant to teaching in the BC School system. The remaining credit hours may come from any discipline.

In addition to the entry requirements described above, the following requirements must be met (see note following):

1. Successful completion, with a C+ average, of 6 credit hours of acceptable English literature and composition at any level (one of the following: (a) 3 credit hours of English literature and 3 credit hours of English composition or (b) 6 credit hours of acceptable English literature). Courses in linguistics, language study, grammar, technical or business writing, communication, or English as a second language are not acceptable to meet the English requirement.
2. One of the following:
  - a. One teachable major and one teachable minor, or
  - b. Two ~~(2)~~ teachable minors, or
  - c. One teachable major.
3. Submission of the completed application forms that include the Experience with Children and Youth statement (resumé format), three Confidential Reference Forms, and the Personal Statement.

Note: Applicants who do not meet the English requirement in item 1 above but who otherwise meet the admission requirements may be admitted provisionally to the BEd program with the approval of the Chair. ### Access Initiative

The UNBC School of Education Program at UNBC has initiated a program designed to give access to individuals who are members of groups in our society which have historically been under-represented in the teaching profession in British Columbia. In order to achieve this objective, we encourage applicants who have confronted identifiable barriers to post-secondary education to apply under the Access Initiative. All applicants for the UNBC's teacher education program Bachelor of Education Program must submit a Personal Statement. Applicants who wish to apply under the Access Initiative may identify themselves in their Personal Statement Form to be considered under the Access Initiative.

Criminal Records Review

In addition to the admission application requirements outlined above, applications are required to undergo a criminal record review and provide evidence of this prior to being considered for admission. Refer to Undergraduate Regulations and Policies (Academic Regulation 20) in this Calendar.

Admission Decisions

Applications for admission can be obtained from either the Office of the Registrar, or from the School of Education. For further information concerning the application process, please contact either the Office of the Registrar or the School of Education.

Admissions rankings are determined by a combination of GPA, experience with children, a personal statement, and letters of reference.

Education Diploma in a First Nations Language and Culture (Elementary Years)

The Education Diploma in a First Nations Language and Culture is a minimum 92 credit hour teacher education program that prepares individuals to teach an approved First Nations language and culture at the Elementary Years level.

This program of study has been developed in partnership with the Language Authority for each First Nation. This model reflects the current thinking about building on the rich linguistic and cultural heritage of students to optimize the match between educational theory, children's level of cognitive and social development, and the particular First Nations language and culture. Successful completion of this program of study will lead to a recommendation to the ~~BC Ministry of Education – Teacher Regulation Branch~~ BC Ministry of Education, Teacher Regulation Branch that a Developmental Standard Term Certificate in the specific First Nations Language and Culture be granted. The Education Diploma in a First Nations Language and Culture is designed to educate teachers to combine pedagogical excellence across disciplinary areas with a learner-centered approach to practice. Philosophically, the program is designed around constructivist principles, ~~and it~~ It emphasizes approaches to practice such as inquiry-based learning, strategies for instruction, integration of language and culture across the curriculum, inclusion of diverse learners and perspectives, and the development of caring and respectful practice.

Programs of study leading to recommendation for this teaching credential are available for Gitksan Language and Culture, Nisga'a Language and Culture, Ts'msyen Language and Culture, and Dakelh / Carrier Language and Culture. The Education Diploma in a First Nations Language and Culture (Gitksan) has been developed in partnership with the Siwiixo'osxwim Wilnatahl Gitxsanixm Society. The Education Diploma in a First Nations Language and Culture (Nisga'a) has been developed in partnership with the Nisga'a Language Authority of Wilp Wilxo'oskwhl Nisga'a (WWN), and is offered at the WWN campus. The Education Diploma in a First Nations Language and Culture (Ts'msyen Sm'algyax) has been developed in partnership with the Ts'msyen Sm'algyax Language Authority and is offered at the Prince Rupert campus. The Education Diploma in a First Nations Language and Culture (Dakelh / Carrier) has been developed in partnership with the College of New Caledonia and with the Dakelh / Carrier Linguistic Society (Fort St. James) and the Lake Babine Education Authority (Burns Lake) and is offered in Fort St. James and Burns Lake respectively.

Admission Requirements

Students selected for this program of study will be admitted according to the “Undergraduate Admissions” categories, criteria, and processes established by UNBC and specified in the early sections of this Undergraduate Calendar. In addition to the specified entrance requirements, applicants are encouraged to identify their fluency in the specific language (Gitksanimx, Nisga’a, Ts’msyen Sm’algyax, or Dakelh / Carrier language) and their knowledge of Gitksan culture and history, Nisga’a culture and history, Ts’msyen culture and history, or Dakelh / Carrier culture and history. Advanced placement in language courses may be considered for speakers who are able to demonstrate their fluency in the language.

There are two points of entry to this program of study: following the completion of the Diploma in First Nations Language, or concurrently while completing the required First Nations Studies and general academic coursework. Students must be admitted to this program of study prior to beginning their professional education courses. The Certificate in First Nations Language and the Diploma in First Nations Language are described in the First Nations Studies section of the Calendar.

Criminal Records Review

In addition to the admission application requirements outlined for admission to UNBC, applicants are required to undergo a criminal record review and provide evidence of this prior to being considered for admission to the Education Diploma in a First Nations Language and Culture (Elementary Years). Refer to Undergraduate Regulations and Policies (Academic Regulation 20) in this Calendar.

Diploma and BEd Academic Regulations

For the purpose of determining eligibility for recommending a teacher candidate for certification by the Ministry of Education, Teacher Regulation Branch, the minimum requirements include successful completion of the Education program with a C+ on each Education course taken while enrolled in the Program. Courses for which a grade of lower than a C+ was received must be repeated.

The School of Education Program reserves the right at any time to require any teacher candidate to withdraw from UNBC if it believes on consideration of academic, professional fitness or professional conduct that the student is unsuitable for the teaching profession. Unsatisfactory performance in any aspect of the program may be considered reason to require a teacher candidate to withdraw from the Program.

Regular attendance is expected of all teacher candidates in all courses. An instructor can initiate procedures to debar a teacher candidate from attending classes and from final examinations where unexcused absences exceed three hours of scheduled classes in one term.

If re-admission is approved following required or voluntary withdrawal from a practicum and/or program, the teacher candidate will normally be re-admitted on probationary status.

Appeals should first be submitted to the BEd Admissions and Standards Committee. If a teacher candidate is not satisfied with the outcome of that process, ~~he/she the candidate~~ may then file an appeal with UNBC's Senate Committee on Academic Appeals (see "Appeals Process" Academic Regulation 50 under Regulations and Policies). Teacher candidates are not allowed to use 500, or higher, level courses from the Education Program, or any other program to meet degree requirements.

Students who plan to undertake work at other institutions are required to seek prior approval from the Office of the Registrar and the Chair of Education if they wish such courses to be credited toward a BEd degree at UNBC.

Diploma and BEd Teaching Practicum Regulations

All arrangements for school placements are made through the School of Education.

Teacher candidates taking the Classroom Practice ~~& and~~ Seminar courses must be prepared to travel to any regional school district. In order to do ~~this-such travel~~, teacher candidates should budget for transportation ~~costs~~. Practica may be arranged in other selected districts. ~~Beyond budgeting for transportation, Extra expenses will be involved and~~ teacher candidates should budget ~~for other expenses that may be incurred during practica accordingly~~.

Teacher candidates must successfully complete all first-year courses before they will be allowed to proceed to second-year courses and commence their second-year field placements. These requirements include the completion of core assignments designed to link theory and practice.

The UNBC's School of Education Program reserves the right to approve or disapprove any school placement for teacher candidates, to place teacher candidates in schools, and to change any placement assigned to a teacher candidate. The teacher candidate must be informed in writing of the reasons for any required change in placement. UNBC bears no responsibility for the costs associated with a change in placement.

The School of Education Program is responsible for seeking a sufficient number of school placements to serve the needs of all enrolled teacher candidates. A teacher candidate may be required to withdraw from a Classroom Practice & Seminar course if none of the available schools will accept that particular teacher candidate.

The UNBC's School of Education Program reserves the right to provide information to the principal of a school for a practicum placement for a particular teacher candidate where it is deemed necessary for the principal to have the information in order to carry out his/her duties as a principal. The School of Education must inform the principal if concerns have been raised within the Education Program or in a previous practicum placement about a more than usual potential for a negative impact on the quality of the learning and/or working in the classroom and/or school as a result of the presence of the candidate teacher. The Chair or designate must inform the teacher candidate in writing of the reasons for the concerns giving rise to such notification to the principal.

The dates of the practica will be made known to the teacher candidates at the beginning of each term. Placement locations will be made available as soon as possible after classes have begun. The expectations of teacher candidates during the practica will be published and distributed to all teacher candidates, ~~Faculty Advisors/~~ Practicum Supervisors, and ~~Co-operating~~ Cooperating Teachers at the start of each year in the ~~course outlines for the Classroom Practice & Seminar courses~~ Teacher Candidate Handbook. Regular attendance during the practica is required. Teacher candidates are required to notify the school whenever classroom experience appointments cannot be kept and also inform the Chair or designate and the their Faculty Advisor/Practicum Supervisor. Teacher candidates will be disbarred from the Classroom Practice & Seminar course if they have more than three unexcused absences.

All teacher candidates in the program placed in schools for classroom experience are subject to the provisions of the Schools Act, School Regulations, the British Columbia Teachers' Federation (BCTF) Code of Ethics, and any regulation and/or code of behaviour applicable to teachers and staff in the school. Any teacher candidate may be required to withdraw from a classroom experience for violation of any part of the School Act, School Regulations, the BCTF Code of Ethics, or upon written notice from the school principal or the superintendent in the district where the teacher candidate is placed.

~~Faculty Advisors/Practicum Supervisors or Co-operation~~ Cooperating Teachers who refuse teacher candidates' continued participation in a practicum experience for misconduct or repeated absence must immediately discuss the matter with the Practicum Placement ~~Co-ordinator~~ Coordinator, who shall then either inform the teacher candidate of the conditions under which they may resume participation in the practica or inform the teacher candidate that the Chair of Education or ~~Chair's~~ designate is being advised that the teacher candidate's performance in the classroom experience is considered unsatisfactory by those responsible for supervision of the practicum experience.

Denial and Withdrawal

Teacher candidates will be denied the practica placement if their preparatory course work is considered to be unsatisfactory (e.g., below C+ work, or incomplete work) by the ~~BEd Co-ordinator~~ Chair or designate.

Teacher candidates may be required to withdraw from a practicum experience if their performance in their school placement is considered to be unsatisfactory by the ~~BEd Co-ordinator~~ Chair or designate (based on written assessments by the Faculty Advisor/Practicum Supervisor and/or Co-operating Cooperating Teacher).

Teacher candidates seeking voluntary withdrawal from a practicum placement, whether permanent or temporary, must receive permission to do so from the Chair of Education. Teacher candidates should make this decision only after careful consideration of the possible impact on their practicum experience-based assignments. Failure to give appropriate notice of withdrawal during a practicum placement, without consultation and approval of the Practicum Placement ~~Co-ordinator~~ Coordinator, and/or BEd ~~Co-ordinator~~ Coordinator, will result in withdrawal from UNBC's Education Program. Teacher candidates who withdraw voluntarily from a practicum placement must notify the Practicum Placement ~~Co-ordinator~~ Coordinator in writing at least one week in advance of the commencement of the classroom placement. Teacher candidates who are required to withdraw from a practicum placement must make an appointment to see the Practicum Placement Co-ordinator Coordinator and the Chair of Education.

Teacher candidates who have withdrawn for any reason from a Classroom Practice & Seminar course, or who wish to re-enter, or re-take, the course must apply to the BEd Admissions and Standards Committee Chair for re-admission to the course. Teacher candidates should not assume that re-admission would automatically be granted. The number of times a teacher candidate can be re-admitted to Classroom Practice & Seminar courses is limited to once except in cases where there are dire circumstances beyond the teacher ~~candidate's~~ candidate's control as set out in the UNBC "Conditions of Academic Standing" (Academic Regulation 49). Teacher candidates will only be re-admitted to a Classroom Practice & Seminar course when, in the opinion of those responsible for the supervision of the previous attempt, there was evidence of significant progress toward meeting the outcomes for the practicum placement. Teacher candidates will not be re-admitted to any single Classroom Practice & Seminar more than once. Teacher candidates will not be re-admitted to a Classroom Practice & Seminar course if they have previously been re-admitted to any other Classroom Practice & Seminar course in any of UNBC's BEd programs.

Part-Time Students in the BEd Program

The Bachelor of Education program at UNBC is a full-time study program. It is expected that all students registered in this program will be enrolled on a full-time basis. However, under exceptional circumstances, where students are unable to fulfill full-time study for family, personal, or health reasons, students may be allowed to continue the program on a part-time basis. Application to continue on a part-time basis must be submitted in writing to the ~~Program~~ Chair of the School of Education and approved by the Dean of the College of Arts, Social and Health Sciences.

BEd Graduation Requirements

To be eligible for a Bachelor of Education degree the candidate must normally have earned:

- A grade of C+ or better in all Education courses; and,
- A minimum GPA of 2.33 (C+).
- All teachers, administrators and supervisors employed in the province's Kindergarten to Grade 12 public school system must have a valid Ministry of Education teaching certificate. This requirement includes full time, part time and teacher-on-call positions. If you would like to work in a BC public school, you must apply and provide all documentation to the BC Ministry of Education - Teacher Regulation Branch for a certificate and you must pay an annual practice fee to maintain your certificate.
- The Teacher Qualification Service: Salary categories for teachers are established by the Teacher Qualification Service upon application, and only when a British Columbia teaching credential has already been granted by the ~~BC Ministry of Education - Teacher Regulation Branch~~ BC Ministry of Education, Teacher Regulation Branch. Categories are assigned on the basis of completed years of academic and professional preparation.
- Procedure and Documentation: Application forms for the ~~BC Ministry of Education - Teacher Regulation Branch~~ BC Ministry of Education, Teacher Regulation Branch and the Teacher Qualification Service are available from the School of Education, as well as directly from the agencies or their respective websites (<http://www.bcteacherregulation.ca> and <http://www.tgs.bc.ca>).

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

English is the primary language of instruction and communication at UNBC. Consequently, it is expected that an applicant be able to demonstrate an acceptable level of proficiency in the use of English in order to receive and participate in classroom instruction and discussion as well as to complete written assignments.

Applicants whose first language is not English, regardless of citizenship or country of origin, must submit evidence of English language proficiency prior to admission. French-speaking Canadians and Canadian First Nations language speakers are exempted from this requirement.

Students who have completed a degree program entirely in the English Language at a recognized institution from a country approved by UNBC where English is an official language may be exempted from this requirement. A listing of English Language Proficiency test exempt countries is maintained by the Office of the Registrar. ~~Applicants from countries not on the waiver list who have completed their four year undergraduate degree entirely in the English language may request a waiver of the English Language Proficiency Requirement. The Office of the Registrar and the Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate, in consultation with programs, will assess each waiver and supporting documentation. Waivers are not guaranteed. The decision of the Office of the Registrar and the Vice Provost Student Recruitment or designate will be final. It is recommended that applicants for whom English is not their primary language submit an accepted English Language Proficiency test score.~~

Acceptable evidence of English language proficiency may be any one of the following:

- TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) score of ~~88~~ 90 or higher in the internet-based test, with not less than 20 in any of the Reading, Listening, Writing or Speaking components; or equivalent other TOEFL score. UNBC's institutional TOEFL code is 0320.

- IELTS (International English Language Testing System) Academic score of at least 6.5 overall, with not less than 6.0 in any of the four modules.
- CAEL (Canadian Academic English Language Assessment) or the CAEL CE: overall 70, with no subtest below 60.
- CELP (Canadian English Language Proficiency Index Program)
CELPIT-A (Academic Reading and Writing): 4H
CELL (Listening): 4H
CELTOP (Speaking): 4H
- MELAB (Michigan English Language Assessment Battery): 85 final score, with 3 in the speaking test
- PTE (Pearson Test of English - Academic): 65 overall score, with a score of not less than 60 in reading, writing, listening, and speaking
- ~~Comparable results in any other internationally recognized English Language Assessment test considered as equivalent to TOEFL or IELTS.~~
- A final grade of 3.00 (B) or better in both UNBC English Language Studies' 50 and 170, obtained prior to application for Graduate admission.
- A final grade of 3.00 (B) or better in an articulated BCCAT EAP 4 program, prior to application for Graduate admissions.

In order to be considered valid, ~~these scores~~ results must be sent directly from the testing agency/institution to the Office of the Registrar. Scores are valid for a period of two years.

Some graduate programs may require higher English Language proficiency scores. Please consult the Program section of the calendar for additional requirements.

The University of Northern British Columbia reserves the right to consider, in addition to test scores, any factors that it considers appropriate in making a final determination of the English language proficiency of an applicant.

10.0 Information*10.1 Strategic Research Plan*Dr. Payne

A draft of UNBC’s Strategic Research Plan was included in the meeting package for information.

The Vice President Research and Graduate Programs brought forward the Strategic Research Plan to Senate for information, and he noted the work of a Task Force which had looked at the Plan and provided input over the past year. Feedback was also sought University-wide and was incorporated into the document. It was also sent to SCAAF for information and discussion. The Plan is meant to fluid, always open for discussion and review

A Senator asked how the Strategic Research Plan aligns with the Academic Plan.

The Vice President Research and Graduate Programs indicated that the Strategic Research Plan and the Academic Plan, as it is unfolding, seem to align well; they are meant to be integrated and complimentary.

A Senator referred to a section of the Research Plan at page 171 of the Senate public session meeting package, which suggests there will be sufficient support services. The Senator asked whether there would be an examination of support for research computing?

The Vice President Research and Graduate Programs indicated that there would be as it is an integral support service.

A Senator asked why the Strategic Research Plan was being brought to Senate for information and not for approval. .

The Vice President Research and Graduate Programs indicated that he and the Governance Officer, Ms. Howitt, had reviewed the practice at other research intensive universities in BC. In some cases the Strategic Research Plan was presented for approval and at others, not. The intention is not to circumvent the input of Senate, and reiterated that the Plan was taken to SCAAF and entire University community.

Action item: The President indicated that the question of whether or not the Strategic Research Plan should be approved by Senate could be taken to the SCC

A Senator asked how the Strategic Research Plan could align with the Academic Plan when the Academic Plan is not yet complete and has not yet been brought to Senate. He questioned how how new areas could emerge if we continually go back to the same four areas of academic excellence and research.

The Vice President Research and Graduate Programs responded that the Plan is broad enough to allow new areas to emerge.

A Senator asked where the School of Education fits into the Strategic Research Plan.

The President stated no Strategic Research Plan is meant to cover off every individual research area. That does not mean that the research is not important to the University.

A Senator asked about the Research Performance Indicators are, and whether they will be used to look at the University as a whole or to look at how individual faculty members are performing.

The Vice President Research and Graduate Programs noted that the metrics allow the Office of Research to know if more support is required in certain areas. They are not meant to be punitive.

10.2 Senior Advisor to the President on Aboriginal Relations –
Update on Initiatives and Engagements

Dr. Robinson

The Senior Advisor to the President on Aboriginal Relations reported on her role and activities:

- She serves on a Senior Leadership Forum and Senior Indigenous Leadership forum called ILEAD, with other representatives of public post-secondary institutes in BC. UNBC is facing many of the same challenges and opportunities as other BC post-secondary institutions regarding indigenization and reconciliation.
- Since the beginning, for UNBC, First Nations' priorities have been one of the major pillars UNBC has many courses that include indigenous content. She has discussed mandatory First Nations course requirements with her colleagues, and this is not something that is unanimously supported for a number of reasons.
- She reported on provincial and Ministry of Advanced Education initiatives.
- Dean Schorcht, Dr. Wilson, and Ms. Reynolds will be reporting on some of the initiatives being done primarily at UNBC.
- She is frequently asked to give talks on reconciliation in Prince George and beyond and is finding that there is a strong desire to know more about Aboriginal history in Canada and about what is being done at UNBC.

A Senator asked if the Senior Advisor had further comments on the dissolution of School Board 57's Aboriginal Education Board, as discussed earlier in the meeting.

The Senior Advisor provided further background and there was additional discussion on this matter.

Action item: The President asked the Senior Advisor to the President on Aboriginal Relations to consider for him, if and how the University should respond. The President will bring back to Senate the Senior Advisor's advice and recommendation.

Academic Planning Groups – Presentation

Ms. Patenaude

The Academic Action Plan – Draft Recommendations document was included in the meeting package for information.

The President and Provost thanked the Academic Planning Action Planning Groups and the Director, Integrated Planning for their work. The Director, Integrated Planning, Ms. Patenaude made a brief presentation to Senate and outlined the engagement sessions that took place. She noted that the Planning Groups were still considering two major revisions with respect to the College structure part of the Plan. They are hopeful that some of the recommendations will be considered for the 2018/19 budget cycle. An updated version of the draft recommendations will go to SCAAF on June 7, 2017 and to Senate on June 28, 2017.

Representatives of the Action Planning Groups were present to participate in the discussion and respond to questions. The following issues and points were raised:

- the University's signature areas
- it was noted that the reference to the Nisga “house of learning” should be the Nisga “house of wisdom”
- the draft recommendations related to the Faculty Renewal and Development Survey will be sent in a separate document to the University Community and will be included in the final draft
- meaning of decolonization versus de-colonialization was raised

Further comments and feedback about the draft document can be sent to unbcplan@unbc.ca until May 29, 2017.

Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

The Provost noted that the final draft of the Academic Action Plan Recommendations will go to SCAAF on June 7, 2017. Feedback on the first draft document can be submitted to unbcplan@unbc.ca until May 29, 2017.

The Provost also commented on the International High School Task Force, and noted that in addition to identifying areas of concern and opportunities, the group would be reaching out to individuals and departments to help find responses and solutions.

The 2016/2017 enrollment numbers are ready for review by the auditors. The numbers will not be final until that review is complete. But, the numbers indicate that enrollment was up 3% compared to the previous year. That increase is a reflection of 2015/2016 recruitment efforts. The University is working towards a 5% increase in enrollment this year. A separate report shows applications and admissions up 15% and 18% respectively, and registration up 39% compared to the same time last year.

The Provost referred to a question raised at the previous meeting a about external reviews of academic units. The Provost's website will be updated to show the status of review. As per the Terms of Reference for the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the Provost will bring information regarding external reviews to that committee for discussion and to address inconsistencies in terms of how, where and what information should be posted.

A Senator asked for absolutes on the FTEs.

The Provost replied there were 2538 FTEs in the 2015/2016 academic calendar year, and for 2016/2017 there were 2632 FTEs. There were 501 graduate students 2015/2016 and 480 graduate students in 2016/2017.

8.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Annear

The Registrar thanked staff in the Office of the Registrar for all of their work on the convocations. The Registrar reported that a call for nominations was sent to graduate students for the vacant Graduate Student Senator position on Senate. The deadline for nominations was May 19, 2016. A few nominations were put forward. Eligibility will be verified and there will be an election. A call for nominations was also sent to contacts in the regions for the three Regional Representative vacancies on Senate (Peace-River/Liard Region, South-Central Region, and Aboriginal/First Nations Communities). The deadline for nominations is June 2, 2017.

9.0 Question Period

The President noted that no questions were submitted in advance and asked for questions from the floor.

A Senator asked whether there had been further thought given to whether graduation ceremonies in the regions are defined as formal convocations.

The President clarified that once convocation happens at the Prince George campus, the students in the regions officially convocate. That is why the events in the regions are called celebrations. There has been discussion with the Chief Information Officer and other people internally about the possibility of using technology to enhance the ceremonies and the connection to the Prince George convocation.

A Senator asked whether there will be a public presentation made by candidates for the Provost position.

The Associate Vice President, People, Organizational Design and Risk indicated that the search consultant, Caldwell, informed the selection committee that it is becoming more difficult to find candidates for provost or presidential positions if there is a public component to the process, because their candidacy cannot then be kept confidential. The committee discussed balancing the importance of community involvement and attracting quality candidates. The President has committed to making the process as open as possible, while ensuring the University gets quality applicants.

A Senator suggested the candidates meet with Senate in an In-camera session.

The President stated he would take this under advisement. Senate and faculty have representation on these committees, and the committee members are there to support the President in making decisions about the candidates.

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the new Northern Transitions Program (NTP) be approved as proposed.

Proposed Start Date: September 2017

CARRIED

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

General Calendar Description:

UNBC’s Northern Transitions Program (NTP) is a holistic and supportive program that helps students prepare for and successfully navigate the transition to university studies. By offering courses that bridge gaps in student knowledge and experience, the NTP is a program for anyone who would benefit from a supportive transition into the role of a post-secondary student.

The NTP provides skills and knowledge in the first year of studies that subsequently allow students to complete degree programs. Throughout their critical first year, students will receive credit for courses in which they develop library skills, text reading skills, communication, exam-taking strategies and quantitative skills. This program has three main principles:

- To enhance learning, writing, communication, computer and other skills, which will improve success in a post-secondary institution;
- To enable students to explore various career options available through their educational achievements;
- To provide a supportive network and learning environment which will enhance personal development and academic success.

Courses and Semester Layout

The Northern Transitions Program was developed with existing UNBC courses to support students continuing into degrees of their choice. This program is cohort-based so only others in the NTP will be in the courses in order to build relationships and supports with fellow students. The courses will be enhanced by a bi-weekly talking circle with their Academic Learning Coach (ALC) to ensure that all aspects of student life are nurtured. The foci of these talking circles is on a wide range of topics from academics and support services to cultural support and wellness. This is not a standalone program so students are expected to apply to a UNBC program of choice in their first year of studies with the Northern Transitions Program. The program is designed to facilitate 20 students per year in each cohort. Northern Transitions program students are required to complete 18 credit hours in their first and second semesters as follows:

Semester One

UNIV 101-3 Introduction to Higher Education

ENGL 170-3 Writing and Communication Skills

CPSC 150-3 Computer Applications

Semester Two

ARTS 102-3 Research Writing

ENGL 120-3 Introduction to Canadian Native Literatures

XMAT 161-1, 162-1, 163-1 Intermediate Algebra

Academic Learning Coach

The NTP provides support networks for personal growth that help students deal with issues that can impede their academic success. The Academic Learning Coach (ALC) is the students' key support. The ALC facilitates student engagement as students transition to university to ensure that their higher learning experience is a success. By providing personalized support, the coach guides students through course work in an advisory and supportive capacity. They assist students in their transition to a self-motivated and independent approach university level learning by being responsive to the particular needs that students may require for their future success in UNBC programs.

Admission Requirements

Students will be required to complete a regular UNBC Admission Application form and indicate the Northern Transitions Program as their academic intention.

Students are required to have completed Math 10 and preference will be given to students who have completed English 12 or English First Peoples 12.

Students who do not successfully meet the Cumulative GPA of 2.0 (C average) for this program are required to meet with their academic advisor and Academic Learning Coach to help assess goals and steps needed to move forward. Such students may be asked to take a short break from the University; however, this is not considered a penalty, as we want to provide students with options to ensure they are successful in their future educational endeavours.

Application Process

Students are encouraged to begin admission inquiries as soon as possible in the new calendar year. The deadline for submission of applications, complete with all required documentation, for September registration is May 31. Complete application files are given first preference for acceptance into the program. Not all students who are eligible are admitted as space in the program is limited.

To be considered for the Northern Transitions program, students must also submit the following with their application form:

- one official transcript from high school and all post-secondary institutions attended

(photocopies or facsimiles are not accepted as official);

- a letter of intent outlining their career goals and the importance of the Northern Transitions program in achieving those goals;
- a letter of support from a high school teacher and/or band administrator, education coordinator or sponsoring organization.

Students who have submitted the the above mentioned documents and have met all entrance requirements are then scheduled for a personal interview to ensure suitability and preparedness for the Northern Transitions Program.

Curriculum:

Northern Transitions program students are required to complete 18 credit hours in their first and second semesters as follows:

Semester One

UNIV 101-3 Introduction to Higher Education

ENGL 170-3 Writing and Communication Skills

CPSC 150-3 Computer Applications

Semester Two

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

English is the primary language of instruction and communication at UNBC. Consequently, it is expected that an applicant be able to demonstrate an acceptable level of proficiency in the use of English in order to receive and participate in classroom instruction and discussion as well as to complete written assignments.

Applicants whose first language is not English, regardless of citizenship or country of origin, must submit evidence of English language proficiency prior to admission. French-speaking Canadians and Canadian First Nations language speakers are exempted from this requirement. Students who completed five consecutive years of instruction and examination entirely in the English language immediately before admission (i.e., within two years of application) are exempted from this requirement. Students who have completed secondary education taught entirely in the English Language at a recognized institution may be exempted from this requirement by providing proof. An up to date list of countries where students are exempt from the English Language Proficiency requirements can be found on the Admissions pages of the UNBC website.

Acceptable evidence of English language proficiency may be any one of the following:

- TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) score of ~~88~~ 90 or higher in the internet-based test, with not less than 20 in each of the Reading, Listening, Writing or Speaking components. Score of at least 230 in the computer-based test or at least 570 in the paper-based test. UNBC's institutional TOEFL code is 0320.
- IELTS (International English Language Testing System) Academic score of at least 6.5 overall, with not less than 6.0 in any of the four modules.
- ~~LPI (Language Proficiency Index) score of at least 5.~~
- A final grade of 2.00 (C) or better in both UNBC English Language Studies' 50 and 170.
- A final grade of 2.00 (C) or better in an articulated BCCAT EAP 4 program.
- A final grade of 70% or better in English 12 from the British Columbia secondary system.
- A final grade of 75% (B) or better in a University Transferable English course.
- Completion of two full years of full time degree level studies or equivalent at a recognized institution where English is the language of instruction.
- ~~Completion of one full year of degree studies (minimum four full transferable courses with a minimum grade of 'C') entirely in the English language at a recognized institution from a country approved by UNBC where English is an official language.~~
- A final grade of ~~4~~ 2 or better in Advanced Placement (AP) English Language and Composition or AP English Literature and Composition.
- A final grade of ~~5~~ 3 or better in International Baccalaureate (IB) English A1 or A2 (higher or subsidiary level).
- MELAB score of 80, with a minimum 3 on the Speaking Rating Scale
- CELPIP Academic Test score of 4H or higher in each of the Reading, Listening, Writing, and Speaking components.
- CAEL (Canadian Academic English Language) or the CAEL CE Assessment score of at least 70, with no subtest below 60.
- ~~University of Cambridge ESOL grade B on the Certificate of Advanced English (CAE).~~
- A grade of B or better on Cambridge English: Advanced (CAE)
- PTE (Pearson Test of English - Academic): 65 overall score, with 60 reading, 60 writing, 60 listening, and 60 speaking
- ~~Comparable results in any other internationally recognized English Language Assessment test considered as equivalent to TOEFL or IELTS.~~

For the Northern Collaborative Baccalaureate Nursing Program (NCBNP), the following are required for admission:

- fulfillment of the BC Secondary School English 12 requirement (~~67~~ 70 %), ~~or equivalent~~, and
- either an IELTS (International English Language Testing System) Academic, or a CELBAN (Canadian English Language Assessment for Nurses) with current, valid results and scores as set by CRNBC for the year of admission.

In order to be considered valid, ~~these scores~~ results must be sent directly from the testing agency/institution to the Office of the Registrar. Scores are valid for a period of two years.

11.6 Steering Committee of Senate

11.6.1 Report on Action Items from the April 26, 2017 Senate Meeting

Mr. Annear

Mr. Annear stated on May 17, 2017 the SCS discussed the following action items:

- (i) Timestamps – The SCS proposed using suggested timestamps on the May 24th Senate agenda as well as the following two regular meeting agendas as a pilot. The Secretary of Senate and the University Secretary will track how much time is actually used for the various agenda items. The SCS will discuss the use of timestamps again after three meetings.
- (ii) Question Period – Senators are highly encouraged to submit their questions before Senate meetings to allow time for more fulsome answers. Questions Members of the SCS felt that questions should still be accepted on the floor of Senate. Questions submitted before Senate meetings should be sent to Ms. Howitt.
- (iii) Recording Meetings, Senate Minutes, and Overall Senate Meeting Package Content – The Office of the University Secretariat will be looking at other BC post-secondary institutions over the coming months to do a comparison of Senate meeting packages. There was discussion about Senate minutes and the possibility of posting the audio recorded meetings publically or for only Senators. Consideration should be given to the impact on Senators comfort in speaking freely during meetings and for the need to manage the records once created (how long will recordings be kept, proactive protection, maintenance and retention of records, etc.). The current practice, as per the Senate Handbook, is to erase the Senate recordings once the minutes are approved. A change to this practice would require a motion to change the Senate Handbook.

Action item: The SCS is to discuss again whether audio recordings of Public Sessions should be brought to Senate as a discussion item or as a motion.

11.6.2 Strategic Research Plan

S-201705.16

Strategic Research Plan 2017-2021

Schorcht

That Senate endorses the major objectives and strategic research areas outlined in UNBC's Strategic Research Plan 2017-2021 and recognizes that the Strategic Research Plan is a living document that will evolve and change over time.

Effective date: May 24, 2017

CARRIED

The Strategic Research Plan was included in the meeting package for information.

CARRIED

2.0 S-201706.02

Approval of Senate Minutes

Schorcht

That the minutes of the May 24, 2017 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.

CARRIED

A question was raised with respect to the language in a previously approved motion [S-201705.13 Change(s) to the Calendar Regarding Undergraduate English Language Requirements] specifically, why the wording of Pearson Test of English doesn't parallel the International English Language Testing System, and why some motions that impact Calendar language were not reviewed by the SCAAF Subcommittee on Curriculum and Calendar (SCCC).

The Chair suggested follow-up after the meeting.

3.0 Academic Planning Action Plan – Recommendations

Dr. Ryan

“For Approval” Item:

Dr. Ryan was asked to assume the Chair for this agenda item.

The Registrar read a message on behalf of the President acknowledging the significance of this motion and Academic Action Plan and acknowledging the work of those involved. The message is attached to the minutes as Appendix I.

The Provost also thanked the Academic Planning Action Groups and the Director, Integrated Planning for their work. Dr. Lewis presented on behalf of the Academic Planning team. A member of each of the working groups attended. Dr. Ryan provided a PowerPoint presentation. The PowerPoint Presentation is attached to the minutes as Appendix II.

A Senator requested that in the next eight months Senate spend half an hour at each Senate meeting discussing the areas in the Plan that are under the mandate of Senate and prioritize them. He asked the Steering Committee of Senate to allocate time on the Senate agenda to allow Senators time to discuss these items.

Action item: The SCS is to consider allocating time on each Senate agenda to discuss and prioritize areas of the Academic Planning Action Plan Recommendations under the mandate of Senate.

S-201706.03

UNBC Academic Action Plan

Blanding

4.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

4.1 Merit-based Awards – Follow up from the April 26, 2017 Senate meeting

At the April 26, 2017 Senate meeting, a Senator asked if the $2.5/2.6 million in Merit-based Awards represents an increase or decrease relative to previous years, and the Senator requested information on the overall trend.

The Provost reported that in the last five years the merit based awards have increased and the amount awarded last year was the highest amount and the greatest percentage of awards presented. Although the trend is upward, there is a fair amount of variability. The need-based awards and total value of the awards are also up. Last year 98.6% percent of awards available were awarded.

5.0 President's Report

On behalf of the President, the Registrar presented outgoing Senator, Dr. Wendy Fellers with a certificate of appreciation in recognition to her service on Senate.

6.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

The Provost reported that since the last Senate meeting we have received the 2016/2017 FTE audit report. The numbers indicate that domestic enrolment is up 7.3 percent for this year. Applications are up 19 percent over applications this time last year. Admissions are up 9.2 percent, registrations are up 10 percent and currently FTEs are up 9.2 percent.

A Senator asked the Provost if materials on admissions, enrolment and registrations similar to materials included in the June Board public meeting package could also be included in the August Senate public package for Senate for discussion.

Action item: The Provost will include information about admissions, enrolment and registrations similar to that included in the Board's June Public Session meeting package for the August 23, 2017 Senate meeting, and present the material.

Senators were asked to forward any questions they have about admissions, enrolment and registration in advance to the Provost, to ensure responses can be incorporated in the presentation.

7.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Annear

The Registrar reported on the election for the vacant Graduate Student Senator position that was held on June 22, 2017 and June 23, 2017. Aishat Oguntola was elected. A call for nominations was sent to CSAM faculty on June 26, 217 for three CSAM Senator vacancies. Nominations can be submitted to Ms. Howitt prior to 4:00 pm on Tuesday, July 11, 2017.

8.0 Question Period

No questions were submitted in advance and the Chair called for questions from the floor.

A Senator asked if Impact Benefit Agreements with that are associated with awards for First Nations students, are recognized on the University's or Donor's website.

The Vice President, University Advancement noted that recipients are requested to write thank-you notes to donors. He acknowledged the particular situation with regards to First Nations students and the role that donor industries may have played in their communities.

Action item: The Vice President, University Advancement is to enquire about Impact Benefit Agreements associated with First Nations awards to see if they are recognized on the University's or on Donor's websites and report back to the Senator.

A Senator asked if there are awards that are not being awarded because no one meets the conditions of the donor agreement.

The Acting Dean of CSAM noted that they analyze and track which awards are awarded and not awarded during the previous years. Awards which are not awarded for a few years are sent to the Development Office for review to see if the terms and conditions can be modified to make them more available to students.

The Provost stated that in the past two years, 98% of the awards available to UNBC students were awarded.

A Senator referred to Recommendation 3.1.2a of the Academic Action Plan which asks the University to review delivery models such as IASK, mentorship and XMAT as examples of different methods for teaching basic skills, and asked if the IASK program is still funded on a trial basis or if it has permanent funding? The Senator also asked if Senate could be provided with information to assess the costs and success of this program.

The Provost noted that the IASK program is still funded as a pilot. There have been recent discussions about the best way to move forward. There are a number of items that have been tracked, such as student learning, but other items should be reviewed as well. Discussions are ongoing.

A Senator asked Senator Erickson if there are any awards where a student may not know who the donor is prior to accepting the award.

Senator Erickson stated that when students apply for awards, they are matched with specific awards based on eligibility. While she would not accept an award from a donor if that compromised her beliefs, there may be other students who would accept because of financial need.

A Senator referred to recommendation 1.2.2a of the Academic Plan regarding UNBC's interaction with the community and noted that community members have raised concerns to him as to the way UNBC is perceived by the local community. The Senator queried whether UNBC will be taking a committee approach to look at how the University can best serve the community.

The Provost and the Vice President Advancement noted that UNBC has a number of strong relationships with the community. It has not been determined how the University will take next steps on this specific recommendation. The Provost noted that if there are specific concerns or issues, it is always important and helpful if they are brought forward to the University.

9.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda

Dr. Menounos

There were no motions on the Consent Agenda.

10.0 Committee Reports

10.1 Senate Committee on Academic Affairs

Dr. Ryan

None

10.2 Senate Committee on Admissions and Degrees

Mr. Annear

None

10.3 Senate Committee on First Nations and Aboriginal Peoples

Dr. Ryan

None

A Senator asked the Provost whether this Committee has met since the last Senate meeting.

The Provost noted that regular monthly meetings are being called but quorum has not been achieved recently. The University Secretary is working on revising the Terms of Reference for SCFNAP so that Senate can consider how to address this issue.

10.4 Senate Committee on Scholarships and Bursaries

Mr. Annear

The Registrar stated the number of awards by person has gone up by 14 percent since 2012.

“For Approval” Item:

S-201706.04

UNBC Leadership Bursary

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Scholarships and Bursaries, the new Terms and Conditions for the UNBC Leadership Bursary be approved.

Effective Date: 2017-2018 Academic Year

CARRIED

A Senator asked if there is a requirement for a letter of recommendation for the UNBC Leadership Bursary. In the Bursary description, the criterion requires that applicants demonstrate leadership. He asked if the question within the application is sufficient or should there be additional requirements, and is there clarity with respect to how leadership is defined at the University.

The Registrar noted that at this point the criteria does not specifically state there needs to be a letter presented to the committee to make that decision. This will be taken back to the Senate committee on awards for review as I believe that point needs to be discussed further at the awards committee.

Action item: The Registrar will discuss the UNBC Leadership Bursary criteria with the Senate Committee on Scholarships and Bursaries and determine if additional requirements or clarification will be needed to determine how applicants can demonstrate leadership.

Senator Blanding noted that the Students as Partners Ad Hoc Committee had a lot of conversation about how leadership is defined when discussing the Dean’s List and leadership.

The Registrar asked if Senator Blanding could forward the information to him so that he could bring it forward to the SCSB.

“For Information” Items:

SCSB20170510.03 (approved)

Alpha Pi Beta Sorority Bursary

That the new Terms and Conditions for the Alpha Pi Beta Sorority Bursary be approved.

Effective Date: 2018-2019 Academic Year

SCSB20170510.04 (approved)

QuizMe Award

That the new Terms and Conditions for the QuizMe Award be approved.

SENATE COMMITTEE ON ACADEMIC APPEALS

Faulty Member (03/31/2020)

Ms. Ngoc Huynh

Further nominations were sought from the floor, and there being none, the motion was CARRIED.

Recommendation of Regional Representative to Senate

S-201706.06

Recommendation of Regional Representatives to Senate

Jensen

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Nominations, and barring further nominations from the floor of Senate, the following candidate, who has met all eligibility requirements to serve on Senate, be elected to Senate in accordance with Section 3(q)(i) of the Senate Handbook.

Effective date: Immediately upon approval by Senate

SENATE POSITION TO BE FILLED

CANDIDATE

Regional Representative – South Central (03/31/2020)

Ms. Laurey-Anne Roodenburg

Further nominations were sought from the floor, and there being none, the motion was CARRIED.

Senator Casperson reported that the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs Subcommittee on Academic Scheduling has a Faculty Senator vacancy, which also resulted in the loss of the Chair. Interested Faculty Senators should contact the Senate Committee on Nominations about the vacancy.

13.1 Notice of Motion – May 24, 2017

“For Approval” Item:

S-201706.07

Changes to the Senate Handbook – Addition of the Faculty Association President or Delegate as a Non-Voting Member of Senate

Wessell Lightfoot

That the Senate Handbook be amended with regards to the inclusion of the President or Delegate of the Faculty Association to be regarded as fully participating non-voting member of Senate similar to that non-voting member participation of the President of NUGSS and the President of GSS.

Effective Date: On approval of Senate

Motion

Whitcombe

That the vote on motion S-201706.07 be held by secret ballot.

CARRIED

The University Secretary noted that granting a non-voting member the right to appoint a delegate would be inconsistent with the Senate Handbook and practice for non-voting members.

Amendment 1

That “or delegate” be struck from the motion.

The University Secretary confirmed that if the Faculty Association President was on a leave and the Association had an “Acting President”, that person could attend Senate meetings. Senator Whalen, who proposed the motion, was amicable to Amendment 1.

The University Secretary noted that because changes had been made to the Senate Handbook in April 2017 to include a category for “Other Representatives” the motion (S-201706.07) should be amended as follows:

Amendment 2

That section 3 (e) (xii) of the Senate Handbook be changed to include the President of the Faculty Association and should read as follows:

“Other Representatives not otherwise elected or appointed to Senate” includes the following positions: President of NUGSS, President of NBCGSS, the Senior Advisor to the President on Aboriginal Relations, and the President of the Faculty Association.

Senator Whalen, who presented the motion, was amicable to Amendment 2.

Motion

Casperson

In accordance with Senate regulation 3(w) iii, that the Senate session extend beyond 5:30 p.m.

CARRIED

A secret ballot vote was held for motion S-201706.07.

A Senator asked if it was possible to get the result of the secret ballot vote.

There was uncertainty whether the vote count could be released. The Chair asked that the matter be reviewed after the Senate meeting. The vote count should be reported at the next meeting of Senate if it is in order.

Absent: L. Handfield, M. Peterson, M. Prevost

---

The meeting commenced at 3:31 p.m.

1.0 Acknowledgement of Territory

The Chair acknowledged the traditional territory of the Lheidli T'enneh Nation and other First Nations the University works with throughout northern British Columbia.

The Chair welcomed new Faculty Senators Ian Hartley, Peter Jackson, Thomas Tannert, and Matt Reid, and the new South Central Regional Senator, Laurey-Anne Roodenburg.

2.0 S-201708.01
Approval of the Agenda

Blanding

That the agenda for the August 23, 2017 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.

Amendment

Weeks

That the memorandum of understanding between Coquitlam College and the University of Northern British Columbia on guaranteed admission pathways be added to the Senate agenda as item 10.8 under the committee report from the Senate Committee on Regional Policy and Inter-Institutional Relations.

CARRIED as amended.

3.0 S-201708.02
Approval of Senate Minutes

Larsen

That the minutes of the June 28, 2017 Public Session of Senate be approved as presented.

CARRIED

4.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

4.1 Response to question re: Donors and Impact Benefit Agreements

Mr. Tribe

Mr. Tribe stated this was a question raised at the June 28, 2017 Senate meeting. The terms of all awards are vetted through the Senate Committee on Scholarships and Bursaries and are posted on the website. The Financial Aid Office encourages students to review the terms of the awards when thinking about applying for these awards. At no time is a student who is awarded these scholarships or awards ever simply expected to accept them. Students have the opportunity to decline an award. Recipients are encouraged to write a letter to donors, but this is not a requirement.

Senator Erickson stated the information needs to be clarified in communication given to students.

4.2 Response to question re: UNBC Leadership Bursary

Mr. Annear

The University Registrar stated the UNBC Leadership Bursary was a one-time only award, based on one-time funding. There was no information indicating the bursary will continue. All awards were given out (money was awarded). The timing of the award was late, so the SCSB had to work with the information they had. Letters of reference were not asked for as the deadline had closed. There were 4 questions on the application form related to leadership: involvement in the community; UNBC involvement & roles; overall / general leadership experience; and extra-curricular activities. There are other leadership awards that do require reference letters. The SCSB approved the list of recipients the morning of August 23, 2017.

4.3 Response to request re: allocation of time on Senate agenda for Prioritization of Academic Plan Recommendations

Dr. Ryan

The Provost stated there was a request at the last Senate meeting that Senate should set aside time to discuss recommendations from the Academic Plan. The discussion would be valuable, but there were questions as to how that fits with other elements like advisory committee and the priorities already offered in the Academic Plan.

A Senator stated that the suggestion was for Senate to discuss the Academic Plan in a more general sense rather than specifically discussing prioritization.

The President stated administration needs to give Senate regular updates of where the University is at with the recommendations in the Academic Plan.

A Senator suggested time be set aside in Senate to discuss all the elements of the University planning holistically.

The President stated that any report to Senate about the Academic Plan would naturally have to include those other pieces.

5.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

The President thanked everyone at UNBC for their outstanding response to the wildfire and evacuee situation in British Columbia this summer. There will be a "Welcome Back to Campus Barbeque" on September 19, 2017 open to the entire campus community and is partly taking place to thank everyone in their efforts in dealing with the fire tragedy.

Candy Palmater will be the next guest in the President's Speaker Series on September 19, 2017.

The Interim Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs and the President went to Georgia Tech in Atlanta. UNBC is working hard to expand the engineering program. Georgia Tech is the largest engineering school in the world, and they discussed possible partnerships.

The President travelled to China for several meetings, and Seoul, South Korea to discuss possible unique opportunities for UNBC.

Senior administrators, student leaders, the head of CUPE and the Faculty Association met with Minister Mark in August. She is from the Nass Valley and passionate about the north. The President extended an invitation to Minister Mark to attend the Wilp Wilxo'oskwhl Nisga'a convocation event in 2018.

The process continues for the Provost and Vice President Academic search. The Board received all available feedback and gave the President instruction and actions to take. Once the process is complete, he will let the University committee know the outcome of that search.

An announcement will be made soon to fill the search committee for the Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs.

A Presidential Task Force was struck to look at the possibility of an International High School at UNBC in Prince George. The University would have to partner with the high school for 2-3 years and would require the University's help through a pilot phase. The task force looked at some of the challenges, and the primary issue is space. Other options within the University's footprint are being considered.

6.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

The Provost stated that since the enrollment numbers are in flux, the SCS decided it would better the enrollment presentation take place at the September Senate meeting.

The Provost gave a high level enrollment report. The overall registration is down by 0.4 % on a head count basis. Undergraduate registration is up 3.6 % on a head count basis and graduate registration is down 17% on a head count basis. Registration for domestic paying international student is up 2.2% on a head count basis and registration for international students paying international tuition is up 33% on a head count basis. The Registrar's Office informed the Provost that there are still a number of applications in process. The graduate numbers are down partly due to several programs that are completed in cohorts and do not have intakes every year. Graduate registrations are also typically submitted later than undergraduate registrations. There should be a better appreciation of the enrollment numbers after the add drop date. The Provost thanked everyone involved in the recruitment and enrollment activities.

A Senator asked who domestic paying international students are.

The Provost stated one category is for graduate students.

The Registrar stated with some of the exchange agreements, students pay domestic fees, but this is a small number.

Action item: The Registrar will get specific numbers on how many international students pay domestic fees as per exchange agreements.

A Senator suggested the enrollment numbers be broken down in terms of cohort and non-cohort numbers in the September enrollment presentation by the Provost.

The Provost asked Senators to forward him any other ideas they may have in how they would like to see the enrollment numbers broken down, and he will try to provide that information.

7.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Annear

The University Registrar stated the "My UNBC Portal" is moving forward. There is a campaign to bring it to the attention of students in conjunction with IT, Student Services, Recruitment, Marketing and the student societies. Services which are currently provided and will be provided by the portal include things students have used in the past through different access points. There will be changes made to the website and students will be directed to the new portal.

In conjunction with IT, the Registrar's Office is beginning the process of putting in place an online application on the Education Planner BC website. There were two preliminary meetings between UNBC's IT and technical teams and the ministry representatives for the project. A project charter is being finalized and should be completed in the next week. There will be additional meetings to engage other stakeholders on campus. Questions, concerns or thoughts regarding this project can be emailed directly to the University Registrar.

Representatives from the BC Council on International Education were on campus August 22 and August 23, 2017. They met with staff from the International Education Office and the Office of the Registrar to review UNBC's international admissions process, provide feedback and suggest potential improvements.

8.0 Question Period

The President stated the Northern Marketing Campaign received funding from the provincial government to hire a marketing consultant and put together a campaign. That work has largely been done. The Northern Marketing Initiative will be launched September 22, 2017. The initiative will be advertised on social media, print media and video. The purpose of the campaign is to market northern BC as an education destination.

A Senator stated in March a motion was approved by Senate to change the composition of the senior academic administrative search committees. His understanding is it went to the Board. The Senator asked where the proposal was in the approval process.

The University Secretary stated the proposal went to the Board's HR Committee in June. The HR Committee directed the University Secretary to revise the draft procedures. The revised draft procedures will go to the HR Committee for discussion on September 13, 2017. If the draft procedures are approved by the Board in September, then the procedures will be taken to the SCS and Senate in September. If the Board does not approve the procedures, they will be returned to the Board's work plan for discussion at the November Board meeting. Once the Board approves the procedures, they will be returned to Senate for approval.

The Senator stated that Senate would likely appreciate that this be moved on quickly so that with the next senior academic hire, that composition be in place.

The President stated the proposal is in the works and will come back to Senate once approved by the Board.

A Senator stated the Associate Vice President, People, Organizational Design and Risk commented on placing people on the committee after the search consultant is chosen. He was in agreement with another Senator's past comments that committee members should be chosen before the consultant if possible.

The Associate Vice President, People, Organizational Design and Risk stated the process is complex and it would be difficult to hire a search consultant after committee members are chosen. UNBC's HR department supports the process; however a majority of the work is completed by the search firm. The process could be reviewed with the current search consultant and search committee.

A Senator asked what colleges have partnered with UNBC in the Northern Marketing Campaign.

The President stated Northwest Community College, College of New Caledonia and Northern Lights College are working together with UNBC on the campaign.

The Senator asked if the marketing will focus outside or within the north.

The President stated the campaign will first target the Lower Mainland, and then the rest of Canada and internationally.

A Senator asked why UNBC uses search consultants for administrative positions.

The President stated UNBC uses search consultants because they are professionals; they can garner more interest in positions; the entire process of hiring is embedded in many laws and legalities; and it keeps the cost of hiring down. The Associate Vice President, People, Organizational Design and Risk added search consultants are better at sourcing candidates, especially for highly competitive senior administrative positions.

A Senator asked if the search for candidates for the Provost positions had been done yet.

The President stated the process was ongoing and the policy was being followed.

4.0 Business Arising from Previous Minutes of Senate

None

5.0 President's Report

Dr. Weeks

The President reported that Candy Palmater was the second guest speaker in the President's Speaker Series on September 19, 2017. The admission to the event was by donation to the student food bank.

5.1 Search Committee for the Vice-President Research and Graduate Programs

The President reported that he asked the Board to allow for some interim changes to the composition of the search committee for the Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs to allow for great faculty representation. The Board approved those interim changes and they were presented to Senate on motion S-201709.03.

S-201709.03

Vice-President Research and Graduate Programs

Mandy

That the current Search Committee for the Vice-President Research and Graduate Programs be amended in the interim to include one Research Chair, appointed or elected by Senate and one faculty member who has expertise related to First Nations or Aboriginal research, selected by the President.

Effective Date: Upon the approval of Senate

Amendment

Searle

That one undergraduate student be appointed by the Northern Undergraduate Student Society to the Search Committee for the Vice-President Research and Graduate Programs.

CARRIED as amended.

The current Selection Procedures for the Search Committee for the Vice-President Research were included in the meeting package for information.

Search Committee Procedures are under the joint authority of the Board and Senate under the University Act. The amendment to the motion will need to be approved by the Board.

A Senator asked where the proposal approved by Senate regarding changes to the composition of search committees for senior academic administrators is at in the process.

Ms. Sanford replied that the draft procedures approved by Senate went to the Board's Human Resources Committee in June. The Committee requested revisions. The revised draft procedures were taken to full the Board in September. Further revisions were requested. The revised Procedures will go before the Board again in November and, if approved by the Board, to Senate on November 22, 2017.

S-201709.0301

Hartley

That Senate delegates authority to the Senate Committee on Nominations to appoint a Research Chair to the Search Committee for the Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs.

Effective Date: Upon the approval of Senate

Members of the Senate Committee on Nominations expressed concern about having the authority to appoint a Research Chair to the search committee.

There was discussion about an electronic election by Senate to elect a Research Chair to the search committee. The Chair of the SCN recommended an electronic election be done by plurality.

Amendment

That Senate delegates authority to the Senate Committee on Nominations to expedite an election for a Research Chair to the Search Committee for the Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs.

CARRIED as amended.

6.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

6.1 External Reviews – Provost’s Annual Report

The Provost’s Annual Report on External Program Reviews was included in the meeting package for information. Several External Program Reviews are complete and ready to come forward to Senate. The SCS suggested however, that these reviews come forward to Senate in a more graduated manner. In the past, there have been some inconsistencies in how external program reviews were brought to Senate. The University’s current process does not speak about Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy. The Provost has asked SCAAF to look at the process and comparative processes at other institutions and make some recommendations about how to deal with this going forward. He will ask the SCS whether current external program reviews should come forward to Senate in a Public Session or In Camera session.

7.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Annear

7.1 Follow-up re: the number of international students who pay domestic fees as per exchange agreements (action item from the August 23, 2017 Senate meeting)

The Registrar stated it is difficult to get a clear picture of which international students pay domestic fees as per exchange agreements. More detailed manual review of files is needed. There are a number of initiatives taking place in the Office of the Registrar to make tracking those different pieces clearer, but the information is not readily available at this time. There is a fee differential for most undergraduate international students, except those whom UNBC has an international exchange agreement with. Graduate international students do not pay a fee differential.

The Registrar’s Office has been working on pathway agreements with various partners.

The Registrar reported on and noted some concern with respect to, some professors and teacher assistants making changes to class schedules and classrooms without notifying the Registrar’s Office. This has affected some students as they felt they were unable to challenge their professors or teaching assistants regarding the changes. Some were consequently unable to attend the classes as rescheduled. The Registrar noted that the University makes an agreement with students when a schedule is made. The Registrar has the responsibility of knowing where students can be found in case of an emergency. The Provost noted that there is a process in place whereby instructors can request a change in class schedule and time through the Deans. It is important for instructors to communicate their needs if the resources necessary to teach classes are not available in the current assigned classroom so arrangements can be made.

Data Capture Utility software training will be offered soon.

8.0 Question Period

8.1 Written questions submitted in advance

8.1.1 Through Senate motion 201708.06, Senate recommended to the Board that it specifically endorse a particular recommendation of the Academic Action Plan. How was this communication to the Board?

The Chair reported that the Board was given the Academic Plan prior to their September Meeting. There was limited time to discuss all of the specific recommendations at that meeting, but there was follow up with Board Members after the meeting to relay Senate's request and to let the Board know that senior administration intends to strike the Committee.

- 8.1.2 The College of Science and Management's Chairs' Management Team has requested a spreadsheet containing a list of the recommendations contained in the Academic Action Plan – Draft Recommendations. Will this happen? When?

The Provost stated the list was distributed to the Deans on September 18th.

- 8.1.3 Will such a resource be made available to Senators and members of the Board of Governors? When? How?

The Provost stated the document has been uploaded to the Senate SharePoint site and can be found on the Integrated Planning site.

- 8.1.4 What topic presentations to Senate has the Steering Committee planned regarding the Academic Action Plan – Draft Recommendations?

The Chair stated SCS had a thorough discussion at the last meeting, and the sentiment from the committee was that the SCS should respond to requests from Senate regarding the content of agenda rather than create topics

- 8.1.5 The University commissioned and received a report on its safety practices earlier this year. How are the concerns in that report, and the University's responses to those concerns being communicated to the UNBC community?

The AVP People, Organizational Design and Risk stated the report was commissioned and intended as a report for Management. A summary report and management responses will be posted on the safety website after the Joint Safety Committee meeting on September 28, 2017. The University is compliant with legislation. One of the key issues raised in the audit is that every person who supervises another person at the University is responsible for safety. There are a number of safety information sessions scheduled. When the safety orientation and training is ready online, everyone is encouraged to complete the training. Alertess is a mass notification system that should be ready for the University community by January 2018.

8.2 Questions from the floor

In regard to the recent Provost and Vice President, Academic Search, a Senator asked why only one of the candidates met with the Program Chairs.

The President stated there was only one candidate at that stage

The Senator asked if two candidates met with thirty people outside of the search committee.

The President clarified that two applicants met with people outside of the search committee.

The Senator asked what the process was to identify these people whom the applicants met with and if the search committee was a part of that process.

The President replied that the entire search committee was present when this was discussed and identified who the applicants should meet with outside of the search committee.

The AVP People, Organizational Design and Risk reported, as per the Policy, there were informal meetings with senior administrators, including the vice presidents, associate vice presidents, deans and directors when two applicants were being considered. The applicants also met with the leads from the Academic Planning Committee. By the time the process reached the stage of meetings with Program Chairs there was only one candidate.

A Senator asked if a similar process will be followed for the search for the Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs.

The President noted the changes made earlier in the meeting and reiterated that the Policy will be followed.

The Senator asked if there will be a public presentation on campus.

The President stated the first question that the search consultant will be asked when the search committee meets will be if the search consultant believes they can get a complete and quality slate of candidates if the process includes a public presentation.

9.0 Removal of Motions from the Consent Agenda Dr. Weeks

None

The Chair and the Secretary of Senate left the meeting at 4:35 p.m. The Vice Chair was in the Chair. The Deputy Registrar was the Acting Secretary of Senate.

10.0 2018/19 Integrated Action Plan Framework Dr. Ryan

The Provost and Vice President Academic presented the 2017/18 Enrolment Update. The presentation was sent to Senate prior to the meeting and is included in the minutes as Appendix I. A discussion on enrollment followed the presentation.

Admission Requirement

Admission to the Bachelor of Health Sciences program is based on academic qualifications and available space. At the time of application, students must specify whether they intend to pursue either the Biomedical Studies Major or one of the two Community and Population Health Majors. Priority admission is given to students who meet admission criteria and apply by the deadline of February 1. Applications received after the deadline may be reviewed based on available space in the program. Self-identified Aboriginal applicants who meet or exceed the minimum requirements for admission to the program are given priority for up to twenty percent (20%) of the first-year seats for the Bachelor of Health Sciences program.

Applicants from BC and Yukon secondary schools must:

- Meet the basic UNBC admission requirements, and
- Have completed Principles of Mathematics 11 or Pre-Calculus 11, Chemistry 11, Biology 12, English 12 and other approved Grade 12 courses as specified in the Admissions sections of the Undergraduate Calendar with a minimum of ~~C+~~ (70%) in each course.

Other Applicants must:

- Meet UNBC admission requirements, and

- Have completed the equivalent of Principles of Mathematics 11 or Pre-Calculus 11, Chemistry 11, Biology 12, English 12, and other approved Grade 12 courses as specified in the Admissions section of the Undergraduate Calendar with a minimum of C+ 70% in each course.

Students interested in specializing in the Biomedical Studies Major are strongly encouraged to take: Pre-Calculus 12, or Principles of Mathematics 12, and Chemistry 12 before entering the Program.

Common Requirements:

~~1st year – 20 credit hours~~

~~BIOL 103 3 Introductory Biology I~~

~~BIOL 104 3 Introductory Biology II~~

~~BIOL 123 1 Introductory Biology I Laboratory~~

~~BIOL 124 1 Introductory Biology II Laboratory~~

~~FNST 100 3 The Aboriginal Peoples of Canada~~

~~HHSC 101 3 Introduction to Health Science I: Issues and Controversies~~

~~CHEM 221-1 Organic and Biochemistry Lab A laboratory based course designed to accompany and complement CHEM 220-3. This course will introduce common laboratory techniques as well as introduce some of the properties and reactions of organic and biochemical compounds. Prerequisites: CHEM 121-1 Co-requisites: CHEM 220-3~~

~~CHEM 311-3 Analytical Chemistry III A laboratory course (two hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory per week) designed to augment CHEM 210-3 and CHEM 310-3. Topics include pH and ion specific electrodes, electrochemical methods and crystallography. Prerequisites: CHEM 203-3 and CHEM 210-3~~

Page 240

~~ENPL 402-3 Terrain Assessment An evaluation of different techniques used to classify terrain, including an understanding of the dynamics of land surface processes, the impacts of development, applied remediation methods, and the use of terrain information for site and land use planning. Prerequisites: GEOG 210-3 and 60 credit hours Precluded: ENVS 402-3~~

Page 243

~~ENSC 453-3 Environmental Resources Management and Decision Making This course introduces various decision making models and methods to aid in environmental resources management. Topics include environmental economics, benefit cost analysis, planning evaluation and review technique (PERT), linear programming, multi objective programming, integer programming, stochastic programming, dynamic programming, and nonlinear programming. A number of environmental systems serve as management examples, such as water resources, water quality, air quality, groundwater, solid waste, and forest ecosystem. Supporting computer software may be used. Prerequisites: MATH 100-3 and MATH 101-3, or MATH 152-3, or permission of the instructor Recommended: ENSC 308-3~~

Page 273

~~MATH 460-3 Mathematics Seminar Topic will vary from year to year. Offered in a seminar format with limited enrolment. Students will complete a substantial project under the supervision of the instructor. Prerequisites: Completed 90 credit hours and permission of the instructor~~

Page 278

~~NURS 301-3 Advanced Pathophysiology This course discusses the pathogenesis and pathophysiological mechanisms of select diseases and conditions, with an emphasis upon recent discoveries in genetics, immunology, and infection and includes conditions relevant to northern BC. Linkages between pathophysiological events and therapeutic modalities are made. This course presumes an understanding of anatomy, physiology, and basic pathophysiology. Prerequisites: None; admission for non-nursing students by permission of the instructor Precluded: NURS 202-3, HHSC 301-3~~

Page 279

~~NURS 402-3 Health Promotion This course examines health promotion theories, principles, and underlying philosophies within a primary health care framework. Students identify and critique health promotion issues and explore strategies that promote well being among individuals, groups, and communities. Prerequisites: Upper division standing in Nursing, or permission of the instructor Precluded: HHSC 473-3~~

NURS 409 3 Pharmacotherapeutics for Nurses This course examines the clinical application of drug therapy, with an emphasis on drugs commonly used in primary care settings. Implications of selected pharmacotherapeutics for patients and professional nurses are analyzed. Emphasis is on clinical decision making for nurses working in rural or northern settings. Prerequisites: Upper division standing In Nursing, or permission of the instructor

NURS 411 3 Medical Diagnostics for Nurses This course considers information, interpretation and implications of commonly ordered diagnostic tests. Aspects of specimen collection and test performance are covered. Areas of study include serum chemistry, hematology, microbiology, radiological imaging, and electrography. Emphasis is upon problem solving and decision making for nurses in acute care settings and in remote and rural areas. Prerequisites: Upper division standing in Nursing, or permission of the instructor

NURS 428 6 Nursing Management This course examines nursing management and leadership theory, current issues and practice in hospitals, health care agencies and communities. Special focus is on front line nursing management within rural and northern communities in a changing health care system. This course permits the extension of skills and knowledge in the practice of nursing leadership and management. #### Parked CASHS and CSAM Courses

Larsen

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the proposed CASHS and CSAM courses be parked by removing them from active use in the academic calendar and the system.

Effective date: September 2017

CARRIED

A Senator asked if a course is parked, what the process would be if a program wants to offer the course again.

Action item: The Registrar will bring the process set out a number of years ago regarding deleted and parked courses to the next Senate meeting to clarify the process for moving a course from parked to active status.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strikethrough~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

~~CHEM 403 3 Topics in Inorganic Chemistry This course considers advanced and selected topics in inorganic chemistry. Topics depend on instructor and student interest and normally focus on advanced material not dealt with in other courses. Note: Credit may be granted for both 400 and 600 level offerings of Topics in Chemistry courses, and either the 400 or 600 level or a combination of both may be repeated to a maximum of 6 credit hours, provided the content of the independent offerings of the courses is sufficiently different (as determined by the Program Chair or College Dean). Prerequisites: one of CHEM 320 3 or CHEM 321 3~~

Page 215

~~COMM 333 3 Women in Organizations This seminar course examines the issues faced by women in the work force. Topics include women in non traditional occupations and women as entrepreneurs. Individual, organizational and societal approaches to enhancing opportunities and quality of work life for working women are explored. Prerequisites: COMM 230 3, ECON 100 3, and ECON 101 3, or permission of the instructor Precluded: ECON 301 3~~

Page 216

~~COMM 413 3 Accounting: Advanced Topics Advanced and selected topics in accounting. The general content tends to focus on material not dealt with on a recurring basis in the regular course sequence. Prerequisites: COMM 311 3, 312 3~~

Page 217

~~COMM 430 3 Organization Studies: Selected Topics This course focuses on three to five topics related to the material presented in COMM 230 3 Organizational Behaviour. As the course content may vary with each offering, students can consult the instructor/program for information concerning topics. Prerequisites: COMM 230 3~~

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

To meet admission requirements, the cumulative grade point average (CGPA) on all transferable courses attempted must be at least 2.0 or C (63-66.9%). While all courses attempted are included in the calculation of a student's admission GPA, no transfer credit will be awarded for any course with a grade of less than 0.67 or D- (50-52.9%).

Transfer credit is awarded according to agreements articulated in the BC Transfer Guide (available online at <http://www.bccat.bc.ca>).

Note: UNBC guarantees priority admission and full transfer credit (minimum of 60 credit hours) to students transferring with an Associate in Arts or Science degree.

Diploma Programs

To meet admission requirements, applicants must present a minimum CGPA of 2.0 or C (63-66.9%).

Transfer credit for articulated courses is awarded at the point of admission. Upon declaration of a major in a related degree program, or direct admission into Nursing or Social Work degrees, students who hold specific Business Administration, Natural Resource Management or Environmental Studies or Nursing or Social Work Diplomas may be eligible for additional block credit.

Please note: To receive transfer credit in certain program areas, a higher minimum grade is required.

2+2 Programs

Diploma Programs in Environmental Studies, Natural Resources, Tourism, Sport or Recreation Studies, Commerce, Geography, or related.

Students who have successfully completed a 2-year diploma in Environmental Studies, Natural Resources, Tourism, Sport or Recreation Studies, Commerce, Geography, or equivalent, with a minimum of a cumulative GPA of 2.00, are eligible for admission into the BA Nature-Based Tourism (Diploma Completion) Program.

..... [omitted text]

Admission from College Outside BC and Quebec

The CGPA on all transferable courses attempted must be at least 2.0 or C (63-66.9%). No transfer credit will be awarded for any course with a grade of less than 0.67 or D- (50-52.9%).

Individual transfer credit is awarded for course work deemed to be university transferable in the home province on an individual basis. Holders of two-year diploma programs may be eligible for block credit, to a maximum of 30 credits.

Diploma Programs in Environmental Studies, Natural Resources, Tourism, Sport or Recreation Studies, Commerce, Geography, or related.

Students who have successfully completed a 2-year diploma in Environmental Studies, Natural Resources, Tourism, Sport or Recreation Studies, Commerce, Geography, or equivalent, with a minimum of a cumulative GPA of 2.00, are eligible for admission into the BA Nature-Based Tourism (Diploma Completion) Program.

Change to the Senate Handbook – Terms of Reference for the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs

Payne

That, on the recommendation of the Steering Committee of Senate, the terms of reference for the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs be approved as proposed,
Effective Date: Upon the approval of Senate

Feedback on the revised terms of reference for SCAAF was as follows:

- policies, revisions and initiatives related to research ethics should be moved to category 1
- policies, revisions and initiatives related to animal care and use, as recommended by the SCAAF Committee on Animal Care & Use, should approved by Senate before referral to the Board of Governors for approval and should be moved to category 1
- policies, revisions and initiatives related to biohazards, as recommended by the SCAAF Biohazard’s Committee, for referral to the Board of Governors for approval should be moved to category 1
- concern about the size of the committee and a suggestion it should have about 14 members
- when the motion comes back, it comes back as a sequence of amendments to the Senate Handbook to be deliberated on separately
- concern about SCAAF having the authority to approve items in 2b as Student Senators can provide value in providing feedback on these types of changes

One of the recommendations from the Academic Plan is for Senate to look at the Senate committee structure. Some initial research about the Senate committee structure and what it could look like has been done by the Office of the University Secretariat, but SCAAF terms of reference were put forward first to get feedback from Senate on the format before making changes to all the Senate committees’ terms of reference. Each of the Senate committees should look at their own terms of reference and make recommendations and all these changes should be vetted through the SCS before moving forward to Senate.

A Senator suggested there should be a discussion at Senate about what the general principles are before a suite of changes are made to Senate committees.

Motion to Postpone

Horianopoulos

That motion S-201709.26 be postponed and sent back to the SCS for revisions.

6.0 Report of the Provost

Dr. Ryan

6.1 External Program Reviews

SCAAF made a request to the SCS that the completed external reviews go back to SCAAF for review before going forward to Senate.

There will be calls soon to populate the Advisory Committee outlined in the Academic Plan.

Conversations on academic restructuring will begin soon. The University is looking at resources to help with those conversations.

7.0 Report of the Registrar

Mr. Annear

7.1 Process regarding deleted and parked courses

Information regarding the process for parking or deleting courses approved by Senate on May 25, 2011 was included in the meeting package. The process does not outline the steps to take to reinstate a course from parked to active. There was a discussion about how parked courses could be reinstated. There should be a distinction between course content and course focus. Required courses should not be parked or deleted. The Registrar said he will take the discussion at Senate under advisement and bring back motions to Senate that outline how to un-park and retrieve courses.

8.0 Question Period

UNBC's ranking in Maclean's Magazine moved from number one to number two in the primarily undergraduate category. A Senator wanted to know what changed between last year and this year.

UNBC improved in a couple categories. The Provost stated he would provide a better analysis at the next Senate meeting.

A Senator noted that the weightings in Maclean Magazine's rankings change every year, and the weightings are unknown ahead of time.

About a year ago senior administration hired consultants to write a report on cooperative education. The Senator wanted to know what became of the report, if there will be changes to the cooperative program, and if Senate will get to view the revised purpose and structure of the program.

The Provost noted that he could bring a better answer at the next Senate meeting. The University has been successful in securing some funding for cooperative education.

A Senator wanted to know why the University Research Experience Awards are not administered the same way as the other awards at UNBC, and whether Senate approved the terms and conditions of these awards.

The Interim Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs, stated the University Research Experience Awards are not administered the same way as the other awards at UNBC because the funding is provided by the Office of Research through discretionary funds available for students to work with faculty on research. The SCSB and Senate do not approve the terms as they are not really "awards but rather funds for research positions. The timing of the award changed because the Office of Research looked at how much money was available and wanted to ensure as many students as possible could get access to the funding.

The Senator stated some students thought there was an opportunity to hold an award during the fall semester, and they put a lot of effort into their applications; however the deadline for applications changed without the students' prior knowledge of the change.

The Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs said he would take the feedback back to the Director, Office of Research and ask him to provide information regarding why those timelines changed.

Action item: The Vice President, Research and Graduate Programs will provide Senate with information regarding why the timelines for the University Research Experience Awards were changed.

There was a CBC news story from September 10, 2017 regarding people receiving fake degrees from some universities in Canada. It was brought to the attention of a student forum online that there is a UNBC connection to a degree, which is verified by the UNBC Faculty page. The Senator wanted to know how the University deals with these kinds of issues.

The Registrar stated there are hundreds of institutions around the world that create such documents. The provincial and national Registrar's Associations are aware of the problem and watching for new trends.

The Provost noted that in hiring of staff and faculty the University does its due diligence in verifying degrees. The case the student is speaking about is on a public page and the final degree is from UBC, which is the degree the University verified. Going forward, the University will be looking at verifying all degrees when hiring.

A Senator stated the Academic Plan requires an integrative view between three pillars: restructuring conversations; the upcoming budgetary cycle; and the advisory committee membership. The Senator wanted to know how to communicate this process within the University community and outside the University community.

The Provost noted that once the Advisory Committee is populated it could be asked to provide support and advice on how to communicate the process.

S-201710.04

Change(s) to Program Requirements - Biochemistry & Molecular Biology (BSc Program)

Horianopoulos

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the change(s) to the Program Requirements for Biochemistry & Molecular Biology (BSc Program), on page 68-69 of the 2017/2018 graduate / undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2018

There was confusion as to why MATH 105-3 Enriched Calculus on page 75 of the meeting package was struck from the list of courses and at what point in the process the course was struck. The motion was not ready for approval.

WITHDRAWN

A covering memo for the changes to the Environmental Engineering program was included in the meeting package for information.

Motions S-201710.05 to S-201710.11 were dealt with as an omnibus motion.

Changes to Prerequisites/Co-requisites - ENGR 110-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the changes to the prerequisites/co-requisites for ENGR 110-3, on page 238 of the 2017/2018 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2017

CARRIED

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

ENGR 110-3 Technical Writing

In this course, students acquire practical experience in engineering technical writing for a range of applications. The emphasis throughout is on clarity, precision, and consistency. Course content includes searching and referencing methods using scientific and technical literature, argument development, and document organization. Design scenarios provide the basis for student exercises.

Prerequisites: Admission to the Environmental Engineering Program and English 12 or equivalent

S-201710.06

Changes to Prerequisites/Co-requisites - ENGR 117-3

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the changes to the prerequisites/co-requisites for ENGR 117-3, on page 238 of the 2017/2018 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

ENGR 117-3 Engineering Design I

This course teaches problem solving skills specific to engineering design challenges and introduces the engineering design process. Students gain experience through multiple project based design exercises. These are complemented with relevant tours (e.g., wastewater treatment plant) and contact with the local engineering community.

Prerequisites: Admission to the Environmental Engineering Program

Prerequisites/Corequisites with concurrency: PHYS 110-4 (or PHYS 115-4 or PHYS 100-4), and MATH 100-3 and

Pre/Corequisites: ENGR 151-1

Changes to Prerequisites/Co-requisites - ENGR 151-1

Whitcombe

That, on the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Academic Affairs, the changes to the prerequisites/co-requisites for ENGR 151-1, on page 238 of the 2017/2018 undergraduate calendar, be approved as proposed.

Effective date: September 2017

CARRIED

Details of the approved calendar text are as follows (for revisions, deleted text indicated by ~~strike through~~, new text indicated by underline, and [commentary, where included, in Courier New font within square brackets]):

ENGR 151-1 Engineering Tools I

This course provides an introduction to engineering problem solving using common software tools, including spreadsheets and numerical computing software (e.g., Microsoft Excel and MathWorks MATLAB). Case studies provide relevance and serve to bind together many of the topics covered in the course.

Prerequisites: Admission to the Environmental Engineering Program

Prerequisites/Corequisites with concurrency: PHYS 110-4 (or PHYS 115-4 or PHYS 100-4), and MATH 100-3 and Pre/Corequisites: ENGR 117-3
